FATE OF THE RED MAN.

AN ENGLISH JOURNALIST'S CHAT WITH PAULINE JOHNSON.

The Iroquois Poetess Tells Herself Some Things About Her Race Which Probably Astonished Him—The Beautiful Poem "The White Wampum" and Its Meaning.

"You ask me why I have come to England," said Miss E. Pauline Johnson, the young Iroquois poetess and reciter, Tekahionwake, to the writer last week. "I have come here because my Indian people are very much misunderstood among you English. You do not believe them to be poetic, artistic, and as beautifully moral in their religion as they are. You have a poor idea of the grandeur of the Red Man's nature, and you do him an injustice."

PAULINE JOHNSON.

"An injustice? I thought the Indians were so well treated in Canada!" I exclaimed.

"Yes, the Canadian government treats us with the greatest consideration, while the United States government does not study the Indians at all. We of the Six Nations tribe—that is, the Iroquois tribe made up of the Mohawk, Cayuga, Oneida, Onondaga, Seneca, and Tuscarora—have our own government. We are, of course, under white law, but the Canadian government never does a thing without asking the chiefs of the Iroquois in council, and when the chiefs pass a bill in our council it is submitted to the Canadian parliament. But there is never any dissension. They do not impose on us, and we do not impose on them. But then, we are one reserve out of hundreds."

"You spoke of an injustice?"

"You do the Indian an injustice by the way you think, and speak and write of him. I am an Iroquois and, of course, I think the Iroquois are the best Indians in civilization and birth, just as you English think you are better than the Turks. Do you know that the Iroquois have done more in the last hundred years than it took the native Britons all their time to do? Indian families who fifty years ago were worshipping the Great Spirit, in the old Indian way, have turned out professional men and finely-educated women who hold responsible positions. One of the best government land surveyors Canada has is a full-blooded young Indian, and one of the best assistants in the Indian department at Ottawa is a little Mohawk lady. You cannot, perhaps, count such cases by scores, but they show of what the Red Man is capable. He is no savage if only given a chance."

"How is he handicapped now?"

"For one thing, by the awful class of white people near our reserves. When an Indian mixes in cultured white society, he becomes, in five years, a cultured man. When I was a child I was never allowed to have any white friends except those of the missionary's family. They drag the Indian down. Yet I would not say that the Indians have now any real grievance, so far as the government is concerned, though they had at the time of the Northwest rebellion. The only thing is this. Suppose we came over to England as a powerful people. Suppose you gave us welcome to English soil, worshipped us as gods, as we worshipped you white people when you first came to Canada; and suppose we encroached upon your homeland and drove you back and back, and then said, 'Oh, well, we will present you with a few acres'—a few acres of your own dear land. What would you think of it all? So we think. We are without a country. I cannot say America is my country. The whole continent belongs to us by right of lineage. We welcomed you as friends, we worshipped you, and you drove us up into a little corner.

"But you white men may well think better of the Indian than you do. Why, do you know that the Iroquois have one of the most marvelous constitutions that the world has seen? Hiawatha—not the god that dear dead Longfellow painted him, but the greatest statesman Indian civilization ever produced—he found the Indians in eternal feud with one another, killing each other out, and he conceived the idea of making one vast nation called the Iroquois to sweep the continent of America as Napoleon swept Europe. He got fifty-two representatives of each tribe, who were all fighting with one another, to meet, as Disraeli gathered the Berlin conference together. He got them to agree, and they amalgamated and fought en masse. Instead of fighting among themselves, they fought for the British. To get quarrelling Indian tribes together to do that, and give them a constitution which has lasted for four hundred years, was no small achievement.

"I will read you what Horatio Hale, the American historian, says: 'The laws and policy framed by Hiawatha and his associates more than four centuries ago are still in force among their descendants on the Grand River Reserve, near Brantford, Ontario. The territory has shrunk by many sales made at the well-meant instance of the protecting government to an extent of little more than 20,000 acres, with a population of some 3,000 souls. But in this small domain the chiefs are still elected, the councils are still conducted, and the civil policy is decided as nearly as possible by the rules of their ancient league. Not many persons are aware that there exists in the heart of Canada this relic of the oldest constitutional government of America—a free commonwealth, older even than any in Europe, except those of England and Switzerland, and perhaps two small semi-independent republics which lurk in the fastnesses of the Pyrenees and the Apennines.'

"That was what Horatio Hale wrote, and he and Parkman and, of course, Thoreau, are the most accurate recorders of Indian affairs, though Parkman did abuse the Iroquois somewhat unjustly.

"And it makes one feel sad to think that, despite all these historic associations and national character, the Indian is going to die out like the Pole and the Jew. Yes, I know the Iroquois are increasing in numbers a little now; but while we are today, say, 5,000, there must have been 30,000 of us a hundred years ago. The same sad tale must be told of the Cree, the Blackfeet, and the Sioux—all of splendid lineage. The Onondaga are blue-blooded—not a drop of any other blood in them, and they generally remain conservative in their habits. They will not embrace Christianity. I know an Onondaga family which can count back nine hundred years in direct line, and a great many Cree and Sioux Indians are the same. The Tuscaroras have a little Osage blood in them. I think—some Florida Indian blood."

"But come, Miss Johnson," I said rallying her; "you yourself would hardly be leading your present life of culture had it not been for the white man's invasion."

"Perhaps not the same kind of life; but there are two of me. Sometimes I feel I must get away to the Highlands among a people who seem somehow akin to mine."

Then Miss Johnson went on to show me the precious wampum belts which form a part of her Indian costume in recitals. "The white wampum," she explained, "always signifies peace, and is far more valuable and rare than the purple. Wampum is the history, literature, seal and coinage of the Iroquois. The art of carving the head from the shell is lost, and the art of reading the belts is also lost, save in one or two instances where a pupil has learned by rote the meaning of certain belts. The diagonal lines on a belt always proclaim it as Iroquois. This purple wampum, the "Belt of Hospitality," signifies the freedom of the camp or settlement or lodge to a visitor. The circles are emblematic of the polished basswood bowl wherein is served the national dish—beaver-tail soup. No, I have never tasted our national dish. You have killed off nearly all our beavers. This white wampum here, the 'Ladies' belt,' is one that has seen service in its own peculiar capacity. In a case of murder the old Indian law of 'blood for blood' is invariable, save in some instance where an unmarried female relation of the murderer presents this belt to the avenger and petitions that he allow the offender to go unavenged; the avenger is bound to accept the offering of peace."

This meaning of the white wampum is brought out in one of Miss Johnson's own poems:

And she hears her mother saying;
"Take thy belt of wampum white;
Go unto you evil savage,
While he glories on the height.
Sing and sue for peace between us;
At his feet lay wampum white."

Among other treasures at Miss Johnson's studio is the copy of the Toronto Globe, of October 2, 1869, bearing a superscription addressed to Chief G. H. M. Johnson, thus:

"With kind regards, from your brother chief, Arthur."

It gives a full account of the ceremony when the Duke of Connaught was made chief of the Iroquois by Miss Johnson's father and grandfather in full Indian conclave. I wonder whether H.R.H. ever wears the woolen and red-beaded scarf with his ribbon of the Garter to indicate his Indian chieftainship. He is one of the two white men who are entitled to sit in the council of the Six Nations. There was, too, an autograph photograph of Prince Bismarck presented to the chief of the Six Nations, and much else to recall with pathetic interest the glories of the Indian past.—From the London (Eng.) Canadian Gazette.

IT WAS A FREE FIGHT.

OTTAWA, June 26.—The Free Press, referring to the lacrosse match, says: People swarmed on the grounds at once. Other players tried to interfere for the sake of decency and peace, and among them was Tansey, but scarcely had he used his efforts to quell the unruly throng than he was assailed by another party. With remarkable good judgment Tansey evaded a couple of blows and ran for his life. Just then the passionate throng had got beyond all control and a general onslaught followed. The wearers of the green made the best of an ugly situation. With commendable courage they stood their ground and with their lacrosse sticks out whirlwind circles right and left through the crowd, which scattered in all directions. Many felt the hard end of a piece of hickory, and it was not long before the fighting elements showed the white feather and stood back in more congenial quarters. Tremendous excitement followed. Everybody was shocked at the murderous assaults made around, and not a few ladies turned away horror stricken and left the stand in disgust. The police made a great attempt to control the vast crowd. The policemen pulled out their batons and followed the example of the Shamrock stick handlers. They fell foul at the outset by coming in contact with a couple of Montreal excursionists, who retaliated in characteristic Griffintown style. Pandemonium followed.

"It has cured others and will cure you" is true only of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The motto suits the medicine and the medicine the motto. What better assurance could you have that a remedy will cure you, than the fact that it has cured such multitudes of others?

BABY'S WEIGHT.

Is Your Little ones Losing or Gaining Flesh?

If the baby is healthy and well fed, it should increase very steadily in weight. Too often the hot, oppressive summer weather retards growth and development; this is always the case when the baby is improperly nourished.

If the little one cannot be sustained fully and regularly on a bountiful supply of healthy milk from its mother's breast, it should receive a daily diet of pure Lactated Food.

When the little one is kept on Lactated Food there is a perceptible daily growth, and a guarantee that no summer troubles will endanger health or life. The manufacturers of Lactated Food have on fyle hundreds of letters from thankful mothers, testifying to the fact that the great Food is a preventive of dysentery, diarrhœa and cholera infantum.

This summer we hear of hundreds of mothers using Lactated Food who never used it before.

A grand work is being done; the babes who are fed on the Food are progressing famously; they are increasing in weight, and rest and sleep well. Are you using Lactated Food, dear mother, for your weak and sickly infant? Give it a trial for one week, the results will surprise you.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

FRESH AIR SCHEME.

The following extracts from an article in the Toronto Endeavour Hearld is worthy of thought in the minds of all Christian farmers and if any feel disposed to act on the suggestion they can send their names to A. J. Johnston, Peterborough, who will at once notify the Toronto Endeavourers that there are Christian homes in our county thrown open to the poor children for a few weeks' holiday:—

"Last summer one of the Christian Endeavour societies of the city decided to attempt the work of sending a number of poor children to the country for an outing. The attempt was a success far beyond their anticipation, and more than a score of children, who hardly knew what fresh air and green fields were like, spent a fortnight in the country and came home stronger and better, and happier. Now we want to see this work extended and there is no more practical and worthy form of endeavour for our societies at this season. We would appeal, first, to the societies in Toronto, to undertake the expense of sending out a few of the children in our city who need such an outing. We are certain that any society that undertook to help in this Christ-like work would find that many members of their church, outside of the society entirely, would be only too glad to assist financially.

Then we would appeal to our Endeavour friends in the country towns or villages, not too far distant from the city, to provide homes where the children would be received and looked after for a week or two. This is a most important part of the work, but we are confident that, for Christ's sake, many of our readers will volunteer to do this for some of His little ones.

Now, will not some of our societies at both ends of the line consider earnestly what they can do in this matter and notify the editor of the Endeavour Herald as early as possible. Any further information wanted will be given on application."

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

This society held their monthly consecration meeting on Monday night and it was lively throughout, Mr. Webster taking the topic of the evening. His address was very instructive and pictured to the members the very highest ideals a Christian Endeavourer should strive to imitate.

The executive of this society will meet at 7:30 Friday evening in the Ladies' parlour. The social and lookout committees will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening to discuss the advisability of holding a social.

The next prayer meeting will be held on Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, instead of Monday evening, on account of Monday being a holiday.

The young men of the Epworth League of Charlotte street church intend giving a musical entertainment in the lecture room of the church this evening commencing at eight o'clock. Silver collection at the door. Ladies as well as gentlemen are invited. This promises to be the best ever held in Charlotte street church.

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. # ITCHING PILES AND PIN WORMS.

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumour form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

Gives Instant Relief.

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause than Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

"JUSTICE MUST REIGN"

Wiman Hopeful for the Ultimate Recognition of His Innocence.

SHORT STAY IN PROCEEDINGS

If the Appeal for a New Trial is Granted the Defence is Confident of Vindication — Mr. Wiman Studies Human Nature in the Tombs.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Erastus Wiman has been granted a stay until Friday.

It will be remembered that Judge Ingraham, after he had sentenced Mr. Wiman, directed the sheriff not to take the prisoner to State Prison until Tuesday. The order issued by Judge Barrett is made returnable next Friday and then in all probability, an extended stay will be granted.

Mr. Wiman was seen in the Tombs. He had just been visited by several friends and was busily engaged in answering a large number of letters that lay piled on a table in front of him. He was quite cheerful.

"Of course I have hopes," he said. "I regard this short stay as a good omen, although I do not see how the justice could do anything else. I expect that my counsel's efforts will be successful—how could they be anything else? Justice must reign. As to the legal part of this thing I know but little. I do know that I have the sympathy of nearly everybody. I am in the best of health and spirits. Some of the papers have said I was depressed, but that is incorrect. To have a good character is a great comfort in such times and then to receive such assurances of sympathy as I have from perfect strangers. It cheers me more than all the bolts and bars in the world depress."

Mr. Wiman feels that his appeal will be successful and that a new trial will vindicate him.

"That's what I want," he said, rubbing his hands together, "not a pardon, but vindication, and that will come when the matter rises from the purlieus of the district attorney's office to the loftier attitudes of the Court of Appeals, where justice and the law prevail. I never knew how many friends I had until I got here. Every mail brings me generous words of sympathy and cheer. That shows that a man is judged by his full round life and not by the accidents of it, by what he has done for others not by what he has done for himself; and I am making new friends here all the time. I am getting to understand human nature as I never understood it before. I find good in my neighbors in the cells. There's an Italian here named Larabaro, a lonely fellow in for murder, never committed more than I did, and on the other side is a delightful chap named Marnin accused of being a green goods man, whose society I enjoy very much. Then there are two alleged incendiaries who seem to be thoroughly good fellows. Yes, indeed, it's quite an event in my life to be put in a position where I can study this class of society. Everybody is very kind to me, the officers, the guards and all. I am afraid that I am an awful nuisance. If Buffalo Bill had not sent me fifty tickets to the wild west show, which I distributed among those who have been so kind to me, I fear I should have been unable to show my gratitude." Mr. Wiman shook hands with the reporter and bade him a cheery good bye.

General Tracy has expressed the hope that his efforts in behalf of Erastus Wiman would prove successful. "Of course," he said, "whether or no the stay is extended the case will be appealed. We hope to get him out on bail."

YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED.

A Pretty Brunette Shot by an Unknown Man Who Suicided.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Mrs. Carrie Reed, a pretty brunette, 24 years of age, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by an unknown man, who immediately turned his pistol upon himself with fatal results.

The police as yet have failed to establish the identity of the murderer and suicide. Upon examination at the morgue it was found he had cut the name from all his linen, but on one of his socks was found the name "Hunt." In his inside pocket was a fragment of a letter signed "Carrie." Mrs. Reed's husband is at present in the west.

Simarott Again Skips Out.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Wm. A. Simarott, late treasurer and secretary of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, whose accounts have been found short about $25,000 by an investigation committee, has left the city, leaving his destination a secret.

Will Resume Work.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 26.—Last night the miners' convention adopted a resolution allowing all operators who will pay the compromise price (40 cents net) to resume operations.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 26, 1894.

The amount of wheat afloat to Europe is 36,472,000, a decrease of 2,864,000 bushels for the week. A year ago the amount afloat was was 43,112,000 bushels.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—There is very little grain offering. White wheat is quoted at 62c, red at 61c and goose at 58c. Oats unchanged at 39½ to 40½c, peas at 65c, barley dull at 41 to 43c.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheat has advanced 7d. Foreign wheat, though the supplies have been large, has been firm. American wheats have advanced 3d. Round corn is unchanged, but flat is 6d dearer. Barley, oats and flour are dull.

Buffalo.—Cattle—125 cars; fairly active; selected cattle for export, $4.40 to $4.80; good fat shippers, $4 to $4.40; light western steers, $3.65 to $3.90; fat and natives, about 1,100 lbs., $3.90 to $4.10; mixed, $3 to $3.75. Sheep and lambs—Seventeen cars; strong for choice yearlings and good lambs; heavy sheep and fat ewes not wanted; fair to good sheep, $2.75 to $3.15; choice to fancy lambs, $5 to $5.35; fair to choice, $3.25 to $4.75.

At the opening of business at the New York stock exchange lower prices were the rule. How much of the selling was due to the unsettled condition of the foreign markets on account of the assassination of President Carnot and what proportion resulted from the uneasiness occasioned abroad by the dwindling treasury gold reserve, it is difficult to determine, but good judges were inclined to the belief that the bulk of liquidations was simply the continuation of the selling which set in during the early part of last week.

ALL NATIONS SHOCKED

Expressions of Sorrow at the Murder of President Carnot.

STRONG ANTI-ITALIAN FEELING

The French People Aroused to Violence Against the Assassin's Countrymen —Succession to the Presidency Between Casimer-Perier and Dupuy.

LYONS, June 26.—The police have obtained the following information in regard to the movements of the assassin Santo: After leaving Italy he lived in Lausanne and Geneva, Switzerland, and afterward in Lyons. From this city he went to Cette, France, where he spent the last year working as a baker. He reached Lyons from Cette at 6 o'clock Sunday evening. His real surname is Cesario and his Christian name San-Hieronimo. He is 19 years old. While in Cette he earned 30 francs a month besides his board and lodging. He was sober and industrious, but taciturn. He was a great reader and outspoken only when anarchist theories were discussed.

The police official who went to Cette to trace the assassin had an interview with Mme. Viala, who keeps the baker shop in which the murderer worked. She says Cesario left her employ on Saturday, having given up his place on account of a quarrel. He received the money due him and disappeared. He left a box containing his effects in his lodgings. This the police opened, but found nothing compromising therein. Cesario purchased the poniard with which he committed the murder on Friday. This discovery gives rise to the belief that his quarrel in the baker shop was merely a pretext for leaving Cette and coming to Lyons to fulfil the murderous mission to which he was assigned by his associate anarchists.

PARIS, June 26.—Several Italians were attacked by a mob on the Qua Montebello and the most strenous efforts of the police were required to save their lives. Subsequently anti-Italian demonstrations were made in front of the Italian embassy and consulate. Both were promptly suppressed by the police. An anti-Italian riot took place at Grenoble which threatened serious results. The prefect, with the aid of a strong force of police, succeeded in quelling the disturbance. The mob subsequently paraded the streets singing the Marseillaise.

When the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies opened yesterday Casimir-Perier, president of the Chamber, arose with a paper in his hand. Immediately every person in the Chamber was on his feet with head bowed. The President, in a voice trembling with emotion, read a letter from Premier Dupuy, announcing the terrible crime at Lyons. Casimir-Perier then addressed the Chamber in eulogy of President Carnot, and in the course of his remarks associated the Chamber with the whole country in common sorrow before the tomb where disappears a life of devotion and integrity.

He then read the summons of M. Challemel-Lacour, president of the Senate, convoking a congress at Versailles to-morrow for the purpose of selecting a president of the republic.

La Patrie says the loss of President Carnot will be universally regretted.

Le Petite Parisienne says the crime is a great humiliation to a country possessing universal suffrage.

La Faix says a united cry proceeds from the populace against anarchism which is a synonym for incitement to murder.

The Figaro says President Carnot may have committed political faults, but his private character as a man always merited the respect of his adversaries. His faults were easily forgotten, but his dignity, generosity and the correctness of his attitude were not possible to forget.

President Carnot's body was removed last evening to the railway station in Lyons and there was placed in a car heavily draped with black. The special train, to which the car was attached, started for Paris with Mme. Carnot, several officers of the late President's household and a few other officials. The grand salon in the Elysee Palace has been transformed into a funeral chamber. It is hung in black drapery, fringed with silver. The chandeliers are covered with crape and the candelabra at the corners of the catafalque have been wraped in black cloth. A military guard will be on duty in the chamber until the funeral, which probably will take place on Friday.

The rulers of all the civilized countries have sent telegrams expressing to Mme. Carnot their sorrow and sympathy. Thousands have inscribed their names in the register books of the Elysee. Among them were personal friends, diplomats, academicians, society leaders, business men and many workingmen. The concert halls are closed and the races have been postponed.

In all places frequented by politicians the succession to the presidency is discussed constantly. Casimir-Perier's chances seem to improve steadily. This evening he is a more conspicuous favorite than ever.

LONDON, June 26.—Henry Rochefort, in an interview said: "I fear the murder of President Carnot will be followed by reprisals against Italians and a repetition of the bloody scenes of the Aigues Mortes. I am receiving telegrams from which I have the assurance that no Frenchman or anarchist had anything to do do with the affair. In regard to the election of Carnot's successor, I do not think M. Constans has any chance in the race with Casimir Perier and Dupuy. I think the choice will fall upon Dupuy. If Casimir-Perier is elected, France will fall under the regime of an Autoritaire. I have no fear that Gen. Saussier or any other military officer will be elected."

Queen Victoria sent a long dispatch to Mme. Carnot expressing her deep sorrow and sympathy. Lord Kimberly telegraphed the Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador at Paris instructing him to express in the name of the Queen, Her Majesty's horror and deep regret at the murder of President Carnot.

United States ambassador Bayard addressed the following note to M. de Crais, the French ambassador to Great Britain: "My dear Colleague,—I beg you to accept the assurance of my sincere sympathies with your country and yourself as an honored and faithful representative at this court on this distressing occasion when the patriotic and beloved head of your Government is inhumanly and wickedly stricken down by the hand of an assassin. Lovers and servants of civilization the world over will know no lines of diverse nationality when such deeds are done, but will act as blended in one community of sorrow, anxious and determined to uphold the law, protect justice from such fatal assaults and bring all the self-protecting powers of society into vigorous and concordant action. For myself personally and the country I represent I renew my expression of sincere sorrow and perfect sympathy. I am, my dear colleague sincerely yours, Thomas F. Bayard."

ROME, June 26.—King Humbert sent a telegram to Mme. Carnot saying: "The blow that struck your husband struck at the same time my heart. The Queen's grief is profound. Italy is wounded not less than France. All share your mourning."

The municipal authorities publish an invitation to all citizens to unite in common mourning with France and appeal to all governments to take every precaution to safeguard society against anarchists.

LONDON, June 26.—The Standard's Rome correspondent says: "Cardinal Rampolla was aroused from bed by the first news of the assassination. He hesitated to disturb the Pope but later upon receiving confirmation of the report from the French embassy and the Archbishop of Lyons he went to His Holiness. It was six o'clock in the morning and the Pope said: "I expect bad news when you come at this hour in the morning. I also passed a bad night." After hearing the facts His Holiness was quite overcome. His features were convulsed with emotion and he exclaimed "My God, what times!"

The excitement at the Vatican was indescribable.

FOUGHT WITH WOMEN.

Non-Union Men and Pinkertons Have a Struggle With Strikers.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., June 26.—An outbreak occurred at Walston, in which the deputy sheriffs and the wives of the foreigners figured to such an extent that many bruised heads resulted. The fight was precipitated by the arrival of a train load of non-unionists under guard of 25 Pinkertons. The strikers had learned that the men were en route to the mines, and accordingly made warlike preparations, so that when the train pulled into the Walston station 1,300 men, women and children were on hand to meet it. As soon as the train came to a standstill the Pinkertons, who were armed with Winchesters, jumped out and there was a general rush of strikers, with the women in front.

The mob hurled stones and fought their way towards the deputies. Only a squad of soldiers were on guard, the camp of the 16th regiment being located a mile away. A messenger was immediately despatched to the camp, and company I of the 16th regiment responded, but before it arrived the trouble was over. This is the second successful effort made by General Superintendent Robinson of the Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad Company to place men at work. During the fight several women and children were trampled on.

After leaving Walston the train ran to Anita, where another large mob was ready to receive it. When the deputies alighted, under command of Captain Clark, they lined up in position amid the howls and jeers of the strikers. Then followed 100 non-unionists. The strikers made a rush to get at them in the hope of persuading them not to enter the mines, but they were repulsed by the deputies, who charged bayonets, scattering them. The non-unionists were marched to a house near by, and after being safely quartered, a strong guard was placed about the building.

Immediately following this incident the strikers marched to a school house, located between Anita and Adrain, and held a meeting to decide upon a future policy. The meeting was attended by over 1,000 strikers. After the meeting it was learned that it had been decided to use every means in their power to prevent a resumption of work.

The Oarsmen at Henley.

LONDON, June 26.—The weather continues glorious, and interest in the coming aquatic events at Henley is as keen as ever. Both Ryan and Wright were out for their matutinal spin a little earlier than usual yesterday, but the touts and watchers were on hand just the same, and their time and speed duly noted. The entries for the Diamond Sculls, including Ryan, now number nine, three having failed to come to time. There are three entries for the Goblets. In the trial both Canadians pulled fast, Wright particularly, and many of the onlookers were surprised. In the betting Ryan has become a strong favorite and is taken against the field. Both men have entered for some of the leading events at the Bedford regatta on July 12.

EARL JERSEY ARRIVES

Great Britain's Representative to the Intercolonial Conference.

WHAT THE DELEGATES WILL DO

None of Them Having Been Vested With Plenipotentiary Powers, Their Views Will not Bind Their Governments—Cape Delegates in Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 26.—The Earl of Jersey, who will represent Great Britain at the colonial conference to be held at Ottawa, is in the city.

In an interview he said: "As to the views of the delegates and their governments I do not think any of them can be clear about them before we begin to exchange ideas and suggestions. I don't suppose any of the delegates came with plenipotentiary powers, for you see they can always refer everything by telegraph to their own governments, and indeed even if the conference does adopt certain resolutions, I fancy the adherence of a delegate to these would not bind our own government, for in these days of representative government the electors would probably want to be asked to endorse and to ratify what had been done.

"You ask if I will speak at the conference? I don't know. Everything depends. I do not think there will be set speeches or addresses. I expect the proceedings will be carried on much after the style of a parliamentary committee's proceedings more in a conversational way than in any spirit or shape of debate or argument. I don't know how long this conference will last. I hope to be able to stay till the end of it and I trust that some good may result."

Sir Charles Mills and Hon. J. Hafmeyer, who represent the Cape of Good Hope, are also in the city.

INQUEST AT DUNDAS.

The Two Hamilton Youths Committed to Stand Their Trial.

DUNDAS, Ont., June 26.—Coroner Ross yesterday began the inquest on the death of Reuben Tew, of Greensville. After the jury had viewed the body of deceased and the buggy in which he was driving at the time of his death they adjourned to the town hall.

The evidence shows that deceased and Mr. Riley were driving west on King street on Saturday, Riley sitting on the right side of the buggy and driving on the north side of the street, close to the sidewalk. When about the middle of the block a sorrel horse, hitched to a top buggy containing three young men, ran into them, one of the shafts striking Mr. Tew in the abdomen, making a terrible gash, from which he died. Two of the young men who were in the rig that caused the damage were Frank Hancock, of Hamilton, a nephew of Ald. Hancock, and Charles Carter, also of Hamilton. Who the third young man was is not yet known. Immediately the injury had been done the Hamilton rig drove away, not making any attempt to see whether anyone was injured or not and were chased and captured on the Hamilton road.

The jury brought in a verdict that deceased came to his death by the unlawful and furious driving of the prisoners. They were tried before Mayor Knowles on this charge and sent up for trial at the next assizes. There was no evidence to show that the prisoners were under the influence of liquor.

Affairs in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., June 25.—The Supreme Court has granted a mandamus upon the assistant Collector of Customs re the revenue question. The court declined to make the mandamus peremptory or final, but gave the collector four days to make a return showing cause why mandamus should not be granted. The whole general question will then be argued but probably the court will then grant permanent mandamus in which case the Government will be compelled to take new steps to get revenue.

The Pullman Strike.

MONTREAL, June 26.—Referring to the Pullman strike at Chicago, a prominent Grand Trunk official said that in the event of the American Railway Union, which is very strong in Canada, declaring a boycott, as they threaten, against Pullman cars and forbidding its members to handle them, the Grand Trunk will be compelled to shunt Pullman cars on sidings, and endeavor to accommodate passengers with their own rolling stock during the strike.

Teething at 88.

Samuel Swaney of Washington township was in Muncie to-day and exhibited his third set of natural teeth. They number thirteen and have been growing for the past three years.

He is 88 years of age, but is a hale old fellow and says that this growth did not bother him nearly so much as the first ones, many years ago. The teeth have only appeared in the front part of his gums, but they are more perfect than any he has ever had.—Muncie Correspondent Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A Dangerous Man.

Foster—I never tell a good joke to Trotter.

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED.

The Earl of Jersey to Be Present as the Imperial Government's Representative—Biographies of the Distinguished Members of the Gathering.

Imperial Government—Earl of Jersey.

Canada—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. George E. Foster.

New South Wales—Hon. F. B. Suttor, vice-president Executive Council.

Victoria—Sir Henry Wrixon, Attorney-General; Hon. Simon Fraser and Hon. N. Fitzgerald.

Queensland—Hon. William Forrest and Hon. A. J. Thynne, Minister of Justice.

South Australia—Hon. Thomas Playford.

New Zealand—Alfred Lee-Smith.

Cape Colony—Sir Henry de Villiers, Chief Justice, and Sir Charles Mills, Agent-General in London.

Natal—Hon. J. H. Hofmeyr.

Tasmania—E. N. C. Braddon, Agent-General in London.

These are the delegates who will meet at Ottawa on the 28th of this month to map out a plan for the greatest achievement of British commercial expansion. The conference will be an almost complete representation of the British Colonies, only West Australia, Newfoundland and the West Indies, so far as the Dominion Government is already informed, being unrepresented, although they have been invited. The conference will not be open to the public, as practical work rather than the airing of theories is desired. Still it must be borne in mind that the Earl of Jersey, and his associate, Mr. Mercer, are instructed to listen to the proceedings and report, to speak after careful preparation and briefly and to avoid expounding theories.

The British Representative,

The defence committee of the Imperial Federation League has drafted a memorial urging upon the government that, inasmuch as Canada and Australia request an imperial subsidy for the new steamship service and a guarantee of the interest on the money to be spent on the new cable, they ought to help defray the expense of the navy. The memorial suggests that the Earl of Jersey, Great Britain's delegate to the Colonial Conference in Ottawa, be instructed to submit this proposal to the conference and to ask that Canada and Australia consent to contribute to the naval fund, provided that they be allowed to share in the administration of it. Several peers and commoners are among the signers of the memorial.

Sketch of Lord Jersey.

Victor Albert George Child Villiers, seventh Earl of Jersey, was Governor General of New South Wales from 1890 to 1893, a fact to which doubtless he owes his selection as British representative to the Intercolonial Conference at Ottawa. The most important matter with which the conference will have to deal is the question of the proposed Pacific cable, intended to place the various British possessions in the Pacific in direct telegraphic connection with the mother country by way of Canada. Lord Jersey is now in his fiftieth year. He was educated at Eaton and Oxford and has held several important government positions, including that of Postmaster General.

THE COLONIAL DELEGATES.

Biographical Sketches of the Distinguished Visitors to the Dominion.

Following are biographical sketches of the visitors to Ottawa:

New South Wales Delegate.

The senior colony of New South Wales will be represented at the conference by the Hon. Francis H. Suttor, its Minister of Public Instruction, who was unanimously selected by his colleagues, and who will be the only Minister present from these colonies as a deligate. Mr. Suttor accepted the position offered him, in spite of the fact that during his absence one of the most vigorously contested general elections in the history of the colony will take place and that his absence might imperil his chances of re-election. There is, however, but little fear of his being defeated at the polls, for the Suttor family has been identical with Bathurst (his constituency) almost since the first settlement of the colony, and the electors of that city are not going to "go back" on an old and tried representative, especially when he is attending an important conference on behalf of his native country. Mr. Suttor is a New South Welshman of the purest type, and is an excellent representative of the kind of gentlemen this colony produces.

His grandfather, Mr. George Suttor, a celebrated Scotch botanist and scientist, came to Australia in November, 1800, long before the rest of this vast continent drifted away from the parent settlement (New South Wales) and was formed into the great commonwealths which are now familiar to the world. Mr. George Suttor was, soon after his arrival, appointed Government botanist and served his adopted country faithfully in many positions, until he was called away to receive the reward for an upright, honorable career. As proof of the claim of the Suttors to be amongst the pioneers of this colony, it may be said that for the past fifty years there has not been a Parliament in New South Wales in which there has not been a member of the Suttor family each one of whom was elected by the votes of the people; and, more than that, there has not been a Cabinet for many years past in which a Suttor has not held a portfolio. Mr. W. H. Suttor, the father of the present Minister, was in Parliament for over thirty years. Thus it can be seen that the claim of the Suttors of Bathurst to be a representative New South Wales family is well founded. The Hon. Francis Bathurst Suttor, who will attend the Ottawa conference on behalf of New South Wales—although yet a comparatively young man, having been born at Bathurst in 1839—has held office longer than any other public man in New South Wales, with the possible exception of Sir Henry Parkes, having had charge of portfolios in five Governments from 1877 to date. First elected to the Legislative Assembly in January, 1875, he has repre-

SIR HENRY J. WRIXON, K.C.M.G.

"Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other manded the constituency of Bathurst ever since, except for a period of about two years; and only two years after his entrance into public life was appointed Minister of Public Instruction in 1877. Since then his duties have been chiefly to preside over that department, although he has also acted as Minister of Justice and temporarily performed the duties of most of the other Ministers. During the absence in England, Canada and the United States of Sir George Dibbs in 1892, Mr. Suttor was acting Colonial Secretary, and gained universal encomiums for his administration of that department. A thorough gentleman, well acquainted with the needs and position of his native land, Mr. Suttor should make an excellent delegate, and it is quite safe to prophesy that he will make many warm friends.

The Victorian Delegates.

The Government of the colony of Victoria has selected three gentlemen to represent it at the Ottawa conference. They are Sir Henry Wrixon, M.P., Hon. Nicholas Fitzgerald, M.L.C., and Hon. Simon Fraser, M.L.C. All three go over with the determination to do their utmost to bring about reciprocal trade relations with the Dominion, and to draw closer the bonds which should unite the great colonies of the Empire.

Sir Henry J. Wrixon, one of the delegates from Victoria, is an Irishman by birth, having seen the light near Dublin in October, 1839. He came out to Australia when 11 years old, but returned to

HON. NICHOLAS FITZGERALD, M. L. C.

Dublin in 1858 to study law, being called to the Irish bar in 1863. For some years he was an old world journalist, but returning to Victoria after being admitted to the bar, was in turn called to practice his profession in that colony, and devoted himself to its pursuit with such assiduity that he soon achieved an enviable reputation. In 1868 he was elected to represent Belfast in the Legislative Assembly, and took office as Solicitor General in the McCulloch Ministry two years later. Since then he has held office in various Governments, his last Cabinet position being that of Attorney-General from 1886 to 1890, and has almost continually occupied a seat in the Assembly; in fact, he is only now resigning his seat as a member for Portland, because he intends to be absent for over twelve months, and considers that his constituents should be represented during his absence. Mr. Wrixon was knighted in 1891 in recognition of his services in representing his colony before the Imperial Privy Council in an important constitutional case arising out of the Chinese Restriction Act. He has been responsible for much progressive legislation, his principal achievement being the inception and passage of the Criminal Law Amendment Bill. Sir Henry, who is a fluent speaker, was a delegate to the Australian federation convention in Sydney in 1891.

Hon. Nicholas Fitzgerald, another of the Victorian delegates, is, like Sir Henry Wrixon, of Irish birth. He was born at Galway, in August, 1829, entered Trinity College, Dublin, in 1845, where he obtained honors, and in 1849 gained a first-class scholarship at Queen's College, Galway. After spending some years in Ceylon and India, he went to Australia in 1859 and established the Castlemaine brewery, the fame of the beer of which is as widespread in all these colonies as is Davies', Carling's, or Labatt's in Canada. He has been a member of the Legislative Council for thirty years, having been elected for the Northwest province in 1864, and, being largely interested in the question of religious education in the schools, is regarded as the mouthpiece of the Roman Catholic party in the Upper House. He also was a delegate to the federation convention in 1891, and thus stands in the front rank of representative men.

At the request of Sir Edward Braddon, the new Premier of Tasmania, Mr. Fitzgerald will also represent that colony at the conference.

A Canadian from Victoria.

Hon. Simon Fraser, M.L.C., the third delegate from Victoria, will occupy a peculiar and interesting position at the conference, inasmuch as he is a Canadian by birth, although Australian by adoption. The youngest son of Mr. William F. Fraser, mill owner and farmer, he was born at Pictou, N.S., on August 21, 1834, so that he stands a very good chance of celebrating his 60th birthday at his native town. Educated at the East River Seminary, he went to Australia when 18 years of age, and went at once to the gold diggings, where he spent some time with fair success. Afterwards he became a contractor, and successfully carried out many works in Victoria, New South Wales and South Australia, subsequently becoming a large squatter, and having vast pastoral interests in Queensland, Victoria and New South Wales. At the general elections of 1874 he stood for Rodney in the interest of the Francis Ministry, and was returned by a large majority. He was re-elected in 1877, but, after representing Rodney for nine years, resigned in order to visit Europe and America. In 1885 he contested West Melbourne, but was defeated, and suffered a similar fate in April, 1886, when he was a candidate for the Legislative Council. In August of that year, however, he was sent to the Council by the electors of South Yarra, and has retained that seat ever since. Mr. Fraser, who is a man of Melbourne, where his selection as one of the delegates to Ottawa has given universal satisfaction.

South Australia's Delegate.

South Australia, of which Adelaide is the capital, will be represented by the Hon. Thomas Playford, its recently appointed Agent General in London, and one of the veteran politicians of the colony. Born in London, Eng., in 1837, he went to Australia with his father, Rev. Thos. Playford, in 1848. For many years he was engaged in farming at Mitcham, whence he removed to the hills and took up gardening pursuits. He was for twenty-one years the chairman of the East Torrens District Council, for three years a member of the Central Road Board, and for four or five years the president of the Association of District Chairmen. He made his first appearance in Parliament in 1868, as member for Onkaparinga, but in 1875 was returned for East Torrens, which he continued to represent until the general election of 1887, when he was rejected by the electors, being afterwards returned for Newcastle. At the general election of 1890 he successfully contested his old district of East Torrens, which he continued to represent until a month or so since, when he resigned to proceed to England. Mr. Playford has had a long and varied experience of ministerial life. In 1876 he joined the Bocant Cabinet as Commissioner of Crown Lands, and in 1877 he resumed that office in the second Boçant Ministry. He was also Commissioner of Crown Lands in the Morgan Government from 1878 to 1881, and in the Colton Government from 1884. Later he exchanged portfolios with Mr. Coles, the Commissioner of Public Works, but in June, 1885, when Sir John Downer succeeded in carrying an adverse vote, he, with his colleagues, retired from office. He did not again occupy a seat on the Ministerial benches until June, 1887, when he successfully led the Opposition against the Downer Government. He then assumed the premiership, and held office until dislodged by Dr. Cockburn in June, 1889. While acting as Premier, Mr. Playford had the honor, with Mr. Kingston, of being the first South Australian delegate to the Federal Council, and was further chosen to act as president of the Council during its sittings. In conjunction with the then Premier (Dr. Cockburn) he represented the colony at the Federal Conference held in Melbourne in February, 1890, and was also one of the South Australian delegates to the Federation convention in Sydney in March, 1891. During the general election of 1890 he was recognized as leader of the Opposition, and in August of that year formed a Ministry upon the defeat of the Cockburn Ministry. He then held office as Premier until June, 1893, when he was defeated in the Assembly by four votes, and resigned the leadership of the Government to Hon. F. W. Holder. That gentleman in turn suffered defeat, and Hon. Mr. Kingston on June 16, 1893, formed a Cabinet, of which Mr. Playford was appointed Treasurer, a position he held until last month, when he resigned to accept the position of Agent-General in London. Mr. Playford was the first politician to introduce a protective tariff into South Australia.

Nothing is more piteous than the writhings of a child who is sick and unable to locate its pain. In most cases children suffer from disordered stomachs—or at least troubles of that kind are most common—and if not treated in time often result in death. Twenty drops of Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER will alleviate the most painful and obstinate case of chronic diarrhœa or summer complaint in the world, and no nurse can feel safe without having a bottle of this medicine at her elbow. All respectable druggists sell the PAIN-KILLER at 25c. for the Big New Size.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Almost Winded.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says that Mr. Wm. Junkin, who has become the professional diver on the Trent waters returned recently from Peterborough, where he was fixing the lock-gates. Combining his mechanical skill with his experience as a diver, Mr. Junkin is one of the most valuable members of the Trent waters staff. He has overhauled nearly all the locks, and has succeeded in making all the gates run so easy that all the winches have been abandoned. He had an unpleasant experience in the Peterborough Lock. Whilst he was below, an accident to a stick of timber that was being handled above caused the pumper to forget himself and leave his post. Instantly Mr. Junkin's suit collapsed around him, and he made a pretty lively spurt for his ladder, but before he reached it the pumper returned to his post and sent down a gust of air that lifted him about three feet. He came to his bearings in a few moments and then climbed to the surface. He was not injured, but the shutting off of a man's wind is never pleasant, and most particularly unpleasant to a diver.

St. John's Choir.

The boys of St. John's choir enjoyed a delightful treat last night, when they met together with the boys of the preparatory class to receive their prizes for the half year. They assembled on the church grounds at 8 o'clock and amused themselves for some time in running races and scrambling for candies and other edibles. Sometime after half-past eight, Rev. C. B. Kenrick called them to-gether and the prizes were presented by the Rector in the presence of several friends. In the preparatory class the first prize was carried off by Harold Byers, and others were awarded to Warren Dean and Hague Sawers. The two latter, who had but recently entered the class, were commended for their regularity and diligence. Following the presentation of these prizes, those won by boys fully admitted to the choir were distributed. Fred Sawers, who had attended every service and practice since Christmas, was very highly praised, as well for his attendance as for his conscientious discharge of his duties. He received the first prize. Ollie Earle, who was but little behind him, received the second. Fred. Sawers was awarded another prize for his efficiency, as were also Percy Earle, Chas. Seymour and Maitland Boswell. These four boys, Mr. Kenrick remarked, were the mainstay of the choir. A special prize was given to Percy Clark for faithful diligence during the short time he had been in the choir. Following the distribution of prizes, came more games and candies, ice cream kindly given by Mr. H. Long, and eager discussion of the forthcoming choir picnic, when the boys expect to camp out for a week. The lads then sang the Nunc Dimittis and after a brief prayer and blessing the gathering came to an end.

THE TRIMMEST STEAM YACHT ON THE LAKES.

Messrs. Moffat & Kinch Have Launched a Beautiful Little Craft—It Can be Chartered for Private Excursion Parties.

The "Idle Hour," a trim little steam launch, belonging to the firm of Messrs. Moffatt & Kinch, is being launched to-day at Chemong and, if satisfactory arrangements are completed, will connect the railway terminus with the park throughout the summer months, meeting the different trains and conveying the passengers across the intervening distance.

The new boat is admirably adapted for the purpose for which it is built, being something over 30 feet in length and five feet in width. It has a seating capacity for thirty persons, but is sufficiently buoyant to carry many more. The hull is of cedar and was constructed by the Canadian Canoe Company. The pretty canopy top is finished off in butternut and white pine and the inside is upholstered in crimson plush, and altogether the launch is a most tidy little craft.

The machinery was put in by the proprietors, Messrs. Moffat & Kinch, and should prove a great advertisement for them, as it is of the best possible class. A Paines' patent boiler has been put in and the engine is of the plain slide valve variety. The screw is a two-bladed, 26-inch wheel, and it is thought that ten miles an hour will be easily made by the yacht, as the engine is capable of carying 130 pounds of steam and is of about six-horse power. It has already passed government inspection. Final inspection will be made in a day or two by the government officials, after which the yacht will be open for charter for private excursions, etc.

POLICE COURT.

The justice mill did not stop operations on account of the election, but this morning ground out a larger grist than it has done for some time. The first culprit to face the dispenser of justice was Frank Harris, charged with vagrancy. It appears that Harris is a vile fellow, who adds, to vagrancy drunkenness, and to drunkenness foul language, it being his custom when begging, if he is refused alms, to indulge in the most obscene and disgusting language. He will have a chance to earn his bread by the sweat of his brow and his body, too, for he was sentenced to six months in the Central, and it is no child's play to put in a term in the Central. Hitherto he has had too much rest, now he will feel like begging for rest. The chief and his staff are determined to put down the tramp nuisance in Peterborough and a dose in the Central is a fine remedy.

Two young men were charged with drunkenness and expatiated the exaggerated exuberance of their bibulosity by having to pay a fine of $5 and $2 costs respectively, or an equivalent of time in the county gaol.

Another young man contributed $2 to the treasury for an assault, and one man was charged with having buried a defunct horse at a depth that did not comply with the demands of sanitary requirements and another one was charged with neglecting to remove the animal's remains when directed so to do. The two latter cases were enlarged till to-morrow.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Gospel and song service was brought to a close Sunday evening and will be re-opened the first Sunday in September.

Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., gave a brief but very forcible address from Psalms 66 and 18th verse on "Iniquity" to a large and attentive audience. A very fine solo was given by Prof. Davidson.

The young men's Bible class Tuesday evenings and Saturday evening meetings will be continued during the summer as usual.

The rooms will be closed at 9 p. m. till September 1st.

Mr. G Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Election Excitement.

The excitement is not apparent to-day. The streets are very quiet up to noon, but it is expected that the excitement will begin to boil after five o'clock. Teams carrying the free and independent electors to the polls are busily traversing the streets, but although the contest is waged quietly there is an undercurrent of hard work.

Wild Mustard

C. Forrester, manager of the Rathbun Company's farms, has found by experiment that the wild mustard is capital feed for pigs as soon as pulled. The virtue of it goes back to the soil. The amount of nutriment drawn from the grain amid which the mustard grows must be enormous. Too much cannot be done to get rid of it and if it can thus be fed to hogs it will pay in every respect to pull it. Mr. Forester has five hundred acres under his jurisdiction near Deseronto, which he has thoroughly freed from mustard at an expenditure of only $49. It will pay the farmers to remove this pest.

Wedded in Cleveland.

A quiet but interesting event took place in Cleveland, Ohio, on Wednesday, June 20th, at the residence of Mr. Henry Heisner, 234 Rhodes Avenue, when his daughter, Miss Annie, was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. H. Martin, formerly of Peterborough, at one time a member of the EXAMINER staff. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Winters, of the Presbyterian church, in the presence of a few intimate friends of the bride and groom. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Lizzie, and Mr. A. Martin, of Peterborough, brother of the groom, ably filled the position of groomsman. After the usual wedding supper the happy couple repaired to their future residence, 235 Trowbridge street, where their numerous friends will wish them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

Since the world began no heir was ever born to so great an empire as that on which the great-grandson of Queen Victoria opened his eyes on Saturday to the great satisfaction of Her Majesty's subjects everywhere. The prayer of the vast majority of all these peoples over whom he may yet hope to reign is that the new prince may be robust of frame, vigorous in mind, and full of the spirit of God, that he may have grace and wisdom when his time shall come to preside over 'this so great a people.'

Since Confederation there have been—including to-day's—eight general elections. In Sept. 1867; March 14th, 1871; June 11th 1875; June 5th, 1879; Feb. 27th, 1883; Dec 28th, 1886; June 5th, 1890; and June 29th 1894. In the last five Sir Oliver Mowat was sustained and the possibilities are that he will again be sustained to-day.

TWO CASTS OF FATE.

It would appear that Fate loves striking contrasts. The same day that brings us the news of the assassination of President Carnot, tells us also of the birth of an heir to the British throne. There are now living four persons of royal blood in direct line of succession from great grandmother to great grandson. A child like this first-born of the Duchess of York, comes as the inheritor of vast opportunity; and to vast opportunity more and more as the world progresses, is attached vast responsibility. To turn to the darker side of the shield, the death of the ill-fated Carnot cannot but complicate the already sufficiently confused state of affairs in France; and may even carry trouble across the Alps. Europe is in a bad mood to have an Italian anarchist assassinate the President of France, and the rioting that has followed may breed something more serious. The best wish of the intertwined nationalities of Canada will be peace and stability to France and prosperity to the latest born heir to the throne of Britain.

He tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He has not done any farm work for years, but he helped to put in this spring's crops, and anyone who goes to see him to-day will find him between the plough-handles instead of laid out on a bed or an easy chair as he used to be.

CAUSED A SENSATION AT OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The assassination of President Carnot created a great sensation here last night. It was the sole topic of conversation in political circles. Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, who had the pleasure of meeting the late Chief Magistrate during the Behring Sea conference in Paris last year, feel very grieved over his tragic fate. Both speak of him in the highest terms. The hospitality of President Carnot was proverbial. Both Cabinet ministers enjoyed the distinction of breakfasting with him at Fontainebleau besides participating with him at several functions.

CROPS OF ONTARIO.

HOW THEY LOOK AFTER THE HEAVY RAINS.

A Departmental Bulletin—Fall Wheat Stood Bad Weather Well—Spring Wheat a Little Short—Most Crops will Equal the Average, but are Late.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin covering the condition of the crops up to June 16, including therefore, the period of heavy rain. June weather so far has been quite favourable to the growth of crops.

FALL WHEAT.

This crop has stood the heavy rain and changes of weather much better than the spring crops. Throughout the entire province some low lands have been flooded and the crop drowned out. On very heavy clays there has been some damage, but on light and loamy soils very little injury has resulted. The reports for this time of the year are quite up to the average. The frost of the first week of June was felt to a very light extent. The reports from all parts of the province are practically the same—that after the rain the wheat soon picked up and showed less injury than had been supposed. No more than usual has been plowed up and resown to spring grain. Heading out was in progress on the 15th. In some places the growth was quite rank. With favourable weather for the next three weeks a good crop of fall wheat may be looked for. At present the conditions promise an average yield. In the Lake Erie district the crop was fair to very good, except on low lands and very heavy clay. Damage by frost was very slight. In the Lake Huron district most reports are for a good crop. Some attention is given by correspondents to the benefits of drainage, which were very apparent during the present season. In the Georgian Bay counties a small fraction of the crop has been lost, but on the whole it is quite up to the average. In the West Midland group the best reports come from Wellington and the worst from Middlesex, where, however, the crop is reported fair. Along Lake Ontario the reports are favourable for a fair crop—fully up to the average. In the eastern counties the amount of fall wheat is too small to affect the total, but reports are favourable. To sum up: The present condition is fair, with prospects of a crop quite up to, if not a little over, the average with favourable weather.

SPRING WHEAT.

As usual, there is but little spring wheat in the western part of the province, while in the eastern half the acreage is declining. The low lying lands have suffered severely, but the higher lands have fair crops. The grain was sown in fine condition and is now recovering rapidly from the extra rain. In many places correspondents state that the rain did more good than harm. In the eastern counties about one-third of the spring wheat is either destroyed or is in poor condition; two-thirds may be said to be fair to good. Less than usual has been sown in the northern districts. On the whole present indications are for a crop about two-thirds of the average.

BARLEY.

In the Lake Erie district only a moderate quantity has been sown, and the condition is under the average. It has suffered from rain and also from frost. In the Lake Huron district barley is not is so good a form as spring wheat; it is backward and a little yellow in places, but it is now improving. In the Georgian Bay district rain and frost did some injury, but an improvement has taken place since warm weather returned. In the West Midland district the crop is reported as being uneven or patchy and backward. In the Lake Ontario district the condition is a little under the average. In the St. Lawrence and Ottawa districts the condition is reported as more favourable, and with good weather fair a fair crop will be obtained. In the East Midland district the crop is fair. In the northern districts nothing of any consequence is reported. On the whole it may be concluded that the barley has suffered quite extensively, is backward in growth, but at present is making very rapid progress, and with a continuance of favourable weather will probably come up to nearly the average of the last two years.

OATS.

The reports from every section of the Province are practically the same, and to the following effect: The rains drowned out the crop on low lying fields. On higher lands and those underdrained, little or no damage was done. At the time of reporting the crop was making very rapid growth, and becoming somewhat rank in straw. A few fields baked by the hot sun, but on the whole the prospects were most promising, the only unfavourable report being as to the low lands. The crop is on the whole somewhat more backward than usual, but present conditions point to a yield fully up to the average.

There appears to be less and less of this crop sown every year. As far as reported upon it came through the winter in good condition, was favourably affected by the continued rains, and now is in excellent condition, having made a very heavy growth.

PEAS.

The continued rains did more damage to this crop than to the other spring sown crops. Early sown peas have done well on high lands, but on low lands have suffered heavily. The rains retarded sowing so that a large acreage has been put in late. As a consequence the yield will be a little short in quantity, but at present the quality of the crop is in general all that could be desired. The report from the largest pea counties of the West are quite favourable.

CORN.

In the south-west a considerable quantity had been planted before the rain came, and much of it had to be re-planted. The crop over the Province is backward, growth being checked by cool weather. The condition at present is hardly up to the average. The late start may interfere with the maturing of the southern ensilage varieties. Many report the young crop as not looking very thrifty. From all parts of the Province came reports of re-planting, of late planting and of slow growth. Prospects are for a crop a little under the average in quantity.

BUCKWHEAT.

Two-thirds of this crop is grown in the Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence and Ottawa groups. Very little had been sown before the rains came on. At the time of writing farmers were just putting in their crops. The only report possible at this time is that quite an extensive acreage will be grown this year.

BEANS.

Early planted beans, especially in gardens, were cut off by late frosts. Most of the crop has been put in late. The acreage will therefore probably be below the average. While many report that the crop is now coming on well, the general opinion is that the early frosts and the lateness of planting will cause a diminished yield for this year.

TIMOTHY.

A small timothy was winter-killed, but the principal damage has resulted from the cold wet weather of spring and early summer. The reports from all counties are in agreement that we shall have a short crop of hay this year. Old meadows are thin and backward, new meadows are only in fair condition. The rapid growth now being made will not be sufficient to bring the crop up to the average. The prospects are for a crop about two-thirds that of 1893. The crop is late—a month late in some sections. In some places it is heading out on short growth. There is no need to differentiate counties or districts, as all report the same, namely a light crop. The heavy crop of last year may be responsible in part for the light growth of this year.

CLOVER.

This crop has suffered more than timothy. Complaints of winter-killing are universal. The old fields are very patchy and uneven; the new fields are coming on in fair condition. A few report the crop excellent, but the majority report a short and uneven crop of red clover. Alsike, now in bloom, is showing up well. On the whole the clover crop promises to be below the average. Damage by insects is reported from a few counties.

ROOTS AND POTATOES.

Early planted potatoes very much injured by frosts, and large quantities rotted on low lands. Late planted potatoes are now coming on well. The "bug" is not more numerous than usual. The season is not far enough advanced to report upon roots, as sowing is later than usual.

BEES AND HONEY.

Reports regarding the condition of bees are variable. The loss during the winter appears to be about the average where hives were left on the stands, but the mortality appears to have been greater than usual where the bees were wintered indoors. The fine weather of the late March and early April days gave bees an earlier outing than usual, but the wet and cold weather which afterwards prevailed was very trying to the apiary. Several correspondents complained of spring dwindling, and losses from chilled brood and hunger were reported from various parts of the Province. There has been practically no mention made of foul brood. With continued fine weather it was expected that colonies would pick up, and that honey-making would go rapidly forward.

LABOR AND WAGES.

Out of every eight correspondents reporting seven stated that there was a sufficiency of labour, and as regards quality, one out of every three men offering for farm help was considered a poor hand. The result of the large number of men seeking rural employment in the spring and summer resulted in the lowering of the scale of wages. The average amount paid monthly, with board, was $16.48, compared with $17.17 in the previous year. With board monthly wages averaged $24.48, or 2½c. below the average rate of the preceeding year. Day labourers averaged 83 cents with board, a falling off of 5 cents compared with 1893, while working by the day, without board, received but $1.11, or 6 cents less than in the year previous. Domestic servants are still scarce on the farm; the woman question has still to be settled in that quarter.

THE WEATHER.

The average temperature of April was 6 degrees higher than that of 1893 and 4.5 degrees higher than the average of the previous twelve years. The rain fall for April was 1 inch, compared with 2.61 inch in 1893 and 1.60 as the average of the 12 years. The rain fall of May, however, was 5.72 inches, against 3.35 in 1893 and 2.77 as the average of 1882-93. Frost was severe on May 23th and 20th, ice one-quarter of an inch thick being formed in some places. June has, so far, been quite favourable to the growth of the crops.

FRUIT.

The frost has done some damage to fruit. Grape vines have suffered quite extensively in the West, Midland, Lake Huron and Georgian Bay counties. Peach trees were injured to some extent by frost and "leaf curl" is reported by many. There is promise of only a fair crop. Apples are setting well and on the whole promise a good crop, especially east of Toronto. Pears are in good form. Plums and cherries are reported fair. Small fruits give prospect of extra yield. Strawberries on the whole are reported as turning out fairly well. The Essex and Kent and Niagara districts give on the whole very favourable reports as to fruit.

(H. Thompson & Co's Old Stand.)

BEAUTIFUL SLEEP—is an expression used for sound sleep. Nothing is so gratifying to the nerves, heart, and head, as perfect sleep—a companion of good digestion and a healthy liver. A tired digestion fails to assimilate, or take care of, the food we eat. Something bracing or invigorating is needed for the liver, stomach, and intestines.

This is where you will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do the most good. They are tiny, sugar-coated pills, scarcely larger than mustard seed, made of concentrated botanical extracts. These "Pellets" are easily dissolved in the stomach and absorbed into the blood, stimulating a flow of bile from the liver, and arousing to activity all the glandular secretions. Thus they act in nature's own way.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded, in all Bilious Attacks, in Sick Headache, Constipation, Dizziness, and Indigestion.

It cures Catarrh in the Head — perfectly and permanently — Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING.

A Large Attendance is Expected at the Annual Convention in Toronto.

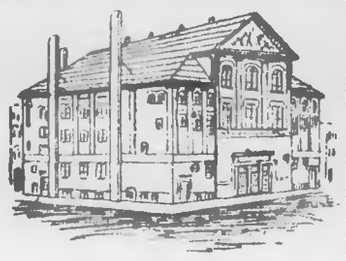
The citizens of Toronto are preparing to receive and entertain the young Baptists of the United States and Canada, who will assemble in the Canadian "city of churches" to the number of 6,000 or more to take part in the annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, July 19 to 22, inclusive. The convention will be held in Massey Music hall, whose immense auditorium—one of the most capacious in the Dominion—will be taxed to the utmost to accommodate the delegates. Every state in the Union will be represented, and the south will send larger delegations than ever before.

More than 100 names of leading Baptists of the United States and Canada are on the programme, and the laity will take a leading part in the proceedings. Live issue of the day and the practical problems involved in the young people's work will be the principal topics for discussion. On two days of the meetings the convention will be resolved into a series of workers conferences, each with its specific programme, ending with open meetings for the free discussion of methods. The auxiliary bodies will meet on Saturday, and on Sunday, the closing day, four large meetings will be held.



MASSEY MUSIC HALL, TORONTO.

The union embraces all young people's societies of whatever name or method in Baptist churches and all Baptist churches having no such organization. No change of names is required when a society affiliates with the union, and all matters affecting the internal organization of a young people's union are left with its own members. So there have been banded together in this way Christian Endeavor societies, Baptist Young People's unions, Loyalist leagues, young people's societies, Working Bands, Young People's guilds and many other societies.

The Baptist Young People's union was formed in the Second Baptist church of Chicago, July 7 and 8, 1891. Nearly 3,000 attended the first meetings. That 3,000 has grown to nearly 75,000 in three years, and the order supports a paper which has a weekly circulation of 24,000. The Union has thirty-three state organizations, every northern state but Montana and Maine having an organization. The last convention was held in Indianapolis last year, with 3,500 delegates. The convention of 1892 was held at Detroit with an attendance of over 4,000, and it is estimated that more than 6,000 will meet in Toronto in July. John H. Chapman of Chicago is president of the union, Frank Harvey Field of New York, is first vice president; A. A. Ayer of Montreal second vice president; Dr. George D. Eager of Alabama third vice president; Dr. Frank L. Wilkins of Chicago, editor of The Baptist Union, general secretary; J. O. Staples, Downer's Grove, Ills., treasurer, and A. M. Brinckle of Philadelphia recording secretary.

Students' Division of Time.

The newspapers are making various comments on the allotment of time recommended to Harvard students by President Eliot, but the most obvious one we have not seen made. His schedule is as follows: For sleep, eight hours; for healthy out of door exercise, two hours; for meals, three hours; for chores, one hour; for work, ten hours. The curious omission is that no time is set for prayer or spiritual meditation. Passing over the suppression of the devotional idea, we are inclined to think that after a student has slept eight hours he must be something of an epicure to spend three of the remaining sixteen in eating. A healthy young fellow ought to be able to eat all that is good for him daily in an hour-and-a-half where there are no social formalities to lengthen out the meals. Two ours is a reasonable time for exercise, but ten for work is out of all proportion for a student.—Rochester Post-Express.

The earlier symptoms of dyspepsia, heartburn and occasional headaches, should not be neglected. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla to be cured.

JOHN MORLEY.

even in the front of party disaster. As a politician he is the butt for many shafts, and the accusations against him have been numerous, blindness to detail, obstinate persistence in his designs, his ideas either too broad or too confined, entire unconsciousness of the duties required or the pleasures of a position of power. Some will grant, even among his greatest admirers, that as a tactician he has at times shown himself to be strangely wanting, but, on the other had, for the ability to address an educated and serious audience, and by his subtle power over speech to carry his hearers with him, convincing them that what he says, and that alone and nothing else, is the right, John Morley is without a rival. In a recent interview he said: "Two men have made me—John Stuart Mill and Mr. Gladstone." To both he has fully sepaid any indebtedness. The philosophy of radicalism even as taught by its chief disciple he has vigorously kept alive; toward Mr. Gladstone the most perfect fidelity and the truest devotion have ever been conspicuous. To his party in return for the experience his position of responsibility has afforded him he has given the intellectual force which unceasing study alone can produce. He is the possessor of a physiognomy at once austere, stern and unbending, but his sedateness of demeanor covers a warm sympathy with life's deeper emotions. On common occasions too high above the vulgar mind, his words sometimes appear to fall flat, but once his passion is roused, his sympathies deeply interested and his blood up, there is no man in the English government to day who can speak with clearer argument, greater eloquence or more telling effect than the Right Hon. John Morley.

A Tell-Tale Hymn Book.

A short time ago a resident had a sister visiting her from a distance who was not sufficiently well rigged out to attend church with the family on the following Sunday. The remedy was easy. A visit was paid to a leading drapery establishment in the town from which a sealskin jacket was sent home on approbation. It was returned on the Monday following with the usual message that the so-called lady would explain. But, alas! for her tell-tale forgetfulness, a hymn-book was found in the jacket pocket, showing that it had been worn at church on the previous day. The explanation promised was never made.—South Wales Echo.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

FATE OF THE RED MAN.

AN ENGLISH JOURNALIST'S CHAT WITH PAULINE JOHNSON.

The Iroquois Poetess Tells Him Some Things About Her Race Which Probably Astonished Him—The Beautiful Poem "The White Wampum" and Its Meaning.

"You ask me why I have come to England," said Miss E. Pauline Johnson, the young Iroquois poetess and reciter, Teka-

PAULINE JOHNSON.

hionwake, to the writer last week. "I have come here because my Indian people are very much misunderstood among you English. You do not believe them to be poetic, artistic, and as beautifully moral in their religion as they are. You have a poor idea of the grandeur of the Red Man's nature, and you do him an injustice."

"An injustice? I thought the Indians were so well treated in Canada!" I exclaimed.

"Yes, the Canadian government treats us with the greatest consideration, while the United States government does not study the Indians at all. We of the Six Nations tribe—that is, the Iroquois tribe made up of the Mohawk, Cayuga, Oneida, Onondaga, Seneca, and Tuscarora—have our own government. We are, of course, under white law, but the Canadian government never does a thing without asking the chiefs of the Iroquois in council, and when the chiefs pass a bill in our council it is submitted to the Canadian parliament. But there is never any dissension. They do not impose on us, and we do not impose on them. But then, we are one reserve out of hundreds."

"You spoke of an injustice?"

"You do the Indian an injustice by the way you think, and speak and write of him. I am an Iroquois and, of course, I think the Iroquois are the best Indians in civilization and birth, just as you English think you are better than the Turks. Do you know that the Iroquois have done more in the last hundred years than it took the native Britons all their time to do? Indian families who fifty years ago were worshipping the Great Spirit, in the old Indian way, have turned out professional men and finely-educated women who hold responsible positions. One of the best government land surveyors Canada has is a full-blooded young Indian, and one of the best assistants in the Indian department at Ottaw is a little Mohawk lady. You cannot, perhaps, count such cases by scores, but they show of what the Red Man is capable. He is no savage if only given a chance."

"How is he handicapped now?"

"For one thing, by the awful class of white people near our reserves. When an Indian mixes in cultured white society, he becomes, in five years, a cultured man. When I was a child I was never allowed to have any white friends except those of the missionary's family. They drag the Indian down. Yet I would not say that the Indians have now any real grievance, so far as the government is concerned, though they had at the time of the Northwest rebellion. The only thing is this. Suppose we came over to England as a powerful people. Suppose you gave us welcome to English soil, worshipped us as gods, as we worshipped you white people when you first came to Canada; and suppose we encroached upon your homeland and drove you back and back, and then said, 'Oh, well, we will present you with a few acres'—a few acres of your own dear land. What would you think of it all? So we think. We are without a country. I cannot say America is my country. The whole continent belongs to us by right of lineage. We welcomed you as friends, we worshipped you, and you drove us up into a little corner.

"But you white men may well think better of the Indian than you do. Why, do you know that the Iroquois have one of the most marvelous constitutions that the world has seen? Hiawatha—not the god that dear dead Longfellow painted him, but the greatest statesman Indian civilization ever produced—he found the Indians in eternal feud with one another, killing each other out, and he conceived the idea of making one vast nation called the Iroquois to sweep the continent of America as Napoleon swept Europe. He got fifty-two representatives of each tribe, who were all fighting with one another, to meet, as Disraeli gathered the Berlin conference together. He got them to agree, and they amalgamated and fought en masse. Instead of fighting among themselves, they fought for the British. To get quarrelling Indian tribes together to do that, and give them a constitution which has lasted for four hundred years, was no small achievement.

"I will read you what Horatio Hale, the American historian, says: 'The laws and policy framed by Hiawatha and his associates more than four centuries ago are still in force among their descendants on the Grand River Reserve, near Brantford, Ontario. The territory has shrunk by many sales made at the well-meant instance of the protecting government to an extent of little more than 20,000 acres, with a population of some 3,000 souls. But in this small domain the chiefs are still elected, the councils are still conducted, and the civil policy is decided as nearly as possible by the rules of their ancient league. Not many persons are aware that there exists in the heart of Canada this relic of the oldest constitutional government of America—a free commonwealth, older even than any in Europe, except those of England and Switzerland, and perhaps two small semi-independent republics which lurk in the fastnesses of the Pyrenees and the Apennines.'

"That was what Horatio Hale wrote, and he and Parkman and, of course, Thoreau, are the most accurate recorders of Indian affairs, though Parkman did abuse the Iroquois somewhat unjustly.

"And it makes one feel sad to think that, despite all these historic associations and national character, the Indian is going to die out like the Pole and the Jew. Yes, I know the Iroquois are increasing in numbers a little now; but while we are today, say, 5,000, there must have been 30,000 of us a hundred years ago. The same sad tale must be told of the Crees, the Blackfeet, and the Sioux—all of splendid lineage. The Onondaga are blue-blooded—not a drop of any other blood in them, and they generally remain conservative in their habits. They will not embrace Christianity. I know an Onondaga family which can count back nine hundred years in direct line, and a great many Crees and Sioux Indians are the same. The Tuscaroras have a little Osage blood in them, I think—some Florida Indian blood."

"But come, Miss Johnson," I said rallying her; "you yourself would hardly be leading your present life of culture had it not been for the white man's invasion."

"Perhaps not the same kind of life; but there are two of me. Sometimes I feel I must get away to the Highlands among a people who seem somehow akin to mine."

Then Miss Johnson went on to show me the precious wampum belts which form a part of her Indian costume in recitals. "The white wampum," she explained, "always signifies peace, and is far more valuable and rare than the purple. Wampum is the history, literature, seal and coinage of the Iroquois. The art of carving the head from the shell is lost, and the art of reading the belts is also lost, save in one or two instances where a pupil has learned by rote the meaning of certain belts. The diagonal lines on a belt always proclaim it as Iroquois. This purple wampum, the "Belt of Hospitality," signifies the freedom of the camp or settlement or lodge to a visitor. The circles are emblematic of the polished basswood bowl wherein is served the national dish—beaver-tail soup. No. I have never tasted our national dish. You have killed off nearly all our beavers. This white wampum here, the 'Ladies' belt,' is one that has seen service in its own peculiar capacity. In a case of murder the old Indian law of 'blood for blood' is invariable, save in some instance where an unmarried female relation of the murderer presents this belt to the avenger and petitions that he allow the offender to go unavenged; the avenger is bound to accept the offering of peace."

This meaning of the white wampum is brought out in one of Miss Johnson's own poems:

> And she hears her mother saying:
> "Take thy belt of wampum white;
> Go unto yon evil savage,
> While he glories on the height.
> Sing and sue for peace between us;
> At his feet lay wampum white."

Among other treasures at Miss Johnson's studio is the copy of the Toronto Globe, of October 2, 1869, bearing a superscription addressed to Chief G. H. M. Johnson, thus:

"With kind regards, from your brother chief, Arthur."

It gives a full account of the ceremony when the Duke of Connaught was made chief of the Iroquois by Miss Johnson's father and grandfather in full Indian conclave. I wonder whether H.R.H. ever wears the woolen and red-beaded scarf with his ribbon of the Garter to indicate his Indian chieftainship. He is one of the two white men who are entitled to sit in the council of the Six Nations. There was, too, an autograph photograph of Prince Bismarck presented to the chief of the Six Nations, and much else to recall with pathetic interest the glories of the Indian past. —From the London (Eng.) Canadian Gazette.

IT WAS A FREE FIGHT.

The Row at the Match Between the Capitals and Shamrocks.

OTTAWA, June 26.—The Free Press, referring to the lacrosse match, says: People swarmed on the grounds at once. Other players tried to interfere for the sake of decency and peace, and among them was Tansey, but scarcely had he used his efforts to quell the unruly throng than he was assailed by another party. With remarkable good judgment Tansey evaded a couple of blows and ran for his life. Just then the passionate throng had got beyond all control and a general onslaught followed. The wearers of the green made the best of an ugly situation. With commendable courage they stood their ground and with their lacrosse sticks cut whirlwind circles right and left through the crowd, which scattered in all directions. Many felt the hard end of a piece of hickory, and it was not long before the fighting elements showed the white feather and stood back in more congenial quarters. Tremendous excitement followed. Everybody was shocked at the murderous assaults made all round, and not a few ladies turned away horror stricken and left the stand in disgust. The police made a great attempt to control the vast crowd. The policemen pulled out their batons and followed the example of the Shamrock stick handlers. They fell foul at the outset by coming in contact with a couple of Montreal excursionists, who retaliated in characteristic Griffintown style. Pandemonium followed.

"It has cured others and will cure you" is true only of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The motto suits the medicine and the medicine the motto. What better assurance could you have that a remedy will cure you, than the fact that it has cured such multitudes of others?

BABY'S WEIGHT.

Is Your Little ones Losing or Gaining Flesh?

If the baby is healthy and well fed, it should increase very steadily in weight. Too often the hot, oppressive summer weather retards growth and development; this is always the case when the baby is improperly nourished.

If the little one cannot be sustained fully and regularly on a bountiful supply of healthy milk from its mother's breast, it should receive a daily diet of pure Lactated Food.

When the little one is kept on Lactated Food there is a perceptible daily growth, and a guarantee that no summer troubles will endanger health or life. The manufacturers of Lactated Food have on fyle hundreds of letters from thankful mothers, testifying to the fact that the great Food is a preventive of dysentery, diarrhœa and cholera infantum.

This summer we hear of hundreds of mothers using Lactated Food who never used it before.

A grand work is being done; the babes who are fed on the Food are progressing famously; they are increasing in weight, and rest and sleep well. Are you using Lactated Food, dear mother, for your weak and sickly infant? Give it a trial for one week, the results will surprise you.

The Great Annual Picnic.

The regular annual picnic of the congregation of St. Joseph's Douro, was held on Wednesday, the 20th inst. on the lot adjoining St. Patrick's Hall. Although the weather was unfavourable a very large crowd attended and all spent a pleasant day.

A long list of prizes were offered and the following is a list of the successful competitors:—

Long jump—1st W. Geurin, 2nd M. Walsh.

Baggage race—John O'Brien and Jas. Walsh.

High kick—1st John O'Brien, 2nd W. Guerin.

Boy's race—1st D. O'Brien, 2nd John Geurin.

The ladies of St. Joseph's, Douro, as usual surpassed themselves on this occasion. Their tables were perfect in all their appointments.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying inteligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Y. P. S. C. E. NOTES.

FRESH AIR SCHEME.

The following extracts from an article in the Toronto Endeavour Hearld is worthy of thought in the minds of all Christian farmers and if any feel disposed to act on the suggestion they can send their names to A. J. Johnston, Peterborough, who will at once notify the Toronto Endeavourers that there are Christian homes in our county thrown open to the poor children for a few weeks' holiday:—

"Last summer one of the Christian Endeavour societies of the city decided to attempt the work of sending a number of poor children to the country for an outing. The attempt was a success far be; ond their anticipation, and more than a score of children, who hardly knew what fresh air and green fields were like, spent a fortnight in the country and came home stronger and better, and happier. Now we want to see this work extended and there is no more practical and worthy form of endeavour for our societies at this season. We would appeal, first, to the societies in Toronto, to undertake the expense of sending out a few of the children in our city who need such an outing. We are certain that any society that undertook to help in this Christ-like work would find that many members of their church, outside of the society entirely, would be only too glad to assist financially.

Then we would appeal to our Endeavour friends in the country towns or villages, not too far distant from the city, to provide homes where the children would be received and looked after for a week or two. This is a most important part of the work, but we are confident that, for Christ's sake, many of our readers will volunteer to do this for some of His little ones.

Now, will not some of our societies at both ends of the line consider earnestly what they can do in this matter and notify the editor of the Endeavour Herald as early as possible. Any further information wanted will be given on application."

ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY.

This society held their monthly consecration meeting on Monday night and it was lively throughout, Mr. Webster taking the topic of the evening. His address was very instructive and pictured to the members the very highest ideals a Christian Endeavourer should strive to imitate.

The executive of this society will meet at 7:30 Friday evening in the Ladies' parlour. The social and lookout committees will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening to discuss the advisability of holding a social.

The next prayer meeting will be held on Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock, instead of Monday evening, on account of Monday being a holiday.

The young men of the Epworth League of Charlotte street church intend giving a musical entertainment in the lecture room of the church this evening commencing at eight o'clock. Silver collection at the door. Ladies as well as gentlemen are invited. This promises to be the best ever held in Charlotte street church.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

SHORT STAY IN PROCEEDINGS

If the Appeal for a New Trial is Granted the Defence is Confident of Vindication—Mr. Wiman Studies Human Nature in the Tombs.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Erastus Wiman has been granted a stay until Friday.

It will be remembered that Judge Ingraham, after he had sentenced Mr. Wiman, directed the sheriff not to take the prisoner to State Prison until Tuesday. The order issued by Judge Barrett is made returnable next Friday and then in all probability, an extended stay will be granted.

Mr. Wiman was seen in the Tombs. He had just been visited by several friends and was busily engaged in answering a large number of letters that lay piled on a table in front of him. He was quite cheerful.

"Of course I have hopes," he said. "I regard this short stay as a good omen, although I do not see how the justice could do anything else. I expect that my counsel's efforts will be successful—how could they be anything else? Justice must reign. As to the legal part of this thing I know but little. I do know that I have the sympathy of nearly everybody. I am in the best of health and spirits. Some of the papers have said I was depressed, but that is incorrect. To have a good character is a great comfort in such times and then to receive such assurances of sympathy as I have from perfect strangers. It cheers me more than all the bolts and bars in the world depress."

Mr. Wiman feels that his appeal will be successful and that a new trial will vindicate him.

"That's what I want," he said, rubbing his hands together, "not a pardon, but vindication, and that will come when the matter rises from the purlieus of the district attorney's office to the loftier attitudes of the Court of Appeals, where justice and the law prevail. I never knew how many friends I had until I got here. Every mail brings me generous words of sympathy and cheer. That shows that a man is judged by his full round life and not by the accidents of it, by what he has done for others not by what he has done for himself; and I am making new friends here all the time. I am getting to understand human nature as I never understood it before. I find good in my neighbors in the cells. There's an Italian here named Larabaro, a lonely fellow in for murder, never committed more than I did, and on the other side is a delightful chap named Marnin accused of being a green goods man, whose society I enjoy very much. Then there are two alleged incendiaries who seem to be thoroughly good fellows. Yes, indeed, it's quite an event in my life to be put in a position where I can study this class of society. Everybody is very kind to me, the officers, the guards and all. I am afraid that I am an awful nuisance. If Buffalo Bill had not sent me fifty tickets to the wild west show, which I distributed among those who have been so kind to me, I fear I should have been unable to show my gratitude." Mr. Wiman shook hands with the reporter and bade him a cheery good bye.

General Tracy has expressed the hope that his efforts in behalf of Erastus Wiman would prove successful. "Of course," he said, "whether or no the stay is extended the case will be appealed. We hope to get him out on bail."

YOUNG WOMAN MURDERED.

A Pretty Brunette Shot by an Unknown Man Who Suicided.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Mrs. Carrie Reed, a pretty brunette, 24 years of age, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by an unknown man, who immediately turned his pistol upon himself with fatal results.

The police as yet have failed to establish the identity of the murderer and suicide. Upon examination at the morgue it was found he had cut the name from all his linen, but on one of his socks was found the name "Hunt." In his inside pocket was a fragment of a letter signed "Carrie." Mrs. Reed's husband is at present in the west.

Simcott Again Skips Out.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Wm. A. Simcott, late treasurer and secretary of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid Association, whose accounts have been found short about $25,000 by an investigation committee, has left the city, leaving his destination a secret.

Will Resume Work.

ALTOONA, Pa., June 26.—Last night the miners' convention adopted a resolution allowing all operators who will pay the compromise price (40 cents net) to resume operations.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 26, 1894.

The amount of wheat afloat to Europe is 36,472,000, a decrease of 2,864,000 bushels for the week. A year ago the amount afloat was was 43,112 bushels.

THE FARMERS' MA There is very little grain offering. White wheat is quoted at 62c, red at 61c and goose at 58c. Oats unchanged at 39½ to 40½c, peas at 65c, barley dull at 41 to 43c.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheat has advanced 7d. Foreign wheat, though the supplies have been large, has been firm. American wheats have advanced 3d. Round corn is unchanged, but flat is 6d dearer. Barley, oats and flour are dull.

Buffalo.—Cattle—125 cars; fairly active; selected cattle for export, $4.40 to $4.80; good fat shippers, $4 to $4.40; light western steers, $3.65 to $3.90; fat and natives, about 1,100 lbs., $3.90 to $4.10; mixed, $3 to $3.75. Sheep and lambs—Seventeen cars; strong for choice yearlings and good lambs; heavy sheep and fat ewes not wanted; fair to good sheep, $2.75 to $3.15; choice to fancy lambs, $5 to $5.85; fair to choice, $3.25 to $4.75.

At the opening of business at the New York stock exchange lower prices were the rule. How much of the selling was due to the unsettled condition of the foreign markets on account of the assassination of President Carnot and what proportion resulted from the uneasiness occasioned abroad by the dwindling treasury gold reserve, it is difficult to determine, but good judges were inclined to the belief that the bulk of liquidations was simply the continuation of the selling which set in during the early part of last week.

THE SAME OLD STORY

The Provincial Government Again Sustained at the Polls.

AN ALL-OVER MAJORITY OF 8

The Straight Government Supporters Number 51—The Conservatives Elect 27—The Patrons of Industry 15, and the P. P. A. 1 Member.

| | | |
| Liberals | 51 | |
| Conservatives | 27 | |
| Patrons | 15 | |
| P. P. A. | 1 | 43 |
| Government majority over all | | 8 |

TORONTO, June 27.—The Government of Sir Oliver Mowat has again been sustained by the electors of the Province of Ontario. Above is found a recapitulation of the latest returns, showing the majority of Sir Oliver to be over all the varied elements of the Opposition eight members in a full house.

Another Way of Looking At It.

The pre-election lists show that of the Patron candidates elected only two were pronounced Conservatives, so that adding these two to the Opposition and the other thirteen to the Government, along with the P. P. A., Mr. McCallum, the recapitulation will stand thus:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Liberals elected | | 51 |
| Liberal Patrons | | 13 |
| P. P. A. Liberal | | 1 |
| | | 65 |
| Conservatives elected | 27 | |
| Conservative Patrons | 2 | 29 |
| Gov. majority with Patron support | | 36 |

A Unique Contest.

The election was unique in the fact that in every constituency there was a contest, in many cases three and four candidates ran. There were 85 Liberal candidates, 62 Conservatives, 15 Independents and 52 Patrons.

Notable Defeats.

One Minister—Mr. Harty of Kingston—was defeated by a small majority; but in surprising contrast to the majority by which he was elected. The Commissioner of Public Works, however, will, it is said, find another seat.

Another serious Government loss is that of the Speaker in the late House, Mr. Ballantyne, and the minority representative in Toronto, Mr. Tait, has likewise been defeated.

On the other side, Sol White and Mr. Clancy, the financier of the Opposition, have succumbed, and their loss is keenly regretted by Conservatives here.

Old Members Defeated.

Algoma, W.—Conmee, Lib.

Government Losses.

The following table shows the losses sustained by the Government and who gained the seats they lost:

| GOV. LOSS. | CON. GAIN. | PATRON GAIN. |
|---|---|---|
| Algoma W | Savage | |
| Bruce, C | | McDonald |
| Durham, W | Reid | |
| Glengarry | | McPherson |
| Grey S | | McNichol |
| Kingston | Smythe | |
| Lanark, S | Matheson | |

| Prince Edward | | Caven |
| Simcoe, C | | Coutts |
| Stormont | | Bennett |
| Toronto | Marter | |
| Wellington, W | | Tucker |
| York, W | St. John | |

Conservative Losses.

This table shows the constituencies lost by the Opposition and the gainers of the seats:

| CON. LOST. | LIB. GAINED. | PAT. GAINED. |
|---|---|---|
| Addington | Halliday | |
| Algoma, E | Farwell | |
| Carleton | | Kidd |
| Dufferin | | Dynes |

| Kent, W | Pardo | |
| Middlesex | | Shore |
| Ontario, N | Chapple | |
| Simcoe, W | | Currie |
| Welland | German | |

The Patrons of Industry.

The Patrons of Industry captured 15 seats and are fairly well satisfied with their success as a new party. It is conceded here that they have not gained all they desired—the balance of power in the legislature.

The Torontos.

The Conservatives were jubilant in this city, inasmuch as they elected their men by majorities ranging from 936 for Marter to 1854 for Howland. Notwithstanding this the Empire, however, refrained from displaying any more figures after putting out this last bulletin:

The Conservative Estimate.

|---|---|
| Government supporters | 47 |
| Opposition | 43 |
| Places to hear from | 4 |
| | 94 |

A Collapsed Opposition.

The Globe editorially says: Out of 94 members of the new Legislature the Liberal party, excluding all doubtful and some Patrons who are friendly to the Government, has elected a clear majority.

Out of those 94 constituencies the Conservative party has elected 26, less than one-fourth of the Legislature. The party has suffered the collapse which was the natural consequence of its course in the campaign. By leaving more than a third of the constituencies unprovided with regular Conservative candidates they confessed that its policy had not convinced the mind or touched the heart of the country. It left the contest in many of these constituencies to the P.P.A. It, therefore, became associated, in spite of occasional protests, with the methods and aims of that association, and it is involved in its defeat. It is a melancholy ending for a political party, but one which with ordinary sagacity might have been foreseen.

Jubilation at Whitby.

WHITBY, June 27.—Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, was re-elected by 600 majority, with several favorable subdivisions to hear from. Tremendous enthusiasm prevails among his supporters over his victory, and he spoke to several thousand people gathered here from all over the riding. Great jubilation is going on, bon-fires, bands, fireworks and immense torchlight processions being prominent features.

Discussion of the Salaries of Exchequer Court Judges.

SIR JOHN THOMPSON'S MOTION

He Proposed to Make a Provision Whereby a Supreme Court Judge Could Retire After Five Years on His Salary—A Lively Discussion Ensues.

OTTAWA, June 27.—The House of Commons devoted the whole day to a discussion of the salaries of Judges of the Supreme and Exchequer Courts. This discussion arose on a motion of Sir John Thompson to make provision whereby a Judge of the Supreme Court, who had spent five years on that bench and who had been for fifteen years a judge of a Superior court, could, after he had reached the age of 70 years of age, retire on his own option on the salary he was then drawing. The Premier held that this would have the effect of strengthening the court, since it would allow a judge whose vigor was gone retiring without any diminuation of salary when probably it would be difficult for him to do so on the reduced allowance. It was also necessary to improve the positions on the bench so as to make them more attractive and lucrative for leading men at the bar to aspire to the same.

Hon. Wilfred Laurier strongly opposed the change. Several Liberals also spoke against. Among those was Mr. Tarte. The latter went on to speak of the corruption that prevailed among judges in the province of Quebec. He said that Judge Bosse, who sat on the celebrated McGreevy case, had "received a cheque signed in blank from Hon. Thomas McGreevy. At any rate the latter said so. He would have brought up certain charges in the House against the judiciary in Quebec, but his witnesses, who were lawyers, were afraid it would injure their cases afterwards.

A personal wrangle between Lieut.-Col. Amyot, of Bellechasse, and Mr. Tarte followed. The former said that he would not believe the latter's word on oath and Mr. Tarte retorted that Lieut.-Col. Amyot had stole a horse and buggy. Dr. MacDonald, Huron, who followed, described the scene as a disgrace to Parliament.

Accident on the Grand Trunk.

LONDON, Ont., June 27.—Patton's siding, near London, on the Grand Trunk railway, was the scene of an accident yesterday, which, had it not been for the fact that the speed of the trains had been reduced, might have been another railway horror, but fortunately there was no loss of life, and no damage beyond a bad scare and a severe shaking up. The Erie express going west, and the Wabash express going east had orders to meet at Patton's siding, and engineer Watson, of the Wabash express ran past the switch about 100 yards. Before he could get his train out of the way the Erie was upon him. A defective air-break is said to be the cause of the Wabash train running past the switch. Both engines were badly smashed.

Said to Have Eloped.

TORONTO, June 27.—Mary, the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. James Palmer, of Spadina avenue, has been missing since Sunday afternoon, and it is said she has eloped with John Blacksich, an express man, the husband of her eldest sister, and the father of two little children. Mary was a constant attendant at the Broadway Methodist Sabbath school and on Sunday afternoon took her place in her class, but did not remain till the services were over. Blacksich left his home about the same hour, and it is supposed that the couple met at an appointed place and left town together. All efforts to trace the couple so far have been fruitless.

Accident at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 27.—Last evening Harry Clark, 15-year-old son of George W. Clark, was out driving with his running mare Nellie C, when the animal got frightened and dashed down street at a frightful rate. Reaching the Michigan Central railway crossing the animal stumbled, fell and dislocated its neck, dying shortly afterwards. The boy was thrown out of the buggy receiving, it is feared, serious internal injuries.

Rev. H. Burgess,

River Philip, N. S. writes: Allow me to thank you for the K. D. C. sent me some time ago. You will be glad to know that in every case where it has been used it has proved beneficial.

Big Fire in Ottawa.

OTTAWA, June 27.—Booth's lumber mill at the Chaudiere Falls, was burned yesterday. The mill had been fitted up with the very latest machinery a couple of years ago, and was recognized as the finest in the world. The loss by the fire is estimated at $250,000; covered by about $145,000 insurance.

Suicide's Body Found.

QUEBEC, June 27.—The body of a man, thought to be an American, has been found at Lake Edward. The right hand still grasped a revolver. A bullet wound in the forehead indicated a case of suicide. The corpse has been brought here. Coroner Belleau is trying to get it identified, when he will hold an inquest.

The British Commons.

LONDON, June 27.—The House of Commons discussed the beer duty as proposed by the budget. Col. Lockwood, Conservative, moved that an additional duty of 8d be imposed instead of 6d. After a lengthy debate the amendment was rejected by a vote of 289 to 271, and the clause was adopted.

Steamer Wrecked.

MONTREAL, June 27.—The Donaldson steamer Amenynthia, loaded with pigs and cattle, left the docks yesterday en route for Glascow. It ran aground on Ile Ronde, opposite the city, below St. Helen's Island and is seriously injured.

Two Boys Drowned.

CHATHAM, June 27.—Yesterday a colored boy named Harris was drowned in the river while bathing, and in the evening another lad, Gallagher by name, lost his life while learning to swim in McGregor's creek.

Girl Drowned While Bathing.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 27.—Rachael McCuish, nurse girl, 17 years old, was drowned in the northwest arm last evening while bathing. It is thought she had a rush of blood to the head. There was no assistance near at the time.

Killed by a Falling House.

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 27.—At the inquest in the death of Alice McCormick, who was killed by the collapse of her house at the foot of Waterloo street, the jury found that her death was accidental.

"Beware the pine tree's withered branch
Beware the awful avalanche!"

Was the peasant's warning to the aspiring Alpine youth. Dangers greater than these lurk in the pathway of the young man or woman of the present as they journey up the rugged sidehill of Time. But they may all be met and overcome by a judicious and timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Meden Medical Discovery, the celebrated cure for colds, coughs, catarrh and consumption. Better than hypophosphites of cod liver oil; unrivalled and unapproachable in all diseases arising from a scrofulous or enfeebled condition of the system.

THE BRITISH COLONIES.

Delegates to the Great Intercolonial Conference.

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED.

Queensland's Representatives.

The northern colony of Queensland is sending two delegates to the Ottawa Conference in the persons of Hon. A. J. Thynne, M.L.C., and Hon. William Forrest, M.L.C.

Hon. A. J Thynne M.L.C. the senior delegate from Queensland, was born in county Clare, Ireland, in 1847. He received his primary education there and afterwards attended the Queen's University and Galway College. He arrived in Queensland at the age of 17 years and was admitted as a solicitor of the Supreme Court in 1873. He was called to the Legislative Council in 1882, and on the formation of the McIlwraith Ministry in 1888, Mr. Thynne represented the Government in the Upper House. He is an able politician, a fluent speaker, of courteous disposition, and is one of the most popular of Queensland's public men. He held the office of Minister of Justice in the late Morehead Government.

HON. A. J. THYNNE, M.L.C.

Mr. Thynne's colleague is Hon. William Forrest, M.L.C. He is a member of the firm of B. D. Morehead & Co., and has been long and extensively engaged in pastoral pursuits in Queensland and other colonies. He was appointed to the Legislative Council in March, 1883, and is a business man more than a politician. He will consequently be a commercial representative par excellence. It is unfortunate that time has not permitted the securing of his photograph to be published with those of the other delegates.

Mr. Hofmeyr from South Africa.

That South Africa is to be represented by such able men as she will be is matter for all-round congratulation, says South Africa. It will demonstrate to the representatives of other colonies of what is the calibre of South African statesmen. The representation, too, is accurately South African. We have in Sir Henry de Villiers an admixture of the French and Dutch settlers who went to the cape in the early days; we have in Mr. Hofmeyr a descendant of those stern Dutchmen who, having hospitably given the French Huguenot refugees an asylum there, with iron heel crushed out their national language, and bade them talk the language of Holland; in Sir Charles Mills we have a most excellent representative of the British element, which in its capacity for enforcing good order brought wealth and happiness to the land. Mr. Hofmeyr will be the most striking personality of the triumvirate. Not because of greater ability or rarer eloquence but because in the sometimes rush and sometimes drift of South African politics he has been swept on to a position which once earned for him the title of a colonial Warwick. Refusing absolutely to become the head of a Government, the creation of a Ministry at the Cape of Good Hope even to-day can only be done at its risk without consulting Mr. Hofmeyr. The secret of his strength is that he thoroughly understands the character of his fellow-countrymen. By the English element pure and simple he has been, it might be said, denounced as an agitator imbued with hatred of Great Britain and her institutions. Never was there a greater mistake made. He is by temperament and training a conservative. He was educated at the South African College, as was Frank Reitz, who is now President of the Orange Free State, and the two made their educational running pretty well alongside of each. Reitz had a fiery temper and a warm heart. He prided himself on his Republicanism, and was the life and soul of the South African College Debating Society. Hofmeyr was cautious, plodding, most industrious and unassuming. The two were very great friends. Some thirty years ago they left college. Reitz went to Edinburgh and thence to London, qualifying himself as a barrister. Hofmeyr joined the ranks of journalism, editing at Cape Town a newspaper called the Volksstem. Mr. Hofmeyr has always been on the side of the church in South Africa. He was there when there suddenly floated across the South African sky a clerico-politico comet that alarmed its religious world. A minister of the Dutch Reformed church, who afterwards became a president of the Transvaal republic, had declared, inter alia, his conviction that nothing existed of a devil with a tail. Such rank heresy lashed the predikants and the elders of the Dutch Reformed church into purgatorial agony. The Parliament of the Dutch Reformed church—called synod—met in solemn conclave. There was no result of the conclave; the question remained whether the devil had or had not a tail, and some years later the Rev. Mr. Burgers, who was the apostle of the non-tailless theory, became president of the Transvaal republic. The incident is only worthy of recording as showing the then domination of the church.

HON. J. H. HOFMEYR, M.L.A.

What Mr. Hofmeyr says or does at Ottawa will command respectful attention in the Parliament of the Cape of Good Hope, to whose proceedings he contributes such patriotic and unselfish work. His earnestness is as unmistakable as his industry is unsurpassed. Whatever he does is for the good of his country, according to his conceptions. His life is one of Spartan-like simplicity; his only recreation is witnessing football, cricket, and other sports tending to the growth of the Cape youth into manly men. His home is such a one as those who know the trend of his life would expect to see. It is one of those grand old houses, built by the Dutch long years ago, with a broad sweep of trellised verandah, surrounded by vineyard and camelia trees and flowers, and it appropriately in its picturesque position in the Valley of Table mountain, overlooks the Houses of Parliament, beyond which is Table bay, the Naples of the south. The situation is one likely to be provocative of calm thought, and it is the calmness of his life, both political and otherwise, which is the charm of this most distinguished South African statesman of his day.

New Zealand's Delegate.

The Government of New Zealand, realizing that the conference will be of no value unless its deliberations are guided by practical business, has appointed a practical business man as their representative in the person of Mr. Alfred Lee-Smith, one of the colony's leading merchants. The delegates from the other colonies can attend to the political aspects of the questions to be discussed; New Zealand's delegate will view them from the standpoint of a commercial man, anxious to promote intercolonial trade and willing to give concession for concession. Mr. Alfred Lee-Smith is a native of Yorkshire, Eng., having been born at Sutton, near Hull, in 1839. He went out to New Zealand in 1869 and after traveling around the colonies, settled down at Canterbury, where he engaged in business, starting malting works as well as engaging in the manufacture of bricks and tiles. After four or five years he moved to Otago, where he has since resided, and has built up a number of important and successful industries. The malting and brick and tile trade inaugurated in Canterbury was soon supplemented by milling, the manufacture of rope and twine and dealings in grain, all of which gave employment to a large number of men and have developed into staple industries. Mr. Lee-Smith was the first to open branches of the Colonial Insurance Company in Otago, promulgated the Mutual Agency Company of New Zealand, and took part in the formation of the Farmers' Agency Company. He was a director of the New Zealand South Seas Exhibition Company, and is on the board of the Accident Insurance Company. He is also extensively engaged in farming; in a word, he is a representative New Zealand business man, and as such should represent his colony at Ottawa with credit to himself and the Government by which he is accredited. Believing that it is the duty of a business man to take an interest in the government of his country, Mr. Lee-Smith has sought the suffrages of his fellow-citizens, but the liberality of his views upon the school question did not commend him to the majority of the electors. He is a Radical of the Progressive Liberal school, and believes in an administration of public affairs which will secure the greatest good to the greatest number. It is to be regretted that Mr. Lee-Smith's features cannot be presented to our readers, together with those of the other delegates, but he has a modesty altogether opposed to that of the average politician and is not a frequent patron of the photographer.

HON. MACKENZIE BOWELL.

CONFERENCE SUBJECTS.

All-British Cable Steamship Lines—Colonial Reciprocity.

The newspaper, South Africa, in a recent editorial article voices the demand for colonial reciprocity thus: "Reciprocity, and a common understanding between Canada, the Cape and the Australian group of colonies, are the needs of the hour. The adjustment of tariffs as between these several constituents of the Imperial dominion, and an agreement as to the share of the outlying parts of the empire in a common system of defence, are to be viewed, we think, as immediate and pressing necessities; and we shall be disappointed indeed if the result of the South African representation at the Ottawa conference is not largely comprehended in some sound showings forth of a rationale of such attainments."

The greatest barrier to be overcome at the approaching conference is the constitutional one in the Constitution Act of the Australasian colonies forbidding the enactment of tariff legislation which would give preferential treatment to any particular country. Great interest therefore centres in this portion of the conference's work.

British Steamship Lines.

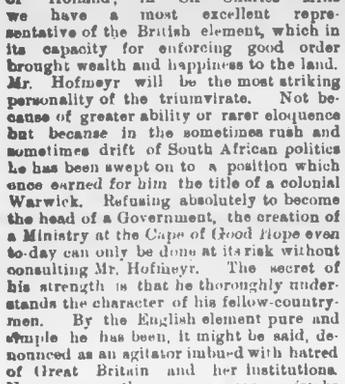
The completion of a British line of steam communication is one of the interesting questions that will be discussed by the delegates. Already there is a continuous line of railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific across British territory, and steamship lines between the Canadian Pacific coast and Australia and from the latter to Great Britain. All that is needed to complete the all British belt of the globe is a line of fast twenty knots an hour steamers between Canada and the mother country. At the Ottawa conference one of the most important subjects for consideration will be whether the time has arrived for Great Britain and the Australasian colonies to recognize Canada as an imperial highway for an Australasian mail service, affording the empire an important alternate route. At the present moment the only Australian subsidy actually being paid to the Vancouver service is £10,000 sterling per annum by the Government of New South Wales. If that subsidy were increased to at least £50,000 sterling per annum from Australasia, and, if the British Government will give the minimum subsidy asked for the Atlantic service of £75,000 sterling per annum, Australasia will secure in 1896 an alternate fortnightly route by way of Canada. As to the time to be occupied by the mail service between Sydney and London, the promoters of the new company are prepared to name thirty-one days as the period for the first term of years; but, in any event, to do it as quickly as can possibly be done by the Suez route.



HON. GEORGE E. FOSTER.

An All-British Cable.

It is a matter in which Canadians can afford to take no little pride that to a Canadian is due the credit of originating and planning out a scheme for an all-British Pacific cable, and it is further gratifying to state that the recommendations of the Intercolonial Postal Conference at New Zealand differed from Mr. Sandford Fleming's scheme only in one part affecting his proposals, which made the avoidance of non-British territory essential. The scheme which was adopted proposed to include the Navigators and the Sandwich islands on the route.

And the Australian conference of 1867 endorsed the proposal for a cable from Vancouver to Australia in the following resolution:

"First. That the connection recently formed through Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific by railway and telegraph opens a new alternative line of imperial communication over the high seas and through British possessions, which promises to be of great value alike in naval, military, commercial and political aspects.

"Second. That the connection of Canada with Australia by direct submarine telegraph across the Pacific is a project of high importance to the empire, and every doubt as to its practicability should without delay be set at rest by a thorough and exhaustive survey."

According to recent British despatches another 1,600 miles on the Commercial Cable Company's new cable from Kerry, on the Irish coast, to Nova Scotia is being laid, and with this line on the Atlantic, the Pacific cable from Canada to Australia and the Eastern Extension Company, British interests will control magnetic cables circling the world on British territory.

The deliberations of the conference will be watched with great interest by the whole English speaking race, as the unity of the empire is now felt more than ever before to depend upon the colonies.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

A SPLENDID VICTORY!

Stratton Sweeps West Peterborough.

BLEZARD'S BIG TRIUMPH IN THE EAST.

Stratton Sweeps the Field From Cavandish to Bailliieboro —A Majority of 743—His Enthusiastic Reception in Town —Greetings From all Over the Province—Blezard Captures the East by 488.

It is a glorious victory. The result of the West Peterborough election which gives Mr. Stratton the magnificent majority of 837, while it is not a surprise is a source of the greatest gratification. A month's hard work by Mr. Stratton and his bosts of friends in the riding yesterday a victory whose full significance cannot at the moment be fully appraised. Though from the start Mr. Stratton's election was a forgone conclusion every day of the campaign's progress as the condition of public sentiment became developed it was evident that he would be elected by a very large majority and the day of polling showed that this forecast was correct but the most sanguine did not anticipate the splendid result that developed as the returns came in. At the central Liberal committee room the very first return from the first division in number one ward, giving Mr. Stratton a substantial majority struck the key note and from that moment every minute brought in figures increasing the majority till when all the town was heard from, Mr. Stratton was given a majority of 77 in Peterborough, where the Opposition expected a majority of between 300 and 400. And the returns from the country took the same pace, till from township after township came the figures rolling up the majority. Grand old Smith leading the van with 210, South Monaghan with 54, Ennismore with its splendid majority of 1890, less one—146. And which gave Mr. Carnegie the only majority he got in the riding in 1890, gave Mr. Stratton a majority of 4. The returns from the northern townships were magnificent in their proportions, in one polling subdivision Mr. Stratton receiving 79 votes and his opponent 4, and a similar tale came from every subdivision. The only township in which Mr. Winch received a majority was in North Monaghan, where a majority of 27 was placed to his credit.

At the Liberal committee rooms there was no semblance of doubt from the very first return, and as the crowd gathered on George street and heard the returns as they came in the air was vocal with repeated cheering. About eight o'clock the Fire Brigade band played a few selections in front of the committee rooms, and then escorted the multitude to the Opera House to celebrate the victory. The building was literally packed, even to the remotest corner of the stage. Mr. Peter Hamilton occupied the chair and made a brief congratulatory speech. In order to fill in the time till the arrival of Mr. Stratton, who had spent the day in the north, short speeches were made by Mr. Stratton supporters, including Messrs. Mark Spencely, John McNaughton, J. J. Hartley, John Cronin, W. F. Johnston, Robert McGregor, J. B. McWilliams, J. H. Ames, A. McFarlane, D. Belleghem, Dr. Goldsmith, Dr. Bell, Geo. Roger, and R. R. Hall. All the speeches, which were of course of a congratulatory character, were cheered to the echo. During the wait to fill in the time the band played selections and songs were sung by Mr. John O'Brien and Mr. R. J. Hiller, and jubilation was the key note of the hour.

About 9:30 a burst of cheering and a fusilade of fireworks announced the arrival of the successful candidate, and as Mr. Stratton came upon the platform the whole audience arose en-masse and a tremendous burst of cheering that lasted several minutes lifted the rafters, the band playing "See the Conquering Hero Comes." Some ladies who occupied one of the boxes, presented Mr. Stratton with a magnificent bouquet, which provoked another eruption of applause. It was some time before the auditors could control the exhibition of their feelings sufficiently to allow Mr. Stratton to proceed, and as he spoke almost every sentence was punctuated with

THUNDER PEALS OF APPLAUSE.

He declared that this occasion was the proudest moment of his life. He could hardly, he said, find words to express his feelings on this occasion. No words that he could commend could express his gratitude to his friends for their hearty and enthusiastic support that had been given him. The victory, which he, thanks to his friends and a discriminating electorate had won, showed that it paid a representative to take a manly, honest and straightforward course. (Tremendous cheering.) The result showed that the electors were satisfied with his past course in which he had tried to do justice to every class and section. He had been the representative of not only the Liberal party alone, but he had striven to be a representative of all the people of West Peterborough, irrespective of creed or class, and the results showed that his past career had been satisfactory to the people. (Cheers.) He had no feeling, but one of the greatest kindness for Mr. Winch. He stood in the same position personally as he did before the election. Mr. Winch had been urged into the contest by a wing of the party he was allied with, who had thrust him into the contest, not with any hope of success, but to prevent the constituency from going by default—they were anxious to have an election, and he hoped they were satisfied with the result. (Cheers.) Mr. Stratton concluded his address by heartily thanking all those who had in any way contributed to his success, and hoped that all would to-morrow resume their ordinary avocations, burying the hatchet and forgetting the bitter feelings that had been aroused by the campaign. For his part he had tried both personally and in the EXAMINER to conduct a decent campaign and he regretted that he had been compelled to meet the petty tactics that had been brought against him. The meeting closed with cheers for Mr. Stratton and the Queen the band playing "God Save the Queen." The vast assembly then separated all in the highest good humor with the satisfactory result of the campaign.

THE MAJORITIES.

The following returns are as complete as it is possible to procure them up to the time of going up to press. Every municipality is heard from, in some cases majorities only. The total may be varied slightly one way on the other but not sufficiently to affect the result to any extent.

NOTES OF THE FRAY.

The magnificent majority of 200 given by Smith is the largest ever given for any candidate by this staunch old township.

Galway came grandly to the front with a splendid majority of 152. Stratton is evidently "the man for Galway" and the sound hearted people of this township know how to use the representative who has so faithfully guarded their interests. Good for Galway. Thanks.

South Monaghan did splendidly—far better than was expected; a fine majority of 59.

Plucky little Lakefield came out grandly converting a minority of 21, in 1890, to a majority of 4 in 1894.

The town also did nobly, rolling up a substantial majority instead of a minority of 300 or 400 which the Opposition claimed.

Evergreen Ennismore stood her ground nobly, repeating, less one, her splendid majority of 147, given in 1890.

When Mr. Stratton was passing through Ennismore last evening a huge bonfire was blazing, and he addressed the electors for a few minutes, thanking them for their hearty and cordial support.

North Monaghan is the only township or voting division that gave Mr. Winch a majority—27.

Mr. Stratton on his arrival at the Opera House was lifted from his carriage and hoisted on the shoulders of his stalwart friends and carried up to the Opera House platform and after the meeting he was escorted to his residence were the jubilations were continued.

In addition to the bouquets presented at the Opera House to Mr. Stratton about twenty were sent to the house.

This morning Mr. Stratton was inundated with telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the province, from leading Conservatives as well as Liberals showing how highly his great victory was estimated.

THE EAST GOES BLEZARD.

Returns from the back country of the East riding are coming in slowly, but the election of Mr. Blezard is assured by a majority of between four and five hundred He has received the following large majorities:—Otonabee, 209; Douro, 126; Asphodel, 113; Norwood, 41; Dummer, 44; total 533. The north country it is thought will give him at least 50 more. The last returns places his majority at 488.

Mr. Lancaster received a majority of 16 in Ashburnham, 42 in Belmont and 31 in Havelock. Mr. Blezard is warmly congratulated on his signal victory.

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

The EXAMINER'S hearty congratulations to Mr. Blezard; he has won a splendid victory with a majority, so far as heard from, of 488. He has made a plucky fight and has won hands down on his record. Fifteen years of careful representation has been the warrant to the electorate for giving him another term of four years. The result shows that he is still strongly entrenched in the hearts of the electorate and that the claims of the honest administration of Sir Oliver Mowat is still a charm to conjure with in the East Riding. We extend our heartiest congratulations to Mr. Blezard—the super-solid West greets and felicitates the solid East. East Peterborough has taken up the refrain, "Don't You go Tommy, don't Go."

THE GENERAL SITUATION.

The latest returns of the voting in Ontario yesterday give the Ontario Government a clear majority of Liberal supporters over the united Patron, P.P.A. and Conservative members elected. The Conservatives have elected barely 25 out of a house of 94 members and the Government of the province is still in the hands of Sir Oliver Mowat for another four years.

THANKS TO THE ELECTORS.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WEST PETERBOROUGH.

GENTLEMEN:

Allow me to take this, the very earliest opportunity that presents, of congratulating my friends and supporters upon the splendid victory of Tuesday, June 26th, and of thanking them most cordially for the magnificent support and co-operation that contributed to such a result. On my own behalf and on behalf of the Mowat Administration, I hereby extend thanks to all classes and creeds, and to all who in any way contributed to the success of the contest that that has again placed a supporter of the Mowat Administration, which has been returned with another lease of power. When all have worked so well it would be impossible for me to particularize, but I must particularly thank those who worked for me in committees so faithfully and contributed to making yesterday's victory so signal and triumphant. I have to thank the many honest fair minded Liberal Conservatives who showed their appreciation of my course and expressed their appreciation in a practical manner. I have to thank the broad minded members of the Orange Order in West Peterborough, who took myself and the platform I represented upon their merits and voted accordingly; I have to thank my Roman Catholic fellow citizens, who gave me their hearty and appreciated support; I have to thank the honest, fair minded and far seeing members of the labour party for their valued and highly appreciated support; I have to thank the young men who have worked like veterans, and the veterans who have worked like young men. I have to thank the staunch members of the Liberal party who have stood by me true as steel, and above all I have to thank the ladies who have cheered me and my workers with their moral support and sympathy. In fact I have to thank all and everyone who have in any way, even the slightest, contributed towards acccomplisheing the sweeping victory, which all good friends of good government rejoice in. To those electors who have felt it their duty to vote against me, I desire to say that I respect their honest convictions, and desire to repeat, what I have said many times, that I will in the future as in the past strive to show that in my representative capacity I represent not only those who supported me but every elector, irrespective of politics, in West Peterborough. Again thanking all classes, all interests, organizations and all individuals who have assisted in my election I beg to subscribe myself

Your Obedient Servant,
J. R. STRATTON.

Peterborough, June 27, 1894.

OUR OWN BIG VICTORY.

When so much has been done there is little to be said. The Liberals of West Peterborough have won a victory unprecedented in the history of the riding. While we are naturally proud of our success, we do not wish to exult over the defeated candidate, whose failure is not to be regarded as a reflection on his personal popularity, but as a rebuke to those of his political friends who fairly thrust him into the field, where on political grounds his defeat was a certainty. Mr. Stratton has won, because he was the champion of a good cause and the supporter of a government which had wisely exercised their trust for nearly a quarter of a century, and because of his record of eight years as a representative, being each time returned by an increased majority. He has been tested and tried and the result shows that the honest electors of West Peterborough —Liberal and Conservative—can appreciate faithful service and a fair, honest course, and that they will not permit irritating side issues to warp their judgment nor petty issues to influence them in deciding who is most fit to represent them. There is no partizan tinge to this victory, both parties, all creeds, all classes, the best men of the community have enlisted their sympathies and actions on the side of good government in this contest. The appeals to bigotry intolerance and petty prejudice have fallen on minds loyal to honest equity and once more discredited cries, factious appeals and trumpery side issues have been buried under a heap of ballots 743 deep. The ricketty house of cards that constituted the local campaign platform has tumbled to chaos, a faction whose only hope of success was founded upon their insulting estimate of the gullibility of the electorate, has been utterly discredited, and the electors have overwhelmingly endorsed honest straight forward and honest government and its energetic candidate in this riding.

VICTORY!

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The electors of Peterborough, East and West, have covered themselves with glory. Their platform of moderation and fair play to all have triumphed over bigotry and intolerance. Greater victory awaits you.

As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, rouses every organ into natural action, and brings back health and strength. ## THE LOSS OF THE WELLS.

Her Crew at the Sailors' Home—A Suspicion of Foul Play.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 26.—Of the fourteen men composing the crew of the American schooner Mary J. Wells, wrecked at Whitehead, Guyaboro, a few days ago, eleven are at the Sailors' Home here under the care of the United States consul. Each man probably lost $75 worth of clothing, rubber goods, head and foot wear. Not a cent's worth of personal property was saved.

The whole summer's prospects are gone. What remains of the fishing season will not suffice to retrieve the Whitehead disaster. Out of the schooner's new outfit and stores enough was landed to realize a couple of hundred dollars perhaps at auction. Had the havoc resulted from natural causes the crew would take it as a matter of course, but they claim that the schooner met her fate by fire, and the fishermen owe their present destitution to a mysterious conflagration.

Martin Nelson, a Maine man, says: Mary J. Wells arrived at Quero Banks early in June for halibut fishing. On Thursday evening last they went to Whitehead for bait. The schooner was brought to anchor a quarter of a mile from the shore. All hands but the cook, Tom Reyno, of Liverpool, N.S., went ashore. Nelson and two others were the first to return. They climbed over the schooner's rail about two hours from the time they had left to go on shore. Flames were pouring from the forecastle companion hatchway and mounting half way up the spars. Vain efforts were made with buckets to extinguish the fire. The fire spread rapidly and forced the crew, who had nearly come off by this time to save what they could, on deck and to take to the dories.

Reyno said he was asleep in the forecastle, when fire and smoke awoke him. The forward part of the schooner was then in flames. He had no idea how the fire originated. There had been a fire in the forecastle all day but that did not seem to be the source of the conflagration. Nelson says crowds of shore people boarded the schooner when she first began to show signs of fire and carried away everything moveable. The crew of the Wells say it was a clear case of piracy. Their clothes were all lost in this way. Lines and portable deck articles were carried off before the crew got aboard.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Mulock Attacks the Government on Their Dealing With Freight Rates.

OTTAWA, June 26.—In the House Mr. Mulock once more brought to the attention of Parliament the question of freight rates charged upon cattle from the port of Montreal and the necessity for legislation to remedy this evil.

He regretted that it was impossible for his bill being again reached this session, since the Government had taken all the days of the week for its own business. He went on to say that there was a combination among vessel owners to keep up rates, and this combination had the effect of injuring not only cattle buyers, but the farmers of the country. If the manufacturing industry was injured in this way the Government would not have hesitated to grapple with the grievance. The cattle trade was equally as important.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper denied that there was any proof of a combination, but promised at the same time to carefully look into the whole matter during recess and see what was necessary to be done.

A large batch of Government bills of an unimportant character was cleared from the order paper, and a few hours were spent on the estimates.

Capital Notes.

The Governor-General has written a letter to the Mayor protesting against the immoral character of the show bills lately posted up around the city.

James Huddart, who is promoting the fast Atlantic steamship service, has returned to the city.

The case of Gilbert, of Montreal v. the Queen, a suit for $300,000 for balance of contract unpaid for deepening the Galops Rapids, in the St. Lawrence river, was concluded in the Exchequer Court. Judge Burbidge gave judgment for the Messrs. Gilbert for $205,000, with leave to the Crown to move against it within two months.

A Good Appetite

Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite is an indication of something wrong. The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its merits in restoring the appetite, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

To Cross in a 13-Ton Schooner.

This is a portrait of the intrepid Capt. Adolph Freitsch, who is now on his way to cross the Atlantic Ocean to Stockholm in a 13-ton schooner. The boat is flat-bottomed, and his object in making the trip is to demonstrate his belief in this type of craft. Recently he said:

"I was born in the city of Abo, in Finland, in 1860, and since childhood have been accustomed to boats. Since I was 17 years old I have followed the sea for a living. For ten years I have been sailing on the Great Lakes and am a believer in the flat-bottom type of boat. With its light draught and cheapness of construction it could be used on the other side to advantage.

"My wife and four children live in Milwaukee, where they will remain until I return to this country. During the spring of 1893 I built the Nina in Milwaukee, doing all the work alone, including the sailmaking and rigging. She has a flat bottom and centre-board. The dimensions are 40 feet keel, 47 feet over all, 9½ feet beam, 4 feet depth of hold, and 6 feet in depth in cabin. She is rigged with two spars, and will carry mainsail, foresail, jib and two gaff-topsails having in all a sail area of 1,000 square feet. Before leaving New York I will add a square sail, to be used before the wind. The cost of the Nina was about $700."

The Attempt on the Czar's Life.

BERLIN, June 26.—The Lokalanzeiger says that the newly-discovered mine which was intended to blow up the Czar was laid near the memorial church in Borki, which the Czar was expected to visit shortly. It publishes also a paragraph to the effect that an infernal machine was found recently in a cellar near the St. Petersburg palace. Several arrests have been made and two Cabinet officers are said to have been compromised.

Boycotting Catholic Teachers.

OMAHA, Neb. 26.—The school board of this city, consisting wholly of members of the A. P. A. have discharged several teachers in the public schools because they were Catholics. The Catholic citizens have given the school board to understand that if the teachers are not reinstated trouble will occur. Numerous Protestant ministers have denounced the action of the board from their pulpits.

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. ## A LITTLE COMPANY OF MEN ENGAGED IN A GREAT WORK.

A Chapter of Interesting Gossip About the Dominion Geological Survey—The Staff and the History of Their Work—Some Notable Achievements.

Canada, with her 3,470,000 miles of territory, has a band of noble fellows who are doing their utmost to explore hitherto unknown regions, but few in our own Dominion know anything of their work, while many have never even heard of the Geological Survey. An account of some of their labors may appear in an occasional paper or magazine, or some foreign scientist may acknowledge the value of the collections in the museum at Ottawa, but beyond this, the Survey staff receives little public recognition Yet their work in the northern part of the Dominion is as interesting as any carried on since the days of Sir John Franklin.

There are at present fifty-eight men on the staff; of these thirty-seven are professional, while the remainder are ordinary assistants. Occasionally, students of Toronto University, McGill and the School of Practical Science are glad to take part in a summer exploring trip. The present director is Alfred R. C. Selwyn, C.M.G., LL.D., F.R.S., who was appointed in 1869. With the exception of the librarian and a few others whose special work is in the office, the men are on field duty from about May to October. The winter months are spent in drawing maps and preparing reports on the work done in the summer.

A.R.C. SELWYN, C.M.G., F.R.S.

More than mere scientific scholarship is needed to qualify a man for the Survey staff. The life is a hard one, and he who follows it must have a frame of iron, a fearlessness of death, and an enthusiastic love for his work. "Living the life of a savage, sleeping on the beach in a blanket sack with my feet to the fire, seldom taking my clothes off, eating salt pork and ship's biscuit, occasionally tormented by mosquitoes," wrote the first Director, Sir W. E. Logan, of his work in the Gaspe peninsula in 1843. Though the life of those on field duty has much improved since that time, yet even last year there was great suffering in the party conducted by the Tyrrell brothers. When about forty miles from Fort Churchill, a terrible storm broke upon them. The provisions were exhausted, and the travelers, overcome by cold, hunger and fatigue, were glad to crawl into the edge of the forest, while two half-breeds dragged themselves off in search of the Hudson Bay station. Three days later, help from Fort Churchill arrived, but had it been delayed, the whole party, certainly would have perished. Perils like these must always be incident to such work, and however well-equipped, every expedition must expect to be exposed to similar dangers.

In 1841, the first united Parliament set apart £1,500 to provide for the investigation of the geology, mineralogy and natural history of the provinces then known as the two Canadas. Sir William Logan, who had already been recognized in London and Paris, was appointed Provincial Geologist. An assistant was also appointed, and operations were begun in the spring of 1843. The Gaspe peninsula was chosen as the first field for exploration, as it was thought that outlying patches of the carboniferous strata might exist there, and the Government was particularly anxious to verify the report of the occurrence of coal in that region. Though no coal was found, many important geological facts were learned. Though it was at Gaspe that Jacques Cartier erected the cross bearing the arms of France, when he took possession of Canada in the name of the French King, still the peninsula was a veritable unknown land until Sir W. E. Logan published his report on the geography of the district.

The first expedition was of so great service to the country that, two years later, a larger appropriation was made for a complete examination of the rocks, soils, minerals and mineral waters of the Province. A chemist was also attached to the Survey. As it was not to be expected that three persons could accomplish the herculean task of examining the whole of Canada within five years, an act was passed in 1850 renewing the grant of £2,000 per annum for five years more. Through the admirably arranged collections sent to the London exhibition in 1851, and to the Industrial exhibition in Paris in 1867, a more lively interest in Canadian geological research was created both at home and abroad.

Step by step the staff has increased in number and strength, until now operations are carried on from the Alaska boundary to Labrador. Last year sixteen expeditions were sent out, the most daring work having been done by Mr. J. B. Tyrrel along the western shores of Hudson Bay, and by Mr. A. P. Low in the hitherto unexplored Labrador peninsula. Among the important discoveries made by the latter is the fact that the interior of Labrador is everywhere well wooded. Along the Uganda river Mr. Low found immense deposits of iron-bearing rocks. In the treeless waste of what is known the "Great Lone Land," Mr. Tyrrell discovered a great many varieties of small flowers. He succeeded in obtaining 250 different specimens, which he sent to Ottawa to be classified. It is said to be the only collection ever made of the flora between the Mackenzie river and Hudson bay. The 4,000-mile expedition to Lake Athabasca set out in June, 1893, to be absent for a year. During the first half of the year 1893 Dr. G. M. Dawson, one of the most eminent scientists on the survey staff, was engaged in London and Paris, giving information on the topography and natural history of the Behring Sea region, to be used on the British side in the Behring Sea arbitration. A paper on the mineral wealth of British Columbia that Dr. Dawson read in England before the Royal Colonial Institute has already increased the practical interest of the mother country in that Province.

The work carried on in the older provinces is probably of as great use as that done in the Northwest, but it is not of the same interest to the general reader. One of the duties imposed on the survey by the Government was the formation of a museum, which should illustrate the geology and the mineral resources of the country. Gradually this museum assumed a value and importance that made it excelled by few on the continent for the special purposes to which it is devoted. It was at first housed and the offices of the Geological Survey, in an old three-story dwelling in Montreal at the corner of St. Gabriel street and Fortification lane. In 1881 the headquarters of the Survey were removed to Ottawa, where they now occupy a large old stone building on Sussex street. A great need is now felt for additional accommodation. The building is not fireproof and is surrounded by other buildings that add to its danger. The fate of Toronto University and the loss of the great mineral collection at Amherst, Mass., show the need of fire-proof buildings, while the great four-story iron structures in which the Agassiz and Peabody collections are lodged show that only fireproof architecture can meet this need. The museum of the Survey contains a valuable collection of specimens illustrating the economic and scientific geology of the Dominion. It possesses an herbarium, a most interesting collection of fossils, as well as specimens of native birds and mammals. The herbarium contains over 50,000 specimens embracing about 15,000 species—a complete collection of the known flora of Canada. Except the plants from very inaccessible parts of the Dominion, these specimens have been gathered within the last ten years. The British Museum recently presented to the Survey sets of the plants collected by Banks, Menzies, Drummond, Richardson and other early explorers. The ethnological collection, though small, is interesting to the layman as well as to the student of science.

Dr. James Hall, New York State geologist, spent several days in the Ottawa Museum studying the fossilized examples of brachiopoda. In a letter to Dr. Selwyn in 1890, he wrote: "Your collection in this class of fossils, as well as in several others, is a typical and classical one, and no author can with propriety and safety publish the result of his investigations until he has studied the collection in the museum of the Canadian Geological Survey. It has been a great satisfaction to me to find the types and specimens so carefully preserved and labelled, and so systematically arranged, leaving in this respect nothing to be desired. In fact, I do not hesitate to say, more perfectly arranged and authentically labelled than any collection which I have seen in the United States. . . . The first floor of your museum presents the most complete and compact arrangement I have ever seen, for the illustrations of the geological formation in their natural sequence, and of the mineral products. Nothing more could be desired except greater space for their more extensive exhibition. Your ethnological collection is one of great interest and value, and no one in the least interested in these studies can fail to appreciate such a collection, and its interest and importance in connection with the aboriginal history of the country."

MR. J. B. TYRREL.

In 1890 the Geological Survey was created a separate department, presided over by the Minister of the Interior.

THE GREAT DAY APPROACHING

The First of July Demonstration Will Draw Thousands to Peterborough.

There is no doubt existing now regarding the great success which is bound to attend the great Dominion Day demonstration which Peterborough intends holding. The fact that the Board of Trade and Fire Brigade are behind the celebration scheme is a sufficient guarantee of its being everything that is desirable. Then the citizens who are on the committee are just the right sort of men in the right place, so success is assured.

THE BALOON ASCENSION.

will be a most interesting feature. Prof. Walcott, one of the world's most famous aeronauts, will ascend to the height of over 4000 feet or over three-quarters of a mile, and perform marvellous tricks on the flying trapeze while ascending. He will then descend to terra firma by means of a parachute.

The calithumpian procession, the finest of its kind which ever took place in the in the Midland Counties, will also be a free exhibition and will be a great attraction.

During the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports, including horse races for good purses. A lacrosse match between two of the best teams in the district, and a hand contest ought to prove drawing features.

In the evening Prof. Hand, of Hamilton, has been engaged to give a most magnificent display of fireworks, and, altogether, the day will undoubtedly be one of huge enjoyment, both to the citizens and to the thousands of visitors who will come in on the excursion trains and boats.

H. Thompson & Co. Stock.

The sale of the bankrupt stock of Stationery, Wall Papers, Fancy Goods, etc., of the late firm of H. A visit to the store will reveal such reductions in every department as cannot fail to impress the most cautious and active buyers. As this is a peremptory matter and the goods must be turned into cash within a limited time, no reasonable offer will be refused for goods. Chances are open for business, and professional men, clergymen, bankers, accountants, societies, Sunday schools, churches and householders generally to sort up and stock up with A. No. 1 goods, at prices fully 25 per cent. cheaper than the best offers that can be made. Read the advertisement in another column.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Wm. H. Buchanan, Peterborough, spent a few days at his home here last week.

Miss Beatrice Roxburgh, Toronto, is home on a visit.

Mrs. Boynton, Brantford, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Finlay.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkell, of Roseneath, were visiting old friends in town, last week.

Mrs. D. Saunders, Toronto Junction, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Thomas Buck.

The Public and High Schools have been closed for the summer vacation. The entrance and departmental examinations will, however, last for some weeks.

Miss May Pettigrew, eldest daughter of G. A. Pettigrew, M. D., died as reported in the Examiner of Thursday last at the Snowden House, Peterborough. Thursday evening the remains were brought to Norwood and conveyed to the house of her father. Saturday afternoon a memorial service was held in the Presbyterian church which was beautifully draped, by Rev. Mr. McDonald, assisted by Rev. W. H. Anderson, after which the funeral, one of the largest ever seen in Norwood, left the house and proceeded to the cemetery. The scholars of the high school and of the Presbyterian Sabbath school attended in a body. Deceased was a most estimable young lady and a faithful worker for the cause of Christ in both church and sabbath school. Her many friends will feel the great loss and deeply sympathize with the bereaved relatives.

Rev. W. Buchanan preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist church Sunday evening. He leaves for Markham on Thursday. During his three years stay in Norwood the reverend gentleman has won many friends, both in and out of his congregation. Tuesday evening a very successful strawberry social was held on the church lawn in honour of the departing minister. The band was present and a very enjoyable evening spent by the large number present.

Last Thursday while assisting at the raising of a barn at Mr. John Fitzpatrick's, Asphodel, Mr. Wm. O'Shea was struck by one of the timbers falling. He sustained considerable injury, but happily nothing serious, and is able to be around again.

The elections passed off very quietly here. There was some surprise at the turn in the village; Norwood is usually Conservative, but at this election the people gave Mr. Blezard a majority of 41 out of 165 votes cast.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

About six months ago my little son, aged three, was very much troubled with a breaking out on his scalp and behind his ear. The places effected were about as large as a silver dollar, the flesh seemed raw and covered with little blisters. The child suffered considerably, and was naturally very fretful. I tried several remedies without obtaining any beneficial results, in fact the eruptions seemed to be spreading and new places breaking out. I concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and bought a box of CUTICURA, a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I washed the effected parts with the CUTICURA SOAP, taking care not to irritate the flesh, and applied CUTICURA. I noticed a change for the better in the appearance of the eruptions in twenty-four hours. I continued the treatment morning and night, and in two weeks the eruptions entirely disappeared, leaving the skin smooth and the scalp clean, in fact a perfect cure, as I have not seen any indications of any eruption or breaking out since. I gave the child only a few doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDIES very valuable, and expect to keep a small supply constantly on hand. I believe CUTICURA would be excellent for applying to insect bites, which are very annoying in this country.

WARSAW.

(From a Correspondent.)

The Methodist parsonage is now ready for bricking and as Mr. Fife, of Norwood, is the contractor, things may be expected to take definite form in short order.

Warsaw is looking forward to a gala day on the 2nd. The committee has spared no pains in preparing a programme of sports for the day.

Mr. John Wason is building the foundation of his new residence on Water street.

The villagers may be seen from day to day busily engaged in repairing the streets.

Since the polls opened this morning a strong Blezard has been blowing and much damage is being done to Tory expectations.

School closes on Friday. Quite a number of the pupils intend writing at Norwood on the entrance and public school leaving examinations.

Mr. Jas. Robeson left on Tuesday morning to take work in connection with the Methodist Church on a Hastings county mission.

The regular meeting of the E. L. of C. E. in connection with the Methodist church, held on Monday evening, was addressed by Rev. C. H. Edwards. The topic "what has christianity done for us," was dealt with in clear, concise and most interesting manner. Mr. Edwards is a forcible speaker and will be gladly listened to again if he can be prevailed upon to speak at some future meeting, while he is with us. At the close of the regular meeting a business meeting was held for the purpose of electing a President, the office having been made vacant by the departure of Mr. Robeson. Miss Mattie Robeson was the unanimous choice of the members for President.

On Wednesday afternoon the football team went out to play a match with the Douro team for a silver cup. But a most unfortunate event occurred which prevented the match from being played and cast a shade of gloom over the spirits of the players. Shortly after the game had commenced Mr. Maurice O'Leary, of the Douro team had the misfortune to get one of his legs broken. Dr. McGrath, who was present, attended the sufferer, who, up to date, is progressing as favourably as can be expected. No blame is attached to anyone, the event being purely accidental. Although the game was thus stopped the Douro boys showed their hospitality to their visitors in a manner which makes the boys feel that they cannot speak too highly of their Douro friends. It is expected that the match will be played out at no late date.

The Rev. J. Robeson intends taking a two weeks' vacation, and during his absence the pulpit will be supplied on Sunday, July 1st, by Mr. S. R. Payne, and the following Sunday by Dr. Couch.

K. D. C. is an excellent tonic.

B.Y. P. U. CONVENETION, TORONTO

This will be the largest convention of American Baptists ever yet held on this continent. The delegates are coming from almost every State in the Union, as well as from every province of Canada. Chicago sends about 500 delegates, Michigan about 700, Pennsylvania about 300, New Jersey 200, Texas, the Carolinas, New York, Massachussetts, Ohio, Wisconsin and other States also send large delegations. The Canadian Baptists will have an opportunity of greeting their brethren who are coming in large numbers from Nova Scotia and the provinces by the sea. The convention will be so large that the Massey Music Hall will not be large enough to accommodate the evening sessions and arrangements have been made for duplicating the meetings in the Metropolitan church.

The programme shows that there will be about 100 speakers including such names as the Hon. Governor Northern, of Georgia, Drs. McArthur and Dixon, of New York, Drs. Henson and Lawrence, of Chicago, Drs. Ellis and Wharton, of Baltimore, Drs. Gambrell and Carroll, of Texas, Dr. Cranfil, candidate for the vice-presidency of the Prohibition party during the last Presidental election, will also have a place on the programme. This will be the most representative meeting of Baptists ever yet held and the grandest opportunity of hearing the Baptist leaders.

All the railways have granted one-fare rates to Toronto from all parts of the Dominion and the States of the Union. There will be no necessity for any certificate in order to get these rates.

There will be no free entertainment. The gathering being so large it was impossible to give this, but delegates and visitors will find ample accommodation at low rates.

All Baptist Young People's Societies of whatever name can send delegates and visitors and if no Young People's Society exists in any church, that church may appoint delegates of itself.

The reception committee will send their members to out-lying points to meet the incoming trains, and will give all necessary information and guidance.

It is to be hoped that the Baptists of the provinces will take advantage of this large gathering for meeting their brethern from all parts of the Continent, and getting the instruction and blessing of this convention.

P. C. PARKER,
Chairman of the Press Committee.

MET A STRANGE DEATH.

Two Men Killed by a Discharge of Electricity From a Steel Cruiser.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Reports have reached the navy department of a remarkable phenomenon which occurred at the Norfold navy yard in which two men were instantly killed and a number of others knocked senseless by an electric discharge. Considerable mystery still rests about the occurrence and it has not yet been possible to obtain full particulars.

It appears from the account received that the steel cruiser Raleigh was in the wooden dry dock and a number of men were working in her hull when a thunderstorm swept over the naval station. The workmen sought shelter beneath the vessel which rested on blocks in the centre of the dock. Suddenly without warning two of the men fell dead and most of the others were knocked senseless by an electrical discharge. The officers of the vessel, who were sitting about on deck did not feel the shock but all the compasses and similar instruments were affected and the vessel has been permanently magnetized in such a manner as to render the electric apparatus and compasses useless without considerable repairs and adjustment. The only explanation that is offered by naval officers for the escape of the officers of the vessel from the shock is that the Raleigh was insulated by being on the blocks which were dry, while the men who were killed or injured were in the shallow water at the bottom of the dock.

Scene in a Court.

SPRINGHILL, Ill., June 28.—There was a sensational scene in Justice White's courrt, followed by a mad rush on the part of 300 enraged foreigners upon William Pinkerton, who was on trial for assaulting Anna Baraski. Pinkerton made a leap out of an open window, but was overtaken and beaten to death by the mob. The rush occurred during the testimony of the girl, her description of the outrage committed by Pinkerton inciting her friends and neighbors to avenge the wrong. The justice and lawyers made their escape soon after the trouble began and Pinkerton was left to his fate.

Crazy Lizzie Halliday.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 28.—Lizzie Halliday has eaten little since Friday, but she has lost none of her strength. Last night a disturbance was heard in the cell and when the sheriff rushed in, he discovered that the wolf-woman was making frantic efforts to release herself. She had been kicking with her shackled leg until she had straightened out one of the links. She paid no attention to the sheriff's presence, and had he not clutched her by the shoulder and thrown her upon the bed, she would have soon been loose.

Buchanan Not to be Prosecuted.

LONDON, June 28.—In an interview with the manager of the Finsbury Gin Distillery Company, Ropewalker street, that gentleman declined to furnish any information whatever concerning the crime or antecedents of Alfred Buchanan, who surrendered to the Toronto police as an absconding defaulter from that firm, further than to say that the company had not taken any action with regard to having Buchanan returned to England, nor was any action intended.

An Eloping Couple Hunted Down.

GRESHAM, Ind., June 28.—Edward G. Walker, a prominent young man of this place, who robbed his employer and ran away with a woman about town named Pearl Ritter, leaving his wife and family behind, has been brought back. The detectives had a long and hard search after the fugitives, but the couple were finally located in Rat Portage, Ont. They consented to return without waiting for extradition proceedings.

Swallowed a Tadpole.

LEBANON, Pa., June 28.—Six-year-old Arthur Bentz died in great agony, at his home on Front street. Yesterday his little companions forced a tadpole down his throat. The lad had suffered fearfully from the horrible experience at the time, but his brutal playmates only laughed. He suffered terrible agony for 24 hours, and then expired.

Prendergast's Insanity.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Judge Payne, in deciding a point raised in the Prendergast insanity hearing announced that he will instruct the jury that the defence must prove that the assassin has become insane since his last trial, otherwise, the former verdict must stand, even though Prendergast be found to be insane at the present time.

Broke Up In a Riot.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 28.—An Italian mass meeting which was being held for the purpose of expressing regret for President Carnot's assassination was broken up by Italian rioters. Police interference saved Chairman Calicaris, who pleaded, from rough handling by infuriated mob.

A Child's Remains in His Mail.

NILES, O., June 28.—Mayor Woodford, while examining his evening mail, opened a package which contained the decomposed remains of a 6-weeks-old letter which ascribed the horrible thing to a man whom the authorities say holds high office here. It was signed "A Wayward Girl."

TYING UP RAILROADS

The Boycott of the Pullman Car Company Affects Many Lines.

STRIKE STEADILY SPREADING

The Outlook is for One of the Greatest Struggles Between Capital and Labor Yet Known in the States—Canadian Lines Not Affected.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Not a train on the Illinois Central railroad left Chicago. The tie up is complete.

As a result of the first day of the boycott of the Pullman Palace Car Company by the American Railway Union there are over 500 employes of the different roads out of Chicago now on strike. The switchmen of the Panhandle and Northwest line also struck. Strikes will be declared within the next two days on the Fort Wayne, the Panhandle and other Pennsylvania lines, the Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago and Alton and Santa Fe. The latter road was badly tied up along the line on orders issued by the union officials, but the men in Chicago were not to be ordered out until to-day.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The strikes on western railroads are spreading. A general strike has been ordered on the Northern Pacific and men are being called out in Chicago every hour.

DENVER, June 28.—Owing to the Pullman boycott no through trains are running on the Santa Fe road. Five trains are held at Raton, N. M., and one at Lajunta, Colo. The officers of the company are determined not to move the trains without Pullmans but can find no trainmen who will handle these cars.

MONTREAL, June 28.—The fight between the American Railway Union and the Pullman Palace Car Company will not affect the Canadian lines. The C.P.R. have their own cars and the G.T.R. Co. claim that they are not involved.

Assistant General Manager Wainwright said: "I expect no trouble whatever over the matter. The Pullman cars we use are assigned to us, and we have nothing to do with the difficulty."

ON COLONIAL PROPERTY.

The Governments of the Colonies Object to the Tax for Imperial Purposes.

LONDON, June 28.—Sir William Harcourt's new budget clause, relating to death duties upon property in the colonies belonging to persons domiciled in the United Kingdom, is entirely satisfactory to the representatives of the colonies in London to whom it has been submitted.

The colonial governments object to this taxation of colonial propety for imperial purposes and lay great stress upon the following sentence in the protest against the colonial estate duties: "It is undesirable that the estate of any British subject in whatever part of the empire it may be located should be charged with a death duty more than once."

Frightened by a Harmless Beggar.

BARCELONA, June 28.—A man armed with a stiletto tried to force his way into the room occupied by Senor Larrocca, the civil governor of Barcelona, in spite of the efforts of the attendants to prevent him. A crowd quickly collected, believing the man was an anarchist, and the police saved his life with great difficulty. It turned out that the man was really in a starving condition, and had tried to see the governor for the purpose of obtaining food, failing to get work. Governor Larrocca has received a number of anonymous letters threatening his life recently.

Gladstone's Successor in Midlothian.

EDINBURGH, June 28.—It was announced at the meeting of the Edinburgh Liberal Association that Mr. Gladstone will not return to Parliament from Midlothian or any other constituency after the end of the present session. The association unanimously recommended Sir Thomas Gibson-Carmichael as Mr. Gladstone's successor for Midlothian.

A VERY GOOD MATCH.

E. B. Eddy Marries Miss Shiriff, Daughter of a High Sheriff.

ST. JOHN, N.B., June 28.—The marriage took place here yesterday of E. B. Eddy, well-known manufacturer of Hull, Que., and Miss Shiriff, daughter of John Shiriff, high sheriff of Northumberland county, New Brunswick.

The Strike at Joggins, N.S.

MACCANN, N.S., June 28.—The strike at Joggins has entered upon a new phase. After a meeting with the lodge the grand secretary suggested an interview with the manager along with the committee. The manager refused to see the old committee and said there would not be a blow struck until a new committee was appointed and that Bannmore would be discharged and a new check weighman appointed. Mr. Drummond, the grand secretary, arose and said that settled it. There is now nothing to work on. A meeting of all men has been called and the struggle be protracted.

THE FALLEN.

No victory is so complete that it is not mingled with regrets for the fallen.

It is difficult to understand what motive impelled the people of South Perth to re-elect the Speaker of the last Legislature. Mr. Ballantyne is a man whose course in the Legislature and whose attitude on public questions command the respect of friend and foe alike. His energy, public spirit and enterprise have done much to advance the interests of the greatest industry in the Province. In every respect he was a typical representative Ontario man, and his defeat is to be regretted by every man, to whatever party he may belong, who has the interests of Ontario at heart.

No defeat was more thoroughly unmerited than that of Mr. Tait, in North Toronto. Mr. Tait is a strong Liberal, but he is also emphatically a Toronto man, and no one could have more steadfastly stood by Toronto than he has done during the last four years. There is no disguising the fact that in the present election a majority of the Toronto voters are out of sympathy with the rest of the Province, and Mr. Tait, after a plucky and magnificent fight, had to succumb to the force of a sentiment which we believe will prove to be transient.

Suffering a most disastrous defeat, so far as the province at large is concerned, the P. P. A. has little reason to congratulate itself over the part it played in opposing Mr. Charles Mackenzie in West Lambton. One of the articles of its creed favours the return of honest and true patriots, irrespective of party associations. Had that principle been maintained in West Lambton, Mr. Mackenzie would have been returned by an overwhelming majority. He resembles his distinguished brother in his inflexible integrity, his capacity for public affairs and his ability to express his views in clear and concise language.

Kingston seems to have rejected Mr. Harty by an exceedingly small majority. Mr. Harty is a thorough business man, well fitted to maintain in the Department of Public Works that reputation for business ability, economy and scrupulous honesty which Mr. Fraser established. It is to be hoped he may yet regain Kingston.

Some others, like Mr. Dack in Centre Bruce and Mr. Lockhart in West Durham are men who could be ill spared from the Legislature. But the province has done so well on the whole that it has a right to have the mantle of charity thrown over its errors.—Globe.

THE most significant triumph of the campaign, if we except, perhaps, West Peterborough, is the re-election of Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, whose majority was increased from 100 to 300. A particularly fierce onslaught was made upon Mr. Dryden and his department. He will continue to look after the interests of farmers and the Department of Agriculture will contnue to have a responsible Minister exclusively devoting his attention to the interests of the farmers, and not be tacked on to some other department as a side show, and it would have been had the Government been defeated.

ONE of the most regrettable features of the campaign is the defeat of Mr. John Armstrong, the Labour Candidate in East Toronto. He deserved success on his own account, because Labour has had no more faithful friend than he. Victory should have been with him, too, because the interests of Labour and Capital alike demand that the former shall be given representation in in the Legislature. But as we have told our readers, there is no use expecting consideration of labour interests from the Conservative party. What a howl the latter would have raised if Armstrong had been opposed by a Liberal.

OUR local cantemporary accounts for Mr. Stratton's great victory in West Peterborough by the fact that different elements supported him. A candidate must have a strong claim to popular support when he is able to enlist in his favour the most of the elements, political, religious and moral. Mr. Stratton's record must have been most satisfactory.

---

Mowat makes a good race for a man who who is not a "go"-er. Ontario's Grand Old Man made a tour through the constituencies which would have severely taxed the strength of many members twenty years his junior; and he can now sleep soundly on the assurance of a victory honestly won in administration and in campaigning.

---

THE Review says by way of self-comfort that a most disgraceful Mowat campaign was crowned with success in East Peterborough. The electors seemed to have thought differently.

MR. WINCH was not the only man that was beaten yesterday. The 743 stripes administered fall over his shoulders upon the party schemers who thrust him into the field.

The reason the P. P. A. people did not do better on Tuesday, was on account of their conscientious scruples against marking a "cross" on their ballots.

FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

Sir William Van Horne Gives His Idea of the Practicability of the Scheme.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Sir William Van Horne, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, has made the following statement in regard to the fast Atlantic service:

"I have publicly stated my views about a first-class Canadian Atlantic steamship service a good many times, and I hold to these views just as strongly to-day as I ever did. I would be quite unfair to the office I occupy had I not, with the opportunities I have had, become familiar with the commercial interest of the country and with all parts of the country. It is possible that my deductions from the knowledge I have acquired are incorrect, but I believe I am right in holding that an Atlantic steamship service of the highest class is the greatest need of this country. Indeed I have no doubt whatever about it, nor have I any doubt as to its practicability to which I have given much attention, or that it will be successful if properly established and handled.

"I can see where the business is to be had to support it, and I think I can see what effect it will have on promoting the material interests of the country; and I hold that it should be provided at almost any cost. I look upon it as a necessary and natural supplement to the enormous expenditures Canada has made for the development of her railways and canals, and that it will have a most powerful effect in attracting people to the country. I hold that it would be folly to start at this late date with a second rate line, and in order that it may be effective and successful it must be of a very high class—it must be all that money can make it.

"The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has no financial interest, and is not likely to have, in any scheme now under consideration. We would prefer to see the service established by some of the present Canadian Atlantic lines, or by a combination of them, but if they will not undertake it, anybody else who does will have our hearty cheers, provided of course that the service furnished is just what it should be. This company indicated to the Government at one time the conditions on which it would undertake to furnish the service; but these conditions were not deemed practicable and the company has since dropped out of the question.

"It should not be forgotten that when this company moved towards the establishment of a first-class Pacific steamship line most of those who ought to know insisted that we could never induce passengers to go to far away Vancouver to take ship for China and Japan; but the results have strikingly disproved this, and they have proved that the people who have travelled by sea will travel by the very best ships they can reach, from whatever port they may sail."

"Beware the pine tree's withered branch
Beware the awful avalanche!"

Was the peasant's warning to the aspiring Alpine youth. Dangers greater than these lurk in the pathway of the young man or woman of the present as they journey up the rugged sidehill of Time. But they may all be met and overcome by a judicious and timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Meden Medical Discovery, the celebrated cure for colds, coughs, catarrh and consumption. Better than hypophosphites of cod liver oil; unrivalled and unapproachable in all diseases arising from a scrofulous or enfeebled condition of the system.

The "Discovery" is guaranteed to cure in all cases of diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

PROPHECY NOT FULFILLED.

The raging storms that crossed the land, hail, snow and dreadful rains,
Carrying de-truction in their course, and flooding fertile plains,
The tempest's blasts, the victims' shrieks as water them devour
Are hushed by howling threats to hurl Sir Oliver from power.
The pen, the press for months have spread their bitterest spite abroad,
High-toned stump orators spued out their false, ear-sickening load,
Meredith's strong army took the field, resolved to strike the blow,
From every rank the shouts went forth — Sir Oliver must go!

Brave Meredith called out his force in order for the fray,
Upon the twenty-sixth of June to charge and win the day;
His stern command was forward boys, retreat not from the fight,
Until the Mowat ranks are crushed in death or put to flight.
We must prevail although we cast honour and name aside,
The treasury benches we must fill for pocket fame and pride;
For years my chief ambition was to rule Ontario,
I am convinced the hour has come, Sir Oliver must go.

Upon the electioneering stump when friend or foe you meet
With honey have your mouth well primed and give it to them sweet
Use your persuasive powers with force and clear soul touching skill
Make promises though you do not intend them to fulfil.
In seats of honor you will sit, my place the premier's chair
We sought it long; next session we will be safe seated there
United stand to party true strike the decisive blow
And show the Grits the hour has come Sir Oliver must go.

Hold on my friend—you cannot have things quite all your own way.
The true friends of the Grand Old Man must have their little say,
Not only words, but by their votes have shown you clear and plain,
Your hopes are crushed—the Grand Old Man in office shall remain;
Twenty-two years, most faithful, he has held the reins of power,
Without one unjust public act up to the present hour;
Although his eyes are dimmed by age—hair almost white as snow,
His intellect bright as in youth—from power he shall not go.

The party or the man reveals a heart unpitying cold,
That would cast a good man from power because he had grown old,
His long, wise and impartial rule has people's hearts endeared,
Throughout Ontario his name is honoured and revered,
Tried in the crucible of time and filthy lucre's snare,
To-day he stands up with clean hands free from the boodler's share.
With such a leader there is hope to find his followers so,
The people know it and exclaim from power they shall not go.

The Twenty-sixth of June is gone, the polling hours are past,
The verdict on the Grand Old Man and party has been passed,
The ballot has no speech, but by their marks they plainly say
The Mowat Government is sustained, once more they gained the day,
For months sly Meredith's whole force proclaimed with one accord,
On polling day Sir Mowat and host would be cast overboard,
Public opinion answers No! the peoples votes declare,
His party worthy of their trust, and him the Premier's chair.

Staunch Peterborough, East and West, still shows its record clear,
Two well-tried men have been returned the grand old man to cheer,
Eight years they worked beneath his rule, his worth they truly know,
A wiser statesman never ruled our fair Ontario,
Unfurl the true Reform flag, stamp victory on its folds,
'Tis safe once more - Sir Oliver the staff securely holds
Long may he wave the good old flag, though on life's downward grade,
With J. R. Stratton and T. Blezard sitting snug beneath its shade.

WM. TELFORD.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for such a condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, carefully prepared from the best ingredients. 25 cents.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

The House Adjourns for the Opening of the Intercolonial Conference.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 28.—When the House met yesterday Sir John Thompson moved that when it adjourned at night it would stand adjourned until to-morrow. This, he said, was done principally on account of the opening of the intercolonial conference. It might, however, as well be done on the ground that the day was the anniversary of the coronation of her Majesty. The conference of delegates from Australia and the sister colonies would assemble in the city and the Government intended to give them a warm welcome. To give an opportunity to the members of Parliament joining with them in doing this he moved that the House would not sit to transact business.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier said that the reason that it was coronation day was not a valid one for the House adjourning this year more than any year in the past. He, however, cordially agreed to the adjournment for the purpose of giving a welcome to the representatives of the Imperial Government and the representatives of the different colonies to the conference. The motion was then carried.

Two or three Government bills were advanced a stage and the balance of the evening was taken up in supply.

Capital Notes.

Nearly all the delegation to the colonial conference has arrived. The formal opening to-day promises to be a very grand ceremonial.

All the Ontario members who have been away electioneering returned this morning.

Hon. Mr. Foster is suffering from kidney trouble, and is a very sick man. He has not been in the House for ten days, and it is doubtful whether he will be able to attend the opening ceremonies of the colonial conference.

Mr. J. D. Edgar has written to Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron informing them that he would make charges in Parliament against them. It is understood that the charges against Caron are in respect of the Lake St. John railway case, which was before the House last year.

The Situation at Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., June 28. — Judge Prowse, police magistrate, has decided that the Government had no right to collect duties. The Government declare that Prowse has no authority to decide this question. The defence finished the case in the Trinity trial. Sir William Whiteway's examination was finished and the lawyers sum up to day. The decision will be given in a week or ten days.

Thirty Thousand Bushels Destroyed.

MONTREAL, June 28.—Examination today shows twenty-two feet of water in the hold of the Donaldson steamer Amarynthian, which ran on rocks near Isle Ronde. About 30,000 bushels of grain are spoiled. ## FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Persons who have had difficulty in obtaining Spectacles and Eye-Glasses to suit them, and who are troubled with imperfect vision, either by night or day, should call on W. A. SANDERSON and have a free examination of their eyes made. Oculists Prescriptions carefully filled.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of East Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—I hereby desire to most heartily thank you for the grand support I have received in the election contest on Tuesday, which has resulted in my return as your representative for a fifth term by a majority of about 500. I would especially thank those who formed the excellent organization which contributed to the great success that has crowned their efforts. My friends, personal and political, have nobly worked for me and I only wish that I could find words to adequately express my gratitude. My thanks are especially due to my brother Patrons who loyally supported me and thus expressed their approval of the course I have pursued in the past and their trust in my future course. My thanks are also due to a large number of my Conservative friends, who must have given me their cordial support, or I could not have secured the handsome majority which has been placed to my credit at the polls. I take this as an evidence that my past course, in which I have endeavoured to mete out even handed justice to every elector in the riding, independently of creed or political opinion, has met the general approval. It also shows that the fair minded and liberal of the Conservatives have not been blinded by the attempts made to arouse various prejudices against me. I assure my Conservative friends that I shall not forget the generous support I have received at their hands in this contest, and can assure them that I shall use my best endeavours to make myself worthy of the trust reposed in me. But above all I must thank the Liberals of East Peterborough who have, as I expected, stood so nobly by me, and without whose support I could not have succeeded as I have done.

In a word I wish to thank each and every one who has in the most minute way contributed to the result that has placed East Peterborough in her true position as one of the banner ridings of the Province in the cause of good and honest government.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
THOS. BLEZARD.

Villiers, June 27th, 1894.

SMITH AND NORTH MONAGHAN.

Mr. Stratton wishes to recognize in an especial manner the handsome manner in which the grand old Liberal township of Smith showed her colours on June 26th. The largest majority ever returned for any candidate in this riding was rolled up by the Liberals, assisted by many independent, fair thinking Conservatives, who united with their Liberal fellow-electors to give expression to their approval of a candidate, who has worked well for his constituents and has treated all with a just consideration of their claims upon his good offices in their behalf. Mr. Stratton has proved that a fair, straightforward course pays, and he is especially thankful to the electors of Smith for their emphatic endorsation.

Mr. Stratton's supporters in North Monaghan are to be especially thanked for the excellent work they did, and though this is the only township that gave Mr. Winch a majority, the fact that this majority was not larger was due to the splendid work done by Mr. Stratton's workers in this township.

THE GOVERNMENT MAJORITY.

The latest corrected returns makes the complexion of the Ontario Legislature elected on Tuesday, as follows:—Straight Government supporters, 50; Conservatives, 26; Patrons, 15; P. P. A., 2; doubtful returns, 1; total 94, giving the Government a straight majority of 6, and with the addition of 11 Liberal Patrons, a total majority of 17, independent of Conservative Patrons and the 2 P. P. A. members. The Liberal policy being on nearly all points identical with the platform of the Patrons, the support of the Patrons may be considered a permanent factor.

WELL KNOWN IN TOWN AND COUNTY.

Mr. Martin Martyn Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning.

The death of Mr. Martin Martyn occured at an early hour yesterday morning at his residence, 285 George street.

Mr. Martyn, who was in his eightieth year, has never been able to shake off the effects of an attack of la grippe, from which he suffered last winter. For the past six weeks his health had been steadily failing, and he had not left his bed for the two weeks previous to his demise.

The deceased was born in Port Holland, Cornwall, England, and together with his wife came out to Peterborough county, in 1840. They lived in Baltimore and Norwood for a short time, but finally moved to Peterborough, where Mr. Martyn embarked into the milling business. He soon became well and favourably known throughout the Midland District, and retired from business some four or five years ago in comfortable circumstances.

His surviving children are Mrs. John H. Mowry, of Peterborough; Mrs. Luke Fisher, of Chicago; Mrs. Jos. Huston, of Chicago; Mrs. Chas. Brown, of Rochester, and Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Detroit.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Young conducting the services. The pall bearers were Messrs. Edward Green, Jas. Lundy, Tobias Fitzgerald, Henry Denne, Peter Hamilton and Col. Poole.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CATHEDRAL CLERGY.

The Annual Picnic on the Grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital.

The grand picnic which will be held on the pretty grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital on Dominion Day, under the auspices of the cathedral clergy, promises to be a big success indeed.

The list of sports which has been arranged including running, jumping, throwing the stone, etc., for valuable prizes, will, without doubt, prove a great attraction.

These picnics, which have become an annual occurrence now, are always patronized liberally, and so well do the clergy look after their visitors that everyone always comes away satisfied and with a mind made up to go again. This picnic bids, if possible, to be even a greater success than any of the former ones.

MARRIED.

WALTON—CUNNINGHAM—On Wednesday, June 27th, 1894, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Wm. Cunningham, by Rev. W. R. Young, B. A., Mr. Edwin Walton to Miss M. Cunningham, both of Peterborough.

LAKEFIELD'S LOYAL WELCOME.

"Plucky Little Lakefield's" Warm Reception to Mr. Stratton.

Last evening Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. accompanied by Mr. Peter Hamilton, chairman of Mr. Stratton's election committee, paid a visit to Lakefield to congratulate and thank the electors of that beautiful, busy and thrifty little lakeside village for the splendid support given in the election contest of Tuesday, and to give Mr. Stratton an opportunity of expressing his grateful appreciation of the large vote rolled up in that village for him. Mr. Stratton and Mr. Hamilton were met by the village band, and after being escorted through the principal streets, were conducted to the village hall, where an enthusiastic reception was given Mr. Stratton and Mr. Hamilton by the large concourse of citizens that assembled in front of the hall.

Mr. Stratton, from the platform, briefly addressed the gathering thanking his friends who had worked so faithfully and successfully for his return, and thanking the electors for the handsome majority that they had given him. He expressed his gratitude to all who had assisted in the triumph that had been secured on Tuesday. No matter how highly he appreciated the splendid support he had received in every part of the riding, he was particularly proud of the achievement of plucky little Lakefild. He heartily thanked the Liberals whose support he had naturally expected, though he did anticipate that it would have been so enthusiastic and unanimous as it had proved to be. He was also highly grateful to the independent and large-minded Conservatives who had given him their support, which indicated that he had pursued a fair course and had discharged his duties as a representative impartially and in the interest of all the electors, regardless of party lines.

Mr. Peter Hamilton also briefly addressed the electors in a similar strain, asserting that while Lakefield had done splendidly, he had no fear that they would have the slightest occasion to regret the confidence they had reposed in the popular member for West Peterborough. He congratulated them upon the plucky fight they had made, and for the important share they had contributed to the greatest political victory ever achieved in West Peterborough.

Mr. John Hull, J. P., president of the Lakefield Reform Association, briefly addressed the assembly, warmly congratulating both Lakefield and Mr. Stratton on the good work that had been done on Tuesday.

The gathering then separated with the usual cheers, Mr. Stratton's greeting being particularly enthusiastic.

Mr. Stratton desires to specially thank the band and citizens for the hearty welcome given him on Wednesday evening.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

LACROSSE

The Peterboroughs were badly worsted yesterday at Port Hope, the Ontarios beating the visitors by four straight games.

About 250 excursionists excurted to Port Hope from here to see the game and the 57th Battalion Band was also taken along to encourage the boys to victory. The team accompanied by a good following, put up at the Queen's and lots of money was laid regarding the result.

The game was not started until 4.15, as Mr. Connaghy, the referee, did not arrive from Toronto until four o'clock. The two teams lined up as follows :—

| PETERBOROUGH. | | PORT HOPE. |
|---|---|---|
| Dobbin | Goal | Brown |
| Mein | Point | L White |
| Lacimore | Cover Point | Patterson |
| Dwyer | 1st defence | J White |
| McDonough | 2nd defence | Mason |
| Lynch | 3rd defence | Ross |
| Wasson | Centre | Tutton |
| Phelan | 3rd home | Burt |
| Bagley | 2nd home | Jennings |
| McCabe | 1st home | Tite |
| Glover | Outside home | Peard |
| Lipsett | Inside home | Harcourt |
| S Ray | Umpire | Budge |
| W Rogers | Field Captain | Dillon |

Referee—J McConnaghy.

The field was rough and the grass slippery on account of the showers which had fallen during the day and the lightweight Peterborough boys went to earth almost every time they received a body check. The team which which they ran up against was not composed of entirely the same players who came to Peterborough, and played such a close game with the home team on the P.A.A.A. grounds. It was not to be expected that Port Hope would do the fair thing in this respect, and as usual a number of ringers duly filed an appearance.

Hendren played a fast and brilliant game when the Port Hopes were here a couple of weeks ago and fairly earned a right to play against them again, but was for some unaccountable reason left at home.

Summary :

1st game.....Port Hope.....Jennings—15 min
2nd game.....Port Hope.....Jennings— 3 min
3rd game.....Port Hope.....Jennings—16 min
4th game.....Port Hope.....Tite— 5 min

The first game was a good one and the 600 hundred spectators, who witnessed the playing, saw some brilliant work done by both sides. The checking was fast and furious and McCabe and Tutton were both ruled off for fouling. The ball travelled rapidly from one goal to the other and at one time the Peterborough boys had a good opening to score, instead of shooting on the posts the player passed the ball and it was soon in the scrimmage and the chance was lost. Team play is undoubtedly a great and a good feature in a game, but there are times when a little headwork is also necessary, as in the instance cited.

After fifteen minutes close play, Jennings, one of the strangers on the Port Hope team, scored. Dobbin in this game, as in the others, had a good many difficult shots to stop.

It only took three minutes for Jennings to score again, though McCabe relieved more than once. Wasson showed up well too in this game.

The third game almost came Peterborough's way, as Phelan shot on the Port Hope flags and only missed by a hairsbreadth, and a few minutes later Glover also had a shot which was barely stopped in time. The star playing of the Indians shone out to advantage, as time and again they relieved and saved their goal. Jennings finally scored in 16 minutes.

The fourth and last game was scored by Tite for the Port Hopers after five minutes play, though the visitors worked hard at the last.

The Peterboroughs are positive that if they run up against the team which played with them here that they could render a good account of themselves, but they never contracted to beat picked star players from Stratford, Toronto and Orillia. However, no discouragement is felt by the boys, and they yet think they can win on a fair field with ng favour.

The ruling off of McCabe was a most arbitrary decision on the part of the referee. Under the circumstances Jimmy could not have been blamed if he had given good cause for being ruled off. He kept his temper under most trying circumstances and was for a reward, ruled off.

Since the present lacrosse club was organized the Peterborough's have won from Port Hope once, lost to them once, and tied with them twice.

CRICKET.

Taking advantage of the excursion yesterday the second eleven of the cricket club journeyed to Port Hope and played a one innings game with the second team of the Trinity College School, easily defeating them by the score of 58—35.

Thorne, overs, 13.4; maidens, 3; total runs, 21; wickets, 9.

The School's failure to score an extra indicates sharp fielding by the town colts.

Halliday's catch of a sky scraper which went "straight up" from James' bat, was a pretty play.

Adams and Halliday made the top scores 16 apiece, the former carrying his bat out.

Guy Rogers put his seven together in good style. The local bowlers are hard to hit with any degree of safety.

The Trinity School professional coach, Houldsworth, will take the Peterborough club in hand for a couple of months and is expected to arrive in town on Saturday next.

Millbrook sends word that Peterborough's best team is wanted to come over.

Matches with Belleville, Madoc and Campbellford, as well as Lindsay, should be looked after by the secretary.

THE GUN.

The members of the Gun Club are requested to turn out for a practice shoot to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock sharp. The return match with Campbellford will be shot off on Riverside Park at 9 a.m. on Dominion Day.

A FINE PROCESSION.

Cook and Whitby's Circus Drew Large Crowds This Afternoon.

The Cook & Whitby circus and menagerie arrived in the city this morning on their own train. The general appearance of the equipment of the show is far better than any that has ever visited the town. The animals are even superior to those of the Barnum show.

The parade, though a little late, far exceeded all expectations. The proprietors have done away with the old time idea of stringing out the procession, but make a compact body, only allowing the dens 20 feet apart. The afternoon performance was one series of brilliant surprises, the old leapers and such sawdust arrangements having given place to modern performers. There is not a poor animal in the whole collection. The afternoon performance was largely attended and much appreciated by all present. The performers are all first-class artists, the menagerie was large and constantly filled with lovers of the animal kingdom. To-night the show will be even more largely attended.

THE GREAT DAY APPROACHING

The First of July Demonstration Will Draw Thousands to Peterborough.

There is no doubt existing now regarding the great success which is bound to attend the great Dominion Day demonstration which Peterborough intends holding. The fact that the Board of Trade and Fire Brigade are behind the celebration scheme is a sufficient guarantee of its being everything that is desirable. Then the citizens who are on the committee are just the right sort of men in the right place, so success is assured.

THE BALOON ASCENSION.

will be a most interesting feature. Prof. Walcott, one of the world's most famous aeronauts, will ascend to the height of over 4000 feet or over three-quarters of a mile, and perform marvellous tricks on the flying trapeze while ascending. He will then descend to terra firma by means of a parachute.

The calithumpian procession, the finest of its kind which ever took place in the in the Midland Counties, will also be a free exhibition and will be a great attraction.

During the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports, including horse races for good purses. A lacrosse match between two of the best teams in the district, and a band contest ought to prove drawing features.

In the evening Prof. Hand, of Hamilton, has been engaged to give a most magnificent display of fireworks, and, altogether, the day will undoubtedly be one of huge enjoyment, both to the citizens and to the thousands of visitors who will come in on the excursion trains and boats.

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT.

American Railway Union Sides With the Strikers.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Yesterday the boycott against the Pullman Palace Car Co. was inaugurated by the executive board of the American Railway Union. The boycott is ordered in sympathy with the strikers at Pullman, Ill., and other points were the company has shops.

As a result of the boycott of the American Railway Union, all the switchmen in the freight yards of the Illinois Central went out at 6.10 this evening. The boycott ordered marks the beginning of what is expected will prove the greatest struggle between capital and labor ever inaugurated in the United States.

An Ohio Embezzler Arrested.

ASHLAND, Ohio, June 27.—The arrest of Jacob L. Quick, who has been in Toronto for eight months, caused great surprise over the county. He was captured in his own dooryard in Londonville by Sheriff Jones and Marshall Conrad. He said that he came back from Toronto, Canada, voluntarily and intended to surrender one year ago. Quick was cashier of the Londonville Banking Company, superintendent of the Methodist Sunday school, and highly respected, but he failed for $75,000. Almost up to the hour of his assignment he borrowed large sums of money, it is said, from various people, who are very bitter toward him. He even misappropriated his Sunday school money.

The Purchase of British Supplies.

LONDON, June 27.—The authorities of the War Office and Admiralty deny any knowledge of the recently reported purchase in Chicago by these departments or army forage and other supplies. This denial is in answer to an offer on the part of Canadian merchants to furnish all such supplies needed, the offer having been accompanied by an assertion that supplies were being purchased in Chicago for the British army and navy.

The Manchester Ship Canal.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The financial success of the great Manchester Ship Canal about which there has been so much doubt, appears to be assured. A report from United States Consul, Grinnell, in Manchester states that the revenues from tolls and dues for the five months ending with May 1, were $33,761, which more than covered all expenses connected with the traffic including wages, salaries, stores, rates and a full proportion of office expenses.

Oarsman Ryan's Opponent.

LONDON, June 27.—Guy Nickals, the British champion for the Diamond Sculls, at Henley, rowed a private trial over the course in eight minutes 25 seconds, beating his own record of eight minutes 36 seconds. The achievement does not seem to affect Ryan in any way. Both himself and Wright are doing steady work and have got over the novelty of the Thames crowds.

Chignecto Ship Railway.

LONDON, June 27.—Arrangements have been nearly concluded to provide the necessary capital to finish the Chignecto ship railway connecting the Bay of Fundy with the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The promoters of the enterprise are sanguine that the railway will soon be in operation and will shortly submit a proposal in regard to it to the Dominion Government.

General Hewston Exonerated.

LONDON, June 27.—In the central criminal court the grand jury made a return throwing out the bill found in the Bow street police court against Gen. John Hewston of California, charging him with manslaughter in causing the death of Geo. Bruton, an itinerant musician, by thrusting the ferule of an umbrella into his eye.

Anarchist Placards at Lisbon.

LISBON, June 27.—A number of placards were posted here bearing the legend: "Ravachol, Vaillant and Henry are avenged: justice has been done by Santo's arm." The placards were torn down by the police who later arrested six Spaniards who are suspected of being the author of them.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

Permanently Cured

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

CHINA'S GREAT CANAL.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S MOST WONDERFUL ARTERIES OF TRADE.

Tribute Rice and the Imperial Barns—How the Emperor Collects His Taxes—A Look at Chinatown and Some Other Big Towns—A Few Bits of Chinese Art.

CHINKIANG, China—I write this letter at Chinkiang, a walled city on the banks of the Yangtse river. It is just about 150 miles from the seacoast, and is at the point where the Grand Canal crosses the Yangtse. This canal is one of the great wonders of the world. It is now in bad repair and a large part of it is going to ruin. But it has been one of the greatest waterways of the world, and it extends from Peking south to Hangchow, some 200 odd miles below this point, running through the great plain from north to middle China, a distance about as great as that between Montreal and Chicago. It cuts its way through a territory containing 170,000,000 people, and it taps some of the biggest cities of the world. Peking, where it finishes its course, is a city of more than 1,000,000 people. Tientsin, below this, about eighty miles, is still larger, and as it runs further south the canal is dotted with walled cities and great towns all along its course to the Yangtse River. Chinkiang is about as big as Minneapolis. Yangchow, the next big city on the canal south of here, contains, I am told, a half a million people, and Suchau and Hangchow each have something like three-quarters of a million souls. At every thirty miles along its course it is safe to say there is a walled city, containing many times 10,000 people, and the country back of it is a garden spotted with clumps of trees, each clump shading a Chinese village. The canal at Chinkiang cuts right around the city, forming the island upon which the main part of it is located. It runs from here northward for 380 miles without a lock, but above this, I am told, there are numerous sluices and locks, and in some places the water is carried through the country on great stone embankments, twenty and more feet high, and the stream at some of these places is fully 200 feet wide. It has stone floodgates managed by soldiers, and it is here and there fed by creeks and rivers. At one point a river was conducted into it in times past, and the Chinese say that 300,000 men were employed for seven months in turning the waters of this single stream. It cuts the Yellow River, and it is below this that the stone embankments above spoken of are located. The parts which I have seen are those which run near here, through the Yangtse valley, and those about Tientsin and Peking. Here the canal is more like a great ditch than anything else, and there is now a little army of men employed in keeping it in repair. It was in existence more than 1,000 years ago, and Kublai Khan laid out the line upon which it now runs.

The chief use for the canal in times past has been that of a trade artery from the north to the south. It taps by its connecting canals and rivers every part of the great plain, and it is used for the transportation of the tribute rice to Peking.

The Government taxes of China are to a large extent collected in kind, and every year the farmers send about 133,000,000 pounds of rice from here to Peking for the Emperor and his officials. At Nanking I saw acres of great barns which were filled with this rice awaiting shipment, and every town along the canal has its Government barns. Just now the rice is being taken to the north. Of late much of it goes by sea, but a vast deal is still sent by the Grand Canal, and at every town there are hundreds of craft of every kind, and these Government junks sometimes block the canal for days. Hundreds of men are employed in towing and pulling the boats, and at places they are dragged along by means of capstans. The canal winds about like a river in places, and navigation through it is so slow that some of these rice boats have started in April during the past few years and have not arrived in CHINESE PORTER.

Peking until September. Parts of the canal are closed to traffic, except during the carrying of the tribute rice, and the condition of it to-day is such that it will hardly be used again as the great waterway which it has been in the past. Li Hung Chang has asked the Emperor to allow him to build a railroad along it from Tientsin to Chinkiang, and this will eventually be done.

The boats along the canal are much like those I have described as lying at the mouths of the creeks of the Yangtse. In passing up it you are followed everywhere by crowds, who look with wonder on the foreign devils, and every here and there you meet boats containing begging Buddhist priests who stick out long poles at you. These poles have bags fastened to their ends, and into these the Chinese drop cash or rice. This part of China is full of priests. There is in the Yangtse River, just opposite where I am now writing, an island which is just covered with Buddhist temples, and which has no inhabitants but priests. Massive granite terraces, decorated with stone lions, lead up from the water and the temples shine out of green trees and flowery gardens. In Nanking I visited a temple which contained 10,000 images and golden statues of Buddha, and I have photographed a dozen or so of the priests.

There is as little crime here to the population as there is anywhere. I find the people, as a rule, well behaved, and I am surprised every day at the common decency with which they treat each other. These Chinese cities have many streets not over four feet wide. In those of Canton you can stand in the centre and touch both walls with your two hands. There are no more thronged places in the world than these streets, and the crowd which moves through them is of all grades and of all occupations. There are mandarins in chairs, who are preceded by their servants, who carry boards in front of them bearing the titles of their masters. There are coolies wheeling great barrows, which almost fill the street from side to side. There are donkeys by the dozen, and men loaded with all sorts of heavy burdens, some of which they carry upon their backs and others which they have hung to the ends of poles. There must be necessarily much pushing and crowding, and such a scene in America would include a fight in every block. Here there is nothing of the kind. The scholar and the gentleman give way, as a rule, to the heavily-loaded laborer, and the workingman's rights are generally respected. If they are not the trades unions are such that they bring the officials and people to time.

I find that the Chinese have a fair idea of justice. They will fight against wrong, and there is as much of a democracy here in this respect as there is in America. There is no place where debts are so punctually paid and where credit is so easily gotten by all classes of people. Honesty and integrity are above par in China, and foreigners tell me they would rather deal with the Chinese merchant than with any other business man in the world. He never goes back on his spoken or written word.

A large part of the farming of this region is done by irrigation, and the water rights of the Chinese are as full of complications as are those of Colorado. Still there are few troubles among the farmers, and with no fences to mark the lines of their property they work away in peace and quiet generation after generation. It is wonderful how well they work and how much they get off the land. Three crops a year is by no means uncommon, and if any sign of a failure of crop is seen, the seed for another crop is straightway sown. It is wonderful how small the farms are. There are thousands of holdings in China which are less than an acre, and some are even as small as the tenth of an acre. It is estimated that an acre of land will in the better parts of the empire support a family of six, and a volume could be written on Chinese agriculture. The use of fertilizers is universal, and, though there are practically no horses and few cattle, there is no land which is so well fed. Everything is saved. Thousands of men do nothing but gather up bits of fertilizing matter and sell them. The refuse of a rich family will bring more than that of a poor one, and the slops of the foreign part of Shanghai are farmed out annually for a sum which gives the city the most of its educational fund. Potato peelings, the parings of finger nails, the shavings of the head and ruined houses form parts of the fertilizing material, and this is usually put together in such liquid form that not a bit of it is wasted. The manure is kept in great vats, and the farm is watered like a garden. Each plat gets its daily food and drink. A dipperfull from the vat is put into each bucket of water, and the mixture is poured in at the roots of the plants. All throughout this part of China such fertilization goes on, and from $20 to $30 a year is sometimes spent upon an acre of land.

FARMERS ALONG THE CANAL.

The tools used are crude in the extreme. I see men working in the fields near here with long-handled hoes. These have four teeth of the same length as those of a pitchfork, and each tooth or tine is about an inch in width. They also use grubbing hoes or mattocks, and they have a sort of a spade with a crosspiece of wood two inches above where the iron plate begins. They push the spade into the ground by pressing the bare foot against this cross bar instead of on the iron itself, as we do. Their plows scratch the earth and are not much better than those used in Egypt. These are pulled by water buffaloes, the ugliest cattle known to man.

HE MADE A MAGNIFICENT FIGHT.

(The Globe.)

Mr. Stratton of West Peterborough was one of the Liberals marked for special attention during the campaign. This can only be accounted for by the acknowledged lack of substantial charges against Ministerial supporters. No member could be more courteous to opponents in debate. When Mr. Grundy was examined before the Public Accounts Committee the registration fee on a deed registered by Mr. Stratton's solicitor remained unpaid. In the quiet days after a contest to found a charge on such an occurrence would seem ridiculous. Yet day after day the leading Conservative newspaper denounced Mr. Stratton for the unpaid fee. Mr. Grundy's newspaper attack on his official chief and his subsequent dismissal were also used against Mr. Stratton and the victory he had scored is a gratifying tribute to his popularity. He covered the great riding of West Peterborough from end to end and made a magnificent fight.

PICNIC AND REGATTA.

A grand picnic and regatta will be held by Mr. Dan Whetung in Braden's grove, Davis' Point, opposite Indian Village, on Thursday, July 5th. Lots of fun and sport will be afforded those who attend. Amongst the list of events is the offering of a prize to the white man who can catch an Indian. A double canoe race for a bag of flour will be interesting, as will an Indian ladies' double canoe race. The most exciting event of the day, however, will be a canoe race between Madden Howard, of Hiawatha, and George Taylor, of Chemong. A number of cheap excursions will be run to the point the following being amongst the number: From Peterborough to Chemong and return 25c. Steamer from Chemong to the grounds and return 10c The Indian brass band will provide music during the day and a dancing platform will be erected for the benefit of the dancers. Admission to grounds, including dinner, 25c.

A PRETTY CHURCH WEDDING.

Mr. George Wanless, of Toronto Junction, United in Marriage to Miss Frankie Rickey.

The first church wedding of the season took place yesterday afternoon at two o'clock in St. John's, being the marriage of Miss Frankie Rickey, third daughter of Mr. George Rickey, of 120 Aylmer street, and Mr. George Wanless, of Toronto Junction.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Kenrick, and was followed by a choral service, the full choir being in attendance.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily attired in a cream Bengaline silk gown with pearl trimmings and lace and wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms. Miss Minnie Armstrong, her bridesmaid was gowned in cream henrietta cloth adorned with baby ribbon, and the maid of honour, Miss Mabel Rickey, sister of the bride, was attired in nile green henrietta cloth trimmed with cream lace. The groom was assisted by Mr. Fred Abbs, of Toronto Junction; and Mr. Bruce Rickey and Willie Armstrong performed the duties of ushers.

At the conclusion of the church service the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where an inviting repast was served, after which the newly-married couple took the 4:48 p. m. train for a wedding trip, which will embrace Chicago and other western cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Wanless will in the future reside at No. 179 Clendenning avenue, West Toronto Junction.

Among the many handsome and useful presents received was a china dinner set and china toilet set from Mr. Stroud, of Ottawa, and a marble clock from the members of St. John's choir, which latter was accompanied by the following address:

Dear Miss Rickey:

We, the officials and members of St. John's church choir, with which you have been associated for so long, cannot let the occasion of your approaching marriage go by without offering you some token of our friendship and esteem. We ask you, therefore, to accept the accompanying clock with the assurance of every good wish and prayer on our part that your future may be full of blessing and happiness.

On behalf of the choir,

CHARLES B. KENRICK,
J. R. CLARK,
H. VARNES,
A. KINGSCOTTE.

A PERFECT DAY.

The birds carol forth their glad measures,
The earth seems responding in tune;
Fair nature with loveliest treasures
Bedecks the sweet paragon, June!

Yon emerald branches are living,
No velvet so rare as this lawn;
No "master" a parallel giving
To pictures hung out since the dawn.

A tree bending o'er the veranda
Is laden with blossoms of pink,
Morris's minstrels in perfect abandon,
Their singing with aroma link.

The hills and the vales in their praising,
Yon orbs in the heavens declare,
How measureless, deep and amazing
The works of the infinite are.

No language can tell of the glory,
So quiet, so lavish, so bright;
The words stand abashed in my story,
Retreating in silent delight.

Yet shadows intrude their dark pinions,
And a mist comes over the eye;
When I know that the fairest dominions
Of earth blossom only to die.

I think of the pain and the sorrow,
The dying, the blood and the tears;
The throngs greeting, never to-morrow,
Sad story, long freighting the years.

The charms are of Eden the traces,
Proclaiming that Jesus will win;
He form'd all the beautiful places, (Jno. 1, 3.)
But never the sorrow and sin.

The Power that made the bright heaven,
And wonders so lavishly strewn,
That Power is graciously given
To rescue and ransom His own.

I pledge that the strength that redeems us
Will fully accomplish the plan,
Is shown in the rest that He gave us,
Succeeding creation of man.

That strength is the strength that created,
Completing the work He begun;
So close is Redemption related—
Creation, Redemption, are one.

This mark of God's power is a blessing
Memento to all of the race,
That evil was born of transgressing,
Its death cometh only by grace.

The Sabbath is a blessed sign,
Recurring o'er and o'er,
Assuring that earth's vernal time,
Fairer than ancient Eden's prime.
Will come, aye, evermore!

SUCCESSOR TO CARNOT

M. Casimir-Perier Elected President of the French Republic.

THE CHOICE A POPULAR ONE

Casimir-Perier Possesses the Confidence of the Powers, Who Express Satisfaction at His Election—An Alarm on Leaving Versailles for Paris.

PARIS, June 28.—M. Casimir-Perier, President of the Chamber of Deputies, was elected President of France to succeed the late President Sadi-Carnot, on the first ballot, by a vote of 451. The Chamber of Deputies is composed of 584 deputies and the Senate is composed of 300 members. The total number of votes cast was 851, of which six were cancelled because of irregularities, leaving 845 valid votes. Of these 451 were cast for Casimir-Perier, 191 for M. Brisson, 99 for M. Dupuy, 59 for Gen. Fevrier, 77 for M. Arago and 13 were scattering. M. Dupuy was present when the result of the balloting was read.

When the President of the Senate informed Casimir-Perier that he had been proclaimed President of the republic the latter's emotion almost overcame him, and the landau, which was to convey him to Paris, and the squadron of mounted lancers which were to escort him were obliged to wait until the newly-elected executive had rested sufficiently to recover his calmness.

Public satisfaction at the result of the election is general and everything is tranquil.

Casimir-Perier, President of the French republic, left Versailles for Paris in the afternoon. Premier Dupuy accompanied him, and a number of journalists speculated as they drove away as to the nature of M. Dupuy's conversation with his victorious rival on the way to the capital.

The President and his party were escorted by a troop of mounted lancers. As the President was about to drive away some one in the crowd threw a bouquet, tied with the American colors, into his carriage. The President took his departure from Versailles amid the rattle of drums and the bows, smiles and cheers of the crowd, who shouted: "Vive la President," "Vive Casimir-Perier," until the party were out of sight.

Casimir-Perier's speech to the friendly deputies, whom he received before his departure, was as follows:

"I can scarcely control the emotion that I feel at this moment. The national assembly confers on me the highest honor that a citizen can receive. While imposing on me the heaviest moral responsibility that a man can bear, I shall give my country all the vigor and patriotism that I possess. I shall give the republic all the ardor of convictions which have never wavered. I shall give the democracy all my devotion and all my heart, as did he who is now no more, whose loss we reverently deplore. I shall endeavor to do my duty—my entire duty."

As the ministers were leaving the palace the carriage passed an exploding squib. The noise resembled at a distance the report of a pistol and created some alarm. Somebody in the crowd cried: "What, already?" Casimir-Perier drove with an escort of dragoons. He looked nervous and white.

The socialist deputies met last evening and drew up a manifesto protesting against Casimir-Perier's election as a menace to the republic.

LONDON, June 28.—All the London morning papers comment favorably on the election of Casimir Perier.

ROME, June 28.—Politicians in Rome are pleased with the election of Casimir-Perier. They say that he often has shown a friendly disposition to Italy.

The Assassin's Trial.

LYONS, June 28.—The trial of Cesario Santo, the anarchist assassin of President Carnot, is to take place on July 23.

A photograph of the murderer has not yet been taken. His left eye is closed and his lips are much swollen from the blows he received before he was taken into custody.

Upwards of 2,000 persons have been arrested here in connection with the anti-Italian riots. Nearly all the ringleaders have been taken into custody.

The municipal council of Lyons has voted $2,000 towards the cost of erecting a statue of President Carnot. A copy of the last speech delivered by the murdered President will be preserved in the archives of the city. The municipal council of Lyons will attend the funeral of M. Carnot in a body.

Santo's Brother in America.

STAMFORD, Conn., June 23.—The attention of an officer was attracted to a group of Italians who were on the depot platform taking leave of one of their number, who had in his hand a roll of bills amounting to $1,600. A member of the group told the officer that this man's name was Santo and he was a brother of the assassin of President Carnot. Upon being questioned, Santo admitted this to be the truth, but was prevented from saying anything more by the other Italians. Santo departed for New York, where he will embark for France. He has been here nearly a year.

Cattle Embargo May be Raised.

LONDON, June 28.—The Board of Agriculture has given notice that the special examinations of Canadian cattle, which have been proceeding since the middle of May, will cease this week. Eight suspicious cases have been reported at Liverpool and these have been sent to London for further examination. Prof. Hunting has seen two of these cases, and he reported that their appearance is similar to that of the cases which he inspected in 1893 and found not contagious. Though the features of the present cases are somewhat similar to those of the contagious cases, Prof. Hunting has pointed out two differences to the Board of Agriculture.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE

All the Delegates Attend the Opening Meeting at Ottawa.

LORD ABERDEEN'S WELCOME

Each of the Delegates Make a Little Speech on the Happy Occasion—A Banquet is Given to the Visitors by the Canadian Representatives.

OTTAWA, June 29.—The delegates to the Colonial Conference are all here. They are as follows:

Great Britain—Earl of Jersey and Mr. W. H. Mercer, of the Colonial Office.

New South Wales—Mr. F. B. Sutton.

Cape Colony—Sir Henry de Villiers, Sir Charles Mills, Mr. J. H. Hofmeyer.

South Australia—Mr. Thomas Playford.

New Zealand—Mr. Albert Lee Smith.

Victoria—Sir Henry Wrixton, Mr. N. Fitzgerald, Mr. Simon Fraser.

Queensland—Mr. A. J. Thynee, Mr. Wm. Forrest.

Honolulu Chamber of Commerce—Mr. Theodore H. Davies.

The Canadian delegates are Mr. Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Adolphe Caron, Mr. Geo. E. Foster and Mr. Sandford Fleming.

The delegates assembled in the Senate Chamber at half-past ten o'clock, and Lord Aberdeen delivered the opening address. Sir John Thompson followed, and his Excellency then called upon the Earl of Jersey and a delegate from each of the colonies represented to make an address.

The Governor-General, in welcoming the delegates, said they had come together to discuss matters which were of great importance to the empire as a whole. The objects of the meeting were well defined. The programme of work was large and important. Australian trade for Canada might be very large and great things also might be expected from South Africa.

Sir John Thompson said that Canada realized that while there were many ties of fraternalism and patriotism, than matters of hard, matter-of-fact trade, it was to consider these matters that the conference had been summoned. Many years of good government had proved to the colonies that British connection was best; that the prosperity of the colonies depended upon maintaining the tie that bound them to the mother land.

The Earl of Jersey said there was no precedent for such a gathering. Some 70 years had elapsed since the first colonial conference was held in London. It was unfortunate in one sense that the representation of Great Britain had fallen upon one who was not a member of the Government. He could assure his hearers though that his best would be done. The Earl closed with a eulogy of the Canadian people who had made the conference possible. Canada had linked two great oceans with courage and skill. She had become the hospitable half way house of the empire. He was sure that the conference would result in the strengthening of ties between the mother country and the colonies.

The Hon. Nicholas Fitzgerald of Tasmania, hoped that the conference would not only result beneficially to the colonies and to the mother country, but that many more such conferences might be held with the same object as this one in view.

Hon. F. B. Sutton, of New South Wales, who followed, hoped the conference would cement the union of the colonies and redound to the prosperity of the colonies and the Empire.

Sir Henry Devilliers, representing Cape Colony, declared the results of the conference would be most important and touched on the responsibilities that lay on the delegates.

Hon. Thos. Playford, South Australia, who is a gentleman of ample bulk, created a laugh by locularly saying though he represented almost the smallest colony, he himself was the largest specimen of humanity in the Chamber. He dealt with the trade question which the conference was to consider. He said there was no sentiment in trade. It was a matter of pounds, shillings and pence. Australia would not send over anything unless she got something in return. Canada was the same as regards Australia. However, he felt a trade could be built up. He paid Canada a compliment on its federation and said he believed when the delegates went back to Australia and told of Canada's success and satisfaction with confederation they would be able to forward the movement towards the unity of the Australian colonies.

HON. THOMAS PLAYFORD.

Mr. Alfred Lee-Smith, of New Zealand, followed with appropriate expressions of approval of the objects of the conference.

Hon. Simon Fraser, of Victoria, said the antipodes wondered at the success of the great Dominion. He congratulated Canada on its confederation, and declared that the conference, even if it did not produce any immediate results, the seeds or closer trade relations at least would be sown.

Hon. Mr. Sutton, of Queensland, moved, and Sir Charles Mills, of Cape of Good Hope, seconded, a resolution that loyal and congratulatory addresses be presented to Her Majesty, which was adopted, after which the ceremonies closed with the singing of God Save the Queen.

The Banquet in the Evening.

There were upwards of 300 guests in the Russell last night to the Imperial and Colonial delegates by the Canadian Commissioners to the Colonial Conference. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell occupied the chair and the vice chairs were occupied by Ministers of the Crown. His Excellency the Governor-General sat to the right of the chairman, and next to him was Hon. G. A. Kirkpatrick, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. On the left of the chairman were the Earl of Jersey, the Imperial delegate, and Sir John Thompson, the Dominion Premier.

The chairman, after proposing "The Queen," proposed the toast of "His Excellency the Governor-General." Lord Aberdeen made a very eloquent reply. He was followed by Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, who spoke of the premier province of the Dominion and its vast resources. Speeches were also made by a number of the delegates.

Mr. Fitzgerald proposed "The Canadian Parliament" and Sir John Thompson and Hon. Mr. Laurier made able and eloquent replies. Lord Aberdeen proposed the health of the chairman, and after Mr. Bowell replied the meeting broke up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

BRITISH COLUMBIA FLOOD.

The Damage Done Nothing Like What Has Been Reported.

MONTREAL, Que., June 29.—Mr. P. A. Peterson, Chief Engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, has returned from an inspection of the flooded British Columbia district. Speaking of the effects of the flood, Mr. Peterson said:

"The damage was serious, but not at all of the character described. There has been frightful exaggeration in the papers about this matter. There was damage undoubtedly, but, for a great railway, it could not be said to be of great proportions. When I left the Fraser was subsiding. The upper Fraser had fallen twenty-five feet; the lower, eight feet. The situation is rapidly improving.

"I have gone through the district affected twice, on the way to the end and on my way back, and I can say that the accounts in the press have been grossly exaggerated. There has been a flood owing to the causes I have mentioned and there has been damage to the line in the carrying away of several of our bridges, in the submergence of our tracks where the dips occur and in the interruption to traffic, but the condition of things described in the press was enough to occasion terror, whereas, the actual situation never reached a great magnitude of disaster, and all that has been injured or destroyed can be made good at comparatively small cost."

HELD UP BY A HIGHWAYMAN.

A Prominent Railroad Contractor Was a Victim of the Cariboo Stage Robbery.

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 29.—Dan McGilvary, a well-known railroad contractor, has returned from Cariboo. He was one of two passengers in the Cariboo stage when it was held up near Williams Lake. Several big hydraulic mining companies are now working in Cariboo and consequently large shipments of money are being made. The amount taken is not known, but it is believed to be a fairly good haul. The express company has refused to carry money for the present, as it is believed a gang of about eight highwaymen are operating. The highwayman wore a mask and did not bother the passengers.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Two Men Killed at a Sawmill at Cayuga Station.

CAYUGA, Ont., June 29.—A fatal accident occurred here yesterday at Cayuga station, Michigan Central railway. The boiler in the sawmill of Wm. Stevenson, sr., of Indiana township, exploded, killing John Commer, the engineer, and fatally injuring Franks, a sawyer, from Wellandport, Ont. Commer was cut in two and Franks' skull was fractured. Wm. Stevenson, jr., was badly scalded about the face. Frank Lathrum was also scalded, but not seriously. The mill is a complete wreck. The boiler was thrown 200 feet. An inquest will be held.

Body Found in the Whirlpool.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 29.—The body of a middle-aged woman has been taken out of the whirlpool. The only clothing on the body being a pair of black stockings and shoes, black corsets and waist. The head was void of all hair and the scalp hung down over the face. Coroner Morse took charge of the remains. The body was that of a slender built woman and had apparently been in the water for two weeks. Is is supposed to be that of a woman who stopped at the Keating house with a child, a few months old, for a week and left the hotel without paying her hotel bill or the medical attendance, she and the child being both sick while at the hotel. She stated she was the daughter of an English church minister of Montreal and her husband a lawyer of Oswego.

Newfoundland's Troubles.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., June 29.—In the mandamus proceedings, Mr. Morine, Colonial Secretary, argued that writs exceeded authority specified by the court when issued. The full bench of judges heard the argument, sustaining Morine. The mandamus had to be amended, causing renewed delay. The colony's revenues the past quarter are said to vastly exceed any previous quarter, notwithstanding political troubles.

Surveyors Leave for Labrador.

HALIFAX, N.S., June 29.—The Government steamer Lansdowne, fully provisioned for a three months' trip, sailed last night with several Government officials for the Labrador coast for survey purposes. She will call at Halifax town to-morrow to in Captain Douglass.

Burglarized the Clerk's Office.

HAMILTON, June 29.—The office of Mr. James Allen, village clerk of Burlington, was broken into and about $45 in cash stolen from the safe. The money stolen had been collected from ratepayers recently for statute labor taxes. No clue to the thieves.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Electors of East Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—I hereby desire to most heartily thank you for the grand support I have received in the election contest on Tuesday, which has resulted in my return as your representative for a fifth term by a majority of about 500. I would especially thank those who formed the excellent organization which contributed to the great success that has crowned their efforts. My friends, personal and political, have nobly worked for me and I only wish that I could find words to adequately express my gratitude. My thanks are especially due to my brother Patrons who loyally supported me and thus expressed their approval of the course I have pursued in the past and their trust in my future course. My thanks are also due to a large number of my Conservative friends, who must have given me their cordial support, or I could not have secured the handsome majority which has been placed to my credit at the polls. I take this as an evidence that my past course, in which I have endeavoured to mete out even handed justice to every elector in the riding, independently of creed or political opinion, has met the general approval. It also shows that the fair minded and liberal of the Conservatives have not been blinded by the attempts made to arouse various prejudices against me. I assure my Conservative friends that I shall not forget the generous support I have received at their hands in this contest, and can assure them that I shall use my best endeavours to make myself worthy of the trust reposed in me. But above all I must thank the Liberals of East Peterborough who have, as I expected, stood so nobly by me, and without whose support I could not have succeeded as I have done.

In a word I wish to thank each and every one who has in the most minute way contributed to the result that has placed East Peterborough in her true position as one of the banner ridings of the Province in the cause of good and honest government.

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
THOS. BLEZARD.

Villiers, June 27th, 1894.

HOW THE PARTIES STAND.

The Government's Strength Unaltered by Reports from Constituencies.

The New House.

TORONTO, June 29.—Reports coming in from the different parts of the Province show little material change in the situation of the parties. A despatch from Stirling states that A. F. Wood, Conservative in North Hastings, has been defeated and James Haggarty, Patron, elected with a majority of 61. West Algoma is still doubtful, both candidates claiming the seat. Despatches from that constituency, however, indicate that the sub-divisions yet to be heard from will be favorable to Mr. Savage, the Conservative. On the other hand Mr. Conmee claims that the full returns will place him head of the polls. In Addington, Reid, the Conservative, again regains his seat. In East Middlesex Mr. Shore, Patron, has been elected. This leaves the standing of the parties now:

|---|---|
| Liberals | 50 |
| Conservatives | 26 |
| Patrons | 16 |
| P. P. A. | 2 |
| | 44 |
| Government majority over all | 6 |

As of the Patrons elected, 10 are Liberals who were endorsed and elected by Liberals, the strength of the Government will be conceded to be as follows:

|---|---|
| Government | 60 |
| Opposition | 34 |
| Government majority | 26 |

Mr. Balfour, of South Essex, is spoken of as the Speaker of the new House. Mr. Balfour is editor of the Amherstburg Echo.

Fourteen of the members of the old House have been defeated at the polls. Twenty-two did not run. Forty-one new members will be introduced into the Chamber.

The press will be represented in the new House by Messrs. Stratton, Balfour and Evanturel.

In Dannemore Prison.

MONTICELLO, N. Y., June 29.—Mrs. Halliday left here for Dannemore prison in charge of Sheriff Bercher. The prisoner was not at all violent and entered the carriage willingly. During the night she acted quietly though she seemed somewhat wakeful during the early part of the night. When present in court yesterday she did not seem to comprehend from the proceedings that she was to be taken away and no one took the trouble to inform her until the time arrived for her departure.

Rosebery and Horse Racing.

LONDON, June 29.—Replying to a letter addressed to him by the anti-gambling league protesting against horse racing, Lord Rosebery, in the course of his letter, said:—"My position is simply this: Like Cromwell, whose official position was higher than mine and the strictness of whose principles cannot be questioned, I possess a few race horses and I am glad when one of these happens to be a good one."

Lives With a Broken Neck.

POTTSTOWN, Pa., June 29.—Henry Poevick, the Polander who fell from a cherry tree at Bramcote, is injured in a most peculiar manner. He is totally paralyzed from the shoulders down, but is able to speak and move his hands. The cause of the paralysis is due to a broken seventh cervical bone at the base of his neck. Several surgical operations have been performed.

Troops for Local Defence.

LONDON, June 29.—In the House of Commons Chas. E. Vincent asked the Government how many regular troops, militia and volunteers were in readiness to be mobilized for local defences throughout the empire. Mr. Sydney Buxton, Under Colonial Secretary, said the Government declined to supply any such information.

China and Japan Will Fight.

LONDON, June 29.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Chronicle says that in well-informed native and foreign circles there are fears of an immediate armed conflict between China and Japan over the Corean complications.

CONFIDENCE IN THE MINISTRY.

A part of the Opposition policy in the late campaign was a dead set upon the Ministers, whose defeat, it was thought, would demoralize the party. It was a signal failure. The Premier's majority was more than 700; Mr. Hardy, whose great fighting qualities made him a conspicious object for attack, had his majority in South Brant increased to nearly 700. Mr. Gibson, whose defeat was predicted with the utmost confidence, was elected by 458, defeating the P. P. A. in one of its own strongholds. Mr. Ross, working like a Trojan all over the Province, was returned by a decisive majority. In South Ontario the attack on Mr. Dryden was savage and persistent. He had an opponent who had came within 132 of him in 1890, and had since been cultivating the constituency assiduously. The Minister's majority on this occasion was more than 400. Mr. Bronson was elected by the great majority of 756, the attack on Mr. Harcourt failed, and Mr. Harty was defeated, if at all, by an exceedingly small majority. The majorities of the Ministers aggregate more than 3,200.

The Toronto Evening News (Conservative) thus explains the presence of the milk in the cocoanut:—"Against Conservatives success in the Ontario election there was good organization and a fairly able newspaper, the Globe. In the way of a Mowat triumph stood a disorganized party with an organ the support of which alone meant defeat. What good could a servile, ill-conducted sheet like that do any leaders. A paper which encourages by concealing the faults of its friends and villifies and slanders its opponents is not good company for an honourable man like Mr. Meredith. While it might have been unkind for him to kick the poor old Empire over-board, when it insisted on travelling with him, nevertheless he would have consulted his own interest in doing so. With a good cause, the party "organ" has made a fight which has resulted in the Conservative representation being reduced in the House from 32 to 26. If the organ could only have been buried in the wreck and left there, the party would not have mourned overtime on its account." The star of the Empire is growing dim.

THE Canadian Presbyterian says: "If Principal Grant belonged to a secret, oath-bound society, that plots in the dark, and thrusts candidates upon constituencies without consulting anybody but its own members; if he took part in a conspiracy to stifle freedom of speech, and put down some of Toronto's most honoured citizens when exercising their undoubted rights as British free men, he would, in the opinion of some of his critics, be a fine gentleman, a great divine, a ripe scholar, a patriotic citizen and several other good things. In temperate and courteous language he told when asked how he intended to vote at the pending election, and gave two or three reasons why he thought his neighbors should vote in a certain way. Now he is accused of having taken a bribe and of several other bad things."

"IT is useless," says the Mail, "to poohpooh the assertion that a constituency may be bought." Every one, says the Brantford Expositor, who knows the history of the Trent Valley Canal project will agree with this statement. A pledge given by Sir John Macdonald on the eve of the last general elections made fifteen constituencies in the Trent Valley solidly Conservative. A short time ago a deputation from these constituencies waited on Sir John Thompson and Mr. Haggart at Ottawa. Mr. Haggart promised to ask Parliament for an appropriation, and he has since put $75,000 in the estimates. Sir John Thompson gave the deputation to understand that he expected political support in return for this expenditure. We have no recollection of seeing at any time in the Mail a single word in condemnation of this flagrant and unblushing wholesale bribery.

WHAT is perhaps the saddest feature of Tuesday's contest in Hamilton has yet to be told, says the Herald of that city. The members of the P. P. A. were so cocksure of their candidates winning that they bet every dollar on them that they could scrape up. Many of them are poor men who have little ready money, so they borrowed money on their possessions, clothes, furniture and what not and bet it freely and lost. The result is that many of them will not get fairly on their feet again in months, perhaps in years. They will feel the pinch of poverty at home. Wives and little ones will suffer, if not for bread, at any rate for many of the things that we are all accustomed to look upon as being among the necessaries of life, and the decreased purchasing ability will have a bad effect on business.

THAT CALF.

"It was a cough that carried him off,
It was a coffin they carried him off in."

I am the calf with a cough—
I notice you people all laugh—
But the cough is so costly that now
I'm really a cough with a calf,
I'm getting much better—kerchoo!
I've got the most precious of throats;
One blast from my famous bazoo
Is worth a whole barrel of votes.

Whenever I cough—kerchoo!
Each healer awakes from his nap;
And the Province I love—with you—
Is shook from her place on the map.
I'm a pedigreed Eden Musee,
And thousands at dollars would scoff
If they only could gaze upon me,
The wonderful calf with a cough.
Chorus—I am the calf, etc.

King Louis was wanting in wits,
Old Abe was built like a pump,
Mahomet was troubled with fits,
And Richard the Third had a hump.
The future historian—see!
Will at these unfortunates scoff;
The palm he'll award unto me,
The world-famous calf with a cough.
Chorus—I am the calf, etc.

They're all very anxious for me,
And they send me their love, poor souls,
In the hopes that I'm worse, d'ye see,
And I'll cough them all up to the polls
In earnest whene'er I begin it,
For shekels I pass round my trough.
The long-lunged stump-speakers ain't in it
With the blue-blooded calf with a cough.
Chorus—I am the calf, etc.

Now, hand me my pills, if you please—
My lollypop—bully for you!
Now, wait till I—wait till I—s-neeze,
For I'm very much bet—ker-choo!!
Now, hark to my rallying cry—
"A-boo-oo!—a-boo-oo-off!"
D'ye see any green in my eye?
I'm the destined calf with a cough.
Chorus—I am the calf, etc.

EVERYTHING BEFORE PRINCIPLE

Inconsistent to Say the Least—Temperance Orators Will Stump for the Distiller.

The county of Hastings must be a strange place in which to reside, as the residents in that particular part of the province remind one of the Irishman's flea—"When you put your finger on it, it isn't there." Their opinion or decision at any one particular period is no criterion as to what their opinion or decision will be a few days later. Mr. Harry Corby, a distiller, was elected there by a majority of over 500 to a seat in the Dominion House in 1891. Last January the plebiscite on prohibition resulted in Hastings in a majority of over 40,000 in favour of the passage of a prohibitory enactment. As a set off the electors in West Hastings have just defeated a temperance candidate by a majority of 100. Hastings can no longer be held up as a model temperance constituency. Mr. Corby, who was forced to resign a few days ago on account of having unwittingly sold methylated spirits to the Government and been caught in the act, will again contest the constituency, and the same people who rolled up such a big majority in favour of prohibition, will doubtless return the distiller by a majority away up in the three figures. Another strange thing about Hastings is that the hardest workers for the securing of a favourable verdict regarding the result of the plebiscite will go on the stump for Mr. Corby.

"Beware the pine tree's withered branch
Beware the awful avalanche!"

Was the peasant's warning to the aspiring Alpine youth. Dangers greater than these lurk in the pathway of the young man or woman of the present as they journey up the rugged sidehill of Time. But they may all be met and overcome by a judicious and timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Meden Medical Discovery, the celebrated cure for colds, coughs, catarrh and consumption. Better than hypophosphites of cod liver oil; unrivalled and unapproachable in all diseases arising from a scrofulous or enfeebled condition of the system.

The "Discovery" is guaranteed to cure in all cases of diseases for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be refunded.

DOMINION PROHIBITIONIST.

Programme for the Approaching Convention at Montreal—The Prominent Speakers.

The Secretary of the Dominion Alliance announces the programme for the Dominion Prohibition Convention at Montreal on July 3rd and 4th. The convention will be preceded by a Gospel temperance service on Sunday evening in St. James' Methodist Church, frequently spoken of at Montreal as the Methodist Cathedral, which will set three thousand persons. On Monday, July 2, Dominion Day, temperance demonstrations will be held at Heron Island, convenient to Montreal both by electric cars and boats. Rev. J. H. Hector, the Black Knight," will be at the Sunday meeting and Monday demonstration. On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock the annual meeting of the Dominion Council of the alliance will be held in the National Monument Hall, Hon. A. D. Vidal will preside at the council meeting, at which the report of the Corresponding Secretary, Mr. F. S. Spence, will be considered. Mr. J. H. Carson, of Montreal, is Recording Secretary of the al iance council. After a short session the council will adjourn so as to permit the members to take part in the great prohibition convention, of which they are also members. The convention proper will organize at 11 a.m. in the main auditorium of the National Monument Hall. The names of several prominent prohibitionists are being considered for the chairmanship, and as Montreal is given the place of meeting it is probable that the Toronto delegation will secure the honour of the convention Presidency. At the last Dominion Prohibition convention at Montreal the late Mr. W. H. Howland was in the chair. The opening session of the convention will be devoted to the appointment of the presiding officer and committees in various phases of temperance effort. The most important will probably be that upon political action. It is not anticipated that any radical changes in the policy pursued by the alliance of supporting suitable candidates, irrespective of party, will be adopted. The convention will meet again at 2 o'clock, when verbal reports from representative delegates from various parts of the country may be desired by the convention while waiting for committee reports.

On Tuesday evening a prohibition mass meeting, destined to become memorable and historic, will be held, addressed by Hon. Neal Dow, "the father of the Maine law"; Miss Francis E. Willard, president of the World's W.C.T.U., and Miss Auna Gordon.

On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock the convention will continue the consideration of committee reports and will, it is expected, conclude the business placed before it at the afternoon session. On Wednesday evening a mass meeting to review the convention work will be addressed by Lieut.-Gov. Schultz, Hon. J. C. Aikens, Hon. A. D. Vidal, Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Dr. J. J. Maclaren, Q.C., Mr. J. R. Dougall, President of the Quebec Provincial branch of the Dominion Alliance, and others.

A Reception Committee, wearing white caps and blue badges, will meet all trains, to give delegates full information on their arrival at Montreal.

"SIMPLY A CANADIAN."

(Montreal Star.)

"In one word, I am not a party man. I am simply a Canadian."—Principal Grant.

This concise announcement of political status appeared in an open letter addressed by Rev. Dr. Grant to Mr. W. R. Meredith during the late Ontario campaign. It was not many lines of type away from the statement that the writer had supported Sir John Macdonald in the last Federal elections because he feared for the effect of the Liberal policy upon the future of the country; and the document in which it figured was a vigorous, straight-out appeal for the Liberal Sir Oliver Mowat against the Conservative Opposition.

Thus it appears that when Dr. Grant condemns partizanship, he does not flee politics. Independence, to him, does not mean neutrality. He has not been bitten by the notion that the partizan is to be dislodged by leaving him alone. "I am simply a Canadian," he says. So far as duty to Canadian politics is concerned, he could not put himself under heavier obligation. To be a Canadian is to make it compulsory upon a man of honour to do his very best to secure good government for Canada. We are not here discussing the question as to whether a clergyman should enter the political field or not. We are simply treating the Principal of Queen's University as a citizen. If there were no question of partvism at stake at all, a man who admits his Canadianism must accept the responsibilities of citizenship; and this is precisely what Dr. Grant has done. He has studied the political situation; he has delivered his opinion frankly and fearlessly; he has ignored the petty division lines of party, and acted with the public leader whom he thought best represeuted public interest at the time. This is being a Canadian in the only true sense of the term.

But Canadianism implies more than that, "I am not a party man," says Dr. Grant. He probably means by this that he is not interested in the success of any party aside from the benefit that such success might confer on the country. This is but one way of being a Canadian. No Canadian has a right to ally himself to a party for any other purpose than to serve his country. We say readily enough if a man attempts to tap public interests for the filling of his private purse that he is not a patriot. This is equally true if he becomes so interested in the triumph of a faction or a party that he loses sight of the fact that the sole legitimate use of party is to organize good forces for the benefit of the nation. Just so far as a man replaces country with party in the consideration of public affairs does he become a bad Canadian. To say, "I am not a party man," in this bad sense, is equivalent to saying, "I am simply a Canadian."

PREPARING CARNOT'S TOMB.

He Will Be Laid Beside His Famous Ancestor, "The Organizer of Victory."

PARIS, June 29.—The anarchist Laborie, who was arrested at Montpellier on Mondon, has confessed to the police that the murderer Cesario Santo dined with him on Saturday, when the assassin confided to him the object of his trip to Lyons.

An anarchist named Abras has been arrested at Montpellier for expressing his approval of the murder of the President.

The Government has decided to ask the Chamber of Deputies for a grant of 50,000 francs to defray the expenses of M. Carnot's funeral.

Thousands of persons thronged the Quai d'Orsay to offer congratulations to Casimir-Perier on his election. The new President will not take up his residence in the Elysee Palace until July 12. The President's message will be read to the Chambers on July 4, after the formation of a new Ministry.

In observance of Casimir-Perier's election to the presidency all disciplinary punishments in the army and navy has been remitted.

Workingmen are preparing President Carnot's tomb in the Yantheon. It will be beside that of his famous ancestor, the organizer of Victory. The florists are showing wonders of their art. Carnot wreaths are exhibited at every shop. More than 1,000,000f have been spent here already for flowers. Four hundred wreaths have been received at the Elysee palace in the last 48 hours. A society of Paris women has ordered a funeral wreath costing 5000f. Mlle. Chiris, who is betrothed to M. Carnot's son sent to the palace to-day a superb wreath eight yards in circumference composed of Countess Chambori daisies veiled with white tulle over which black crape will be crossed.

Subscriptions have been opened among the deputies for the purchase of wreaths to be placed on the coffin of the dead President. All the Royalist deputies have subscribed. The oak coffin, in which M. Carnot's body lies, had a large crack in one side. As the inner lining of lead could be seen the police commissary ordered that a new and larger coffin be made at once.

ROME, June 29.—The Pope has wired his congratulations to Casimir-Perier, accompanied by prayers for the prosperity of France and an expression of his confidence in the new President.

THE AMERICAN CONGRESS.

New Mexico a State of the Union—Employment of Aliens.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The morning hour was occupied with the consideration of bills reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs.

The bill providing for the admission of New Mexico as a state was considered under a special order and was finally passed without a division.

Congressman Lockwood, of Buffalo, again appeared before the Immigration Committee of the House in support of the bill prepared by Inspector de Barry and the Buffalo Central Labor Union, to restrict immigration and regulate the employment of aliens. The latter feature has direct reference to the employment of Canadian sailors on vessels in the carrying trade of the lakes and it is vigorously opposed by the vessel owners and lake carriers' associations.

Mr. Lockwood is confident that he will succeed in inducing the committee to report the bill favorably with some amendments, and he is also certain that this particular feature, which is of vital interest to the lake trade, will remain in the bill.

In the Senate the session continued for nine hours and when the adjournment came there were only two sections of the tariff bill undisposed of.

A very important amendment was offered by Mr. Aldrich (Rep., R. I.) to the whiskey tax section, and no opposition being made to it on the part of the finance committee, it was agreed to without a division. The effect of it is to make a tax $1.10 a gallon apply to the passage of the act (instead of two months afterward) to all distilled spirits then in bond or that may thereafter be produced in the United States.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Quite a number drove out from town to the social.

Local vs. City Trade.

Many merchants in towns and villages feel very much chagrined and disappointed when they see their fellow townsmen sending daily to "the city" for dry goods, books, etc., instead of patronizing the men who are the mainstay of their town. It is exceedingly lamentable to see a conscientious, upright merchant in a small town doing the best to give the people in his vicinity a chance to inspect a full range of the season's novelties, and then when they have fully inspected his stock, got a general idea of what they ought to buy, they send for samples from "the city" and finally order from there. We do not proclaim that "to the local victor belong the spoils," but we do maintain that the people of a town are following their own best interests when they patronize their home trade. Every store in a town pays a certain amount of rent, taxes, gas bills, etc., and the wages of employer and employee will amount to a snug sum every year. Another store occupied increases the price of real estate. Another store and one or two houses occupied means less taxes on other property. Another store occupied and competing for trade means an increased number of visitors, rural and civic, and an increased circulation of money in this and a dozen different ways.

The merchants of a town are its back bone. Take them out of any town and in three months it will be as dead as the proverbial "door nail." They are the sap of the town and give it activity and life. One live merchant is worth ninety-nine retired farmers. Merchants talk up the town, they draw manufacturers into it, they draw residents, they invest money in it, they help it in a thousand ways.—From the May Dry Goods Review (Toronto and Montreal.)

Derby Plug Smoking Tobacco has attained an enormous and still increasing sale.

IT WAS MORDER FOUL AND BLACK.

Who Wrought the Bloody Deed?

FRANK BEATON, OF BELLEVILLE, FOULLY DEALT WITH.

A Corpse Found on the Rails at an Early Hour, but Life was Extinct before the Cruel Car Wheels were upon him —Killed, Dragged by the Heels, and Thrown where the Wheels Would Disfigure Him—A Cruel Fate.

A foul murder was undoubtedly committed within the town limits late last night or early this morning, as the dead body of Frank Beaton, of Belleville, was found lying beside the rails between four and five o'clock this morning with sufficient suspicious circumstances in evidence to warrant the statement that his death is due to foulplay and not to accident.

Dr. Pigeon may be said to be the discoverer of the body, as, on his way to answer a call to a patient at 4.30 a. m. while he was crossing Bethune street on Charlotte, he noticed a couple of small Italian children watching something which laid apparently between the rails and the Stevenson storehouse. Their conduct attracted his attention sufficiently to cause him to investigate and he soon ascertained that the object of their curiosity was the BODY OF A MAN.

An examination speedily convinced him that life was extinct, and he telephoned the information to the police, who immediately took formal possession and took steps to shade the remains from the sun by placing a door over it.

At about eight o'clock, four young fellows, who had been discharged from the circus during the previous evening, and who had heard that a dead man had been found on the rails, walked up to see if they could identify the corpse. All four thought at first that it was the body of one "Fatty King," but changed their minds on closer inspection. Their evidence before the coroner's jury will be found appended. It is evident that King and Beaton are not one and the same man, as King's relatives are known to reside in the United States.

A rumour is current on the street to the effect that two negroes were overheard in conversation to remark late last night that they had "done" for someone. The police are trying to locate these chaps.

The Chief at about eight o'clock secured the names of the following citizens to act upon a Coroner's Jury:—Messrs. Charles N. Brown, Albert Jones, Wm. Battou, T. H. Adams, J. Armstrong, Charles Cameron, J. P. Bryson, F. Foot, T. Workman, George Armstrong, John Fanning, James Dolan, H. Carveth, P. Henry, W. A. Horkins, A. G. Micks and G. Elliott.

At 9:30 they assembled and were duly sworn in by Dr. Bell, Coroner, after which they adjourned in a body to view the remains. Dr. Bell pointed out that the body had not been moved since being discovered. It lay in a most natural position, as though the man had thrown himself down there to sleep or else been carefully placed in order to give rise to the supposition that the death had been an accidental one. The head lay close pressed against the rails, the limbs were stretched out full length and the feet crossed in a most natural way. The hands had evidently been thrown back above the head, for the left one was completely severed at the wrist and had dropped over on the other side of the rail. The other hand was uninjured with the exception of the middle finger which, strange to say,

WAS HORRIBLY MANGLED,

while the other fingers were unscratched. It is hard to account for this injury unless it was accomplished by other means than by the wheels. It has been suggested that this finger presented the appearance of having been chewed, which would lend ground to the belief that the deceased had become involved in a fight of some description in which he had become worsted to an extent which caused his death to ensue, after which he had been thrown on the rails in the hope that the body would become mangled beyond identification and at the same time all evidences of crime would be erased. His forehead was badly bruised, the edges of the car wheels having left their impress on it and inflicted a deep semicircular cut about 1½ inches long and probably damaged the frontal bone. There are other bruises besides these though, which are most mysterious. The eye is closed and frightfully swollen and the lid cut. The left ear is also cut and bruised and a huge lump and cut on the back of the head would almost lead one to believe that this was the spot where the blow fell which caused his death. The nose and mouth have bled slightly and the blood has travelled in a direction which would indicate that the lower part of the body was raised above the head and shoulders. This was no doubt the case as the coat of deceased was all up around his neck and the dirt and ashes fairly ground into the seat of his trousers and shirt. His back

WAS FEARFULLY LACERATED.

These latter circumstances combined with the fact that no blood whatever was spilled all point strongly to the belief that the man was dead before he was run over by the cars, that in fact he was murdered and dragged by the heels to the point at which he was found. This dragging by the heels is the only way in which the ashes and dirt on his trousers and the bruised and bloody back can be accounted for. Then again there was another strange mark which the wheels could not possibly have inflicted—a contused wound under the chin about two inches wide, extending almost from ear to ear. This mark would lead to the belief that an attempt was made to choke the man.

A point to which Dr. Bell drew the attention of the jury was that the man's face bore the appearance of having blood wiped off it and a streak of blood on his trousers would lead one to believe that the hand which wiped the blood away had been cleaned on the trousers. As both of Beaton's hands lay where they had been injured on the track he could not have done this himself. The inference is therefore drawn that the blood was wiped off by some one else. Dr. Bell was positive that the deceased never moved after being run over, and the question arose, who wiped the blood off his face? The doctor thought he might have been in a row, and this blood been therefore wiped off by the man that worsted him. Everything pointed strongly in the direction that death had come to the man before he was run over and it became the duty of the jury to ascertain by whom the foul deed had been wrought.

While the jury were viewing the remains the brother of the unfortunate man was kneeling beside his murdered relative and his grief was piteous to behold.

The jury again assembled in the Council Chamber and continued the inquest.

John Beaton, of Belleville, a G. T. R. fireman, brother of the murdered man, was the first witness sworn. He testified to having seen the body of the deceased and having recognized it as his brother. His name was Frank. He had been away from his home in Belleville for about a year, but had spent some time there yesterday at his mother's home. Frank had come to Peterborough on the morning train. Came up with him and did not see him afterwards as he went at once to the circus grounds, as he was employed with the circus people. When last he saw him Frank was perfectly sober, but did drink on occasions when he was out with the boys. When he came in from Belleville on train No. 9, on which he is fireman, this morning, he was told there had been a man killed and one of the employees sent him up to look at the body, telling him to be prepared for very bad news as a report was circulated to the effect that the dead man was his brother. When last he saw his brother he was in excellent spirits. He understood that Frank had a good job with the circus. He believed the deceased came to his death through foul play. He had seen men killed on the track many times before. None of them presented the same appearance as his brother, whom he was sure had been struck on the back of the head and dragged into the position in which he was found. He was between 27 and 28 years of age. By occupation he was a railroad man.

Charles Jackson, of Jackson, Mich., a discharged employe of the circus, thought at first sight when he saw the deceased, that he was a canvas-hand, known as "Fatty King," but afterwards on a closer inspection had changed his mind, as King always wore corduroy pants, and the dead man had not trousers of that variety on now. There were no negroes in the employ of the circus other than those in the band. He could not remember where he had seen King last, but saw him about five p. m., did not see him during the night after the circus had left town, during which time he had wandered around the streets for some time. To a juryman he said that he had heard of no quarrel among the men during the afternoon or evening.

Fred Cooksy, of New Lexington, Ohio, also a discharged circus employe, thought at first sight that the body was that of King. He thought so by the face, but as King always wore corduroy clothes he was of the opinion that he must be mistaken. A closer examination of the face convinced him that he had never seen it before. He always understood that King was from Indiana. King was with this same circus two years ago.

Fred. Myer, of Cincinnatti, Ohio, a third disharged employee, had also thought on first sight that the body was that of "Fatty" King, but after a closer examination had decided that he had never seen the deceased before. King was a very quiet fellow, who never meddled with any one else's business. He knew of no employee named Beaton. The diningroom car had stood, just where the man was killed, all day yesterday. The deceased could have belonged to the circus unknown to him, as he only waited on the grooms.

Stanley Reaburn, of Mitchell, Indiana, was the fourth and last of the quartette of circus employees who were discharged yesterday. He, as well as his companions, had thought on first view that the deceased was "Fatty" King, but on seeing the clothes he changed his mind. He had known King for three years, and was now pretty certain that he and the dead man were not one and the same. King's people lived in Logansport, Indiana. He had never seen anyone around the circus that looked like King. He never saw anyone that resembled him until he saw the dead man. He would know the face of any employee belonging to the circus.

Mr. Henry F. Ketcheson, of Belleville, mail clerk on train No. 9, stated that he had walked up from the station with Frank Beaton on his arrival in Peterborough. He had known him for many years in Belleville. He asked him why he had not come on up with the circus trains instead of coming on the regular passenger train. Beaton explained that he had fallen in with old Belleville friends and gone on a bit of a spree and missed the train. He stated that he had told the manager that unless he was locked up in a cage he would be taken off on a drunk by his Belleville friends. Mr. Ketcheson had seen the body where it lay on the track and identified it as that of Frank Beaton. The clothing worn was the same, with the exception of the shirt, which had evidently been changed. When last he saw him he was on the way to Cavanagh's hotel to wash up. He was well acquainted with Peterborough and had been employed as a brakeman on the Midland for some time.

Dr. Pigeon testified that in answering a call at about 4:30 this morning and in passing along Charlotte street he had observed a couple of Italian children acting in a strange manner and on investigation discovered the dead body of the man lying in the same position as it was in when viewed by the jury. It would be impossible to tell whether the man was dead or not when he received the injuries by the train. The pressure of the immense weight might have been sufficient to shut off the blood and thus prevented any bleeding. A full examination might throw a good deal of light on the mystery. The body was lying in a most natural position. He had noticed that the man's braces were burst and his coat almost drawn up over his head from behind.

Dr. Pigeon was authorized by the jury to hold a post mortem on the remains, which were taken in charge by Mr. D. Belleghem, in whose establishment the body now lies. Dr. Pigeon was also instructed to select another doctor, in view of the grave circumstances of the case, to assist him in making the examination.

The jury adjourned to meet again on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when the remainder of the evidence will be taken.

Frank Beaton is a Belleville boy and is well known in Peterborough having been a brakesmanon the Midland division of the Grand Trunk for quite a few years. His brother who fires on No 9 running between here and Belleville is also well known as are his two other brothers, one employed as a clerk in Mr. Robert Fair's and the other working for Mr. Peter Hamilton.

DROWNED IN THE OTONABEE.

Little Willie Drake Meets a Watery Grave.

The Otonabee claimed another victim at 11 o'clock this morning in the drowning of Master Willie Drake, aged 11, son of Mr. Wm. Drake, stonemason. Perry street. It appears that Willie, with a number of his companions, were bathing at that favourite swimming point known as Brownscombe's boat house, a short distance below the locks, and he, being a very poor swimmer, and venturing out to far, was carried away by the current, which is very strong at this point. His companions were unable to render him any assistance and the unfortunate youth soon sank from view.

A large crowd soon gathered at the spot and preparations were made to recover the body, but at the hour of going to press all efforts have proved unsuccessful. Willie Drake was a bright and cheerful boy and a general favourite among his companions. His parents have the sympathy of the community in the sudden loss of their son.

Drowning accidents are very prevalent throughout Ontario this summer, and Peterborough has been called upon to suffer the loss of three of its residents in a short space of time.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CATHEDRAL CLERGY.

The Annual Picnic on the Grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital.

The grand picnic which will be held on the pretty grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital on Dominion Day, under the auspices of the cathedral clergy, promises to be a big success indeed.

The list of sports which has been arranged including running, jumping, throwing the stone, etc., for valuable prizes, will, without doubt, prove a great attraction.

These picnics, which have become an annual occurrence now, are always patronized liberally, and so well do the clergy look after their visitors that everyone always comes away satisfied and with a mind made up to go again. This picnic bids, if possible, to be even a greater success than any of the former ones.

THE PETERBOROUGH CANOE COMPANY EXPERIMENTING.

Queensland Red Cedar is Pretty but Does not Equal the Canadian Product.

Colonel Rogers, of the Peterborough Canoe Company, is interested in an experiment which he is trying. Having heard reports as to the excellent quality of red cedar which grew in Australia and is known as "Queensland cedar," he imported a few three-inch boards in order to ascertain how they would work up into canoes. Although the wood is a pretty grain, it is hardly suitable for this purpose, the Colonel thinks, being a little heavy and a trifle brittle, and in fact resembling oak more than cedar in its qualities.

One of the most prettily finished canoes that can be seen has just received its final coat of varnish. The deck and running board are of California cedar. A prettier grained wood or one capable of showing up so well would be difficult to procure. The British Columbia cedar works up fairly well, but is too brittle for this kind of work.

Of all the different woods handled, however, in a canoe factory none can approach the Canadian red cedar. It is becoming difficult to get, however, in sufficient lengths to make up.

Two canoes of this wood 19 feet in length and 14 inches wide, were recently sent out west to Mr. J. B. Tyrell, who will make a survey of the barren lands. Mr. Tyrell is one of the brothers who made the famous northwestern territory trip last year. The canoes used then also came from the Peterborough company, which has within the last week, besides its local shipments, filled orders from Ogdensburg, N. Y., New York city, Schenectady, N.Y., Sioux city, Iowa, also sending a racing canoe to Tilley of the Toronto Rowing Club.

MR. WOOD'S BOOMERANG.

Mr. A. F. Wood, of Hastings, can now reflect upon the boomerang that has struck him and bowled him out of the legislature by a majority of sixty odd. He will conclude that it does not pay to intrigue with a Peterborough official as a railway station and to try to use business secrets to defeat the Liberal candidate in West Peterborough. His action has not injured, but seems to have actually helped Mr. Stratton, while it appears to have assisted in his own defeat. It's a mistake, Mr. Wood and other gentlemen, to try to bring down an elephant with snipe shot. Electors don't relish such pop gun warfare.

A Disastrous Cyclone.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 29.—Meagre reports from Southwestern Minnesota indicate that a terrific cyclone passed through that section. At Sleepy Eye four people were killed and at Windom two. Great damage was also done at Renville, Collegeville and Aberdeen, S.D. Over five inches of water fell in an hour at Aberdeen. At Renville the cyclone wrecked everything in its path. Timbers of a house fell upon Mrs. C. Hackman, breaking her thigh and crushing her head. The Lutheran church and high school buildings were destroyed.

An Anarchist's Tragic Death.

PARIS, June 29.—The police visited the lodgings of a man named Granier in Montpellier with a view of ascertaining his connection, if any, with the Murder of President Carnot. It is alleged that about 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoon Granier was heard to say, "By this time Carnot must have received his account." When the police arrived at Granier's lodgings they ordered him to surrender. With a quick movement Granier, without uttering a word, seized a large knife which way lying upon a table and plunged it into his abdomen, falling dead at the feet of the police.

He Sees No Cause for Congratulation at the Royal Infant's Birth.

THE USE OF TEA IN IRELAND

Despondency Culminating in Insanity Said to Result from Excessive Tea Drinking in Ireland and Scotland—Prevention of Anarchist Outrages.

LONDON, June 29.—Lord Rosebery, in the House of Lords, moved a vote of congratulation to the Queen upon the occasion of the birth of a son to the Duke of York. The motion was seconded by Lord Salisbury and agreed to.

Sir William Harcourt made a similar motion in the House of Commons. James Keir Hardie frequently interrupted the Chancellor of the Exchequer during his introduction of the motion, which he said elevated to importance an event of every day occurrence. When the House of Commons, representing the nation, was asked to join in such congratulations, it was not calculated to raise the dignity of the members in the eyes of the nation, and he, therefore, protested against the motion. It was also unworthy of the House of Commons that a cabinet minister, a member of the House, should be present on such occasions. The custom was a relic of the past and ought to be abandoned. It was a matter of small concern to him whether the future monarch was a genuine article or spurious.

Cries of "Order," "Withdraw," etc.

Mr. Hardie declined to withdraw his remarks and continued, saying he had a right to ask what particular blessing the royal family had conferred upon the nation that the House should be asked to take part in this motion.

Major Saunderson moved that the House refuse to hear Hardie any further.

Mr. Hardie, resuming, alluded to the Prince of Wales as being sometimes seen in the gallery of the House and sometimes on the race track.

The Speaker directed Mr. Hardie to confine his remarks to the resolution. Mr. Hardie then challenged a division on the motion.

The House was cleared and the motion re-put, when it was carried without a division.

Tea Drinking in Ireland.

Mr. Stanley Leigh asked Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, if the Government had given any attention to the special report showing the increase of insanity in Ireland from the habit of tea drinking.

Mr. Morley said he had seen the report, which alleged that the affliction was due to excessive use of infused tea, which led to despondency, restlessness and insomnia and finally resulted in insanity.

Mr. Leighton asked—"Then why not increase the duty on tea?"

Mr. Morley said it could hardly be expected that the Government upon a conjectural statement could increase the duty.

Mr Leighton—Is not excessive tea drinking also mentioned in the report concerning the increase of destitution among the employed in Scotland?

Mr. Morley—I must confine myself entirely to Ireland. (Laughter.)

Sir Geo. Russell asked if in view of the murder of President Carnot and other crimes committed by Anarchists, the Government intended to act in concert with other powers in taking means to prevent further outrages. Sir William Harcourt said the question was much too important to be answered now.

A Baby's Peculiar Birth.

NEW YORK, June 29. — Little Miss Haight, of Madison avenue, has graduated from her incubator after a four months' residence there, and took her place among the full-fledged patrician of New York. On February 24 last the wife of E. Clarence Haight died just after the birth of a daughter, who arrived some three months before she was expected. It was not for a moment thought that the baby would long survive her mother. But Dr. Carleton had an incubator made immediately, and the little infant, who weighed less than two pounds, was put in it. She is now as strong and healthy as any other baby of her age.

An Inside Boy's Deed.

ALBION, N. Y., June 29—Dykeman Reed, who is insane, built a funeral pyre on his fathers farm and saturated it with oil and was about to offer himself, as he said, as a sacrifice to appease the anger of the gods and avert a great calamity, when his father detected him and concluded that it was unsafe to allow him at large. He has, therefore, been taken to the Willard insane asylum.

Killed His Wife and Himself.

GREEN CASTLE, Ind., June 29.—James Smith Allen, a farmer, yesterday murdered his wife and killed himself. His wife's infidelity and the interference of relatives in church matters were the causes given by Allen in a letter.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 29, 1894.

The bank clearings at Toronto this week were $4,615,481, as compared with $4,984,892 last week and $5,388,309 the corresponding week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—Grain receipts were moderate. Wheat steady, 200 bushels selling at 62c for white, 61c for red, and 58c for goose. Barley dull, a small jag selling at 41½. Oats firm, 500bush. selling at 40 to 41c. Peas are quoted at 65c.

In Chicago wheat was weak on light trading. Corn gained strength on the fear that the railroad strike would curtail receipts, closing price being ½ to ⅝ higher. Oats were weak, declining 1 to 2c.

Buffalo.—Cattle—Three cars and some odd ends on sale. Steady for good stock common and thin stock easy. Sheep and lambs—Only six cars on sale. Fair demand. Sheep steady. Lambs 10 and 15c better and very prime full 50c higher. Good to choice wether, $3.25 to $3.75. Hogs—The receipts were fairly liberal; 25 cars, mostly of fair quality, the hogs showing more gross than at any other time this summer.

The tendency of prices at the Stock Exchange. The big strike against the Pullman Palace Car Company and the unfavorable May reports of the Pennsylvania, Erie and Reading companies having erected a more bearish feeling. London changed front and sold some of the stocks bought during the past few days. While the bears on the general list had the advantage they were not aggressive by any means. In the railway list the Grangers, Union Pacific, Louisville and Nashville, Union Pacific and Union Pacific decline ½ to 1½ per cent.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

BIG GUNS IN CHINA.

DESCRIPTION OF THE IMMENSE ORDNANCE MADE THERE.

The Great Factory in Shanghai Employing Two Thousand Celestials Covers One Hundred Acres—The Chinamen Are Expert Mechanics—Wages and Hours.

SHANGHAI, China (Special).—One hundred acres of factories for the making of arms and munitions of war!

Vast foundries for the smelting and rolling of steel!

Gun works turning out cannon as big as the biggest! Shops covering acres devoted to the making of the latest of modern magazine rifles!

An army of 2,000 celestials in blue gowns with their pigtails tightly wound about their half-shaven heads manipulating with their slender yellow fingers the finest of the modern world's improved machinery, and doing successfully all kinds of factory work under Chinese foremen!

These are some of the wonders I saw at the great government arsenal near here today.

Anyone who thinks that China is asleep to what is going on in the modern world has only to visit one of its great government gun factories to be convinced of his mistake. Away out here in China there are gun foundries doing even more wonderful work than any similar institutions in the world, and that to a large extent with native made machinery and just now with Chinese iron and Chinese coal. Of the 2,000 men employed in the Shanghai works only two are foreigners, and these are consulting engineers, one of whom, N. E. Cornish, is an Englishman from Devonshire, who was for years connected with the great Armstrong gun works in England, and the other, Mr. Bunt, an Englishman, who not only knows how to run all kinds of machinery, but has invented several engines, and who, with Mr. Cornish, is making many improvements in the Chinese munitions of war over those of other nations. It was through Mr. Cornish that I was able to go over the gun works, and with him I had chats with the Chinese managers, foremen and workmen.

Leaving the Hotel des Colonies, in the foreign quarter of Shanghai, I rode in a jinriksha, pulled by two men, far out into the country.

Just outside of the walls of the native city I passed a guardhouse filled with Chinese soldiers. The sun came out at the moment, and I attempted to photograph them. But when they saw the camera they scowled and went inside the guardhouse. Not far from this I came to a fortification which I afterwards learned was the barracks of the troops which the viceroy keeps here to guard the arsenal and to protect Shanghai. A white wall, perhaps twenty feet high, surrounded them and I could only see the great flags of black net work embroidered with red Chinese figures twenty-odd feet long, which floated from a pole above the tent of the commander. I saw many soldiers, however, and I photographed a good natured one who evidently did not understand what my camera was. These soldiers were dressed in all sorts of bright colors and the uniforms of many of then consisted of the brightest of blue cotton sacques, trimmed with black velvet and ornamented with red stripes. They wore wadded cotton pantaloons, which they tucked into black short topped wadded cloth boots, and their heads were covered with stiff skull caps of silk. They looked entirely different from the people about this part of China, and are much more muscular and taller than the Chinamen at home. They come from the interior, and the best fighters among them are from the rebellious province of Hunan, where the insurrection against the missionaries of a year or so ago originated. There are only a few thousand of them in this barracks, and they are but a small part of the army of the Viceroy of Nanking, who lives at his capital in the interor.

Reaching the arsenal we stopped for a moment under a white wall, on which was a gandy painting of one of the heroes of Chinese mythology, who is supposed to give luck to the officers within, while one of these Chinese soldiers took my card in to Mr. Cornish, and a moment later I was inside of these vast works and surrounded by the din of machinery. Practically the only difference between these works and those of any of the great gun factories of Christendom lies in the gorgeous colors of red, blue and green in which the Chinese delight and with which they paint not only the interior woodwork of their shops, but some of their machines as well, and in the fact that all of the work is done by Chinamen. The first room we entered was about the size of the biggest shop in the Washington navy yard. It covered, I judge, about an acre of space, and in it were being turned out some 12-inch guns for the navy. You have seen pictures of such guns in the newspapers. They are the biggest made at our navy yard, and they are immense iron cannon, the barrels of which are thirty-five feet long, and which launch projectiles of steel which weigh 1,000 pounds. To make one of these guns costs in the neighborhood of $50,000, and the Chinese are now just finishing their fourth gun of this kind. These completed have been tested, and shown equal to anything made in Europe or America, and the projectiles for the guns are made here. The Chinese, however, like the other nations of the world, now believe that these immense guns are not so good for defense and warfare on the sea as the smaller varieties, and they will build no more of them at present. Near these I saw some twenty-five-ton guns, and then visited the shops, where about 300 Chinamen were at work making the lastest improved patterns of Armstrong rapid-firing guns. I looked at a 4.7-inch gun of this kind which had just been completed, and was shown its working. It moved so easily that a baby could have almost worked it, and the Chinese foreman in charge told me that they had just finished a dozen of these weapons, and that they were now working on some which would fire 100-pound shot.

China has no scruples as to patents, and she gets new all of the latest improvements in war machinery and copies them

ITCHING PILES AND PIN WORMS.

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore, ulcers and tumorous form, excessive moisture is caused. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

here. There is no doubt about the great mechanical ability of the Chinese. Here are 2,000 men, who have been brought up on lines entirely different from those on which they are now working, and they make as expert workmen as our mechanics, who have had generations of hereditary capacity and years of experience. A great part of the machinery used here was made by Chinamen, and Mr. Cornish tells me that he found that parts which he had thought it impossible for a Chinaman to turn out and which he had expected would have to be imported at great expense from Europe, had been made by these men from drawings. Some of them are so expert that only general directions and the knowledge of the results required need be given them and they will straightway make the designs and castings. I was shown one machine—I think it was for the rifling of some of the guns, though I am not sure as to this—which contained a screw of only three inches in diameter and thirty-five feet long, which was designed and cut by a Chinaman, and I took a time exposure of a yellow-faced Chinaman, who makes the finest of the improved sights of the Armstrong guns. The work is as delicate and as beautiful as that of the watchmaker, and there is an improvement on the original, which this man has added. The rifling machine for the big guns would have cost $15,000 to import. These Chinamen were shown the drawings and they made it for half that sum. It is so in nearly every variety of machinery, and among the things now actually being made in these works are all sorts of modern projectiles, from the revolver bullet up to great shots of steel weighing 1,000 pounds. They make cartridges from those fitted for a revolver to the kind required for a six-inch rifle, and I saw Chinamen drilling steel, cutting out grape shot and making brass cartridge cases from disks of metal, and paid a visit to the warehouses, where I was shown the 200 different kinds of shot and shrapnel which are made here. They are now turning out about thirty thousand pounds of shot a day, and they have made recent experiments with Chinese iron which demonstrate its superiority in some respects over any other iron in the world.

No one knows much about the mineral resources of China. Bus coal and iron are said to exist in nearly every one of the eighteen states or provinces of the empire, and there have been some iron mines which have been worked for years. Up to this time, China has been importing the raw material for her arsenals, but she is now experimenting with her own supplies, and the manufacturing China of the future will probably be entirely independent of the rest of the world. The coal and iron formations of the provinces of Chili are said to be the largest in the world, and the product is unsurpassed. The iron now used here comes from the province of Hunan, in about the centre of China, and some idea of its character may be learned from a test which was recently made here. A shot was cast of this iron for a three-inch rifle, and it was fired against a target with the same charge and the same gun in competition with imported shot of steel. The target consisted of three iron plates an inch thick, interleaved with boards of wood. The steel shot penetrated the target, but none of them went through it. The Chinese cast iron shot passed clear through the target and were lost. The process of manufacture of the iron is not known at the arsenal. It comes here in the shape of iron plates or slabs, from half an inch to two inches thick, and I should say, at a guess, for I did not measure them, 15x25 inches in size. I saw a great quantity of the ore lying outside of the foundry. It is of a reddish brown color and looks much like some which is got from the Lake Superior mines. The pigs or slabs are laid down here at about $20 a ton, or $10 a ton in gold, thus costing about half a cent a pound.

There are hundreds of steam engines of all kinds in these works and they are all managed by the Chinese. I saw one of 400 horse-power, which was in charge of a boy and a youth of 22, and I noticed that numbers of the Chinese mechanics are under age. Some of them are old men, but it is hard to tell the age of a Chinaman, as they all shave, and there are few gray hairs. I spent some time looking at the men putting up an engine of 2,000 horse-power. It is of the most modern variety, and has cost a fortune. The immense furnaces burn gas, and a look into them would scare the religion out of any modern Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego if the viceroy of Nanking cared to play the part of the cruel Babylonian king of the Scriptures.

LACROSSE

Last night's Review contained a challenge to the employees of the EXAMINER to play a game of lacrosse to-morrow evening, but as a number of printers in both offices belong to the Battallion, which goes to Orillia to-morrow evening, the Review shall be accommodated Saturday, evening, July 7th. It is to be distinctly understood that "ringers" are barred. No printer is to be allowed to use a nickel plated "stick" nor a "slug," nor a "shooting stick. It is proposed to play the match on Saturday evening to permit of Sunday being utilized to resuscitate the staff of our evening contemporary, so that their paper can be issued on Monday. The match will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds. No admission fee will be charged, as it is proposed to make this match a "sample copy, free."

The Orillia Times says that the junior lacrosse club of that town will play the junior twelve from Peterborough in that town on Dominion Day.

"The posters issued by the Peterborough Lacrosse Club in that town, designated Port Hope as Hogtown. The quick manner in which the Port Hope team gobbled up the good things in yesterday's game will doubtless reassure them of the propriety of that name."—Times. Open confession is good for the soul. The "good things" the Times refers to are no doubt, the imported ringers on their team of Wednesday. The posters referred to designated Port Hope as Port Hope—not "Hogtown." We cannot characterize th's statement as a mistake. It is a wilful and malicious lie.

The tie game between Peterborough and Port Hope, on the 8th, will be played, the Guide says, on neutral grounds as soon as it can be arranged.

Millbrook crosses sticks with Beaverton on July 5th.

In referring to the Peterborough—Port Hope lacrosse match, on Wednesday, the Guide says:—"Peterborough put up a good game—but the Ontarios put up a better one. At no part of the game were they in it."

BASEBALL.

Efforts are being made to have the Port Hope baseball club play the return match with Peterborough on the afternoon of Dominion Day.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Hartley Will be Up for Murder at the Fall Assizes.

PRISONER LING DISCHARGED

No Criminating Evidence Was Produced Against Him—He Turns Queen's Evidence and Tells the Story of His Relations With Mrs. Hartley.

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 29.—The trial of Mrs. Maria Hartley and Henry Ling was resumed at the police court yesterday. Isaac Haight, George Morgan and James Peterson were in the witness box, but the evidence produced was much the same as that at the coroner's inquest.

There being no criminating evidence against Henry Ling, he was discharged with the consent of the crown.

Henry Ling was then put in the witness box and testified that improper relations existed between Mrs. Hartley and himself on the day Caleb Hartley went to Hamilton. Mrs. Hartley told him, Ling, she had given Caleb a big dose of Rough on Rats in rhubarb pie. She intended to do it three years ago and offered him, Ling, one thousand dollars to keep quiet. She wanted the insurance and was going to have it. Ling refused to keep the secret and told Mrs. Hartley that if he had known that, he never would have worked there. She, Mrs. Hartley, said she could have any young man of twenty around New Durham. She had been giving him, Caleb Hartley, the poison all along. She said instead of giving the powders the doctors ordered she threw them out and gave the poison instead. The Saturday before Caleb Hartley died Mrs. Hartley told Ling she had given him a big dose of the poison and never expected to see him return from Hamilton alive. Mrs. Hartley put Elsie Conkwright out to watch that Caleb Hartley did not come home when he, Ling, was in the room with her. This closed the examination.

Lawyer Kelly, counsel for Ling, went into the room where the crown witnesses were and was ejected by a policeman. When Ling went into the witness box Kelly tried to induce Ling to refuse to give evidence, but without avail.

The police magistrate committed Mrs. Hartley for trial at the fall assizes on the charge of murder.

THE GREAT DAY APPROACHING

The First of July Demonstration Will Draw Thousands to Peterborough.

There is no doubt existing now regarding the great success which is bound to attend the great Dominion Day demonstration which Peterborough intends holding. The fact that the Board of Trade and Fire Brigade are behind the celebration scheme is a sufficient guarantee of its being everything that is desirable. Then the citizens who are on the committee are just the right sort of men in the right place, so success is assured.

THE BALOON ASCENSION.

will be a most interesting feature. Prof. Walcott, one of the world's most famous aeronauts, will ascend to the height of over 4000 feet or over three-quarters of a mile, and perform marvellous tricks on the flying trapeze while ascending. He will then descend to terra firma by means of a parachute.

The calithumpian procession, the finest of its kind which ever took place in the in the Midland Counties, will also be a free exhibition and will be a great attraction.

During the afternoon there will be all kinds of sports, including horse races for good purses. A lacrosse match between two of the best teams in the district, and a band contest ought to prove drawing features.

In the evening Prof. Hand, of Hamilton, has been engaged to give a most magnificent display of fireworks, and, altogether, the day will undoubtedly be one of huge enjoyment, both to the citizens and to the thousands of visitors who will come in on the excursion trains and boats.

NORWOOD, June 28.—About 10 o'clock this evening Mrs. Rowland Scriver, wife of the village constable, was showing a new revolver which Mr. Scriver had obtained, as he taken the position of night watch-man, to her father in-law, Mr. Scriver, of Hastings, when by accident the revolver was discharged and the bullet entered Mr. Scriver's cheek, just below and in front of the left ear. The doctors could not succeed in finding the bullet, and, as there seemed no immediate danger, decided to leave further examination until this morning.

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT.

Forty Thousand Men Out of Work Along Western Lines.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The Pullman strike and consequent boycott has assumed the proportions of the greatest battle between labor and capital that has ever been inaugurated in the United States. The trouble has spread to nearly all of the important railroads in the United States west of Chicago, with the result that the entire system is tied up. Over 20,000 men have either quit work or have announced their intention of so doing in Chicago. It was estimated at the headquarters of the American Railway Union that fully 40,000 men are now out on strike on account of the refusal of the Pullman company to settle the differences with its employes in the shops. By nearly double the number will have been ordered out.

The feature of the union's work was the speedy settlement effected with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. A special committee was sent to the general manager of the Milwaukee with a request that the road refuse to haul Pullman sleepers. Through a misunderstanding a number of the Milwaukee men struck before an answer was given and this led to the report that the road was tied up. The company officials lost no time in informing the committee that no Pullmans would be hauled over the road and within an hour the nine objectionable cars which are run on that line were side tracked. President Debs immediately ordered the men back to work and the road suffered but little inconvenience.

"It has cured others and will cure you" is true only of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The motto suits the medicine and the medicine the motto. What better assurance could you have that a remedy will cure you, than the fact that it has cured such multitudes of others?

ONE OF THE LOST TRIBES.

Hebrew and Hawaiian Burial Customs Correspond Exactly.

The manner of disposing of the dead in the Hawaiian Islands is also in accord with the Hebrew custom. The body was embalmed and covered with a glutinous substance or wash, to seal effectually the pores of the skin and exclude all air. The body was then deposited in the side of a precipice. The practice of immolating one or more wives of a chief was carried on to a considerable extent in the Hawaiian group in earlier days. As a manifestation of love and attachment, the wives of a chief would voluntarily die, which act was called moe-pu, companionship in sleep. This practice can be traced to the Vedic Hindoos, the only difference being that the wife was immolated on the funeral pyre. Some stress has been laid on the peculiar institutions, called cities of refuge, or Punhonua, which were found to have obtained prominence among the Hawaiians, and which have been quoted as another instance of Hebrew influence upon the custom and cultute of the islanders. The cities of refuge, however, were not peculiar to the Hebrews. They existed in the time of ancient Greece. We read of the temple of Ceres, at Hermione, in Argolis, which was a similar institotion, and there were numerous others, both there and elsewhere, where the Cushite influence had molified the customs and molded the carts of the people on its own pattern.

Besides the traditions of the Hawaiians, their practice of incantation and divination, and many peculiarties of their language show a relation not only with the Hebrews, but also with the fire-worshippers of Persia, the Brahmins and Buddhists of India, and other branches of the Ayran race.—Abraham Fornander, in April Lippincott's.

Home of the Ostrich.

Southern Africa contains a sufficient number of large ostrich farms to keep the whole world supplied with feathers. The ostrich farming commenced in California has not proven a success thus far. Cape Town, Africa, is the largest depot in the world for ostrich feathers. Many large houses in England are represented there by agents who ship these goods to London, where they are sold at auction every two months to buyers from all countries. No imitation of the ostrich feather has ever been found, though years ago dealers unsuccessfully experimented with the plumage of the vulture for this purpose. The Egyptian feathers are the most valuable, costing sometimes four hundred dollars a pound, but such feathers last a lifetime, and will stand any amount of curling, cleaning and dyeing. The plumes are classed under the names of wild, tame, male, female, white, black, drab and byacka. They are cut from the quill stubs, which the birds shed afterward, and tied in bunches of from eight to fifty feathers, the tail feathers predominating. The wild birds are rare, and the feathers very fine and the flue of a high lustre. Byacka are of mixed shades, and the male plumage surpasses the female. The value of a feather becomes lesser or greater after cleaning it with white Castile soap, according to the quality of the flues. An ostrich feather is a colony of feathers rather than one, as may be seen by separating each flue of barbule, each being perfect in itself. Ostriches are full grown at two years, when the female selects her mate and remains constant to him as long as they both live. Ten feet high, to the top of the head, is the ordinary size.—Home Journal.

Science Notes.

Japan has one of the best engineering schools in the world, and is beginning to manufacture creditable electrical machinery.

Petroleum, by a course of experiments made by the Prussian government, has proven a reliable scale preventer in steam boilers.

A comparison of the cost of gas and electric lighting in seven German cities shows that the latter is from twenty-five to seventy-five per cent higher.

The Indian government is building a laboratory at Calcutta to thoroughly investigate the properties of snake venom and test cures for snake bites.

Zoologists claim that the strength of the lion in the fore limbs is only sixty-nine per cent of that of the tiger, and the strength of the hind limbs sixty-five per cent.

A series of experiments is to be made at Yale college to determine the relation of the nerves to the muscles of the human body and test a theory that strength depends less upon the size of the muscle than upon the strength of the nerve.

It is maintained very stoutly by expert electricians that the storage battery, is after all, a success for commercial work; that the new process for manufacturing them have cheapened their cost and that in train lighting they are especially efficient and economical. It is estimated that $85 per horse power is the annual cost of the accumulator.—Inventive Age.

Paderewski's Daily Life.

Paderewski knows Shakespeare from cover to cover. He has a beautiful home in Paris, though his family consists only of a son, who is 13 years old. Of this boy he is passionately fond. He does not, however, take him with him on his tours. The boy remains at home with his tutor. Paderewski never signs an agreement, and he has never failed to keep an engagement except through serious illness. Among those who have been connected with him in a business capacity Paderewski's word is as good as his bond. His mail is generally of enormous proportions. A large proportion of it consists of begging letters.

French and American Women.

Mr. Max O'Reil says he has found only two nations where women are the leaders, France and America. In America, from the age of eighteen, a girl is allowed almost every liberty—she takes the rest. In France the women are not frivolous, he maintains, as is commonly supposed. They have a knowledge of their husband's business and a voice in the management of his affairs.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

COLONIAL CONFERENCE

The First Business Meeting of the Delegates Held in Secret.

SANDFORD FLEMING'S SCHEME

The Conference Will Take as its First Subject the All-British Cable Project—Preferential Trade Between the Colonies Also Touched Upon.

OTTAWA, June 30.—The first business meeting of the colonial conference was held in the office of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Trade and Commerce. The conference met in secret. It was, however, learned after the meeting that Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was appointed president of the conference and Sir Adolphe Caron vice-president.

The meeting was entirely devoted to the work of organization. Mr. Bowell read a very carefully prepared basis of operation on which the conference should proceed to work. This basis was unanimously adopted. It is understood that one point decided upon was the question of the Pacific cable in which Mr. Sandford Fleming has been so deeply interested, which will be taken up on Monday. There was also the question of preferential treatment between the colonies and better mail facilities touched upon.

A resolution was also passed sympathizing with Mr. Bowell in the loss he sustained through the death of his son-in-law, Mr. Geo. McCarthy. The funeral takes place in Belleville to-day and the Minister of Trade and Commerce left for there last night.

Mr. John Lambert Payne, private secretary to Mr. Bowell, and Mr. Douglass Stewart, private secretary to Sir John Thompson, were appointed joint secretaries of the conference. The delegates felt somewhat tired after the banquet and it was decided to adjourn for the day at half-past one o'clock.

A Quebec Contract Case.

MONTREAL, Que., June 36.—An interesting suit was entered in the Superior Court, which recalls the building of the Quebec court house. L. Z. Mannette is the plaintiff, and brings action against A. Charlebois, the well-known Quebec contractor, to recover $133,633.33. He claims that he was to get a one third share of the contract, and Charlebois was to render an account to him. It is alleged in his claim that Charlebois refused to give him any account, and in fact to pay him.

Assaulted Prison Officials.

TORONTO, June 30. — Two prisoners, Charles Jones and Charles Jesters, mulattoes, who were confined in the Central Prison, revolted against prison authority yesterday. Jones made an assault on Guard Chaley, who had rebuked him for talking. Jesters made a murderous assault on Andrew Sangster, the cook. Jones was given three years at Kingston and Jesters two years, which they will serve when their present sentences expire.

Dynamite for the Montreal Witness.

MONTREAL, June 30.—A dynamite explosion took place in the Witness pressroom early yesterday morning. A hole was blown in the floor, but the press was not much damaged. The Witness is an uncompromising temperance organ and has many enemies among liquor dealers. It is also very bitter on the gambling element and is strongly anti-Catholic. It introduced the Linotype process recently and reduced its typesetting staff

FOR CARNOT'S FUNERAL

The French Chamber Grants a Liberal Sum for Expenses.

DUPUY WILL REMAIN PREMIER

President Casimir-Perier Calls Upon Him to Reconstruct the Cabinet—Extensive Preparations Being Made for the Funeral — A Plot Unearthed.

PARIS, June 30.—M. de Mahy, first vice-president of the Chamber, presided over the sitting of the Chamber of Deputies and delivered an eulogy upon the life and services of President Carnot. M. Leboun read a letter from M. Casimir-Perier, the new President, resigning the office of President of the Chamber of Deputies. In the course of the letter M. Casimir Perier wrote: "I cordially thank those who have given me much a precious mark of their sympathy. The National Assembly has imposed upon me arduous duties and to fulfil them I hope to be able to count upon the confidence of the Republicans. I shall never betray it."

Vice President de Mahy then read an announcement that the funeral of M. Carnot would take place to-morrow at nine o'clock in the morning. The announcement notified the deputies to meet in the Chamber and march in a body to the Palace of the Elysee. Premier Dupuy introduced a bill providing for the opening of a credit of 100,000f. for the Ministry of the Interior and 10,000f. for the Foreign Office to defray the expenses of the funeral of M. Carnot and demanded urgency in the matter of its consideration. The bill was unanimously passed amid great applause.

M. Auguste Burdeau has expressed a wish to become president of the Chamber of Deputies rather than to undertake the formation of a ministry and President Casimir-Perier has therefore decided to urge M. Dupuy to retain the premiership and reconstruct the cabinet.

The orations at the Pantheon on the occasion of the funeral of M. Carnot tomorrow will be delivered by Premier Dupuy on behalf of the Government, M. Challemel-Lacour on behalf of the Senate, M. De Mahy for the Chamber of Deputies and Gen. Andre on behalf of the Ecole Polytechnique in which institution the late President was a student in engineering. Cardinal Richard, Archbishop of Paris, is too ill to celebrate the mass on the occasion of the funeral service of the late President in the cathedral of Notre-Dame and it is probable that Bishop Labour's of Beauvais who was for many years a warm personal friend of M. Carnot will officiate.

The funeral procession to-morrow will be led by a squad of guards under Gen. Saussier, the military governor of Paris. Troops riding in cars and bearing wreaths will be next and then will come the republican guard, delegates and students of the Ecole Polytechnique, the hearse with a guard of honor, the dead president's private servants, the master of ceremonies, the Carnot family, President Casimir-Perier and the president of the Senate and Chamber, ambassadors, ministers, cardinals, marshals, diplomatic envoys, secretaries and attaches, senators, deputies, personal friends, members of the Legion of Honor, members of the Institute of France, representatives of the law courts, the department of public instruction and the national financial institutions, prefects of the Seine, Paris municipal council and municipal councils from the provinces. No group of interest has been overlooked by those making the arrangements and the procession will be enormous beyond all precedent in the last generation.

They Plotted the Murder.

MARSEILLES, June 30.—The police claim to have information that a regular plot in which a number of people were concerned was formed to assassinate President Carnot. The final meeting of the conspirators took place at Cette and Cesaire Santo was there chosen by lot to commit the actual murder. The arrest of Santo's accomplices is expected hourly.

IN THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

The Armed Assistance to be Counted on From the Colonies.

LONDON, June 30.—In the House of Commons Mr. Charles E. H. Vincent asked the Government to state to what extent assistance could be counted upon by the Imperial Government from the self-governed colonies in the event of an emergency. He also asked what was the annual expenditure for armed defence in Canada, Australasia, New Zealand, Cape Colony and Natal.

Mr. Sydney Buxton, Parliamentary Secretary for the Colonies, said he was unable to answer Mr. Vincent's questions at once. The extent of the assistance which the Imperial Government might rely upon, he said, depended very largely upon the nature of the emergency. There was no question, however, as to the spirit of the colonies, or their readiness to assist the Mother Country. This was evinced by the many offers of help during the campaign in the Soudan. He would endeavor, however, he said, to obtain the information requested as to the annual expenditures in the self-governed colonies which he thought very probably was in the possession of the Imperial Defence Committee.

Sir Charles Dilke suggested that the information be presented to the House in the form of parliamentary paper. Mr. Buxton promised to consider the suggestion.

Ryan the Henley Favorite.

LONDON, June 30.—A visit to Henley found the Canadian oarsmen looking the picture of health, and with their normal stock of confidence. Ryan's work has brought him down to something slightly under weight, but when at the finish he rowed half the course in four minutes six seconds. As far as can be learned the regatta authorities are quite satisfied with Ryan's bona fides, and there is no talk now of action being taken against his entry. It is plain, however, that Guy Nickalls, last year's winner of the Diamonds, respects Ryan with more than ordinary respect and really fears that the Canadian will lower his colors. The betting favors this belief, for there are not a few who offer to take Ryan against the field.

UNITED STATES TARIFF

The Work on the Wilson Bill Finished in the Finance Committee.

REPORTED TO THE SENATE

The Section Abrogating Reciprocal Commercial Arrangements Modified—Senators Will Attend a Religious Service in Honor of Said-Carnot.

WASHINGTON, June 30. — The tariff bill, after an incubation period of thirteen weeks in the committee of the whole, has been taken out of the committee and reported to the Senate. The bill and amendments were ordered to be printed, and will come up for the action of the Senate on Monday. Then all the important amendments that have been agreed to and some that are yet to be offered, will have to be acted on, and will be also open to further debate.

When the bill was taken up yesterday the only section that remained to be acted on was the one abrogating the reciprocity commercial arrangements, and that section was, after a long debate, modified so as to read that "Nothing herein contained shall be held to abrogate the reciprocity or commercial arrangements except where such arrangements are inconsistent with the provisions of this act." It was agreed to without a division, and then a motion to lay the section on the table was rejected.

An amendment which was offered by Mr. Pfeffer (Pop., Kansas) to impose a tax of $50 per head on immigrants, drew out from several Senators declarations in favor of laws to restrict immigration, and was then laid on the table. An amendment by Mr. Gallinger (Rep., N.H.) that the Act shall not be operative as to Canada until that country shall have entered into commercial arrangements that will result in a material reduction of duties on American products and manufactures was also rejected.

An amendment by Mr. Allison (Rep.), to reduce the whiskey bond period from eight years to four years, was rejected. Then some paragraphs that had been served were disposed of, as well as a large number of new amendments reported from the Finance Committee (generally of minor importance) and this was finally, to the intense relief of Senators on both sides, reported to the Senate.

The joint resolution, extending the general appropriation for 30 days, was passed, signed by the Speaker and the Vice-President and sent to the President of the United States.

An invitation to the Senate to attend a religious service at St. Matthews church in Washington next Sunday, in memory of the murdered President of France, was received from the Secretary of the State and accepted, and the Vice-President was instructed to make proper arrangements therefor.

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT.

American Railway Union Plays a Trump Card—The Lines Boycotted.

CHICAGO, June 30.—President Debs and his associates of the American Railway Union played a high card yesterday and made a radical move when they formally boycotted every road represented in the General Managers' Association. Commissions were given to committees representing the employes on each road, with orders to call out the men the instant sufficient support was obtained to warrant a strike. Those represented in the association and subjected to the boycott are Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Illinois Central, Chicago and Grand Trunk, Santa Fe, Chicago and Alton, Chicago and Erie, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Northwestern, Western Indiana, Chicago and Burlington and Quincy, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago, Great Western, Louisville, New Albany and Chicago, Chicago and Northern Pacific, Lake Shore, Michigan Central, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Panhandle, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, Wabash, Wisconsin Central and Baltimore and Ohio.

The greatest enthusiasm was created among the strikers when the announcement was made that the Mobile and Ohio had surrendered unconditionally. General Manager Seale had telegraphed President Debs that his road had cut off all Pullman cars, and had requested a lease for the line before it could be ascertained that the road was not a member of the managers' association. President Debs wired the president of the union in charge of the strike to call off the boycott immediately after receiving the written guarantee from the company that it would not run any Pullmans until the present trouble was settled. All the men on the Illinois Central pledged themselves to obey a call to strike whenever issued.

A $200,000 Fire in Brooklyn.

Chester Loomis was Crippled With Kidney Disease—Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him—They Were Never Known to Fail.

NEWCOMB MILLS, June 18.—Chester Loomis, a well known farmer living near here, has for years been afflicted with kidney disease so badly that he could not sit in a buggy to drive to town, as he is 69 years old he despaired of a cure. He tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He has not done any farm work for years, but he helped to put in this spring's crops, and anyone who goes to see him to-day will find him between the plough-handles instead of laid out on a bed or an easy chair as he used to be.

OPPOSITION CANDIDATES.

The leaders of the Ontario Opposition could scarcely have entertained a serious hope of defeating the Ministry. Of course the independent movement on the part of a large section of the farming community might have awakened hopes of party success among Conservatives not familiar with the situation. The Patrons and Liberals would naturally be expected to cause a waste of force and in that way favour the minority. This result actually did take place, but no one well informed politically expected it would be sufficient to defeat the Ministry. Although the result must have been expected, the Opposition could scarcely have foreseen its treatment in the constituencies and the results are a most emphatic and, perhaps, a needed reminder that different methods are necessary to secure appreciation among the electors of Ontario. Mr. Meredith can read a valuable lesson in the list of defeated candidates. In his own constituency the lessening of his majority must be anything but reassuring. Of course there will always be fluctuations, and this change could be ascribed to causes mainly accidental were it not for the more decided verdicts in other constituencies.

Mr. Clancy has been regarded as among the most prominent of the Opposition leader's supporters. Since the death of Mr. H. E. Clarke he has been financial critic of the Opposition, and, according to the line of policy adopted by his party, discharged the duties of his position faithfully. He was leader in the attacks on the Ministry in the Public Accounts Committee, and was generally recognized as Mr. Meredith's chief supporter. Yet the electors of West Kent have defeated him by a majority of about 800. Mr. A. F. Wood, who has represented North Hastings in the Legislature since 1883, has been defeated by a small majority. At the last general election he was returned by acclamttion, and until the present campaign opened it was thought he could not be defeated. He was among the most prominent of front row Conservatives, and his defeat has more than local significance. His opponent was an independent Conservative, and the verdict at the polls is a severe condemnation of Opposition methods. Mr. Sol. White was perhaps next to Mr. Meredith, the most widely known member of the Opposition. He took an active interest in almost everything brought before the House, and newspapers, both friendly and hostile, seemed always prepared to say something good-natured regarding him. He is also numbered with the defeated. In the last election he had a plurality of 635 over his leading opponent; and according to present returns he is last among three candidates in the race, with 836 votes, while his Liberal opponent obtained, 1,732. Mr. E. F. Clarke has retired voluntarily. Of course he could have been elected easily in any of the Toronto constituencies had he chosen to enter the contest. His retirement will be a loss the Conservative party in the Legislature can ill afford. The only prominent Conservative members returned again by the electors are Mr. Marter, Mr. Whitney and Dr. Willoughby. The verdict is an unmistakable intimiation that the people do not approve of the course of the Opposition during the past legislative term. And it is to be hoped that Mr. Meredith will profit by the lesson, and adopt means more liable to meet with acceptance by an intelligent electorate.—Globe.

AN INGENIOUS CALCULATION.

The Hamilton Spectator is doing some very ingenious figuring with the object of showing that Sir Oliver Mowat is defeated. It deprives him of Mr. Biggar, because that gentleman is classed as independent, and of Mr. Macherson and Mr. Pardo because these gentlemen are Patrons. Mr. Pardo got a Liberal as well as a Patron nomination, and defeated a man who would have been in Mr. Meredith's Ministry. Mr. Macpherson was endorsed by the Liberals, and he says in his election address that Patrons will not offer "factious opposition to the Government."

But, apart from the details, the Spectator is ignoring the real question at issue. When it talks about Sir Oliver Mowat not being able to carry on the government of the country, it forgets to tell us who will possess that power. If a support of 50 members at least, or even 45 at least, as the Spectator says, will not suffice, how will Mr. Meredith govern with 24 members against 70 "Oppositionists"? The fact is that it can barely maintain its position by cooly appropriating every Patron in the Legislature and making him a follower of Mr. Meredith, a proceeding against which the Patrons' Sun vigorously protests. The Sun has formally repudiated Mr. Shore because of his advocacy of the P.P.A. How can it be expected then that Patrons can work in harmony with Mr. McCallum, Mr. Gurd, and others in the Legislature, who will aim to give a first place to sectarian questions.—Globe.

Journalists bore an honorable and conspicuous part in the campaign just closed. In West Peterborough Mr. Stratton made a phenominal campaign on the platform, and splendid work was done by his paper, the EXAMINER. In South Essex Mr. Balfour overthrew two strong opponents, one a Patron, and the other a Conservative P. P.A., and came out with a majority of 800 to his credit. In Centre Bruce Mr. Dack made a gallant but unsuccessful fight, and among his old Parliamentary associates there will be general regret that he went down in the struggle. Mr. Pirie of the Dundas Banner did splendid work in the Wentworths, and made some able speeches at important points in the Province. Mr. M. Y. McLean of the Huron Expositor, in the face of very desperate opposition, held old North Huron for the Government. He is a strong man, and will take a good place in the new Parliament. Mr. Craig, of the Fergus News-Record, after a hard contest, carried East Wellington for the Liberals. Mr. E. E. Sheppard and Mr. A. F. Campbell were among the most active and effective of the campaigners for Mr. Meredith. Mr. T. H. Preston did good work on the platform in the Brants, and Mr. Brierley in the Elgins. Of Mr. Pattullo's work we have already spoken. Mr. T. H. Race was active in South Perth, and we all regret his estrangement from his old party associates. And probably there were other newspaper men equally deserving of mention for their work in the contest whose names do not occur to us at the moment —Globe.

THE Hamilton Herald (Independent) says:—"Papers all over the country are complimenting the Toronto Globe on the good-natured and gentlemanly way in which it behaved itself during the campaign and the compliments are well deserved. It is not too much to say that the Globe is an ideal party paper—dignified, courteous and fair to its opponents. It would be a fine thing for Canada if there were more party papers of the Globe's generous cast of mind in the country."

LACTATED FOOD HIS DAILY DIET.

A mother residing in the West End o the City of Montreal, says:—

"In July of 1893, baby Freddie was five months old, and his state of health caused us much anxiety and thought. He was a very weak and helpless infant: he cried a great deal, and slept badly. Our family doctor could not do much for him for a time. One day, seeing my grief, the doctor asked me to give Lactated Food a trial, as my nursing did not agree with him. That trial of Lactated Food was the turning point in his infant life. My dear baby seemed to revive and gain strength in a few days, and shortly after was out of all danger.

From that time until now he has been fed on your wonderful Lactated Food, and you are quite at liberty to mention the fact that your Food saved Freddie's life. I recommend Lactated Food at every opportunity, and tell mothers what it did for my child."

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

A Newspaper Report.

It Was Read by an Ottawa Government Official.

He Strongly Endorses Every Statement.

The Report was Published in the Ottawa "Citizen."

It Referred to a Wonderful Cure by Paine's Celery Compound.

Some weeks ago the Ottawa Citizen published the particulars of a most wonderful cure effected by Paine's Celery Compound. The fortunate lady who was enabled to throw off the deadly grasp of disease and suffering is well known by many outside of her own immediate district.

Scores of men and women were aware of the fact that Mrs. Neil McKay, of North Hill, Lingwick, P.Q., had been doctoring for a long time, but all the best efforts of her physicians were of no avail. Her strength was all gone; she was extremely weak, and had great difficulty in moving about. A few years ago she was a woman who weighed 185 pounds; sickness and disease reduced her to a mere shadow.

Mrs. McKay, at a critical period, determined to to test the curing virtues of Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle proved that it contained the elements that could banish trouble and sickness. The medicine was continued with the result that seven bottles made her a new woman.

These facts appearing in the Citizen, and read by Chas. W. Ross, of the Department of Railways and Canals, Ottawa, caused him to write the following letter:

"I have just seen in the Citizen another proof of cure by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and now I write to corroborate the statements of Mrs. Neil McKay and Mr. Pennoyer, postmaster, of Gould, Lingwick, Que. I have personally known Mrs. McKay for a number of years, having been a resident of Lingwick for 30 years; she was one of my customers for ten years, and I have seen her at times not able to walk. She has been treated by several doctors without any apparent relief until she began to use Paine's Celery Compound; and though I am now a resident of Ottawa, I have occasion to see Mrs. McKay two or three times a year, and know the statements in her case to be wholly correct."

Every cure made by Paine's Celey Compound in Canada can be endorsed and vouched for as strongly as Mrs. McKay's wonderful case. No false statements are ever allowed to be made regarding the great cures reported from week to week by the Canadian press. The cures made by Paine's Celery Compound are the only cures that stand thorough investigation.

Obtained Two Hundred Dollars Damages.

MONTREAL, June 30. — Judge Jetté awarded Paul Marc Sauvalle $200 damages, the full amount claimed in his action against J. P. Tardivel, Quebec. Sauvalle is editor of La Patrie, Liberal organ, here, and has been editor of the Le Canada Revue. At the time the Canada Revue entered a $5,000 action against Archbishop Fabre, La Verite and Le Canada Revue commenced publishing bitter articles on each other. Le Canada Revue spoke of Torquemada Tardivel and L'Inquisition moderne, La Verite retorted with the Methodist Sauvalle. Sauvalle thereupon took the present action. He is married to a French Protestant lady, and his child was baptized in the Protestant church. He himself professes Catholicism. The court awarded damages as above.

Trade in the Provinces.

TORONTO, June 30.—Trade in the Province of Ontario has been quiet, owing to the election on Tuesday. There is no feature in the trade situation in Nova Scotia beyond favorable crop prospects. Demand in staple lines in the Province of Quebec continues moderate. Exports are restricted and, and buyers generally filling immediate wants only. There are 957 business failures in the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland reported since January 1, against 887 in a like portion of 1893. The increase in total liabilities in the first half of this year is to $9,509,000 from $8,215,000 in a like portion of last year. Increases in number of failures and liabilities are more conspicuous in returns from Quebec and Ontario.

An Exaggerated Report.

OTTAWA, June 30.—H. B. Spencer, assistant superintendent of the C. P. R., says that the story about the attempt to wreck a train at Buckingham is greatly exaggerated. There was a piece of wood on the tracks, but the engine brushed it aside without any damage being done.

The scrofulous taint which may have been in your blood for years, may be thoroughly expelled by giving Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

Eseljay's Liver Lozenges are at once a blood cleanser, a system regulator and a true tonic. 25 cts. a box, or $2.50 per dozen boxes.

Two Years Ago

I had a bad attack of biliousness and took one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and can truly recommend it to anyone suffering from this complaint. Mrs. Chas. Brown, Toronto.

HAVERGAL HALL.

Many members of the Church of England in Toronto and throughout the Dominion have, for a long time, been convinced of the importance of uniting Evangelical spiritual influences with a thorough intellectual culture. An attempt to carry out this idea has been made in the founding of Wycliffe college, Toronto, for the training of candidates for the Christian ministry, and in establishing Bishop Ridley College, St. Catharines, for the education of boys.

It is is now intended to take a step further by establishing a School for Girls, with similar objects and under similar auspices. The especial need of extending these principles to the education of girls has long been apparent, but the opportunity of doing so has only now come within reach.

Although there are already established in Toronto schools for girls that are doing excellent work, yet it is felt that there is still room for one in a part of the city at some distance from the other large schools. The board have been fortunate enough to secure the building formerly known as Morvyn House, 350 Jarvis street, near Carlton street. Havergal Hall is thus in one of the pleasantest and most important residential quarters of the city. This of itself will secure a large field for day scholars, while the locality presents attractions to parents living in other places who seek for their daughters the benefits of the high class of training it is proposed to give. The building is large and commodious, and was erected specially for school purposes. It will accomodate about one hundred pupils.

The arrangements in regard to the teaching staff are not yet completed. Enquiries are now being made in England for a suitable principal, and the board hope to secure one who will be well versed in the best English methods of education, and at the same time a cultivated Christian woman.

The promoters of the school have before their minds, as the most important features of a sound education, the moulding of Christian character, intellectual and physical culture, and equipment for the practical duties of life. It is designed to help the girls to become not only accomplished gentlewomen, but also intelligent housekeepers, and useful members of society.

The health and comfort of the pupils will receive the most careful attention.

The terms for instruction will be moderate. Full details will be published in a future prospectus.

Provisional Board: Rev. Rural D. Armitage, St. Catharines; Hon. S. H. Blake, Q. C., Rev. Arthur H. Baldwin, M. A., Ven. Archdeacon Boddy, M. A., Stapleton Caldecott, Esq., A. H. Campbell, Esq., B. Homer Dixon, K. N. L., Albert E. Gooderham, Esq., Robert Gilmor, Esq., N. W. Hoyles, Esq., Q. C., Rev. Rural Dean Jones, M. A., J. K. Kerr, Esq., Q. C., Arthur B. Lee, Esq., J. Wood, Toronto.

The school will be open in September next. As soon as arrangements are completed a further announcement will be made in regard to the lady principal and the staff of teachers.

Meanwhile correspondence in regard to the admission of pupils is invited.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknessess" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use.

It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will cure in all cases of disease for for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, June 30, 1894.

In Chicago, wheat was weak, but rallied late in the afternoon, closing ½c higher. Corn, steady, showing no marked change. Favorable reports of an early crop caused a marked decline in oats.

The visible supply of wheat in the States on January 1 will be about 55,000,000 bushels, in addition to which there will be approximately 8,000,000 bushels available wheat stocks in the Pacific coast and an undeterminable quantity that goes by the name of "Invincible supply."

Buffalo.—Cattle—Six cars on sale; strong, but notably above Monday's values. Sheep and lambs—Twelve cars; strong, choice to fancy lambs $5.25 to $5.75; fair to good, $4 to $5; good to best wethers quotable at $3.25 to $3.75; fair to good mixed, $2.75 to $3.15. Hogs—Offerings 32 cars; steady, strong; medium and choice heavies, $5.25 to $5.30.

The Pullman boycott, the engagement of $1,250,000 gold for shipment to Europe to-day, the poor May statement of the Burlington and Quincy, and some selling for foreign account brought about a lower range of prices at the New York Stock Exchange. The loss was insignificant, amounting to ½ to ¼ per cent. The railway list after the early decline, developed a little strength, especially near the close of business. The strength of the market in the face of the great strike at the west and the likelihood of its spreading excited surprise. Holders of stocks evidently believe that the strike is not as formidable as appears on the surface and that a collapse is not far off.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

SWEET GIRL GRADUATES.

The Closing Exercises at the Convent—Gold and Silver Medals Presented—An Excellent Programme.

The closing exercises of the pupils of the Congregation de Notre Dame are always conceded to be one of the most interesting events of the scholastic year. This function took place last evening in the music hall of the convent, and the programme which was presented was most excellent and fully equal in merit to the usual high grade of entertainment given by the pupils of the sisters.

The hall was prettily decorated with flags and bunting, cut flowers and potted plants. Huge branches of maple adorned the walls, while cleverly constructed festoons of maple leaves added not a little to the effectiveness of the decorations.

The score or more of little girls who formed the chorus were all attired in white and were seated facing the audience on a raised platform. The spectacle was one of singular beauty.

There was a large attendance including His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, the cathedral clergy and other prominent citizens.

14 hands, by gold and silver medalists, Misses M McCabe, E Hall, M Butler, K Henderson, M Begley, M Pollock and B Primeau.

The silver medals donated to the institution by Venerable Archdeacon Casey, P.P. of Peterborough, His Worship, the Mayor of Peterborough, and Rev. J. Primeau, parish priest of Boucherville, P. Q., for proficiency in instrumental music, were won respectively by Miss M. Pollock, Misss Vina Belleghem and Miss B. Primeau.

The gold medal offered last summer by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., to be awarded to the young lady most proficient in vocal music, was awarded to Miss Vina Belleghem, Miss Annie Simons and Miss Dineen, however, sang so remarkably well that Mr. Stratton presented Miss Simons with a medal and Bishop O'Connor promised to present one himself to Miss Dineen.

Mr. Stratton, in presenting the medals which he had donated, took occasion to remark on the general excellence with which the various subjects were taught in the convent. Pupils of the convent compared favourably with those of the public school, and were only the day before at the examinations congratulated by the inspector on the manner in which they read. Mr. Stratton stated that he always took pleasure when occasion arose in making known the fact that the convent graduates received an education by the sisters which was unexcelled by any other training.

Mr. D. Belleghem made a few brief remarks anent the pleasure it afforded him to be present, and His Lordship the Bishop congratulated the pupils and their teachers on the merit of the programme rendered.

In the absence of Mayor Kendry, who had donated one of the medals, His Lordship called on Mr. Fitzgerald to present it in the Mayor's name. Mr. Fitzgerald in a few appropriate words regretted the absence of Mr. Kendry, who, he said, could present the prize in a better and more acceptable way. In presenting the prize to Miss Belleghem, Mr. Fitzgerald congratulated the young lady on the success she had attained, and while hoping the prize may serve as a stimulus to greater proficiency in the divine art, she would always treasure it as a souvenir of happy convent life. Mr. Stratton, who, he said, on such occasions, is always present, had himself recently been the recipient of distinguished honours and therefore was in a mood to understand and appreciate the feelings of joy experienced by successful candidates.

Mr. Fitzgerald noticing the absence, doubtless inadvertently, from the programme of Irish music, said he would at the close of the next academic year, have much pleasure in presenting for proficiency in Irish music and song, a gold medal, open for competition to all pupils of the convent.

In response to Mr. Fitzgerald's observation as to the absence of Irish airs on the programme, the kind and obliging sister at the head of the musical branch volunteered as accompanist, while Miss Simons in her sweet voice sang with pathos "The Minstrel Boy," an air peculiarly plaintive and characteristic of Irish life and sentiment.

UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CATHEDRAL CLERGY.

The Annual Picnic on the Grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital.

The grand picnic which will be held on the pretty grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital on Dominion Day, under the auspices of the cathedral clergy, promises to be a big success indeed.

The list of sports which has been arranged including running, jumping, throwing the stone, etc., for valuable prizes, will, without doubt, prove a great attraction.

These picnics, which have become an annual occurrence now, are always patronized liberally, and so well do the clergy look after their visitors that everyone always comes away satisfied and with a mind made up to go again. This picnic bids, if possible, to be even a greater success than any of the former ones.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

THE DOMINION DAY PROGRAMME

Where to go to Enjoy Yourself and what Hour to Go.

The programme of the day's doings on the first, under the auspices of the Demonstration Committee, composed of members of the Board of Trade, Fire Brigade and citizens will be as follows:

The Campbellford Fire Brigade will arrive at 8.15 a.m., and be met by the local brigade and entertained.

The Oddfellows' Band of Belleville, will arrive on the same train. A concert will be given by this band in the Court House park at 10 a.m., will doubtless be greatly enjoyed, as the band has a provincial reputation.

The procession, it is thought, will start about noon, and will be composed of a grand calithumpian parade and trades' display, together with a parade of the different bands and fire brigades which will be in town.

The programme at the driving park will be started immediately on the arrival of the procession, at about 1.30.

The baloon ascension takes place from the grounds at 2 p. m. and every visitor should be there in time to see it. Professor Wolcott arrived in town this morning with his apparatus and states that he is fully prepared to make one of the most marvellous ascensions which ever took place in Canada.

The running horse races promise to be close and interesting and a good deal of excitement is manifested in regard to the result of the carter's race.

The fireworks in the evening promise to be a great success. One of Prof. Hand's experts from Hamilton is already in town perfecting the arrangements for carrying out an A. 1. programme.

SOME ATTRACTIONS.

One of the most attractive features of the whole programme in the afternoon will be the club swinging and hoop and wand exercises by the girls of the public school under the direction of Sergt.-Major Rundle.

An interesting lacrosse match is announced to take place between a Belleville team and the Shamrocks during the afternoon.

A train will be held until 10.30 p.m. for the benefit of the Campbellford visitors and others living at points between that station and Peterborough.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Grease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

LACROSSE.

There will be intense commotion in the thriving village of Ashburnham on Saturday afternoon, July 7th, when the EXAMINER and Review staffs will give an exhibition of lacrosse as it should be played. The managers of the different teams had decided to charge the regular admission fee to witness this blood curdling event, but after considering the recent storms and the amount of money lost on the election and nut shell racket, they decided to open all the gates (with the exception of one in a certain corner) to the thousands who will flock to the village on that memorable date. The admission will be free and it goes without saying that it will be well worth the price. The managers have also experienced no end of difficulty in trying to secure a referee, but Mr. G.J. Horkins gave them the wink and told them it would be a "wise policy" to allow him to pick out that necessary individual. The arnica brigade and a staff of physicians have been notified to be in readiness for fear the umpire should meet a horrible death or the exertions of the men—of the Review—result disastrously. The players are required to keep the ball as far from the elm tree in the southeast corner as possible, as it is liable to go through the gate. This rule will be strictly enforced. Furthermore, the ladies are requested to keep their seats, which will be cushioned, (providing they bring the cushions) and not run after the players when the different games are scored. The action of the managers in allowing the spectators to witness the gigantic struggle free of cost is commendable, and they will be afforded a treat, and the typos hope the spectators will "do their duty" after the match. Bouquets and other "refreshing" tributes will be received with thanks. Witness this gigantic struggle, as all important events in the world's history will be chronicled in the almanac from this date.

P.S.—An intelligent Mascot, with experience, is wanted at this office.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

THE STRANGE POSITION IN WHICH A BRANTFORD MAN FOUND HIMSELF.

Physicians Could Not Agree as to the Nature of his Trouble—Fell Away to a Mere Skeleton — Was Unable to Move About—Continuously Suffered Terrible Pains.

From the Brantford Expositor.

Some months ago the Expositor gave the particulars of the remarkable cure wrought upon Mrs. Avery, who lives at Pleasant Ridge, a few miles out of the city, and the case created much interest among the people of the city and vicinity. We are now in a position to give the particulars of another wonderful cure that has occurred in the city since the first of January. The then unfortunate, but now happy and healthy man, is William G. Woodcock, who resides at 180 Murray street. He is an Englishman, and has been out from Kent, England, about eleven years. A baker by trade, he accepted a position with Mr. Donaldson, and came to the city about two years ago. A reporter called on him a few days ago and interviewed him with reference to the cure which has been spoken of, and the following story was told by him :

"I came to the city two years ago and worked at Donaldson's bakery. For nearly a year previous to the first of January I had been troubled with some disease or sickness, but was able to continue my work, but about the month of September last I was completely used up and had to quit work. The trouble seemed to be an excessive weakness ; at first from my knees to my feet, but afterwards from my hips to my feet. I obtained advice and treatment from several medical men, some of whom said the trouble was caused by a bodily strain, others that I was run down so that I was very weak and open to take almost any disease. Although they did not agree as to the cause, all advised me to tightly bandage my limbs from the knees down. I did so, but this was of no avail, and I became so weak that I was not able to move around the house. The pains I suffered were terrible, and the only way I could relieve myself at all was to lift one foot off the floor and extend it straight out from me. In November I was in the hospital fourteen days, and was treated for typhoid fever, and although I cannot say for certain, yet I do not think that I had the fever at all. When I was taken from the hospital I could neither eat nor sleep, and was still suffering the most intense pain. I continued in this way, more dead than live, until the first of January, 1894, when I concluded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I sent to Mr. Bachelor's drug store on New Year's Day and bought six boxes of pills. At this time I could not stand at all, but in about a week I threw away the bandages which I had been wearing on my limbs, and in two weeks I could walk first rate. By the time the six boxes were finished I was fit for work and in the best of health. I did the hardest day's work on Saturday last that I had ever done in this country and felt none the worse for it. When I was weighed a week ago I tipped the scales at 163 pounds and when I came out of the hospital in November I did not weigh over 100 pounds, so you can easily see what Pink Pills done for me in this way." Every statement of Mr. Woodcock's was corroborated by his wife, who was present at the interview, and if appearances are correct Mr. Woodcock is enjoying the best of health and can do many hard days' work yet. He is also very positive that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and nothing but them relieved him of his terrible disease and probably saved his life.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have a remarkable efficacy in curing diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the blood, or an impairment of the nervous system, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, after effects of la grippe, influenza and severe colds, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions and are a specific for troubles peculiar to the female system and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of any nature.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six bottles for $2.50. They may be had from any dealer or will be sent by mail on receipt of price.

A FATAL ILLUSTRATION.

A School Boy Stabbed to the Heart by His Schoolmaster.

PARIS, June 30.—Schoolmaster Guillemein of Bussieres-Les-Clermont, in the Marne, was showing his pupils how President Carnot had been stabbed. The children had gathered round him as he drew the knife. A boy named Gerard, 8 years old, fell forward in his excitement. He struck with his breast on the knife and it pierced his heart. He died instantly. The children ran screaming from the school room. No sooner was Guillemein alone than he tried to kill himself with the same knife, but he was saved by two men who had been summoned to the school house by the cries of the children. His wounds are not dangerous.

Weekly Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, June 30.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The great strike of coal miners has ended at most points, but another threatens to interrupt business more seriously for a time, though the number of hands engaged is comparatively small. Travel and traffic are well nigh arrested on about twenty western roads already, and strikes are threatened on all roads which use Pullman cars. On the whole, other changes during the week have been better. Many manufacturing establishments, which were stopped by want of fuel, have resumed. The depletion of treasury gold has been checked by the voluntary deposits of gold by New York banks. Exports of gold have also ceased. Congress has made much progress toward the final disposition of the tariff question. Crop prospects grow better as the harvest draws nearer.

Confessed to Save His Brother.

DUBLIN, June 30.—The Irish newspapers publish a statement to the effect that a sailor named Kennedy, now in Belfast, has made a declaration that while serving on board the bark Trafalgar in the Indian ocean the cook, Daniel Sheehan, or Sheenan, a native of Cork, died of fever. Before he expired, according to Kennedy, he said he and not his brother, who is in prison, attempted to blow up the Houses of Parliament in 1885. Kennedy adds that Sheehan refused to give any details of the affair, with the exception of saying that he and his brother, who were then in America, travelled from Chicago to London on purpose to commit the outrage.

Erastus Wiman's Case.

NEW YORK, June 30.—Application for a certificate of reasonable doubt in the case of Erastus Wiman was to have been made before Justice Barrett in Supreme Court Chambers, but by consent of counsels on both sides the application was postponed until July 9. In the meantime Wiman will remain in the Tombs. Wiman said that he had every reason to believe that Judge Barrett would grant the application of his lawyers and give him a permanent stay pending an appeal and release him on bail. Should the judge do so, he said, he was certain that in the higher courts he would be vindicated.

Dogging Premier Crispi.

ROME, June 30.—A man was observed to shadow Premier Crispi and was found loitering outside of Crispi's residence. When questioned as to his motive for following the Premier, he declared it was his purpose to "square accounts with him." A large knife was found upon the man's person.

The Best Medicine.

J. O. WILSON, Contractor and Builder, Sulphur Springs, Texas, thus speaks of Ayer's Pills:

"Ayer's Pills are the best medicine I ever tried; and, in my judgment, no better general remedy could be devised. I have used them in my family and recommended them to my friends and employes for more than twenty years. To my certain knowledge, many cases of the following complaints have been completely and by the use of Ayer's Pills alone: Third day chills, dumb ague, bilious fever, sick headache, rheumatism, flux, dyspepsia, constipation, and hard colds. I know that a moderate use of Ayer's Pills, continued for a few days or weeks, as the nature of the complaint required, would be found an absolute cure for the disorders I have named above."

"I have been selling medicine for eight years, and I can safely say that Ayer's Pills give better satisfaction than any other Pill I ever sold."—J. J. Perry, Spottsylvania C. H., Va.

CHINA'S GREAT RIVER.

THE YANGTSE KIANG AND THE MANY WONDERS IT PRESENTS.

The Immensity of the Yangtse Valley—A Vast Empire Cut Up by Canals—The Life Boat Service and How Pirates Are Treated.

I have been riding for days upon the great Yangtse River, and I write this letter in almost the centre of the Chinese empire, I am within less than a hundred miles of the vast city of Hankow, and am passing the country where the Chinese mobbed the foreigners a year or so ago, burning down the houses of the missionaries, and killing some of the English officers of the Chinese customs. Last night I left Kiukiang, a big trading centre at the mouth of the Poyang lake, and during the past two weeks I have passed a half dozen cities of the size of Toronto and Montreal, and have traveled through about the same number of great states, having an aggregate population of something like 150,000,000 people. All the towns I have visited I have found packed with a throng busier than you find on lower Broadway at noonday, and I am amazed at the immensity of this great Chinese empire and its enormous population. I entered the Yangtse at its mouth, where it flows through the Chinese province or State of Kiangsu. This is the centre of the east coast. It contains more than half as many people as the whole United States, and its population is equal to that of the British Isles. The State of Ganhui, which I next entered, supports 27,000,000 people, and the State of Hupeh, in which I am now traveling, has over twenty millions. This great river itself has millions who are born, live and die upon its waters, and at every landing I see a thicket of poles, each of which springs from the home of one of the millions of families which make up China's boat population. I am amazed at the wonderful resources of the country.

My eyes bulge out at the muscle and industry of its people, and my head buzzes in trying to understand the curious sights which are crowded upon me.

China's great rivers are among the wonders of the world, and the Yangtse Kiang is the king of its kind. It has a greater volume of water than the Nile or the Amazon and it has built up a greater country than Egypt along the low lands of China. In approaching it from the ocean I found the waters discolored by its muddy fluid many miles out at sea, and it turns the salty brine yellow for sixty miles from its mouth. Here it is about as thick as pea soup. You draw up a bucket and in a moment its bottom will have a thick sediment of mud. I had been warned not to use the spigot which runs from the bottom of the boat into my bath, but this morning the boy had made it too hot and I tried to cool the barrel of filtered water in the tub with about a gallon from the Yangtse. I thought the amount was so little that it could not affect the rest. The result was that the clear water became the color of mud and my bare foot left an impression on the bottom as marked as that of the savage which so scared Robinson Crusoe on the desert island. It is a sort of a gritty silt, but I am told that there is no river on earth which brings down a sediment more fertile. The whole of the great plain of north and central China has been made by it. This plain is 700 miles long and it supports more than a hundred million of people. The Yellow River runs through it 100 miles north of this point, and this river, in combination with the Yangtse, has built the foundations of one-fourth of the Chinese empire. To-day it is estimated that the amount of dirt they carry down from the highlands of Thibet and of China is so great that it forms every two months an island a mile square in the sea and at the mouth of the Yangtse.

The river has a vast volume of water. A line of freight water-tight cars reaching from New York to Chicago and carrying twenty tons each could not hold its one day's discharge into the sea, and its rise and fall at the city of Hankow, about 650 miles from its mouth, ranges during the year from forty to fifty feet. Within the past ten days the river has risen thirteen feet and it is now going up at the rate of a foot a day.

The rise in the Yangste Kiang is so great that embankments have to be built along its course for more than 1,000 miles. All of the country I have passed through is diked, and this, not only as to the river, but also as to every creek and canal connected with it. Central China is more cut up by waterways than Holland, and there are more dikes here to the square mile than you will find in the Netherlands. Sailing along the Yangste you see these dikes in every direction. They are about twenty feet high and from thirty to forty feet wide at the base and their tops form the roads and paths of the country. Along them you see all sorts of Chinese characters trudging along, their figures silhouetted against the blue sky. Here goes the great freight car of China. It is a wheelbarrow and a native coolie pushes it. Behind him comes another species of the same, a man carrying two great loads fastened to the ends of the bow-like pole which rests upon his shoulders. Next you see a brightly dressed girl, wearing red pantaloons and a blue sash, carrying a parasol of paper and looking very gay as she hobbles up the bank. You note mandarins riding in blue chairs carried between two bare-legged coolies, who trot along in front and behind, and among the nobles, the common people on foot.

A large part of the country is rolling and the idea that China consists of one vast flat plain is incorrect. Where I am now writing I am surrounded by magnificent hills and all along this great river you find breaks of rolling country. I saw the snow on the mountains when I came up past the City of Kinkiang, and at Ichang, above here, there are gorges which compare with the canons of the Rockies in their magnificent grandeur. These are 1,000 miles inland and the sources of the Yangtse are two miles above the sea.

These gorges are narrow chasms, with a current so swift that the boats which pass up them have to be hauled along by gangs of men, and the water in them, it is said, sometimes rises 100 feet above its ordinary level. They are comparatively short, and if they could be passed by steamers the vast region of the Yangtse could be tapped and steamboats could travel 2,000 miles into the interior. There is still talk of building steamers small enough and powerful enough to withstand the current of these gorges, and it is not an impossibility that the whole of interior China will at some time be opened up by steam.

The Yangtse to-day is one of the greatest trade routes of the world. China is said to have more boats on her waters than there are in all the rest of the world combined. She is the best watered country in God's green earth and has more wonderful waterways. Suppose you could stretch a river wider than the Mississippi in an almost straight line from New York to Chicago. Suppose it to be navigable for the biggest ocean steamers for that distance from May to October, and let ships from Russia, Germany, England and other parts of the world sail through it and load at its wharves. This would be about what can be done on the Yangtse Kiang below Ichang. If you wish to carry out the comparison, however, you must let the great river extend farther west. If you could stretch it on in a straight line it would go to Denver and still be navigable for large boats and barges. You must push it on farther west to San Francisco, and you are still 500 miles from its source. It is said to be 3,500 miles long, and it has its rise in the mountains of Thibet and has tributaries all along its course. It taps two great lakes, which give it canal communication with other provinces, and the most of the tea of the world comes from the lands south of it and is shipped across the Poyang Lake, near where I now am, and sent to Haukow for sale.

In coming into the Yangtse its mouth is so wide that it is hours after you see the muddy color of its waters before you can distinguish the banks, and for the first fifty miles of our journey we passed through what seemed to be a great inland sea, ranging from twenty to fifty miles in width. Our first hills were passed about fifty miles inland. Seven hundred miles from the coast I found its width to be more than a mile, and it holds that width nearly all the way from Shanghai to Ichang, a distance of about 1,000 miles. I could fill this paper with the mention of the different kinds of craft and their loads. There are Chinese lifeboats, for instance, everywhere. There are low junks with oars and sails, and they watch the river during the storms and pick up such sampans and fishing boats as are overturned. They are under the control of the districts through which they go and form a sort of a river police.

Now and then they capture a smuggler or a pirate, and here and there outside of some of the villages I saw boats which had been cut in half and set up on end. I asked what they were, and I was told that they had belonged to pirates and thieves. The culprits had been caught and beheaded, and their boats were thus put up as warnings to their brothers to beware of the law.

This valley of the Yangtse Kiang is a vast garden. All along its course the grass is as green as Egypt in winter, and two or three crops a year are everywhere grown. In looking over the landscape you see no fences or barns. The people live in villages made of thatched huts, with walls of plaited reeds, which they plaster inside and out with mud. Sometimes the huts stand alone in the town, and at other times they are joined together in blocks. The best of them are not more than twenty feet square, and the average farmhouse has only one story. The earth forms the floor. You could, I venture, build a good one for $5.

The best of the towns here are close to the river, and we have passed many walled cities, with pagodas and temples rising above the other ridge-shaped roofs. At some of the bigger centres this ship stops to take on and discharge cargo, and I have gone through a number of cities since I came to China, the names of which I never heard. Take the city of Nganking—not Nanking, the old capital of China. It is the capital of the State of Ganhui, which has a population of more than one-third of the whole United States, though it is not as big as the State of New York. It lies right on the banks of the Yangtse, about 150 miles above Nanking, and it has miles of walls about it. These walls are twenty-five feet high and so wide that you could drive a buggy around the city on top of them.

The city has now a great native trade, though it is not one of the treaty ports, and foreign steamers stop at it. It has one of the finest pagodas on the Yangtse. It is a seven-storied tower of rose pink, many-sided and its top is decorated with a beautiful cap of bronze, which is built in rings, like those of some of the temples in Siam, to a point. This tower was being repaired when I visited it and a framework of pole scaffolding extended from its base upward to a height of more than one hundred feet. Upon this hundreds of Chinese masons and painters were working, and away up on the sixth story I could note little fly like celestials clinging to the wall and patching up the ravages of the weather. I was glad to see it, for it showed me that there is at least one place in China where the monuments of the past are respected and where both the religion and the temples have not gone to seed.

THE MURDER THEORY ALMOST EXPLODED.

Detective Murray Thinks that Beaton's Death was the Result of an Accident, but who Wiped the Blood From his Face.

Mr. John Murray, head of the Provincial Detective Department, arrived in town this morning in answer to a telegram from County Crown Attorney Wood asking for a detective to investigate the supposed mystery in connection with the death of Frank Beaton, who was found, cut and mangled, on the rails yesterday morning.

Detective Murray, after an interview with Dr. Pigeon, who with Dr. Scott conducted the post morten on the remains, announces that in his opinion the death of the unfortunate man was purely accidental, and was caused by being caught between the cars and crushed.

The life was very evidently squeezed out of Beaton before he had time to let one cry escape his lips, and his internal organism was proven by the post mortem to be crushed and disarranged in a manner which left no doubt, but that the cars had crushed the life out of the man before he was run over by the wheels.

One of the poor fellow's shoulders was broken and crushed and the other one was dislocated. The collar bone was broken as was his back. Every rib was disconnected from the spine and the majority of them crushed.

No man or crowd of men, the detective holds, could beat a man as to injure him in so horrible a manner. There are many however who are not yet satisfied as to how Beaton came to be laid out so naturally beside the track with his feet crossed and, with Dr. Bell, would like to know who wiped the blood from the dead man's face and afterwards wiped their hands on his clothing. There is a feeling prevalent, which cannot be assuaged, to the effect that even if Beaton was crushed by the cars, that somebody else had a hand in placing him in the position of peril in which he lost his life.

Detective Murray has not yet left town, and will in all probability investigate the statement of one of the G.T.R. employees to the effect that he saw and heard Beaton quarrelling with a negro near the station.

The remains were in erred this afternoon in the family plot in the Madoc cemetery. The relations of the deceased from Peterborough and Belleville attended the funeral in that place.

THE DOMINION HOUSE.

No Session on Monday—Mr. Mulock Attacks Kingston Military College.

OTTAWA, June 30.—The House of Commons has decided not to meet on Monday, which is to be observed as Dominion day. Although the session is already a long one. The Premier thought that that the general opinion of the members of the House was that Parliament should not sit on Canada's natal day.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier agreed to this, but impressed upon the Government the necessity of calling Parliament together in the future earlier than the month of March. The universal idea was that Parliament should always be summoned in January.

The house sat in concurrence for a couple of hours so as to finally pass enough of the estimates to put in a partial supply bill to enable the Government to carry on the affair of the country until such time as prorogation comes, as the fiscal year closes to-day. In concurrence Mr. Mulock made a strong attack against the Kingston Military College, which since its establishment a few years ago has cost nearly one million and a quarter dollars. There were only to-day 11 graduates employed in the military service of the Dominion. For this expenditure he accused the Government of keeping the college for the dispensing of patronage to its political favorites to the prejudice of the militia and the great loss of the country.

ORANGEISM AT BUCKHORN.

Opening of the New Hall of Wesley L. O. L., No. 419—A Delightful Day and a Large Gathering.

Yesterday was a great day for the Orangemen of North Smith, the occasion being the opening of the neat little new Orange hall of Wesley L. O. L., No. 419. This young but vigorous lodge, whose present master is Mr. Stephen Harrison, who was also the first master, was organized in the fall of 1893 and has now a membership of thirty five. Since the lodge was organized it has held its meetings at the residence of Mr. Robt. Northey, but this summer a neat little permanent home for No. 419 stands at the intersection of the Buckhorn road with the 16th concession, about three miles from the village. The hall is situated, facing the west, in a beautiful grove of young timber, cedar, pine, elm and maple. The building is 22x35 in area, and is constructed of matched pine with walls and ceilings of matched lumber. Above the master's chair is a handsomely framed portrait of Her Majesty the Queen, and several elegant emblematic pictures in sympathy with Orange ideas and principles adorn the walls. The mottoes, "No Surrender" and "Love the Brotherhood" also remind the brethren who meet in the hall of the cardinal principles of the Order.

The occasion attracted a large attendance of Orangemen and friends, ladies included. The members of L. O. L. 453, Harvey, with their friends came down in body, to assist their Smith brethren in opening the new hall.

There was no little disappointment caused by the failure of the most worshipful Grand Master or any Grand Lodge officials to be present either in person or by proxy as was arranged, consequently the ceremony of the formal dedication of the new building was postponed. But the large company present made use of the occasion to exchange greetings and enjoy friendly, neighbourly intercourse, while the services of several fifers and drummers were liberally given to provide music, whose lively strains and the surroundings suggested the Twelfth of July.

A welcome diversion was created by the announcement that the bountiful and tastefully appointed dinner, prepared by the ladies, was ready for the attention to which it was worthily and abundantly entitled, for the three large tables extending the whole length of the hall were twice filled with guests, who greatly enjoyed the excellent edibles provided.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Mr. Stratton, who was present by invitation, briefly addressed the gathering, expressing the pleasure it afforded him to accept the hospitality and kindness of the Orangemen of North Smith, and to join with them on the occasion of the opening of their pretty, new hall, which was a material embodiment of the thrift, enterprise, energy and loyalty to the order of L.O.L. 419. He had always received the greatest kindness from the members of the Order in that neighbourhood, and he had always tried, as he would do in the future, to reciprocate their kindness. He He could not give them the Orange grip, but he could extend to them the right hand of fellowship as neighbours and fellow citizens, and was glad to co-operate with them in promoting any cause that would tend to build up a strong, healthy sentiment of loyalty to Canadian interests, and the head of the great empire of which we formed a part—Her Majesty, the Queen. Mr. Stratton, on his departure for town, was serenaded and given three rousing cheers.

In the evening an entertainment was given in the Methodist church, near at hand, at which a fine programme was presented. Mr. D. H. Moore, town, occupied the chair, and after prayer by Rev. Mr. Hall, Grand Chaplain, L.T.B., gave an appropriate opening address and introduced the numbers of the following programme:

"Song of the Soldier".....the Choir
Club swinging.....Miss Sage
Address.....Rev. Mr. Hall
Piano solo. Prof. J. C. Crooms, recalled and sang
.....Marguerite
Recitation, "Catagorical Courtship,"...Mr. R. Harrison, as an encore, "Peter Sargin in love"
Violin duet.....Messrs. Crowe and Blewett
Address.....Mr. Roland McWilliams
"Call His name Jesus".....the Choir
Recitation, "Tommy and the Ginger-snaps"
.....Miss L. Pearson
Vocal Duet.....The Misses Nichols
"One day Nearer Home".....the Choir
God Save the Queen.

Miss Nichols ably presided at the organ.

The address of Rev. Mr. Hall inculcated loyalty—to God, to the Queen and to Canada.

Mr. R. McWilliams for a young orator, gave a very clever and instructive speech, dealing with much ability with the history of the Orange Order. His remarks were very warmly received.

The members of L.O.L. 419 are to be congratulated upon the great success that attended their efforts, and it was due to no fault of theirs that the formal dedication of the new hall, which will take place later on, was not accomplished.

"It has cured others and will cure you" is true only of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The motto suits the medicine and the medicine the motto. What better assurance could you have that a remedy will cure you, than the fact that it has cured such multitudes of others?

The Separate School Board at a meeting held on the evening of 29th inst., decided to introduce the Sisters of St. Jospeh to take charge of Lake street school—duties to commence after the mid-summer holidays. Three Sisters will be in charge at a total salary of $714.

The retiring teachers were voted suitable testimonials in acknowledgement of their services.

A number of A. P. S. pupils are writing on the entrance examination at Peterborough.

The school will (D.V.) re-open on Monday, August 27th, 1894. Pupils are requested to bring all necessary books, etc., and to come prepared to start to work at once. With this announcement of promotions, there need be no delay in the matter of organization.

Miss G. M. Galvin, who has had charge of the first class and part second (girls) intends to resume her own studies after vacation. Ashburnham public school is thus losing the services of an energetic and most efficient teacher.

Railway Accident in New Brunswick.

MONCTON, N.B., June 30.—Yesterday while the Salisbury and Harvey train was crossing the Harvey bridge it gave way precipitating the whole train, except the engine, which managed to cross, into the bed of the river, forty feet below. Fortunately the tide was out. Miss Coonan, of Harvey, was severely injured. A young lad named Copp escaped with little or no injuries. A Mrs. Smith, of Point de Bute, was hurt to some extent. Brakesman Mackay had a leg nearly severed just below the ankle. Conductor Downing was cut about the face. Postal Clerk Belyea, escaped unhurt, save a shaking up.

Mr. Booth Will Not Rebuild.

OTTAWA, June 30.—John R. Booth's decision not to rebuild his burned sawmill will throw a large number of people out of employment. He states that over 1,000 men have been put out of employment by the fire. The new mill has not a third the capacity of the old one and even with putting on a night gang there will still be over 650 men thrown out of employment, nearly all of whom have been brought up to work in and around the mills and do not care to do any other kind of labor and will even suffer the severest kinds of privations rather than look for work elsewhere.

The Owen Sound Hotel Robbery.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 30.—A burglary of a sum of $875 and $300 in notes was committed about a month ago at the Queen's hotel here. It appears that two youths are the guilty parties. They were at the time boarding at the Queen's and in some way obtained the key of the safe and made a duplicate. They were captured in the vicinity of Holland Centre, where they have been living a lordly life. Upon their arrest they confessed and $650 was recovered. They are now in the county jail here awaiting trial.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

INTERCOLONIAL TRADE

Discussed on the Quiet at the Conference at Ottawa.

ALL-BRITISH CABLE PROJECT

The New South Wales Delegate Strongly in Favor of the Scheme—Lord Rosebery Cables His Sympathy With the Work of the Conference.

OTTAWA, July 3.—At the meeting on Saturday of the colonial conference the sitting was devoted to a discussion of intercolonial trade.

Sir Adolphe Caron presided in the absence of Mr. Bowell, who went to Belleville to attend the funeral of his son-in-law.

After the meeting was over the Postmaster-General said that the only information that could be given to the press was that the whole forenoon was devoted to discussion of a notice of motion given by Sir Henry Wixon on the subject of intercolonial trade. Sir Adolphe refused to say what action had been taken on the resolution, or as to what was the character of it. It was decided before the conference adjourned that no information was to be given to the press, and that none of the delegates was to cable anything to his respective Governments.

Sir Adolphe Caron again presided at the meeting of the conference yesterday. The sitting, which was of course private, was devoted to the consideration of the project for laying a cable across the Pacific Ocean to connect British Columbia with Australia. A memorial from the Chamber of Commerce, of Sydney, New South Wales, was presented by Hon. F. B. Suttor, the delegate from that colony, declaring in favor of the proposed Pacific cable touching only upon British possessions.

Hon. F. B. Suttor then presented a resolution advocating the desirability of constructing the cable and suggesting the petitioning of the Imperial Government and the Governments of the various colonies concerned, including Canada, to grant a subsidy to the scheme.

Mr. Sandford Fleming read a paper at the conference on the scheme.

A cable was received yesterday from Lord Rosebery by Hon. Mackenzie Bowell which read as follows: "I am anxious to express to you as president the interest and sympathy with which I am watching the conference and proceedings which should be so happy an augury of the future of the Empire."

THE PLAGUE IN CHINA.

Many More Deaths Reported — Serious Situation in Corea.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The steamer Peru, from Hong Kong, brings news that the plague at Hong Kong has become worse. The disease has broken out in new districts. From the 7th to the 14th of June 701 persons died from the pest and 75,000 Chinese had fled from the city. It is reported a Chinese junk with passengers from Hong Kong, who were trying to escape from the plague, capsized and sank in Copo Si Moon Pass. Five British soldiers who were engaged in the enforcement of sanitary laws have fallen victims to the plague.

The steamer Peru brought a budget of news regarding the Corean rebellion. Disaster after disaster has been met by the government troops and the fall of the government was expected at any time. The garrison of the town of Zeonshu fell into the hands of the rebels on May 31.

KILLED AT A GARDEN PARTY.

A Young Man Stricken to Death by a Bolt of Lightning.

MILTON, Ont., July 3—A fatal accident occurred at a garden party held at the residence of J. F. Richardson, Lowville. About 4:30 a heavy thunderstorm came on with forked lightning. The people then flocked to the barn for shelter. The lightning struck the barn, passing down an upright post and killing one young man named Jas. Coulson, son of John Coulson, Kilbride. A number of people also received severe shocks. The lightning passed into the lower part of the barn, killing a very fine horse owned by Robt. Harrison, of Milton.

THROUGH THE TRESTLE

Serious Mishap on the C.P.R. in the State of Maine.

FOUR KILLED AND ONE MISSING

The Cause of the Accident Given as the Work of Train Wreckers—The Trestle Work Said to Have Been in an Unsafe Condition.

BANGOR, July 3.—The Montreal express on the Canadian Pacific railroad, due here yesterday morning, went through a trestle between Askwith and Moose Head. Three or four passengers were killed and a number injured. The train was reported on time with a number of passengers for the Bangor and Aroistook road. A special train with physicians is on the way to the scene of the accident. The Halifax express is stalled here on account of the accident. Those killed are a passenger named Hoyt, Engineer Leavitt, Agent Foss, of Greenville, and Mail Clerk Starkey. The injured are Fireman McDonald, Baggagemaster Helly, Agent C. C. Grant, of Jackman, and News Agent Devine.

ST. JOHN, N.B., July 3.—The Montreal express, due here at one o'clock yesterday, is not expected before one or two o'clock. It is very hard to get information from the officials in this city, who declare they know little about the sad affair. It is known, however, that all the cars except the sleeper went through the trestle work at Mosehead, 48 miles from Brownsville, on the Atlantic division, about 5 o'clock in the morning, and that Engineer Leavitt, Mail Clerk Starkie, F. Foss, station agent at Greenville, who was a passenger on the train, and a second-class passenger named Hoyt, from Fort Fairfield, were killed. Another second-class passenger whose name is unknown is missing and is supposed to be under the wrecked cars. The official cause of the accident is given as the work of train wreckers. It is said three heavy sleepers were placed on the track at the bridge and that the brakes on the engine and cars were found hard down, which is taken to indicate that the engineer had seen the obstruction and was doing his best to stop the train before reaching it. Whether or not that is the cause can only be conjectured, for the engineer will never tell his story.

That the trestle gave way when the heavy train left the rails and went pounding over the ties is not at all surprising. On the other hand, it is stated that this trestle work has been in a dangerous condition for some time and that at least one well known mail clerk who was on the run between this city and Montreal succeeded in getting transferred for fear of an accident.

Railway Mail Clerk Starkie, who was killed, is a native of this city, where his wife and family reside. He has been twenty-two years in the railway and mail service.

DROWNING AT THAMESVILLLE.

Mr. John Ferguson, a Well-Known Lumberman, Loses His Life.

THAMESVILLE, Ont., July 3.—A melancholy accident happened at Morpeth dock on Saturday whereby this village loses an old and honored citizen. Mr. John Ferguson, an elder brother and partner of Robert Ferguson, M.P.P., went out with his family on Wednesday to their summer residence on Lake Erie, just west of Morpeth dock. He arose early on Sunday morning, according to his usual custom, and went out for a walk. About 6 a.m. Mr. Moore, of Bothwell, who occupies a neighboring cottage, saw him sitting on the outer end of the dock with his feet hanging over the edge and his hat on the dock by his side. When the family were ready for breakfast, Mrs. Ferguson went out to call her husband, but not finding him in any of his usual haunts, she with some more of the household went down on the dock, where the hat was discovered.

The news of Mr. Ferguson's disappearance and the finding of his hat soon spread, a messenger coming to Thamesville to inform his brothers, Mr. R. Ferguson, M.P.P., and Mr. James Ferguson left immediately for the lake and found their brother's body just taken from the water.

When found the body was lying on the west side of the dock, half way out from the shore in 16 feet of water. Mr. Ferguson had evidently fallen off the dock accidentally and tried to swim ashore, but became exhausted and sank after swimming some 80 yards. Deceased was in his 69th year. He was born in Stirlingshire, Scotland, and came to Canada when a young man, first settling in Perth County, then Toronto and finally Kent County, where as senior member of the well known lumbering firm and R. Ferguson he amassed his fortune.

A Veteran of 1812.

MONCTON, N. B., July 3.—Morin Girouard, one of the last surviving veterans of the war of 1812, died at St. Marys, Kent County, at 100 years of age. His grandfather, Gerito Girouard, was for a time after the expulsion of the Acadians from Port Royal, a political prisoner at Halifax. After being released he moved to New Brunswick, locating near Fredricton, later moving to Moncton and subsequently to Kent County where Morin Girouard was born in 1794. Deceased was drafted by British officers when 18 years of age, and up to the time of his death told thrilling stories of the campaign of 1812 and 1814. He smoked, and drank hard liquor all his life, dying of gangrene of the lower limbs.

Drowned in Toronto Bay.

TORONTO, July 3—Another drowning accident occurred in the bay on Saturday night. Some boys were playing with an old raft in Scott street slip, when one of them, Frank McGregor, aged 10, stepson of James Gibb, caretaker of the Royal Insurance Building, Yonge and Wellington streets, missed his footing and fell into the slip. Teddy Marshall, a companion, grabbed the boy as he was going down and was pulling him on the raft when young McGregor caught hold of Marshall's legs and to save his own life Teddy had to let go his hold and young McGregor was drowned.

Prospect of a Speedy Settlement of the Great Struggle.

VIOLENCE TO U. S. DEPUTIES

A Force of Two Hundred Disarmed and Beaten by the Strikers at Blue Island on the R. I.—The Greatest Labor Struggle in History.

CHICAGO, July 3.—The name of George M. Pullman will go down in history as the central figure of the greatest strike inaugurating the most tremendous as well as most disastrous labor agitation of the nineteenth century. The fame of notoriety of Eugene V. Debs and George W. Howard will be familiar in later years as the leaders of the laboring classes in the fiercest, most stupendous battle ever waged between capital and labor. The Pullman boycott and the union of twenty-seven railroad managers in a defensive alliance against what until now has appeared to be a mushroom organization, originated by professional agitators, marks the beginning of a combat which, be the results what they may, cannot fail to mark the beginning of a new era, both politically and financially. Defeat by either side means death to the several interests involved. This much and more was demonstrated when in the heat of passion, spurred on by speeches calculated to arouse the utmost enthusiasm among laboring men, the many trade and labor unions of the city and state through representatives voted to sustain the American Railway Union in its fight against the Pullman company and the railroads now represented in the general managers' association.

A meeting of chiefs of labor organization in Chicago was held at the headquarters of the American Railway Union for the ostensible purpose of passing resolutions renouncing the hiring of armed forces by corporations to oppose the rights of the order. The question announced as involved was barely touched upon at the meeting. The resolution passed bearing chiefly on the attitude of the state officials and asking for the abrogation of franchises held by the railroads under the state law, which, it is claimed, is being violated by the roads in refusing to supply transportation facilities unless they are permitted to run Pullman cars. The most important clauses of the resolution bearing upon the action of state officials were drafted by a woman, Mrs. Fanny Kavanaugh. The swinging into line of the many trade unions present was brought about by speeches made by all the prominent labor leaders of the city and state.

Another conference between P. H. Stuedbaker, of the Pullman Company, and President Debs and other officials of the American Railway Union was held yesterday. The announcement was made that no definite proposals had been made by Mr. Stuedbaker, but on the strength of the statements made, President Debs said that a settlement of the great strike would probably be effected within the next three or four days.

The firemen on the Illinois Central Railroad have refused to work while non-union switchmen are employed on the road.

The crucial point in the strike will be reached at midnight. This is the opinion confidentially expressed at the headquarters of the railway managers. It is likewise the first expression emanating from the managers and since the commencement of hostilities with which the representatives of the strikers are in complete accord. Both elements are sanguine that the beginning of the end will be in sight to-night.

The day was more prolific of rumors and scares than of actual developments. The federal and county officials continued to swear in deputies, and an army of over 2,000 of the toughest looking citizens that Cook County can produce, armed to the teeth and wearing the insignia of State or National authority is subject to orders.

The news from the various roads in and about the city, summed up by the general managers, who are in close telegraphic communication with all lines, is briefly as follows: The Illinois Central and the Rock Island are in the worst straits. Rioting has been general along both lines, with the principal battle ground at Blue Island on the latter road. Some 900 deputy marshals and deputy sheriffs were simply powerless in the hands of the 9,000 strikers and sympathizers. They were disarmed and forced to flee for their lives and U. S. Marshal Arnold was severely pounded and maltreated. None of the inhabitants will furnish food to the deputies and there is a demand for troops of any description. The strikers have placed a car across the track and have no respect for the injunction granted.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 3—The first show of violence has just occurred in the Minneapolis and St. Louis yards. The switchmen attacked the brakemen on the trains which were starting and with a view to pulling them off the trains. A squad of police was at once started for the yards.

Murder and Suicide.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 3.—Henry Vogler, aged 49, shot and instantly killed William Stutz, aged 50. Vogler then fired a bullet into his own brain and died two hours later. It is believed that Stutz was intimate with Vogler's wife.

Killed Her Four Children.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., July 3.—Mrs. Mitchell Baker, 22 years old, who murdered her four children at Montgomery on Saturday has become somewhat calmer since her confinement in jail here, and relates additional details of the events which led to the horrible crime. She protests her utter unconsciousness of the details of the deed itself, affirming that she was under the influence of morphine which she had taken to kill herself. Her maiden name was Lottie Plum, and she was born of French-Canadian parents.

A Respite for Prendergast.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Judge Payne has granted a stay of execution in the case of assassin Prendergast, because of the present hearing. Prendergast's hanging was set for July 2, but the court announced that the execution of the sentence will be deferred until the present hearing is concluded.

MISS O'BRIEN'S PRIZE ESSAY ON "LIBERTY."

A Fine Example of Condensed Common Sense and Vigorous and Concise Literary Quality.

The award in the competition, open to advanced Collegiate Institute pupils, for the prize presented by Mr. Hampden Burnham for the best essay on "Liberty," has been made, and falls to Miss L'zzie O'Brien, sister of one of the masters of the Institute. The Rev. Herbert Symonds, M. A., St. Luke's, was the judge and he expressed a very high opinion of the ability and attainments of the writer. The conditions under which the award was made were very strict. There were several competitors. Miss O'Brien was educated at the Convent, Peterborough, the Collegiate Institute here, and the Ottawa Normal School.

LIBERTY.

"True liberty really consists in living according to law and right reason. It belongs only to those who are endowed with reason; for he only is master of his actions who can choose one thing out of many. Since it is possessed by those only who can choose the good and avoid the evil, it must be directed by reason, and this subordination to reason is subjection to law. If we act in accordance with reason, we act in ascordance with our own free will, and this, certainly, is liberty. But if we act in opposition to reason, and do not act in accordance with our own will, we are thus the slaves, as it were, of whatever prompts us to act in that way. Liberty, then, is guided by the natural law, or the law of reason, but now we must seek for a guide for reason, and first let us see what should be its guide in matters relating to government, or in other words, what is meant by civil or political liberty.

"Government under some form has existed in every age; we read in history of no time when men lived without it. Even the rudest savages are divided into tribes and clans, each acknowledging a head and manifesting some degree of subordination. Without it, every one would have a right to all; and, owing to the natural selfishness of man, this would lead to a state of perpetual war, for each would seek to appropriate all to himself, and there would be no security to persons, and no such thing as property. And what is this which is so necessary to the well-being of man—this government, which, under some form, has always existed? The nature of government, whatever be its form, is to govern. It, therefore, involves two correlative terms — the governor and the governed. These cannot be identical, for to govern is to restrain, to guide; and certainly the restrained cannot be the restrainer, nor the guided the guide. Therefore, government not only involves two TERMS, but these terms represent two distinct realities. Now, we shall call that which governs the sovereign; and if we understand by this, that what has a right to govern, that is, the legitimate sovereign, we can see at once what should guide our reason in political matters, and can easily for civil or political liberty.

"Civil or political liberty is freedom from all obligation to obey any commands but those of the legitimate sovereign. Tyranny does not consist in being bound to obey, but in being forced to ey, contrary to our will, that which is not commanded by the legitimate sovereign. To be under no obligation to obey, is not liberty, but license, and is incompatible with the well-being of the individual, and of society. Liberty is not exemption from all restraints, nor from all but those which are self-imposed, but it is freedom from all restraints excepting those imposed by this legitimate higher power. The governed, then, are morally bound to obey; and to every loyal man, who has a sense of power above him, to which he owes allegiance, obedience must be in accordance with reason. The man who has no sense of po er above him, which he is bound to obey, and to which he owes allegiance, is no good citizen, but 'Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils;

Let no such man be trusted."

Now, our great concern must be to find out who or what this true sovereign is for we cannot have a clear notion of civil; liberty till we have discovered what is the real nature of that government whose laws we are bound to obey. If people believed that law was a mere outcome of a human will, an agreement among the the people, they would not feel it their duty to obey, for duties are matters of a higher character than bargains or agreements. What effect could law have on our consciences if we saw nothing in it but the will of our fellow-beings—nothing holy or divine? Plainly, to feel ourselves bound to obey, we must see something higher than the people, which has a right to command, and which is itself free from all objection. Christians can see no one but God, who has a right to command them. But God must have on earth, some representatives, human delegates, who are authorized to interpret His will. And who are these? St. Paul answers the question:—"Let every soul be subject to the higher powers; for there is no power but from God; and those that are, are ordained of God. Therefore, he that resisteth the power resisteth the ordinance of God * * * Wherefore, be subject of necessity, not only for wrath, but for conscience sake."—(Rom. xiii. 1-5.)

Hence, we see that we are obliged to obey civil power,

BECAUSE IT IS ORDAINED OF GOD,

but while it subjects us to the state, it makes the state subject to divine sovereignty. If civil authority pronounces itself unanswerable to God for its actions, then there is no reason why we should be subject to the state; and to bind us to obedience to the state, under those circumstances would be the vilest encroachment on our liberty. The rightful sovereign, then, for whom we sought, and whom we are bound to obey, is the representative of God, among men; and this so far as it concerns the outward actions of men, in their purely human relations, is civil authority.

"But, to make a slight digression, though I believe, as I have shown, the governments exist by divine appointment I do not wish to leave the impression that I think as did the advocates of that theory in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. For they erred, I think, not in contending that no government not founded on divine right can be legitimate, but in claiming that right for certain individuals or ministries. Constituted authority rules by divine right, whether it receives power by appointment, or whether it inherits that power.

"In religion, as in political matters, liberty is guided by reason, and this, in turn, is guided by the representative of God on earth, the Church. This has a right to decide authoritatively on all matters relating to faith and practice, but has the right to enforce its creed only by appeals to conscience—by guiding reason. Should the Church enforce by physical pains and penalties, obedience to the doctrines she teaches, she, in so far, as she does this, ceases to be the Church of Christ. For to follow the spirit of Christ, the Church must allow the largest amount of religious liberty.

"Liberty, as we have seen, is guided by the law of reason, and this, in turn, by the authority of God commanding good and forbidding evil. And so far from this most equitable authority of God over his creatures diminishing their liberty, it perfects it; for the perfection of anything, is the attainment of the end in view, and the only end to which human liberty can aspire is God.

The more we avoid doing what is wrong, the nearer we arrive at the possession of liberty, for we cannot at once possess perfect liberty, and deflect in the least from good. If we could, then the Author of all freedom would possess no liberty at all, or would have less than man, for, though he is supremely free, he cannot choose evil.

LIZZIE O'BRIEN,
Collegiate Institute, (Form IV.)

NOTE—In preparing this essay, I have read several works on "Liberty," with some of which I agreed, and with others of which I did not. The thoughts which I have tried to express, represent my views on the subject for the time being, but in how far they are original, the reader must be judge. L. O'B.

Paper Mouthpieces for Telephones.

In Germany it is believed that the telephone can transmit disease, not, of course, along its wire but by means of the mouthpiece. In order to avoid this a new telephone has been introduced, the speaking part of which is made upon the same principle as a blotting pad, so that each person who has finished talking can tear off a sheet of paper, thus leaving a fresh, clean mouthpiece for the next comer.

There has been a marked change in the fashion of Fourth of July celebrations since Capt. Marryat visited the country in 1838. LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago, stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

MR. QUINN AND MR. KENNEDY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Would you kindly oblige our association by publishing the following resolutions which were passed in our lodge. Mr. Quinn was present when our new lodge was organized, and knows well that it was the unanimous wish of all that Bro. Kennedy should be our president and it was only because he was at that time a member of another lodge he was not appointed. We did, however, elect him our delegate to the county association, which I think was pretty clear proof that Bro. Kennedy had our confidence.

Another statement in Mr. Quinn's letter is looked upon by us with disapproval.

He says that Mr. Kennedy could not get a score of votes in his own township. Now I know that is not so, for when Mr. Kennedy ran for deputy reeve against one of the most popular and respectable men in Otonabee and who also lives in the same division Mr. Kennedy was only nine votes behind in his own division, while he was 21 ahead in the next division so that in the two western divisions of the townships he was only defeated by a small majority—the smallest, I think, that any reeve was ever elected by in Otonabee.

THOS. HUSTON,
President.

The following are the resolutions referred to above:

COLD SPRINGS, Otonabee, June 22nd, 1894. Cold Springs Association, Patrons of Industry, in regular session assembled: Moved by D. Speers, seconded by Thomas Siasons, that we, the members of this Association, Patrons of Industry, having read in this week's EXAMINER a letter signed by Wm. Quinn, of Douro, in which certain statements are made concerning our neighbour, Mr. Dawson Kennedy, as to his connection with our Order, do hereby declare that from our personal knowledge of the facts referred to, we know that said statements are not only untrue, but they are maliciously false, and wholy without foundation, and we hereby request our president and secretary to publish a statement, signed by them on behalf of this Association, setting forth the feelings and sentiments of the lodge towards Bro. Kennedy

THOS. HUSTON, President. S. SHAUGHNESSY, Secretary.

Coldsprings Association, Patrons of Industry, in regular session assembled:

JUNE 22nd, 1894.

Moved by P. McMartin, seconded by Robt. Chambers, that this association do hereby unanimously extend a hearty invitation to Bro. Dawson Kennedy to become a member of this lodge.—Carried unanimously.

YANKEE LUMBERMEN EXCITED.

They Claim the Wilson Tariff Will Ruin the American Industry.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 3.—A meeting of the lumber exchange was held yesterday to take action on the clause in the Tariff Bill placing lumber in a finished condition on the free list. M. S. Burns presided, and the secretary read a number of letters from prominent lumber dealers in the different lake cities asking that the association take action by sending a delegation to Washington, or otherwise to protect the lumber interest of the lake. Mr. Burns explained that the putting of half and whole finished lumber on the free list meant nothing more than the extinction of our planing mills and the transfer of the industry of Bay City, Buffalo and Tonawanda to Canada.

At the present time there is a duty of $1.50 on lumber dressed on one side and of $2.50 on lumber dressed on both sides. Every lumber merchant present seemed to regard a repeal of these duties as a blow struck at the lumber market of the United States.

George Elias, the big lumber man on Elk street, said that if he owned lumber mills in Canada he would welcome free lumber, but that as an American he had no use for it, and offered a preamble and resolutions to the effect that the Buffalo Lumber Exchange was unalterably opposed to lumber being placed on the free list as detrimental to the interests of American labor.

James Hurd, of Hurd Bros., said that the freight would not compensate for the taking off of the tariff.

A letter was read from a Michigan Congressman, whose name was not mentioned, saying that the only result of putting lumber on the free list would be to give the planing mill industry of the United States to Canada and throw thousands of people out of employment. Donald Leslie followed, denouncing the free lumber business as an outrage on the American workman.

Mr. Montgomery, of Holland, Graves & Montgomery, said that if dressed lumber was placed on the free list it would be just so much money taken out of our pockets and given to the Canadians.

After a long and animated discussion Messrs. Elias, Hurd and Montgomery were appointed to draw up resolutions to be forwarded to Washington, giving the sense of the meeting. The resolutions as drafted by the committee were unanimously adopted.

THE BABY ONCE MORE.

Serious Facts for the Consideration of Mothers.

All wise people will readily admit that, for young infants, the ideal food is healthy mother's milk, but when this is out of the question, a prepared infant food must be used. This prepared food should closely resemble healthy human milk.

It is now admitted everywhere that Lactated Food is the best substitute in the world for breast milk. Its basis is the same as that of mother's milk, that is sugar of milk; and with it are combined the nutritive qualities of the great cereals, wheat, barley and oats, so prepared as to be readily digested and assimilated. The efficacy of the nutritive qualities of Lactated Food has long been acknowledged by the medical profession. No other food in the world has received such hearty recommendations and praise from mothers.

It is the only food in the world that can ward off dysentery and cholera infantum; and it can truly be said that Lactated Food saves the babies from death.

Every mother should give her infant Lactated Food if it is not progressing in health and growth. One week's feeding with the great food will satisfy any mother of its virtues and superiority.

BURIAL OF CARNOT.

France's Murdered President Laid to Rest in the Pantheon.

PARIS, July 3.—The body of France's martyred President, Marie Francois Sadi-Carnot, murdered at Lyons by Anarchist Santo Cesario, was laid away on Sunday in the pantheon beside the resting place of his grandfather, Lazare Carnot, the illustrious "Organizer of Victory."

The funeral was made the occasion for a remarkable civic and military display, an object lesson teaching France's respect for her dead President, and her abhorrence of assassination.

Two hundred suspected anarchists were arrested during the morning.

People eager to be on the route of the procession began early on Saturday evening to gather along the Champs Elysees, the Rue de Rivoli and about the streets on the Ile de la Cite, upon which Notre Dame stands. There they remained all night, quiet and mournful, discussing the tragedy and cursing the assassin.

By 3 o'clock in the morning the streets along the line of march were crowded. By 6 o'clock the Place de la Concorde, situated between the Champs Elysees and the Jardin des Tuileries, was black with people. Every point of vantage was occupied, fabulous sums having been paid for the use of houses, windows and balconies from which to view the cortege.

All classes, young and old, rich and poor, crowded to the funeral from all parts of Paris and from every department of France. Incoming trains were packed. The hotels overflowed. Extravagant figures were paid for vehicles of all descriptions, which were stationed wherever the police would allow them to stand, the occupants having refreshments for a day.

Requiem services were held in most of the leading cities of Europe.

In Berlin the services were held in the Roman Catholic church of St. Hedwig. Gen. Winterfeld was present in behalf of Emperor William and the Chancellor.

In St. Petersburg the services were in St. Catherine's Catholic church. The Grand Duke Alexis represented the Czar. Other Grand Dukes and Ministers were present.

Services in the Catholic cathedral in Constantinople were attended by representatives of the Sultan, King Alexander of Servia and the Khedive.

In Madrid the Duke of Medina represented the Queen Regent at the mass said for the repose of the soul of France's dead President.

The neighborhood of the British Embassy on the Fausbourg St. Hon'ore, near the Elysee was so thronged on Saturday evening that many who wished to get away to obtain food were unable to do so. Lady Dufferin, wife of the British Ambassador, felt so much pity for them she instructed her servants to distribute all the refreshments possible to the throng outside the Embassy doors. Her example was followed by occupants of a number of adjoining mansions.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknesses" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use.

It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will cure in all cases of disease for for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Picnickers Meet With a Mishap.

MONTREAL, July 3.—What came near being a disaster took place last night near this city. A large picnic party, composed of the advanced guard of the delegates to the great prohibition convention, which takes place here next week, went to Isle Heron, some distance from the city. When the party was returning in the evening the steamer Isle Heron ran aground in the river. A terrible rain and thunder storm came on and consternation ensued. The passengers were cut off from the shore. The steamer is safe, however, but the picnickers had to pass the night on board.

Dominion Day in Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 3.—Dominion day was enthusiastically honored here. The wheelmen's great meet and the other sporting events attracted large crowds. The day was generally observed as a holiday by the English parties of the community, but the French portion did business as usual. Some of the French papers declare that confederation has been a failure as far as the French-Canadians are concerned, and that their rights have been systematically attacked under it.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

A THRILLING INCIDENT OCCURS AT LAKEFIELD.

An Island Moves Half a Mile in From the Lake and Anchors near Shore.

The minature cyclone which passed over this section yesterday, had a most singular and startling effect on the centre of the three islands in the channel of the lake, about a half mile from Lakefield.

Shortly after the storm had subsided the island was observed by the villagers to be towards the shore with the current, and to the astonishment of all it presently moored itself about forty or fifty yards from the wharf, directly opposite the Tremont House.

SLOWLY BUT STEADILY MOVING

The island has always heretofore been regarded as a fixture, and is composed of seemingly solid ground, on which is a luxuriant growth of grass. No one can understand or attempt to though the internal arrangements of the island must have been out of gear for some time, as lately, waterspouts have been noticed rising from it to quite a considerable height in the air.

The story of the strange trip of the island, almost paralleling that of the disappearance of the famous has caused hundreds of people to drive in from the surrounding country to view the restless piece of soil.

Mr. Bowman, the host of the Tremont, has an idea of fixing the island up for campers, but until there is some assurance of its remaining where it now is, it will hardly be occupied by any tenants.

At present the strip of land is densely populated with frogs which are being killed and deprived of their legs by the hundreds.

A HOME WEDDING IN ASHBURNHAM.

The Hall-Ludgate Nuptials—A Trip to the Upper Lakes.

An exceedingly pretty wedding was solemnized at "Highland Hall" the residence of Mr. Theo. Ludgate, Ashburnham, this afternoon when Rev. E. F. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's, united in marriage Mr. R. R. Hall, of the legal firm of Stratton & Hall, and Miss Clara E., youngest daughter of the late John Ludgate, of Ashburnham.

The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white silk, trimmed with lace, and carried an exquisite shower bouquet of roses. She was given away by her brother, Mr. Theodore Ludgate. Her bridesmaid was Miss Sophia Cameron and the groom was assisted by Mr. W. A. Stratton.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, which took place at 2:45 o'clock, the assembled guests partook of a charming wedding dejeuner, which had been prepared, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hall left to take the afternoon train for the Superior lakes, where the honeymoon will be spent.

Among the guests who were present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall, of Cambray, father and mother of the groom; Miss Allen, of Cobourg; Miss Mills, of Boston and Miss Ludgate, of Baltimore. The circumstances of the parties to this auspicious union call for special congratulation. The fair bride to personal attractions to an unusual degree, adds qualities of mind, character, disposition and accomplishments which specially fit her to make a happy home. Mr. Hall is a young man enjoying a high degree of personal popularity. He is a rising young barrister of the legal firm of Stratton & Hall, and has already made his mark in his profession. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall are to be warmly felicitated upon their happy entrance into the married state which their hosts of friends heartily wish may be one of uninterrupted peace and prosperity.

A BUFFALO CRIME.

A Woman Found Strangled in a House of Assignation.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 3.—A woman was strangled to death in a house of assignation on Elliott street.

About 11 o'clock at night a man and a woman presented themselves at the house and asked to be assigned a room. The woman who let them in and showed them to the room gave no particular attention to the couple except that she observed that the man called the woman Pearl.

The woman Pearl was found lying face downward on the floor, half way under the bed. Her pocketbook, opened and empty, lay right in the middle of her back, where she could not have placed it herself. She wore all her clothes. Around her neck was tied a piece of petticoat, which had been drawn so tightly as to cause strangulation. From the position which the body occupied, and the fact that the empty pocketbook lay on her back, it was evident that the deed was committed by some one else. Upon examining the body and clothing at the morgue the name "Pearl Ross" was found on the inside of the collar of a pink shirt waist which the woman wore.

The police have learned that the true name of the murdered woman was Josie Bennett. She belonged in a little town in Monroe county, below Rochester. Her family is respectable, but she has been leading a fast life for some time. She adopted "Pearl" as her fancy name, and by that name was known by her companions.

On Friday evening she engaged a room on Elliott street and started to room there. It was early in the evening when she engaged the room, and then she started out upon the streets. Toward midnight she met a hackman, who had been her companion for several weeks, and told him she was going to her room. At 2 a.m. he went there, but hearing voices turned and went out. He called out and a man's voice answered. The story of how the woman met the man who was then in her room leads to a belief that there was a previous engagement.

The police have arrested Towe, the hackman, and with him two women, who occupied rooms adjoining those of the dead woman, and another inmate of the house known as "Patsy the Hustler." All are locked up and Towe now shows signs of great nervousness. The police believe that Towe went to the woman's room earlier than 2 o'clock, the time when he says he found some man with her, and that he killed her in a passion and prevailed on the other women to help him cover up the crime by inventing the story of her meeting with a stranger. It is learned that Towe and the woman had quarrelled frequently, and he had beaten her on one occasion. The autopsy will be held to-morrow. This murder, the third of a sensational character in Buffalo in two months, created great excitement in the tenderloin district.

BIRTH.

MARRIED.

LINTON—WALLACE—On Wednesday, June 27, 1894, at the residence of Mr. David Lewis, Water street, Peterborough, by the Rev. E. F. Torrance, Mr. James A. Linton, of Alnwick, to Miss Isabella Wallace, of Peterborough.

AN UTTERLY UNFOUNDED RUMOUR.

A rumour has been sedulously circulated in town for some days to the effect that Mr. Stratton, who was elected by an unprecedentally large majority for West Peterborough on June 28th, is to resign his seat in the legislature to permit Hon. Mr. Harty, who was defeated in Kingston, to contest the riding. This rumour is utterly and entirely unfounded and incorrect. It originated in the fertile and speculative imagination of the editor of the Toronto News, and has been repeated in Peterborough doubtless by those who think they have some reason for their action. It is only necessary to give the rumour a distinct and decided denial. Mr. Stratton has a higher ideal of the duties of a representative and of the responsibility of a trust derived from the people, than to think that, because he was elected by an overwhelming majority, he holds the west riding in the hollow of his hand and is at liberty to turn it over at will to any person. Mr. Stratton has been honoured with a most flattering mark of confidence, and he wishes the electors to understand that he values this to highly to resign it, except for the most imperative reasons. While the people wish him for their representative, he will retain the position and serve the people to the best of his ability and endeavour in every possible way to promote the material interests of West Peterborough. Mr. Stratton is not looking for office; and consequently has no desire or motive to rid himself of the representative responsibility the people have placed upon him. If he should ever entertain any idea of resigning his position he will feel it his duty to take his constituents into his confidence and consult with them upon so important a matter. To another absurd rumour, that Mr. Stratton intends resigning to become a candidate for the House of Commons, the same explicit denial and the same remarks are made and are applicable. We had not intended making any reference to such rumours, but in justice to those who gave Mr. Stratton such important support, such statements as made above are called for.

CANADA'S NATAL DAY IN PETERBOROUGH.

THE TOWN THRONGED WITH VISITORS.

EVERYTHING SATISFACTORY.

The Calithumpian Procession Scored a Great Success—The Sports at the Driving Park Brought a Big Crowd Down to the Grounds—The Fireworks Display Postponed but Will Come off Later in the Week.

Canada's natal day has come and gone and nowhere was the First celebrated more heartily than in Peterborough.

The excitement always incidental to the great national holiday may be said to have been inaugurated here on Saturday evening. When the strains of martial music were heard to which the gallant 57th marched away, the town became alive to the fact that Dominion Day was at hand.

On Sunday flags were flying from the government buildings and by Monday bunting was strung and streamers streaming from the windows of nearly all the hotels and a large number of the business houses and from quite a few of the private residences as well. The Stars and Stripes floated gayly from the consulate flag pole in courtesy to the citizens. Nothing can so make a town assume a gala appearance as a liberal display of bunting and it was a pity that more of the citizens did not follow the example of those who decorated for the occasion.

Hundreds congregated at the G.T.R. station at an early hour to witness the arrival of visitors by the local trains on that line. A big crowd was brought in from Port Hope and intermediate points and even more by the 8.15 train from Belleville, Campbellford alone contributing several hundred of her citizens. The I.O.O.F. silver band from Belleville and the Campbellford fire brigade arrived on this train and the local firemen were at the station in a body to meet them. All and headed by the band marched up town. The bandsmen at ten o'clock gave an open air concert in the Court House Park, which was hugely enjoyed. The French horns with their soft dulcet notes added greatly to the effectiveness of the music rendered. Belleville has reason to be proud of her band.

A great many of the visitors had brought their lunch baskets with them to town and together with quite a number of the citizens picnicked under the trees in the Court House Park, which the strangers praised most loudly as being one of the most neatest kept and prettily terraced squares conceivable.

The procession was announced to take place at noonday, but it was almost an hour later when with "wild whoop and yell and wild haloo", a score of Indians dashed up George street. Thousands lined the streets and the Indians kept things lively until the procession started about half an hour later. These Indians were the source of constant laughter and fear throughout the day. One of them came an awful cropper with his horse on top of him near the C.P.R. station during the afternoon, but by a miracle escaped injury and a moment later was wildly careening on his way to the grounds again. In was no uncommon sight to see two and three Indians all on one and the same horse endeavouring to lash the poor brutes into a run around the track. They were everywhere and no man's life or limb was safe unless he was perched up in the grand stand. Boys before them. Later in the afternoon the troop came up town and made business brisk for the hotelmen, riding their horses into the bars and around the ground floors and in fact "raising Cain" in general.

The Calithumpian and Trades procession was a good one and no two ways about it. Each and every feature was a success and the crowd was well satisfied with the display and the hearty laughter and shouts of applause marked the appreciation at every point. Though quite a few floats were provided by private individuals the bulk of the procession was gotten up under the eye of the Fire Brigade and too much credit cannot be conceded the boys for the way they worked in connection with the whole demonstration.

The first feature of the procession was a clown seated in an odd little two-wheeled affair, "Manufactured by Yelland," and driving a tiny pony. Then came the band, a tin band at that, a musical evolution of the Giant T, and surely capable of producing the most discordant notes ever conceived. A "German Medley" wouldn't be in it with the music these chaps produced out of their tin instruments.

The float entitled "Our Dominion" was indeed a pretty one. On a raised dias sat enthroned young Miss Canada with a score of little girls sitting at her feet each and every one waving a Union Jack. The float itself was draped and festooned in folds of bunting and was one of the most attractive in the procession. The little girls were all similarly attired in white gowns faced with scarlet.

Jordan Brothers' wagon was built high with a pyramid of potted plants and cut flowers and altogether looked most attractive.

Hall, Gilchrist & Co's. float was

and evidenced plainly that no inconsiderable amount of labour and trouble had been needed to perfect it. It consisted of a handsomely draped dome supported on uprights wound with red, white and blue bunting. In fact the whole float was a mass of bunting. The carpet department had contributed some of its handsome rolls and a dozen clerks were inside seated upon them.

The take off on the city fathers and it didn't need a placard on the different members to identify them with the Aldermen whom they were supposed to represent. They sat in council under a huge umbrella and talked as much and accomplished little less than the body which sits in monthly conclave in the Council Chamber.

WAS SIMPLY IMMENSE

Mr. Adam Hall's float was another of the good ones. It had an iron roof with neatly manufactured eavetroughs, etc., and the work of making stove pipes, tinware, etc., went on busily. It was perfectly gotten up and reflected credit on the designer.

One of Gough Brothers' big floats came next. It attracted a great deal of attention as upon it was a group of Indians engaged in a war-dance. It was draped with white bunting, on which the firm made a good display of advertising.

China Hall was well represented by a large platform on wheels upon which were arranged the big crates in which their large importations are received from the old country.

Frank Fairen, always to the front, had a miniature "Pullman" mounted on wheels for the occasion. A perfect bar was equipped, and round it were gathered a group who appeared to be enjoying themselves in sampling Frank's excellent stock of liquors.

A crowd of little gaffers flocked after the joint float put on by Miss Rudkins and Mr. Alex. Elliott. It was tastefully decorated with flags and streamers and tenanted by half a dozen little Japanese girls who distributed packages of candy among the crowd.

The Canadian Canoe Company as an

had a neat steam launch mounted on wheels for the occasion. Steam was up and its shrill little whistle constantly directed attention to itself. It was indeed a trim little craft and similar in pattern to the half dozen or so which the company has already turned out this year.

The Darktown Fire Brigade was a good take off and strongly reminiscent of the comic pictures of the adventures of this corps, which are always in evidence around a fire hall. A score or more of darkies dragged along an old fashioned reel and fire engine which looked as though they might have come out of the ark. John Greer was the chief, Pennington Alexander, Captain, and F. E. Nesbitt, secretary.

Mr. A. E. Micks' float was a good advertisement of his business. It was all strung with the articles usually found in a hardware and tin shop and his men were busily engaged around a minature furnace in the manufacture of tins, etc.

The comic float entitled "The Wedding of Peterborough and Ashburnham," was a stunner and provoked roars of laughter. The groom was loving, but the bride was coy, and it was amusing to note the blandishments with which he strove to persuade her to accompany him to the altar.

The Morning Times had a most realistic float in the procession. The typos were all at work at their cases, but it was doubtless meant to portray the scene the day after a holiday, as each and every one, from the sporting editor to the devil, mounted a plug hat.

The Lock Works availed themselves of the opportunity to advertise their picnic, as a big streamer set forth.

A FIDDLER AND FOUR COUPLE had hard work to keep their feet on the float, but the quartette went merrily on notwithstanding.

Mr. R. Arnott had a cheese box manufactory rigged out on a small scale, and had a half dozen men busily employed in turning out cheese boxes. It made an interesting feature of the procession.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son advertised their tent and awning business by erecting a large tent on a float and by means of showing how convenient it all was if one was supplied with their conveniences, conducted a regular camp.

The Coxey Army led by Mr. Jimmy Blaine on horseback and distinguished as General Coxey by a large white sombrero, was very funny. Each member of the army bore aloft a banner on which was inscribed the story of his particular wrong. They were indeed a tough looking lot of citizens.

One of Brewer Calcutt's big wagons was gaily festooned and was loaded down with casks and cases. Hanging on the rear was a burly tramp helping himself liberally to all that was going.

Mr. J. R. Donell's float was a masterpiece. It consisted of a neat building of quite a respectable size entirely made of shutters, doors, mouldings, balusters, etc., and was one of the most attractive in the entire procession. It looked so light and airy that quite a number at it in the grounds during the afternoon.

The locomotive which made the close connection between the Trent Vally Kanal and the Soo St. Marie and Irondale R. R." was a sight to behold. An old farmer's wagon rigged up with barrells for a boiler, with a stovepipe for a smokestack and a huge bell, it provoked a storm of merriment as it passed along. The imitation was a good one and cleverly put together.

Mr. W. S. Cocks, painter, had a float in the procession in which his business was well advertised.

It was followed by a funny take-off on the Corbett and Mitchell fight in which Danny Simons, Mick Larone and Ponce de Leon McGinty were the principal figures.

Mr. H. LeBrun had a very pretty float representative of his business, which attracted not a little admiration from the crowd of spectators. It was handsomely decorated.

Medor, the great lion tamer, clad in tights and in a cage with half a dozen dogs, constituted an amusing float. It was followed by another of Mr. Calcutt's handsome brewery wagons, after which came the goat and goat carriage and the clowns, who were particularly funny.

The long procession wound its way in and out along the principal business streets of the town, after which it took itself down to the Driving Park where speedily congregated to witness the sports.

The first of the horse races was the free-for-all run for a purse of $150. Four horses unblanketed for the event, which was won by a local horse—Nettie W., owned by Mr. F. Jones. Gipsy, McGregor Bros,, Norwood, received second money, and third place was secured by Maud E., owned by Mr. R. H. Hill, of Norwood. P. J. Clunan's Billy B., from Lindsay, was distanced in both heats. The scoring was most tedious, the horses coming down to the start at least a dozen times for each heat.

The carters' race excited no little amusement. There were three entries and it took three heats to decide it. The result was as follows :

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Maud, owned by Ed Wills | 2 | 1 | 1 |
| Buck, " J Job | 1 | 2 | 3 |
| Billy " Geo Gooy | 3 | 3 | 2 |

The gentlemen who occupied the judge's stand in these as well as the other races were Mr. Ed. Brown, starter ; Mr. George Stevenson, timekeeper, and Messrs. Andrew McNeil and J. W. Taylor, judges.

At the conclusion of the horse races the school girls, under the direction of Sergt.-Major Rundle, gave one of their exhibitions of club swinging and also of the

HOOP AND WAND EXERCISES.

Unfortunately the crowd grew so interested as to close up around the children and cut off the view from many. The exercises are evidently just as popular as ever and the spectators could not see enough of the interesting performance.

Shortly afterwards, just as the baloon was gotten in position for an ascension, a wind storm broke loose and all the tents in view immediately collapsed. Fully three-fourths of the spectators left the grounds, fearing a thunder storm, but as the black clouds blew away large numbers returned to the grounds.

The balloon ascension was a great success and perfectly satisfactory to the spectators, as well as to the management in every respect. The ascent was perfect and so was the drop by means of the parachute.

The result of

was as follows :—

100 yards dash—1 LeBar, 2 Phelan, 3 McDonough.

200 yards—1 Lebar, 2 McDonough, 3 Dean.

100 yards, boys under 16—1 B. Simpson, 2 Gokey.

Fat man's race—1 D. Simons, 2 John J. Howden.

Three-legged race, boys under 16—1 Simpson brothers, 2 Green and Galley.

Three-legged race, men—1 Murphy and Dean, 2 Chapman and Hogue.

Running hop, step and jump,—1 Murphy, 2 Jackson.

Tossing the caber,—1 Archie Moore, John Haves.

Throwing the heavy weight,—1 D. Kendry, 2 A. Moore.

The storm which had been blowing around all day turned into a steady rain during the evening and in consequence the dreworks display had to be postponed. This exhibition, however, will take place some night this week when the band will be present and bicycle races held.

Pimples, boils and other humours of the blood are liable to break out in the warm weather. Prevent it by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

IDOL OF FREE TRADERS.

Sketch of a U.S. Congressman Not Unknown in Canada.

Congressman Tom L. Johnson's vigorous free trade and single tax speeches have been gradually earning for their author an international reputation. First among his deliverances which appeared to strike a strong popular chord was one made at a dinner given to Mr. Cleveland by the New York Reform Club after the Democratic landslide of 1892. At that time Johnson was little known outside of his own constituency except as a man who had been re-elected from the Cleveland district by a majority exceeding 3,200 after the Republican and Democratic protectionists had gerrymandered it to give, as they reckoned, 2,000 votes against him. This result, accomplished by a candidate who had openly declared in all of his speeches for absolute free trade and a tax on land values, was considered remarkable enough to induce his radical friends of New York to put him down for a speech at the Cleveland banquet. His remarks on that occasion differed widely from the effusive and vainglorious addresses usually made by politicians of a victorious party.

His speech in congress on the Wilson bill was another instance in which plain language upon a great economic and political problem proved to be more popular than attempts of clever men to ride two horses going in opposite directions. Mr. Johnson's free trade attitude seemed all the more unique to minds trained in paternalism from the fact that he was an extensive owner of steel rail mills, which are largely subsidized by the tariff.

Mr. Johnson, it is said, became a politician upon the advice of Henry George. Mr. George quickly saw in his new convert to the single tax, when he met him some years ago, all the essential qualities of political leadership, and urged him to run for congress as soon as an opportunity should present itself. The sequel has proved the wisdom of Mr. George's counsel. The story of Mr. Johnson's conversion to the doctrines taught by Henry George is interesting as showing the practical side of his character. Having read "Progress and Poverty," he found himself unwillingly compelled to admit the soundness of the conclusions reached by the author. Eager to discover a fallacy in the book which would prove the single tax untenable, it is said that Mr. Johnson took it to his lawyer and asked him to read it and give an opinion on its merits. From lack of time, or for some other reason the lawyer neglected to do this, whereupon his persistent client offered to pay him a handsome fee for an honest and unbiased opinion on the reasoning employed and accuracy of the doctrine taught in the book. This brought the indifferent lawyer to his senses, and in due time he furnished Mr. Johnson with a written opinion to the effect that "Progress and Poverty" was flawless in logic and sound in the conclusions reached. Not only did the client, from that time, become a confirmed single taxer, but the attorney, still a resident of Kentucky, also made "Progress and Poverty" his political bible.

Mr. Johnson's business career has been an exceptionally successful one. He was born on a farm in Scott County, Kentucky, in 1854. His boyhood was divided about equally between country and city life. He received a public school education, and at the age of about 15½ went into business and supported himself from that time. His first permanent position was that of clerk in the Central Passenger Railroad Company, of Louisville, Ky., the owners of a street railroad there, and he worked his way up, becoming, first, secretary and then superintendent of the company, learning thoroughly all the details of street railroad business and management. While here he invented a rail for street railroads, and had it patented. From lack of capital, he had some difficulty in getting this rail manufactured, but managed to raise enough money to induce the Cambria Iron Company, of Johnstown, Pa., to roll some rails experimentally, and their sale and the subsequent improvements in design assured the success of the invention, and shortly after the Johnson Company was formed and located at Johnstown, Pa., with A. J. Moxham as manager. It became one of the largest rail manufacturing establishments in the country, but is not a member of the steel rail trust.

Meanwhile Mr. Johnson purchased a street railroad in Indianapolis, which at that time was considered of very little value, but which his foresight showed him would one day be a valuable property. He also became the owner of a street railway in Cleveland, Ohio, where he made his home.

The most important thing that Mr. Johnson did in the fifty-second congress was to introduce the whole of Henry George's famous book on the tariff, "Protection or Free Trade," as the speeches of himself and five other members. Each member introduced one-sixth of the book. It was then printed in the Congressional Record and issued as a complete work in pamphlet form, as a public document, first in small type as a 64-page pamphlet, and then in a larger type as a 112-page edition. Over 1,024,000 of "St. George," as it was called, were circulated, and very many found their way into Canada in the ordinary course as public documents. By many shrewd and far-seeing political experts of both parties Tom L. Johnson is believed to be on the highway to the United States presidency, and there is no denying the fact that his economic creed and candor of speech are making the oldfashioned political workers stand aghast. Personally, he is a delightfully genial man.

Called the Ex-Priest a Criminal.

HAMILTON, June 29.—Thomas Barrett and James Ramage were prisoners in the police court yesterday charged by Father Francis Leo Sovieski, ex-priest, with criminal libel. The alleged libel is contained in two letters which the plaintiff claims the defendants sent to Messrs. Croydon and Britnell, leading members of the Christian Workers' mission in Toronto, charging Father Francis with being a criminal. Father Francis was about to obtain a call from the Christian Workers, but on receipt of the letters it was decided that the ex-priest would first have to clear himself of the charges contained therein. Father Francis thereupon instituted the charges. The case will come up on Thursday, and in the meantime Ramage and Barrett are out on bail of $400.

STEAD ON AMERICAN GIRLS.

He Tells an English Reporter What He Thinks of Them.

Mr Stead has been interviewed in London on the timely topic of "The American Girl." His views will interest her, while they may soften the pangs his recent departure from America may have caused her The reporter's questions and Mr. Stead's answers are given in The Sketch:

"I'm going to ask you, Mr. Stead," began a representative of The Sketch, "a somewhat delicate question. What do you think of American women and girls?"

"That," replied the editor of the Review of Reviews, "is a somewhat large order. Perhaps what struck me most is the way in which Americans treat their womenkind. We have all heard of the great place held by women in the United States and of the extraordinary courtesy shown them by all and sundry. Now, it is quite true that they are outwardly more respectful and polite; but they carry this to the length of never contradicting them. An American lady may—I do not say that she does—but may talk any nonsense, with none to say her nay."

"No woman likes to be contradicted, Mr. Stead.

"She may not like it," returned he, vigorously, "but it is good for us all to be put right when we are in the wrong. When I am talking to a woman I treat her exactly as I should do a man. I think it more respectful, and, in fact, right, from every point of view."

"But you acknowledge that American ladies have a better time than their English sisters?"

"I am not even sure of that, and do not mind confiding in you that I am very glad my own daughters were each born a happy English child."

"But surely the American girl enjoys a far greater degree of liberty?"

"I do not think so. Take any working girl. I should say that she was quite as sure of good treatment and respect when walking in a London street or riding in a London omnibus as on the New York pavement or riding in New York Park."

"Do you find the Americans more prudish than the English?"

"Yes; although I did not find any pianos with frills round their legs. I did hear a story of a girl who, being left a legacy, always referred to it as a 'limbacy,' for American girls, like Spanish queens, are not supposed to have any legs."

"And had you ever an opprtunity of addressing a meeting of American girls?"

"Yes, and on one occasion I adopted the English plan of saying what I really thought. I was asked to meet a number of very charming and highly cultivated girl graduates. They met to discuss the all-important subject of cookery. My contribution may not have been very palatable, but it was at least honest. I pointed out that any Frenchman coming to the United States would regard much of their cooking barbarous. English cooking was bad, but it seemed to me that American cooking was worse, although I am, of course, no connoisseur, and pointed out that in France you could call at any village inn and in a few minutes have placed before you a meal which would be from every point of view a work of art. I think you will admit that it was better for me as a stranger to tell them my mind on this matter than to carefully hide what I really thought."

Using Waste Products.

The stomachs of hogs, instead of being sent to the rendering tanks, are now used for the manufacture of pepsin.

Pigs' feet, cattle feet, hide clippings and the pith of horns, as well as some of the bones, are used for the manufacture of glue.

The choicer parts of the fat from cattle are utilized for the manufacture of oleo oil, which is a constituent of butterine, and for stearine.

Large quantities of the best of the leaf lard are also used for the manufacture of what is known as "neutral," also a constituent of butterine.

The intestines are used for sausage casings; the bladders are used to pack putty in.

The undigested food in the cattle stomachs is pressed and used for fuel.

The long ends of the tails of cattle are sold to mattress makers.

The horns and hoofs are carefully preserved and sold to the manufacturers of combs, buttons, etc.

Many of the large white hoofs go to China, where they are made into jewelry.

All of the blood is carefully preserved, coagulated by cooking with steam, then pressed and dried and sold to fertilizer manufacturers.

All of the scrap from rendering operations is carefully preserved and dried and sold for fertilizers.

Bones are dried and either ground into bone meal or used for the manufacture of bone charcoal, which is afterward utilized for refining sugar, and in some other refining processes.—Facts and Figures.

Freaks of Fashion.

The oldest and quaintest of pictures show us ostrich feathers in all kinds of bonnets and head-dresses. Half of the beauty of the Gainsborough belles may be credited to the lovely ostrich plumes drooping over the upturned brim of the picturesque hat, and all know what a perfect finish Rembrandt's heads always have with the "darkly dim" hat laden with feathers as a background to a striking and characteristic face. Women of the present day are just as keenly alive to the flattering effects of feathers, so we see them worn even by the grandmothers, whose bonnets are adorned with the demure pompon, while the matron, the young girl and the little child have their hats trimmed with bunches of tips or the long plumes. All ages, sizes and complexions patronize the ostrich feather, and in every clime within civilization it will be found, as well as in the head-dress of the African king. Of late years the fashion has sprung up for feather-trimmed hats during midsummer, which incongruity no milliner can explain except by saying, "The trade wants them."—Home Journal.

In old times it seemed to be thought that a medicine must be nauseating to be effective. Now, all this is changed. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one of the most powerful alteratives, is agreeable to most palates, the flavour being by no means medicinal.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

LONDON'S NEW BRIDGE.

It Cost the Corporation a Million Pounds —Eight Years in Construction.

LONDON, June 30.—London's new tower bridge, which was opened to day by the Prince of Wales, is near the famous old tower of London, and connects Bermondsley, Walworth, Camberwell and Peckham on the south banks of the Thames with the western part of the old city on the north bank.

According to the Lord Mayor of London the bridge has cost the corporation over £1,000,000. The bridge was begun in 1886. From 500 to 800 men have since been constantly employed on it. Seven men have been killed since its construction was begun. The bridge, with approaches, is half a mile long. The high level spans are 142 feet above high water; the short spans are 270 feet and the middle are 200 feet long. The "bascules" weigh 80 tons each; the lead ballast on the "shortleg" weighs 290 tons. About 2,000,000 rivets have been used in its construction.

The bridge was designed by the city architect, the late Sir Horace Jones, who had associated with him Mr. J. Wolfer Barry, who has been engineer of the undertaking, and it has been built for the corporation of London under the direction of the Bridge house estates committee. It consists of three spans. The roadway is a lifting bridge on the bascule principle, that is to say, the two levers rise in a vertical direction, and are counterpoised on their inner ends. The opening between the piers is 200 feet. The leaves of the bascule or roadway bridge are to be moved by hydraulic machinery, placed in suitable chambers in the piers. The centre of the pivot is 13 feet 3 inches inside the centre of the pier.

The steel skeleton of the bridge towers is incased in masonry, that it may harmonize so far as possible with the neighboring tower of London. For foot passengers the two towers are connected at the top by two fixed spans. The height of the columns of the towers is 119 feet 8 inches. There are three landings to each tower, the floors being of steel. The approaches to the piers are on the suspension principle, each chain being in two segments of unequal length. There are two hydraulic passenger elevators or "lifts," as our English cousins call them, in each tower, in addition to the staircases.

Sir Benjamin Baker has said that he does not know of any other bridge foundations with such dimensions as those of the tower bridge except in the case of the Brooklyn bridge. In sinking the foundations for the piers eight rectangular iron caissons were used for each pier, timber cofferdams being specially forbidden by Act of Parliament. These caissons were 28 feet square.

The material for the masonry of the bridge is rock-faced granite on the walls and fine axed granite on the open parts. The turrets and windows are Portland stone and the roof is of slate.

FIGURED IN THE REBELLION.

Captain Joseph Lee, a Man With a Career, Dies at Windsor.

WINDSOR, June 30.—Captain Joseph Lee, one of Windsor's oldest and most respected citizens, is dead. He was 78 years of age, and had seen the border grow from an uncivilized, unsettled frontier land to its present condition.

During the rebellion of 1837 he was on duty at Amherstburg and other points along the Detroit river, and later on was in command of the military at Kingston. He was also in charge of the forces when Von Schultz, one of the leaders of the rebellion, was hanged. While chief clerk in the quarter-master general's office at Montreal he was accused of being connected with the conspiracy to burn the Parliament Buildings and was forced to retire from the service.

Some years later it was shown that he had been unjustly accused, and he was given a civil service position in the Customs Department.

After quitting the military service Captain Lee turned his attention to theatricals, and for five years travelled with E. A. Southern, Mary Gannon, Charles Fisher and other noted players of that time.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 3, 1894.

On higher cables and unfavorable strike news wheat in Chicago advanced, closing ⅛c higher. Corn was firm, closing ¼ to 3-8c higher. Oats were strong, showing a gain of ⅛c. Receipts to day—Wheat, 1 car; corn, 6 cars; oats, 5 cars; hogs, 6,000.

The somewhat more serious aspect of the American Railway Union strike in the west had an unfavorable effect on stock at the opening of the New York Stock Exchange and a general decline in prices ensued. The bears attempted to make a little capital out of the strike news, but after the attack at the opening and the failure to shake out any important amounts of long stock they devoted the remainder of the session to trying to get back their contracts. The market in the main closed firmer.

THE CATHEDRAL PICNIC.

The Usual Fine Success—A Large Attendance—Excellent Sports and Games—The Auburn Baseballists do up the Lock Works—The List of Prize Winners.

The annual picnic of the congregation of St. Peter's Cathedral, held yesterday, was the annual success and though the weather gets up a little scare, on these occasions it never really does much more than create a diversion. Yesterday the beautiful grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital were thronged with the guests of the cathedral—gaily dressed girls laughing with the glee of happiness, young men to match and scores of the veterans were also present. His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, honoured the picnic with his presence, accompanied by his Chancellor, Rev. Father Scolland, Rev. Father McGuire, of Bracebridge, Rev. Father McColl, Ennismore, Rev. Father Casey, Rev. Father O'Connell and Rev. Father Collins, and several priestly students of the dioceese.

The attendance was detracted from, no doubt, by the attractions in the town, still there was a large gathering present. During the morning an exciting game of baseball took place between a team of Lock-works employees and a team of the Auburn employees, the latter winning by the serious score of 18 to 4. At the noon hour hundreds of hungry visitors had their appetites appeased at the bountifully laden and tastefully decorated tables, six in number, and again in the evening the same appreciative onslaught was made upon the tables.

The dancing platform was kept warm with the willing feet of the youngsters, to the excellent music of Hodgson's orchestra. Mr. M. Costello was master of ceremonies and performed his duties in an efficient manner.

Considerable excitement was caused by a sudden gale that burst from the south west, and drove the thousands to shelter in the hospital house of providence and the sheds and stables. For a few minutes the swish of the wind that filled the air with flying leaves and blinding dust was fierce and threatening but the gale soon passed, the little patter of rain drops that followed was not serious and "on went the dance," the picnic festivities being continued as usual.

During the afternoon a finely conducted list of sports and games were presented under the management of Messrs. G. H. Giroux, Mr. Geo. Scriver and W.J. Devlin. This is a list of the winners:—

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Pioneers—6 men, in charge of Sergt. Donnelly.

Brass band, Bandmaster Miller, 20 strong.

Bugle and drum band, 23 strong, in charge of Sergt. Sharp.

No. 1 Company—Capt. Dennistoun and Lieut. Tebb, 32 strong.

No. 2 Company—Capt. Schofield, Lieut. Eastwood, 33 strong.

No. 3 Company — Capt. Hill, Lieut. Stevenson, 31 strong.

No. 4 Company — Capt. Lech, Lieut. Hayes, 32 strong.

Ambulance corps—13 strong, in charge of Sergt. Connal.

At 9 o'clock the regiment fell into line, and with both bands marched to the station where they entrained, amidst hearty demonstrations of popular feeling, for Orillia and arrived at that place at about 1.30 a.m., Sunday, the train carrying them

TO THE CAMPING GROUND,

(the old asylum grounds), thus doing away with a dark march. Orillia evidently running her electric light system on the curfew plan. The boys in red were immediately formed in line with the regularity of veterans and allotted their different tents by Quartermaster Langford, who, with a squad of men, had preceded the battalion and had everything in readiness on the well laid out grounds formerly used by the Provincial Asylum for idiots. A better camping ground could not possibly have been selected. After enjoying a few hours slumber, the men were found busily engaged in polishing up accoutrements, and a brighter and more spick and span regiment could not be found than that which mustered for church parade to St. James' Episcopal church, where an eloquent sermon was preached by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Green. Owing to the excessive heat, Sunday was chiefly spent, with the exception of church parade, under the shadow of the tents, the visitors from town to the army being very few.

On Monday, the regiment paraded at 10 o'clock, and after being put through battalion drill, marched the principal streets of the town, headed by the handsome and gallant men comprising the pioneer corps, who made upon the citizens of Orillia, especially upon the fair sex. Returning to camp, the remainder of the day was spent in sight-seeing by both officers and privates, who made the best of the position, seeing that the much-talked-of excursion did not materialize, nor did the municipal authorities.

The bugles called the men together about eleven o'clock and with a steadiness and precision hardly to be expected from a volunteer regiment like the Rangers, the gallant lads took possession of their train, which pulled out of prettily located and hospitable Orillia and arrived home about 3 o'clock this morning, the men being well pleased with the handsome treatment they received at the hands of their officers and the officers being well pleased with the orderly manner in which the men conducted themselves.

NOTES OF THE FRAY.

Mr. Bruce Brown, son of Mr. George Brown, town, who had the misfortune to break his leg about two months ago, and who is waited upon by his mother, received many visits from the boys in red. Bruce is now rapidly recovering, and, under the careful attendance of his friend, Mr. Wm. McLeod, will, it is expected, be able to come to Peterborough in about two weeks.

The officers and band put up at the Orillia House, and received every care and attention from Mr. Jas. Haw, the genial proprietor.

The companies who were billeted at the Russell House have nothing but praise to sound of Mr. Fin, the proprietor, who, by the way, is an old British soldier.

The benefit of an ambulance corp in connection with the battalion was seen yesterday, when they were called upon to assist Surgeon Halliday with three surgical operations, while several of the men were taken sick and needed nursing. Sergt. Connal has his men well trained and their services were appreciated by those who were unfortunate enough to need medical assistance.

COME OVER AND SEE US

Uncle Sam's Cordial Invitation to Hon. Mr. Gladstone.

KIND WORDS FOR THE G. O. M.

Representative Citizens of the United States Unite in Extending the Hospitality and Freedom of the Republic to Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone.

NEW YORK, July 4.—The movement which has been set on foot for some time by prominent citizens of the United States to induce Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone, England's ex-Premier, to visit this country, has taken definite shape. The following has been sent to the "Grand Old Man:"

"TO THE RIGHT HON. W. E. GLADSTONE—Fully recognizing the far-reaching and beneficient influence upon our common race of your long and brilliant course, we would, if possible, add something to the almost unprecedented expressions of goodwill attending your entrance upon the pleasant season of well-deserved rest and recreation now opening up before you. Desiring to contribute in some small measure to your happiness, in the name of a number of gentlemen and ladies, who have enjoyed the privilege of making your acquaintance in your own hospitable land, and more than one remembering to have heard you express the pleasure it would give you to see this country, we cordially invite you and Mrs. Gladstone, together with such members of your family and household as you may be pleased to bring with you, to visit this country during the coming autumn at a date best suiting your convenience.

"We confidently assure you that your presence in America would not fail to be regarded by your 'kin beyond the sea' as an honor to themselves and to that country whose destinies your pen has glowingly and memorably depicted. Preliminary arrangements have been made of such a character as to justify the fullest assurance of your utmost comfort in all respects with entire freedom from intrusion of every kind upon your privacy. You would be our guest from the moment of leaving your home until your return, which would be, we trust, with a new lease of life and increased power for its enjoyment."

The above has been signed by more than a hundred representative Americans, including the vice-president of the United States, the Chief Justices of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, United States Senators and members of Congress from 40 States of the Union, the Presidents of Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Rochester and Syracuse Universities.

Col. George Edward Gouraud, chairman of the committee under whose auspices the invitation was prepared, will visit England shortly to inform Mr. Gladstone of the details of the arrangements for his entertainment.

CASIMIR-PERIER'S MESSAGE.

The New French President's Inaugural Address to the Chamber.

PARIS, July 4.—The inaugural message of the new president, M. Casimir-Perier, was read in the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. The document was read in the Senate by M. Guerin, and in the Chamber by Premier Dupuy. The president says:

"Having been called to the position of first magistrate to the country, I am not the man of any party, but belong to France and the republic. An odious crime, which the national conscience stigmatizes, has deprived the fatherland of an upright citizen, who during the past seven years was the vigilant guardian of our institutions. The remembrance of this hero of duty inspires and leads me. The weight of responsibility is too great for me to attempt to speak my gratitude. I love my country too ardently for it to be a happy day for me when I became its chief executive. May it be given to me to find in my mind and heart the strength necessary to serve France worthily. The act of the national assembly assuring the transmission of power within a few hours after the death of the President appeared in the eyes of the people of the world like a new consecration of republican institutions. Paris, which the republic and the government thank, gave on Sunday an admirable demonstration of gratitude and respect. A country which in the midst of such cruel tests shows itself capable of so much moral discipline and so much political virility, will be able to unite the social forces."

Hudson Bay Company's Prosperity.

LONDON, July 4.—The Hudson Bay Company has announced a dividend of ten shillings per share for the past year, notwithstanding the decreased receipts from fur sales. This relatively favorable result is mainly attributed to the economies and the increased efficiency inaugurated and practised during the past few years.

Drastic Measures for Anarchists.

BERLIN, July 4.—Chancellor von Caprivi held a conference with the chief of the political police when drastic anti-anarchist measures were decided upon. It is reported that the British Government has notified Germany that in future all anarchists will be expelled immediately upon their landing in the United Kingdom.

Rev. Geo. H. Long, Boissevain, Man., writes: For years I have been a victim of dyspepsia. Became so bad I was put upon a milk diet. Have taken four packages K. D. C. and enjoy better health since I began its use than for years before. I can heartily recommend K. D. C.

TO FIND OUT HOW BEATON WAS KILLED

THE WORK OF THE CORONER'S JURY LAST NIGHT.

The Inquest Again Resumed—More Witnesses Examined—Tracing Beaton to the Fatal Dining Car—Another Alleged Important Witness Discovered—The Inquest Adjourned to Permit of His Examination.

The inquest into the cause of the death of Frank Beaton, whose body was found alongside the track of a Grand Trunk siding on Bethune street, on Friday, June 29th, was resumed in the council chamber last evening, before Coroner Bell, Mr. Wood, county attorney, conducting the investigation.

After the usual formalities, the first witness called was

Dr. Pigeon, who testified that he had since giving evidence before, visited the locality where the body was found. He found a passenger coach lying on the track, only twelve inches from the building—this was about eight feet from where the body was found; where the body was found the distance between the shed and the coach was about 2½ feet. Assisted by Dr. Scott he had made a post mortem examination. His written report is as follows:

The body (of Frank Beaton) is that of a well nourished man about 30 years of age, height 5 ft. 5 inches as he lay; the external appearances were a lacerated wound on right side of forehead, eyelid of left eye ecchymosed and some effusion under lower jaw on the left side, an abrasion under the chin and extending under the right side of the lower jaw, some bruising and a torn condition of the upper front of the left ear, bruising over the front of the chest, left hand crushed off at the wrist, middle finger of right hand crushed and torn, also the index finger of right hand and the nail hanging by a shred of skin, considerable bruising about the left shoulder, the whole of the back and shoulders bruised and excoriated, bruised and excoriated in left gluteal region. On removing the scalp found considerable effusion of blood between the scalp and skull, especially on the left side, where there was a large clot; but no fracture could be found. On opening the skull the brain was to all appearances healthy, but more bloody than usual; there was no fracture of the skull as examined from the inside and no laceration of the brain substance. The acromial end of the right clavicle was dislocated, the left clavicle fractured at the outer third. On removing the skin from the chest there was found considerable effusion of blood and the muscles were bruised and effused with blood. Six ribs on the right side were broken off from the sternum (or breast bone), and the second, third and fourth ribs on left side were broken from the sternum and the rest of the ribs separated from the cartilages. On opening the chest the lungs looked very dark in colour, and bloody. On examining the lungs the lower lobe of the right lung posteriorly and laterally was torn about four inches in length and two inches in depth. Both lungs were engorged with blood. In the cavity of the chest was considerable blood. The heart was healthy and uninjured. The ribs on both sides were broken from the spine and some of the ribs were broken in three or more places; small pieces of loose bone were found in the cavity of the chest. The sixth dorsal vetebra was fractured from the seventh and the spinal column at the seat of the fracture overlapped about four inches. The abdominal organs were uninjured except a slight laceration between the lobes of the liver.

(Signed) { HENRY PIGEON, M. D.
W. D. SCOTT, M. D.

July 3rd, 1894.

The cause of death was, he thought, the fracture of the spine, which would cause instant death. There was no injuries to the head to account for death. The crushing must have been done crosswise. The backbone was broken and the fractured ends overlapped about four inches. The force to produce such severe crushing without external injury must have been some heavy moving body. To a juror—Thought the crushing between the car and shed that caused the breaking of the backbone may have been done by the steps, he thought a twisting force was also applied. The excoriation on the neck might have resulted from scraping against the shed. To a juror—There was no external evidence of the breaking of the collar bone by a boot heel; it was impossible to have dislocated the ribs by a boot without showing external marks, or indeed in any way.

Dr. Scott, sworn, said he assisted Dr. Pigeon in the post mortem examination and agreed with his report. He thought it possible for Beaton to have been crushed and the body thrown back in the position in which it was found.

Mr. H. Varnes, car inspector G. T. R., sworn, said the dining coach of the circus where the body was found was wider than G. T. R. coaches. He measured a Grand Trunk car at the point where body was found and it was 15 inches between that and the shed and about eight feet further north it was about eight inches, and the same for about three car lengths. The height of the under side of a G. T. R. car would be about up to witness' shoulder, the steps a little lower.

Fred Russell, G.T.R. conductor, sworn—Took out the circus train on Friday morning. The place where Beaton's body was found was at the north end of the circus dining car. The engine was attached to the north end of the train, and we backed south about 60 feet to pick up the van. When he gave the engineer the signal to advance he found that the dining car was uncoupled at the northern end and a coupling pin had to be got. The dining car was wider than G.T.R. cars and the bottom of the car an inch or two higher. The train was moved at 2.30. There was no person moving about the dining car except the watchman, though the occupants of the saloon car were awake. Heard no outcry or unusual noise. (To a juror), was surprised to find the car uncoupled. The train was backed down very slowly.

Fred Shaw, brakeman, was present when the circus train was taken out. Just after he had coupled the dining car he heard a scream, which he took to be from a lady's voice. Knew deceased but had not seen him that day. When he heard of the man being found dead he connected the scream with his death.

Wm. Morris, conductor, sworn. Saw deceased in town on Friday morning between twelve and one o'clock at the Charlotte street crossing. He went straight to the last circus car on the siding, the dining car. Saw him getting on to the car. Could not say whether he was drunk or not. To a juror—He got on the south end of the car, next Charlotte street. He wore a soft felt hat. The south end of the car was lighted.

William Scott, brakesman, sworn, said he saw deceased at the Grand Trunk crossing. The last he saw of deceased was getting on to the steps of the dining car on the east side and at the south end.

At this point Mr. Wood stated that it had come to his knowledge that there was a witness not present who could give important evidence, and he suggested the advisability of an adjournment in order to procure his attendance. The evidence might or might not be important, but it was not proper to neglect anything that could throw additional light on the matter in hand.

The inquest was adjourned for one week, till July 10th.

Mr. John A. Davidson, secretary, presented the annual report, which was adopted, as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—In presenting the annual report of this Institute for the year ending the 30th June, 1894, I will give you a brief sketch of the work. Our first meeting was held in Peterborough January 11th, commencing at 1.30 o'clock, when the following subjects were discussed, viz: "Nitrogen in the Soil," by Prof. Panton; "Undraining and Care of Manure," by Mr. Yuill; "The Care and Management of Sheep to make it Profitable," by Mr. Jackson; also a paper on "The Management of Swine," by Robert Vance. Our evening session was held in Eathon Grange Hall, when the following addresses were delivered: The sun in relation to Planet Life" by Prof Panton; 'What we should teach our sons and daughters," by Mr. Yuill. Mr. Jackson not being well and unable to be present, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., kindly consented to take up his subject, "Why we should speak well of our country." The Williamson brothers and Mr. Fowler contributed to the musical part of the programme. This was a move in a new direction and proved to be a success. There was a good attendance and a very enjoyable evening spent. Our next meeting was held in Lakefield on Jan. 16th, commencing at 10.30 a. m., when the following subjects were discussed, viz: "Weeds," by Prof. Panton; "Care of Manure and Dairying," by Mr. Yuill. Mr. Stewart R. Payne read a valuable paper on "Dairying." In the absence of Mr. Jackson, Prof. Panton read his paper on the "Care and Management of Sheep." The subjects were well received and thoroughly discussed. In the evening we had a musical entertainment when Prof. Panton gave an address on "Agricultural Science in our Schools": Mr. Yuill "What we Should Teach Our Sons and Daughters," and Mr. G. J. Galvin "Why we Should Speak well of Our Country." J. C. Brown, P.S.I., also spoke on having agricultural science taught in our schools. The Peterborough Harmony Club contributed to the musical part of the programme. The meeting was largely attended and its success was due to the president, and Messrs. Galvin and Braden. Our membership at present is 85. I would like to see more of the farmers become members. It is only 25 cents a year and you get all the bulletins issued by the college and reports of the different associations valuable information which no farmer should be without.

During the year we had the Travelling Dairy in our midst. At these meetings, which were held all over the county, practical information was given in regard to butter making. Our annual picnic was held at Jubilee Point. Prof. Fletcher, of the Dominion Experimental Farm, was present and gave an address. Also addresses were delivered by Messrs. D. Kennedy, F. Birdsall and others.

The meeting then adjourned.

SITUATION OF THE STRIKE.

Efforts to Bring About a Conciliation So Far Prove Fruitless.

CHICAGO, July 4.—The action of the Government in determining to authorize the employment of United States troops for the purpose of enforcing the enjoining order issued by Judges Wood and Grosscup and a well defined indication that both sides are not only willing but anxious to arrive at a pacific understanding were the principle features of the strike situation yesterday. The predictions that the eve of the country's National day would witness the beginning of the end were not destined to be fulfilled. There were no signs of weakness on the part of the striking element. On the contrary its ranks had been increased, although only to a trifling extent, by the walk-out of the station employees identified with the six roads having their terminals at the Dearborn depot, and by the tying up of the local end of the Nickle Plate.

The general managers, on the other hand, maintained the same attitude of firm determination that has characterized every move of the association from the beginning of the trouble, while they found encouragement in the fact that the passenger traffic on several of the principal roads was in a better shape than for several days past, and in the further fact that the strikers have been unable to bring about a general and complete tie-up.

The strikers at Blue Island refrained from violence during the day. This was due not so much to the the presence of the deputy sheriffs and marshals as to the feeling of the dread created by the report that they would be soon confronted by the regular troops. Pending advices from Washington concerning the ordering of troops to the scene, Marshal Arnold postponed his intended effort to raise the blockade. Any attempt in this direction would undoubtedly have been attended with bloodshed, and with the deputies outnumbered five to one they would have fared badly at the hands of the mob.

The gravity of the situation so far as it relates to the great mass of the public was increased by the action of the management of the Northwestern road in temporarily striking from its pay rolls nearly 10,000 employes who have been in a state of enforced idleness since the strike was extended to that system. There is local consternation also over the fact that the supply of ice will be doubtful to-night and that by the end of the week the city will be face to face with a famine in nearly every line of food supply. Water street, the great perishable produce market, looks like a deserted village. A fuel famine is also imminent. The supply of soft coal is nearly exhausted and a score of big industrial establishments will be under the necessity of shutting down on Saturday, if not before.

This combination of afflictions has given rise to the sentiment which is fast gaining ground that the strike has gone far enough and that steps should be taken without delay to bring the union and the managers together. The headquarters of the strikers were visited to day by scores of people, ranging from millionaires to representative wage workers, who earnestly insisted that the union should take the initiative in seeking a conference with the general managers and endeavor to bring about an agreement that both sides might honorably accept. Upon the strength of these representations the good offices of P. H. Stude-Baker were invoked by the union people and it is given out by President Debs that the end of the week may see the strike a thing of the past.

KILLED BY A BURSTING CANNON.

Sad and Fatal Commencement of a Dominion Day Celebration.

FORMOSA, Ont., July 4.—Preparations on a large scale had been made here to celebrate Dominion day. An old German custom of firing off a cannon on state or church holidays still prevails here and accordingly the day was to be ushered in with the usual welcome. In the morning Mr. Joseph Anstett, in company with some other villagers, proceeded to charge the cannon. On account of the ramrod being light it is supposed the charge was not fully down in the mouth of the cannon and an explosion resulted. A piece of the cannon weighing about 25 pounds struck Mr. Anstett on the jaw, almost severing the head from the body and causing instant death.

Deceased was 48 years of age and was one of the most prominent and respected men in the county. He leaves a wife and family.

Lawyer McIntyre Discharged.

BUFFALO, July 3.—The arrest of Ernest McIntyre, of Toronto, a little over two weeks ago, had its sequel in his honorable discharge from custody yesterday. The proceedings all through seem to have been peculiar. McIntyre was the attorney for an old man in a divorce suit. The client deeded some property to him to prevent its getting into his wife's hands on alimony proceedings. It was this money that he says was never returned. On the other hand, McIntyre claims to have made a settlement, turning over everything except his lawful fees.

Mr. Edgar Prefers Charges Against Caron and Langevin.

THEIR CORRUPT PRACTICES

The Resolution Affirms That These Two Members Used Public Money With Which to Purchase Their Election—The Resolution Defeated.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 4.—In the House last night the following resolution was moved by Mr. Edgar impeaching Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron:

"That from the public trial and conviction of Thomas McGreevy and N. K. Connelly for conspiracy to defraud, and from evidence and papers already before this House, it appears that large portions of the moneys which were found upon said trial to have been criminally received by the said Thomas McGreevy from the Government contractors were so received by him for the purpose of being expended in elections in the interest of the Conservative party and for distribution by Sir Hector Langevin, M. P., and Sir Adolphe Caron, M.P., for the election of themselves and of other supporters of the Government at the general elections held in February, 1887.

"That it further appears that large portions of the said moneys, together with other large sums collected by Sir Adolphe Caron from those interested in Governmental railway subsidies, were expended and distributed by Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron, and in lavish and illegal amounts, to assist in the election of themselves and of other supporters of the Government in the district of Quebec at the general elections of 1887.

"That the said Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron were then, and now are, members of this House, and on the roll of Her Majesty's Privy Councillors for Canada, and the said Sir Adolphe Caron is a Cabinet Minister and Postmaster General.

"That, in the opinion of this House, the said Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron are deserving of the severest censure for their connection with the said transactions and that it is a public scandal and an injury to the reputation of Canada that Sir Adolphe Caron should continue to hold the position of a Minister of the Crown."

After a spirited discussion on both sides of the House the resolution impeaching Caron and Langevin was voted down by a majority of 39.

Capital Notes.

It is rumored that Mr. Z. Wilson, collector of customs for the city of Ottawa, will be superannuated in a few days and that his place will be filled by Mr. Benbatson. All the details for the change, it is alleged, have been made by the Government.

Frederick A. Wise, superintendent of the Rideau canal, died yesterday at his late residence on Daly avenue.

Mr. Tarte, M.P., has written to the Premier informing him that he intends bringing up in the House the conduct of certain judges in the Province of Quebec. It will be remembered that this matter was incidentally referred to in the House a few days ago by Mr. Tarte, when he was attacked by Mr. Amyot. Mr. Tarte was not prepared then to give names but he is now, and has supplied Sir John Thompson with the same.

In the Public Accounts Committee C. A. Geoffrion, Q.C., and J. N. Emard, of Montreal, appeared for Mr. St. Louis in the Lachine canal bridge expenditure. Mr. Hannaford, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk railway, estimated that the Grand Trunk bridge over the canal would cost $70,000 and then leave a margin of $1,000. This bridge actually cost the Government $170,000.

SHOT AT THE FOREMAN.

Italian Laborers on the Coteau Canal Causing Trouble.

MONTREAL, July 4.—A special from Coteau says: This village has been disturbed very much lately by the trouble between Italians employed on section 11 of the new canal, for which Mr. Feeney is contractor and Robert Farrell, the boss who succeeded Patrick Druhan, the victim of the dynamite accident a couple of weeks ago.

About ten o'clock on Saturday morning Farrell ordered one of the Italians to leave the works. He did so, but came back later and threatened to kill the foreman. Farrell did not pay much attention to the threat, but the Italian pulled out a revolver and fired twice at him, fortunately without effect. The Italian then took to the woods.

The village constable was ordered to arrest him, but was afraid to do so, and he still remains at large. There are over a hundred Italians employed on this section and further trouble is feared. The residents think that the Government should send the provincial police there during public works, as the local police are utterly inefficient.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

The Day's Sitting Taken Up With the Pacific Cable Scheme.

OTTAWA, July 4.—The Colonial Conference yesterday discussed the Pacific cable proposition. Mr. Davies, of Honolulu, pointed out the immense benefit which would accrue to both Canada and Australia by the construction of the cable.

In reply to Mr. Foster he said that while such a cable might not pay in the immediate future he would stake his reputation that within ten years it would.

The Australian delegates asked Mr. Davies for full figures concerning the matter which he promised to collate.

The conference sat all day discussing the scheme. No conclusion was arrived at. The conference will to-day again take up the same subject and will deal with it until it is finished.

Y. P. S. C. E. NOTES.

St. Paul's C. E. Society held their meeting on Sunday morning, owing to the holiday on Monday. The following paper was read and as it is so suitable to us as Canadians on the 1st of July, we think it well worthy a place in this column. The question appointed for discussion is "What has Christianity done for our country?" Perhaps the most honest answer would be that it has done all we would allow it to do. It has done so much that it is a marvel that it has not done more. It is capable of effecting transformations so blessed and benificent, of working such changes in business, in society and in government, that did it exert its power heaven might be begun here below. The problems that perplex us the social anomalies that gall us and the anxieties that make our lives a burden would disappear if Christianity were the rule of private, social and public life. We already owe to it the refining, civilizing, moral influence which have raised our nation to its present high plane. Our hospitals, our charities and our various institutions for the alleviation of suffering and the relief of poverty had their origin in the love that Jesus manifested and kindled in the hearts of his people. The Sunday rest, the sanctity of home and family ties, the merciful treatment of unfortunates and wrong doers are all fruits of Christianity's influence. They do not exist where Christianity in some form does not operate on the public conscience. All that is ennobling, refining and elevating in heathen lands is owing to the direct or indirect influence of Christianity. So far have we progressed from the old system of autocratic rule and disregard of the welfare and feelings of the people. The last century has seen the greatest advance because Christ and his principles have been better understood than ever before. By no previous generation since His earthly life closed have He and His mission been so clearly seen and appreciated as by this. And the light is growing. We see now the meaning and value of much that He said, which our fathers did not see, and as we see more, society will approximate more and more nearly to His ideal. Yet Christ had nothing to say about government or social institutions. He repudiated all authority on the matter and even refused to interfere in a case of disputed inheritance. His reliance for the reform of society was on the reform of the individual. The broad principles of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man which He laboured to instil into the hearts of His followers are sufficient for the regeneration of of our social relations. It is these principles on which is built all of good there is in our land and to the growing influence of these principles we look for the brightness of the future. It is these principles that the missionary carries to the heathen lands and he sees that there they produce the same fruit of love and kindness and helpfulness. So shall the seed be cast broadcast and bear its fruits in every land until all the nations become the kingdom of Christ.

On this, the anniversary of Confederation, we, as Canadians, should feel thankful. We live in an especially favoured country. Nature has favoured us in giving us such a beautiful, fertile, vast country. Christianity has done much for us. Our country stands high morally among the Christian nations of the earth. Righteousness exalteth a nation. But if our advantages are great, are not our responsibilities proportionally great? While we meditate on God's goodness to us, let us all strive to do all we can to build up our country in righteousness.

CONVENTION NOTES.

The programme of the convention to hand-shows a glorious list of representative Baptist names. Every section of the Continent sends some of its best men.

The forecast of the attendance shows that though Massey Music Hall is one of the largest and best equipped for Convention purposes on the continent, it will be so crowded that the Convention committee will duplicate the evening services.

The Toronto Baptists are looking forward with great pleasure to this meeting of the Baptists of North America, and a grand feature of it will be the coming together in large numbers of those whom national barriers have hitherto kept apart.

The great attractions of Niagara Falls, Muskoka Lakes, (the "Highlands of Ontario") the Thousand Isles, apart from the programme are having a great influence in swelling the delegations.

Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They cure constipation and sick headache.

Dominion Day in the Mother Country.

LONDON, July 3.—A dinner in honor of Dominion Day was given at the Westminster Palace Hotel last evening. Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner of Canada, presided. One hundred and twenty persons were present. In the absence of Edward Blake, M.P., who was to have responded to the toast to the Dominion of Canada, and of Sir Donald A. Smith, who was to have proposed "The Governors of the Dominion, past and present," the toasts were united and were proposed by Sir Charles Tupper in an optimistic speech.

A Crime to Desert a Disabled Ship.

NEW YORK, July 3.—United States Commissioner Shields has rendered a decision against Captain J. G. Baker of the steamer Kenilworth. The decision holds Captain Baker for the grand jury on the charge of having deserted the schooner Flora Sawyer in a disabled condition at sea. The case is of special interest because it is the first prosecution under the statute making it a criminal offence to desert a vessel in distress. Civil suits are also pending against Captain Baker. Captain Baker was arrested and bail was furnished in the sum of $1,000.

Liliuokalani Keeps Up the Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The steamship Australia, which has arrived from Honolulu, June 23, brings the following news: The ex-Queen has become fearful that the United States does not intend to reinstate her. She sent protests to all the foreign diplomats here, requesting them not to recognize the new republic, claiming she is the only lawful ruler of Hawaii. All the foreign representatives have returned the protest unnoticed except J. H. Wodehouse, the English Minister. The new constitution will probably by adopted July 4. Preparations are now being made to make that day one of the greatest in the Hawaiian calendar of holidays.

Settlement of the Gas Fight.

BUFFALO, July 3.—The long fight between the Provincial Natural Gas Co. and the Erie County Natural Gas Co., is about to be settled, so it is rumored, by the sale of the latter company to the former. Hardly a well has been drilled for natural gas in Welland county for nine months on account of the rivalry between the two companies.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknesses" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use.

It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will cure in all cases of disease for for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure permanently constipation, sick headache, billousness, indigestion and kindred ailments.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Out of the Old House Into the New.

The landlord has promised fresh decorations and the new tenant is told to choose such wall paper as pleases him best. Why then should he not lay the foundation for at least one year of happiness by securing decorations that will impart an air of cheer and comfort. We are in excellent shape to furnish just such decorations, preserving perfect harmony between them and the carpets, furniture and draperies, and introducing original features in wall papers that will make the rented house seem something more than a mere temporary abode. The Regular Session in St. Andrew's Church.

The Presbytery of Peterborough convened in St. Andrew's church on Tuesday morning. There were present—Rev. J. K. Smith, D. D., Moderator, presiding, and Rev. Messrs. F. Andrews, Keene; W. Bennett, Apsley; Rev. John Hay, B. D., Campbellford; Richard Hyde, Warsaw; J. R. Gilchrist, B. A., Baltimore; C. S. Lord, B. A., Grafton; W. Anderson, Bobcaygeon; D. P. Oswald, Janetville; J. Sanderson, Springville; J. Rutherford, Mount Pleasant; Robt Graham, Lakefield; — Tough, Hastings; and Robt. Tully, town, elders.

A call was considered from Millbrook to Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Knox College, a licentiate, which he had accepted, and it was arranged that his ordination and induction were arranged to take place at Millbrook on Tuesday, July 17th. Dr. Smith was appointed to preside, Rev. Mr. Laird to preach, Rev. Dr. McClelland to address the minister, and Rev. Mr. Cattenach to address the people.

Provision was made for removing the debt on the new Harvey church.

The next regular meeting of Presbytery was fixed for September 18th at 9 o'clock in the first church in Port Hope.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton, of Toronto, having declined a call to Lakefield, the congregation was given permission to make another call.

A committee was appointed in reference to the reconstruction of the stations in the field formerly occupied by Rev. Mr. Bennett and Mr. Ewing, Springville and Omemee respectively, to take action and report to Presbytery.

PRESBYTERY NOTES.

In the intervals between the morning and afternoon sederunts the ladies of St. Andrews provided an ample dinner in the school rooms for members of Presbytery.

The time of the afternoon session was occupied with a case of domestic economy in the Presbytery.

Rev. W. A. Hunter, of Toronto, was present and was invited to sit with the Presbytery. Mr, Johnson, who is called to Millbrook, was also present.

Reports of a very encouraging character were given by the missionaries labouring in Apsley and Harvey fields. Rev. Mr. Anderson was appointed to visit the Harvey field before next meeting of Presbytery.

A PETERBORO' LADY'S SUCCESS.

Closing Exercises of Miss Sophie Cameron's Kindergarten Classes at Port Hope.

The following, taken from the Port Hope Times, refers to the Kindergarten Classes conducted with so much success by Miss Sophie Cameron, town:

"The closing exercises of Miss Cameron's Kindergarten School took place on Thursday afternoon, and were witnessed by a select audience. The fifteen little pupils of the school, children from three to six years of age, looked very sweet in their pretty holiday attire. Miss Cameron directed the children through their regular course, assisted by Miss Hallam, and all present were delighted by the various occupations of the children, and the games they are taught to play for their instruction and recreation. The school rooms were tastefully decorated, all the decorations being the work of the pupils. Each child had a little chair and table. The work of the little ones was performed at the tables, where they made mottoes, worked at their copy books and made flower baskets. These baskets were afterwards filled with beautiful flowers and presented to the guests. The children then sang several patriotic songs very charmingly. The programme was concluded by a number of games which were calculated to teach the children very pretty lessons. All present were thoroughly impressed with the value of the Kindergarten system as taught by Miss Cameron. The courteous deportment of the children, the kindness they displayed toward each other, and the prompt obedience to their teacher, attested the efficiency of the system by which they had been instructed. We hope that Miss Cameron will be encouraged to re-open the Kindergarten School after the holidays as the value of a system which trains children in their earliest days to be industrious, cheerful to respect their elders, courteous to each other, and to love God, and their sovereign, cannot be over-estimated."

Miss Cameron resumes her classes at the close of the holidays and with prospects of a much larger attendance than last term, which was affected by the prevalence of infantile epidemics.

Life is short and if you can strike the right spring medicine at the first shot, time and nerve energy is saved. Three doses a day of that celebrated Sarsaparilla for sale at Lynch's drug store puts you "in fighting trim" in quick order, gives you a strengthened system, a pure skin, a toned liver and pure blood. Lynch's, 168 Hunter street.

Beautiful Lawns.

No other town in Ontario has so many handsome lawns as are to be found in Peterborough. Never before were lawn mowers so cheap and so well made. Look in the north window of the Peterborough Hardware Coy's store and see the display of lawn and garden tools. They have some magnificent cast iron urns at very low prices. dtf

Here's a Pointer.

Tea is an article about as much used as anything, yet very few understand the buying of it. Osh-K-Osh tea is about as well known as any tea on the market; regular price is 40 cents a pound and never been sold for less, but for the balance of this month Stroud Bros., 370 George street, are selling it at 28 cents a pound, five pounds for one dollar.

Do You Go Boating?

Want any sails? I am prepared to furnish the best of work and material. Being a practical sailmaker and having good experience in cutting and designing sails of all kinds, I guarantee satisfaction. Mochican, Lateen, Batwing, Leg-o'-Mutton and Yacht Sails of any desired area drafted and made to order on short notice. ## OMEMEE.

(From a Correspondent.)

Crops of all kinds have picked up wonderfully and prospects promise well.

Quite a number drove down Monday to the celebration at Peterborough and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The large majority for J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., was a great surprise, but East Emily farmers, as a whole, are rejoicing that such a worthy representative has been returned with such a large majority.

Rev. J. Mackay preached to a large gathering of Orangemen at Fowler's Corners last Sunday. Next Sunday the District will attend the different churches in Omemee, and will celebrate the 12th at Lindsay, when about 60 stand of colours are expected.

Rev. D. L. Thompson preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist church last Sunday to a large and appreciative congregation. He, with his family, made many friends here, being an exceedingly kind and thoughtful man. His removal to Stirling will be their gain, but our loss. Rev. Mr. Hill succeeds to his charge here.

Margaret L. Sheppard lectured here to fair sized houses but did not pull in as much tin as expected in this loyal corner of the Dominion. The address to ladies only was not appreciated.

There are a few of the old residents of Emily in a very serious condition of health just now. David Storey of East Emily, Hamilton Best and Isaiah Thornton. Anxious hopes for their recovery.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

RANGE AND RIFLE.

The third league and monthly match will take place to-morrow, Thursday. There will be shooting all day, from 7 a.m. and it is important that every member of the team should be present, as our teams now stand at the top of the list, which position we wish to maintain to the end. The early man will be most likely to get the bulls eye.

LACROSSE.

On Wednesday last the Port Hope lacrosse club won a victory from Peterborough, says the Cobourg Post, and the followers of the club drove down to Cobourg that evening and made the night hideous with their yells for the club. Such a noisy demonstration was quite unnecessary. Our citizens were well aware of the victory, and many were pleased with the news of the success attending the Ontarios, but strongly object to any such conduct as exhibited by the "boozy" element from that town. The nightwatchman should have done his duty and arrested the whole lot and put them in the town hall yard for the balance of the night. Such treatment would have cooled them off considerably.

CRICKET.

The cricket team to go to Millbrook on Saturday will be chosen from the following: Houldsworth, Stocker, Goldsmith, Harkness, Montgomery, Sheriff, McGill, Drope, Wonham, Rogers, Halliday, Dumble and Adams.

BASEBALL.

The Cobourg Post says: "At Port Hope on Saturday Peterborough easily defeated the home team, 8 to 6. McGarry received poor support in the field. McCabe, the one arm wonder, did good work for the visitors and succeeded in fooling the Port Hope batsmen to no small extent."

JACOB'S ISLAND NOTES.

ATTENTION NEEDED.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It is now nearly two months since the fire on George street in the store formerly occupied by Mr. Pollard as a bakery, since which time the walk and a portion of the street have been littered with rubbish. Time and the shoes and dresses of the pedestrians have about cleaned one-half of the walk and the writer would like to know if the balance is to be cleaned in the same manner or if in the absence of any interest by the owner, there is not a proper town official to look after such nuisances.

of pill gives you a feeling of horror when you see it and when you feel it. Like the "blunderbuss" of a former decade it is big and clumsy, but not effective. In this century of enlightenment you have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver troubles in the most effective way. They're not easily seen for they're small as grains of mustard seed, but the effect is lasting and the cure complete. For Indigestion, Constipation, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headache, nothing has been found to equal these pills of Dr. Pierce's invention. They give such complete relief that their makers promise that they'll give you satisfaction or your money will be returned.

UNITED STATES TARIFF

The Wilson Bill Passes the Senate With Some Amendments.

GROVER MUST PAY INCOME TAX

The Amendment to Exempt the Salaries of the President and Judges Defeated — Republicans Make a Fruitless Effort to Put a Duty on Wool.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The second day's action on the amendments of the committee of the whole to the tariff bill occupied the whole of the day's session of the Senate. First came the motion made by Mr. Mills (Dem.) on Monday evening to place burlaps and grain bags made therefrom on the free list. It was carried by a vote of 28 to 17.

Next came the famous "Collars and Cuffs" amendment fixing the duty on these articles at 30c per dozen and 30 per cent. ad valorem—equivalent, according to a statement made by Mr. Chandler (Rep., N.H.,), to an ad valorem duty of 80 to 125 per cent. The amendment was agreed to after a couple of satirical speeches directed against the junior senator from New York, Mr. Murphy, by a vote of 43 to 5.

Then the great wool schedule came up for action, Mr. Sherman (Rep., Ohio), offering an amendment to place wool on the dutiable list at 30 per cent. ad val. The longest discussion of the day took place on this proposition, appeals being made by Republican Senators to Democratic Senators from the wool producing States to supply even two votes for the amendment, which would be enough with the Populists' vote to carry, but these appeals fell on deaf ears. There was not a single desertion from the Democratic ranks on the question of wool. The two Populist Senators who usually act with the Democrats, Messrs. Allen and Kyle, did not vote and the amendment was defeated. Yeas 32, nays 37. And so wool remains on the free list.

The committee amendment placing bituminous coal on the dutiable list at 40 cents a ton and coal slack at 15 cents was agreed to by a vote of 57 to 6.

The committee amendment, which had been originally offered by Mr. Hill (Dem., N.Y.,), exempting the salaries of the President of the United States and of the judges of the United States from the income tax, was rejected after a brief struggle by a vote of yeas 34, nays 36, ten Democrats having voted for it and six Republicans and three Populists against it. The date for the bill to go into effect was fixed as August 1, 1894, subject to further postponement if necessary.

Barb wire was a subject of some dispute. An amendment had been agreed to in committee of the whole that barbed wire for fencing should be admitted free of duty. This amendment was rejected, and one offered by Mr. Allen (Pop., Neb.,) to place "wire for fencing" on the free list was also rejected, yeas 32, nays 38, and so wire remains on the dutiable list at rates according to gauge. Mica was taken off the free list and put on the dutiable list at 20 per cent. ad valorem.

The tariff bill was then passed and the Senate adjourned until Friday.

Powderly Visits Wiman.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Among the callers on Erastus Wiman in the Tombs prison was T. V. Powderly, late Master Workman of the Knights of Labor. Mr. Wiman had intended to entertain Mr. Powderly on his recent visit to Staten Island, for they have been friends for many years. Mr. Powderly brought with him a beautiful boquet sent by some friends in Jersey to Mr. Wiman.

Gas Trust Dissolved.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Judge Wind has entered the decree with some modifications which was presented to him by the Attorney-General with the consent of the Gas Trust. The effect of the decree is to absolutely dissolve the trust and compel the gas companies and the individuals interested in them to operate their interests separately.

One Minute Cure for Toothache.

Toothache, the most common and one of the most painful affections, is instantly cured by the application of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline is a combination of powerful anodynes, and it strikes at once to the nerves, soothing them and affording in one minute total relief from pain. Mothers, try it for your children's toothache. Nerviline is sold in 10 and 25 cent bottles by all druggists.

That Cattle Embargo.

LONDON, July 4.—It is now feared that Canadian cattle will be permanently excluded from the British markets, though the special committee of the Board of Agriculture has not reported yet. Canadian cattle are treated precisely the same as the United States cattle.

Gold in the Guianas.

BERLIN, July 4. — A despatch from Paramaribo, capital of Dutch Guiana, says large discoveries of gold dust have been made in the disputed territory of Counani, which borders upon French Guiana and Brazil. Fortune hunters are flocking to the territory.

Issue of Toronto Debentures.

LONDON, July 4.—The National Bank of Scotland announces the issue of £140,481 4 per cent. Toronto local improvement debentures at 101, repayable in 1904.

Prendergast Must Hang.

CHICAGO, July 4.—The jury in Judge Payne's Court after three hours' deliberations returned a verdict finding Patrick Eugene Prendergast not insane or a lunatic and therefore responsible for the murder of Carter Harrison. If no other legal technicality intervenes the assassin will be hanged July 13 next.

Nicaraguan Difficulties Settled.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The Nicaraguan Minister, Dr. Guzman, has received information from his government that all differences between the Inter-Oceanic Canal Company and Nicaragua have been settled.

Murder in the First Degree.

TROY, July 4.—The jury in the Shea murder trial returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Shea was charged with killing Robert Ross last election day in a row at a polling place.

Smallpox in New York.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Eight cases of smallpox were reported at the health department yesterday.

THE RULING MARKETS

TORONTO, July 4, 1894.

Receipts of wheat at Liverpool the past three days were 220,000 centals, including 24,000 centals of American. Receipts of American corn, same time, 13,200 centals.

The net profits of the Canadian Pacific for May were $513,538, as compared with $509,584 the same month of last year, an increase of $3,953. Net profits since Jan. 1 show a decrease of $497,669.

The strike is producing much uneasiness in the Buffalo Live Stock Markets, and there is great danger that the food supply will very soon be restricted. Prices of all classes of stock advanced sharply. Cattle—Only 8 cars through for New York and these were country cattle, 3 cars on sale. Sheep and Lambs—7 cars. Hogs—8 cars strong 10c to 15c higher.

The total sales of stocks at the New York Stock Exchange reached the beggarly total of 60,000 shares, and only $502,000 of railway and miscellaneous bonds changed hands during the entire session. The heat, and the fact that many operators left the street at an early hour to spend the National holiday out of town had a tendency to hold trade in check. The chief characteristic of the day's limited speculation was its undertone of firmness, London contributing materially to this condition by its early purchases of about 10,000 shares of various stocks.

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of his Illness and Subsequent Cure While in London, Ont. Much Pleasure Manifested over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago, stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old

PROHIBITIONISTS IN CONVENTION.

The French Treaty Condemned—Father Chiniquy Creates a Scene.

MONTREAL, July 4.—At the afternoon session of the National Prohibition Committee, committees were appointed on finance, political action and resolutions, and a number of motions were referred to them. The convention considered the report of the Dominion Alliance and a discussion ensued on its recommendations, which declared that the time had come when the Canadian Parliament should enact legislation for the total prohibition of the liquor traffic; that the provincial legislatures should use all the power they possess towards the same end; that prohibition candidates should be nominated and supported wherever necessary. After some discussion the report was adopted.

Mr. Sydney Fisher submitted a resolution to the convention condemning the French treaty now before Parliament for ratification, in so far as it provides facilities for the importation of liquor. The resolution was referred to the committee on resolutions. The report was finally adopted.

Rev. Father Chiniquy managed to come pretty near creating a scene. In the course of his remarks he made several allusions to the Roman Catholic Church, with which he was at one time connected, but when he accused them of having, at one of their jubilees, given liquor to the people in order to put them against him and the work he was doing amongst them, Rev. Father Murphy rose and protested, saying that he would not sit and hear the Roman Catholic Church insulted.

The president tried to calm the trouble by suggesting that it would be well to leave out all that might by any possible chance give offence to anybody.

Father Chiniquy, however, appeared not to be of the same opinion, for on resuming his address he at once began to again refer to the Roman Catholic Church, and it was not until a couple of gentlemen had risen in the audience and protested that he quit this line of speech and ultimately apologized for any offence he might unintentionally have given.

The Committee on Resolutions submitted a report approving of Dr. Fisher's resolution in regard to the French treaty. There was considerable difference of opinion amongst the members, and a discussion ensued which continued without any result until the convention adjourned.

A mass meeting was held in the evening and addresses were delivered advocating prohibition by General Neal Dowe and Miss Francis Willard.

THE NANAIMO SHOOTING.

Expert Testimony Taken at the Adjourned Inquest.

NANAIMO, B. C., July 4.—The preliminary hearing in the charge against Sidney Wentworth Lobb was continued here. The Magistrate had refused bail after the arrest of Mr. Lobb on the suspicion that he was instrumental in causing the sensational death of his wife on the night of June 8.

The doctors who had examined the wound were of the opinion that the first theory of suicide was not correct and that it was not only almost impossible, but improbable that Mrs. Lobb had committed suicide. When the Crown finished its presentation of the case for the prosecution a week ago, the opinion here was about equally divided between the theories of suicide and murder.

The lawyers for the defence, Messrs. Davis and Crane, put in the evidence of an expert gunsmith. The latter had carefully examined the marks of burning on Mrs. Lobb's clothing, and swore that they could only have been caused by the revolver produced had the weapon been discharged at a distance from her of not less that 13½ inches, and not more than 15½ inches. This evidence practically sustains the theory of suicide.

The trial was adjourned for a week. It is considered entirely probably that Lobb will be released. Magistrate Plants has deemed it best to withhold his sanction to the granting of bail.

Lobb is still in a distracted condition, and feels his position keenly.

Presbyterian Church Destroyed.

PARIS, Ont., July 4.—Yesterday the large brick Presbyterian Church, situated on Dumfries street, was discovered to be on fire. Inside of an hour the church was a total loss, organ, seats, music books, silver communion service, were all destroyed. It was very unfortunate that it happened just at present as the church would have been vacated in two months. The $35,000 Presbyterian Church is near completion and is expected to be opened in August. The fire was first noticed from the cellar and evidently was the work of an incendiary.

The Scrap Looks Serious.

PORT HOPE, Ont., July 4.—Jas. Cushion, of Cobourg, and James H. Crumbie, of the township of Hope, who had been drinking pretty freely, quarrelled in the Royal hotel, and afterwards left. When opposite Mulholland's hardware store they got to fighting again. Cushion seems to have got the better of his opponent, when Crumbie pulled out a knife and stabbed Cushion on the calf of the right leg, making a fearful wound, severing an artery. Two doctors were with him all last night and it is difficult to tell how the matter will end.

Glencoe Woollen Mills Burned.

GLENCOE, July 4.—Yesterday Vanse's woollen mills and contents were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $4,500; insurance not known, the owner being absent. The fire is supposed to have originated from matches in the wool being ignited in going through the picker machine. It is believed the insurance will cover loss.

Steamer Amaryanthia Floated.

MONTREAL July 4.—The Donaldson line steamer Amaryanthia, Capt. Gow, which went ashore near Ile Ronde a week ago, was pulled off yesterday by the tug Lord Stanley. After the cargo has been taken out the steamer will be taken to Quebec, where she will go into drydock for repairs.

Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DEATH BY THE CROSS.

ORIGINAL SENTENCE PASSED UPON CHRIST STILL IN EXISTENCE.

How It Has Been Retained Throughout the Ages—The Wording of the Sentence Penned by Pontius Pilate Discovered in 1280—Engraved on a Plate of Brass.

It will probably be a surprise to the majority of people to learn that the original death sentence passed upon Jesus Christ is still in existence in the form of an engraved plate dating from the very day the sentence was pronounced by Pontius Pilate, and which has been retained through all these years as one of the most precious of all relics of the Savior.

The sentence is engraved on a plate of brass in the Hebrew language, and on its sides are the following words:

"A similar plate has been sent to each tribe."

This particular plate was discovered in the year 1280 in the city of Aquilla, in the Kingdom of Naples, by a scientific commission that had been appointed to search that ancient city for the antiquities known to have been kept there. Evidence remained that this city had been the repository of many old Roman records and other documents and momentoes associated with the early Roman Empire, and for this reason it was especially made the object of the commission's inquiry.

The plate bore every evidence of genuineness and accompanying it were reliable documents, and among the records were references that placed the authenticity of the engraving beyond question. The plate is now kept in the chapel of Caserta, a little town some twenty miles north of Naples, where it is contained in a box of ebony, and shown to curiosity-loving travelers, and many voyagers en route for Naples diverge from their beaten track to visit this little chapel and look upon the everlasting memorial of the most remarkable judicial sentence ever pronounced in the history of the world. Translations in English, French and German hang upon the wall near the original, and it is thus readily understood, while the study of the engraved lines, and the appearance of the simple brass appeals to the imagination of even the most indifferent and brings before the mind's eye the picture of that memorable scene, 1,800 years ago. Aside from the sacred associations that are called forth in every Christian mind at sight of this relic, there is also the historical interest aroused by looking upon an existing object that was contemporaneous with and called forth by an incident that will be the most prominent in history so long as the world exists.

The plate reads as follows:

"Sentence pronounced by Pontius Pilate, intendant of the province of Lower Galilee, that Jesus of Nazareth shall suffer death by the cross.

"In the seventeenth year of the Emperor Tiberius, and on the 26th day of the month of March, in the holy city of Jerusalem, during the pontificate of Annanias and Caiaphas.

"Pontius Pilate, intendant of the province of Lower Galilee, sitting in judgment in the presidential seat of the praetor, sentences Jesus of Nazareth to death on a cross between two robbers, as numerous and notorious testimonials of the people prove:

"1. Jesus is a misleader.
"2. He has excited the people to sedition
"3. He is an enemy to the laws.
"4. He calls himself the Son of God.
"5. He calls himself falsely the King of Israel.
"6. He went into the temple followed by a multitude of people carrying palms in their hands.

"Orders the first centurian, Quirilius Cornelius, to bring him to the place of execution.

"Forbids all persons, rich or poor, to prevent the execution of Jesus."

This constitutes the body and, of course, the interesting portion of the plate, but in addition the names of three men are perpetuated and given a value that their owners probably never anticipated would cling to them, by being attached as witnesses of the promulgation of this sentence.

The names of the witnesses and the order in which they come are:

1. Daniel Robani, Pharisee.
2. John Sorobabel.
3. Raphael Robani.

It is believed that twelve of these plates were engraved and sent to the various tribes throughout Judea and over into the Roman provinces of Europe. The remaining eleven are probably buried in widely separated points where they never will be brought to the knowledge of mankind or have long since been destroyed.

The engraving on the plate is well done. The Hebrew characters are cut deep and with perfect accuracy.

The Coal Strike Dies Hard.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., July 4.—The situation at the coal mines here looks worse than at any time during the sojourn of the troops at Walston and Adrain. The miners at Walston are on strike and it looks as if the whole region would be out again. As only about one-third of the men could find places there is great dissatisfaction.

A Riot Among Miners.

IRONWOOD, Mich., July 4. — A riot occurred at the Norrie Mine. A finlander who was shot in the abdomen has just been brought into the city. He will die. The streets are crowded with excited people.

The Moose Head Disaster.

MONTREAL, July 4.—H. Shulfelt, the express messenger injured in the Moose Head disaster, has returned very sick. He states that the accident must have been a case of train-wrecking. McDonald, the injured fireman in the accident, will die.

Killed by Lightning.

UXBRIDGE, June 4.—Israel Clutchey, Stonemason, was working under a barn at Udora when he was killed by lightning. A son of the owner of the barn, A. S. Webster, was struck but will recover.

Holding the Vigilant.

GLASGOW, June 30.—It has been decided that the Vigilant will not be entered in the races which will be sailed on Tuesday and Thursday next. It is probable that she will remain docked until just before the race on Saturday, July 7.

Lord Charles Russell Dead.

LONDON, June 30.—Lord Charles J. F. Russell, son of the sixth Duke of Bedford, is dead. He was sergeant-at-arms in the commons from 1848 to 1878.

Satan's Best Substitute.

It is astonishing how these whisperers gather up everything. They know everything that happens. They have telephone and telegraph wires reaching from their ears to all the houses in the neighborhood. They have no taste for healthy news, but for the scraps and peelings thrown out of the scullery into the back yard they have great avidity. On the day when there is a new scandal in the newspapers they have no time to go abroad. On the day when there are four or five columns of delightful private letters published in a divorce case they stay at home and read and read and read. No time for the Bible that day, but toward night, perhaps, they may find time to run out a little while and see whether there are any new developments. Satan does not have to keep a very sharp lookout for his evil dominion in that neighborhood. He has let out the whole contract. These women get husbands and wives into quarrels, and brothers and sisters into antagonism, and disgust the pastor with the flock and the flock with the pastor, and they make neighbors, who before were kindly disposed toward each other, overauspicious and critical

A Railroad Without a Mishap.

The Liverpool Electric Elevated Railway, which has been in existence about a year, has proved completely successful in operation. It is five miles long, and its total cost, including equipment and all other charges, has been £550,000. A five-minute service of trains is maintained with perfect regularity, and so far without mishap of any kind. On a recent holiday 40,000 passengers were carried in eight hours.—Electrical Review.

A Pretty Gown.

A neat and pretty gown of navy-blue gauffred crape has a skirt slightly draped in front; a sort of Directoire waist with long tabs in front, small vest of blue moire with tiny satin spots, and crush collar and cuffs of blue velvet. This dress is exceedingly serviceable.

When you want Toilet Soaps, see Schofield's large and select stock.

When my little girl was one month old, she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds, a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to dry up and got so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep, but laid with them half open. About this time, at the earnest request of friends, I started using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, the Cuticura bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now two years old, strong, healthy and large as any child of her age (see photo.) and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing,

THE PULLMAN BOYCOTT

Attempts Being Made to Bring the Strike Into Canada.

MOBS DEFY STATE TROOPS

Disorderly Scene at the Chicago Stock Yards—The Troops in Sacramento, Cal., Withdraw Their Cartridges and Refuse to Fire at Strikers.

MONTREAL, July 5.—The great railway strike growing out of the dispute between the Pullman Sleeping Car Company and its employes is so spreading as to promise one of the most bitter struggles between capital and labor that the country has known for years.

The latest phase is an attempt to bring the trouble over into Canada. Almost within the same hour steps were taken to thwart the attempt. The news that agents of the strikers were in town and had approached almost every class of employes on the G.T.R. reached the conductors, and this new phase of the strike was the subject for discussion at an informal meeting of the conductors. It was almost unanimously agreed that they had no cause for taking part in the strike; they had every reason to be satisfied with their condition, and unless the heads of the order commanded a strike they would stand by their employers.

General Manager Sergeant of the Grand Trunk said yesterday: "I have not the least idea that there will be any trouble in Canada. I do not know what weight it may have with the strikers, but it should be understood that the Pullmans on the Grand Trunk are of Grand Trunk manufacture and built in our own shops here, and the workmen paid with our money. The cars are the assigned cars and are the property of the company, and by no process of reasoning can they be regarded as Pullman property and therefore not under the ban."

The Mob Rules in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 5.—With rifles levelled and revolvers drawn half of the second battalion Fifteen Regiment United States Infantry proceeded through a dense mob of more than five thousand men, boys, women and children to their camp in the stock yards. The train left the Lake Shore depot early in the morning, but at six o'clock at night was still on a side track, not where the managers intended it to be, but close enough for the boys in blue to unload their horses, ammunition, four Holtchkiss rifle cannon and supplies and go into camp a wearied and jaded lot men. The trouble here began early in the morning. At 8 o'clock Swift & Co. tried to move their stalled meat train, eastbound, which the strikers had held in durance for 48 hours. Every obstacle was placed in the way of the employes of the big packer, and it was 11.30 before the train could be started out on its journey. Even then the troops were obliged to charge the crowd with bayonets, before which, like a flock of frightened sheep, it fell back and permitted the train to move.

Then came the worst part of the day. The military train on the Lake Shore road which left the Rock Island depot at an early hour with the cavalry, artillery, horses and supplies of the fifteenth regiment on board pulled into the yards at Fortieth and Halsted street at 2 p.m. There it continued to switch up and down until twilight when the attempt to move it further was abandoned. Six times this train was uncoupled by the strikers in spite of the fact that on every car sat the bronzed and seasoned army man who had seen service and knew how to shoot and who declared they would do so if any man attempted to interfere with the train. This they would have done, but the strikers were too agile for them. Before the rifles could be aimed the offenders would be back in the midst of the crowd.

Some trouble occurred at Roote and 38th streets. A Lake Shore passenger train, which left the Rock Island depot at 3.04 o'clock, was delayed by the strikers, who climbed upon the engine and tried to induce Engineer Weber to quit. J. C. Harris, an employe of the road, pulled a revolver. American Railway Union delegates demanded of the police that they disarm the man, which the officers refused to do, and at this the mob took the matter into their hands and threw Harris beneath a freight train, and would have killed him had not the police interfered. A young man named Miller, a reporter for a morning paper, would have suffered a similar fate, but for a similar interference. Fifteen Panhandle freight cars were burned at 47th street by a crowd of strikers and their friends last night.

Refused to Shoot the Strikers.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 5.—Yesterday the troops marched down to the depot where the strikers had gathered in force, determined to prevent the moving of trains with Pullman cars. The members of the Sacramento and Stockton military, who were in the lead, were held back by the strikers on arriving at the depot and appealed to not to enter. They were, however, order to charge, and then ensued a remarkable scene. A number of the soldiers had been heard to declare that rather than fire upon the strikers they would lay down their arms, but it was not expected that all the soldiers would mutiny. Such, however, was the case, for both troops made no move whatever to carry out the order. They simply, as one man, removed the cartridges from their rifles, their action creating intense excitement.

THAT CABLE PROJECT

Discussed by the Delegates Assembled at the Capital.

ITS CONSTRUCTION URGED

An Immediate Survey of the Route of the Proposed Cable by the Imperial Government Recommended —A Reply Cabled to Lord Rosebery.

OTTAWA, July 5.—The delegates yesterday were closely engaged in the discussion of important matters from 10 o'clock in the forenoon until 6 in the evening with the exception of an intermission for luncheon. During that intermission they were taken over the Ottawa Electric Railway system in two special cars and provided with an excellent repast at Rockliffe Park.

The chief business of the day was the further consideration of the motion of Hon. F. B. Suttor, New South Wales, "That in the opinion of this conference immediate steps should be taken to provide telegraphic connection by cable free from foreign control between the Dominion of Canada and Australasia."

After a long and animated discussion the resolution was adopted without dissent.

The following resolution moved by Hon. Mr. Suttor and seconded by Hon. Mr. Fitzgerald, Tasmania, was also adopted after careful debate: "That this conference is of the opinion that any provisions in existing treaties between Great Britain and any foreign power which prevents the self-governing dependencies of the Empire from entering into agreements of commercial reciprocity with each other, or with Great Britain, should be removed."

It was resolved, on motion of Hon. Mr. Foster, seconded by Sir Henry Wrixton Victoria: "That the Imperial Government be respectfully requested to undertake at the earliest possible moment and to prosecute with all possible speed, a thorough survey of the proposed cable route between Canada and Australia; the expense to be borne in equal proportions by Great Britain, Canada and the Australian colonies."

SIR HENRY J. WRIXON, K.C.M.G.

It was moved by Sir Charles Mills, Cape of Good Hope, seconded by Sir Henry Devilliers, and resolved: "That it is for the interest of the empire that in case of the construction of a cable between Canada and Australia such cable should be extended from Australasia to the Cape of Good Hope; and that for that purpose arrangements should be made between the Imperial and South African Governments for a survey of the latter route."

The business to-day will have reference to the important question of reciprocal trade between the colonies represented at the conference.

By direction of the conference the president transmitted a reply to the telegram of the Right Hon. the Earl of Rosebery, dated June 30. The following is a copy of the reply so forwarded:

"Lord Rosebery, Foreign Office, London. —The members of this conference acknowledge with great pleasure your lordship's kind telegram received yesterday, and join in your hope that our deliberations may assist in assuring the continued unity and greatness of the empire. —(Sgd.) MACKENZIE BOWELL."

Sir William's Important Statement.

LONDON, July 5.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt made the statement in the debate on the estate duties that it had never been conceded in connection with the "most favored nation" treatment in commercial treaties, that the colonies were included in the words "other nation or country." If true, this is most important in view of the Ottawa conference, as showing the power of all parts of the Empire to make what internal commercial plans they choose without reference to foreign nations.

He Wanted to Experience Death.

TORONTO, July 5.—A man named Neil McInnis, said to hail from this city, attempted suicide in St. Paul, Minn., by taking a dose of laudanum. He was found in an unconscious condition in a bush on the outskirts of the city, and after the doctors had brought him round he was taken to the hospital. From letters found in his pockets it was apparent that McInnis had deliberately planned his death. He said that he was tired of living, and had made up his mind to go through the experience of dying to find out what there was in death.

The Lucan Shooting Case.

LUCAN, Ont., July 5.—The coroner's jury's verdict in the Bowers-Cain shooting case was returned yesterday. The verdict was that William Cain came to his death from a bullet wound fired from a revolver fired recklessly by Edward Bowers upon the road opposite his residence. The jury was half Protestant and half Catholic. The witnesses were reluctant. Among friends of the deceased there is a feeling that the shot was not fired with intent to do bodily harm. Bowers was taken back to London jail.

CROPS IN THE PROVINCE

Statement Issued From the Ontario Bureau of Industries.

GENERAL PROSPECTS GOOD

Fall Wheat and Barley Will Present a Fair Average—Condition of Other Cereals Favorably Reported—Only a Fair Crop in Fruit Expected.

TORONTO, July 5.—Bulletin I., issued from the Ontario Bureau of Industries, contains the following report of the condition of the crops in the province up to June 15:

FALL WHEAT.—The reports for this time of the year are quite up to the average. With favorable weather for the next three weeks a good crop of fall wheat may be looked for. In the Lake Erie district the crop was fair to very good. In the Lake Huron district most of the reports are for a good crop. In the Georgian Bay counties a small fraction of the crop has been lost, but on the whole it is quite up to the average. In the West Midland group the best reports come from Wellington and the worst from Middlesex, where, however, the crop is reported fair. Along Lake Ontario reports are favorable for a fair crop—fully up to the average. In the eastern counties the amount of fall wheat is too small to affect the total, but reports are favorable. To sum up: The present condition is fair, with prospects of a crop quite up to, if not a little over, the average, with favorable weather.

SPRING WHEAT.—As usual there is but little spring wheat in the western part of the province, while in the eastern half the acreage is declining. The grain was sown in fine condition, and is now recovering rapidly from the extra rain. In many places correspondents state that the rain did more good than harm. Less than usual has been sown in the northern districts. On the whole present indications are for a crop about two-thirds of the average.

BARLEY.—In the Lake Erie districts only a moderate quantity has been sown, and the condition is under the average. It has suffered from rain and also from frost. In the Lake Huron district barley is not in so good a form as spring wheat. In the Georgian Bay district rain and frost did some injury, but an improvement has taken place since warm weather returned. In the West Midland district the crop is reported as being uneven or patchy and backward. In the Lake Ontario district the condition is a little under the average. In the St. Lawrence and Ottawa district the condition is reported as more favorable. In the East Midland district the crop is fair. In the northern districts nothing of any consequence is reported. On the whole it may be concluded that the barley has suffered quite extensively, is backward in growth, but at present is making very rapid progress, and with a continuance of favorable weather will probably come up to nearly the average of the last two years.

OATS.—The reports from every section of the Province are practically the same. The crop is on the whole somewhat more backward than usual, but present conditions point to a yield fully up to the average.

RYE.—There appears to be less and less of this crop sown every year. As far as reported upon it came through the winter in good condition.

PEAS.—The continued rains did more damage to this crop than to the other spring-sown crops. The reports from the largest pea counties of the west are quite favorable.

CORN.—Prospects are for a crop a little under the average in quantity.

BUCKWHEAT.—The only report possible at this time is that quite an extensive acreage will be grown this year.

TIMOTHY.—A small amount of timothy was winter-killed, but the principal damage has resulted from some cold wet days of spring and early summer. There is no need to differentiate counties or districts, as all report the same, namely a light crop.

CLOVER.—On the whole the clover crop promises to be below the average. Damage by insects is reported from a few counties.

ROOTS AND POTATOES.—Early planted potatoes were much injured by frost. The season is not far enough advanced to report upon roots, as sowing is later than usual.

FRUIT.—The frost has done some damage to fruit. There is promise of only a fair crop. Apples are setting well, and on the whole promise a good crop, especially east of Toronto. The Essex and Kent and Niagara districts give on the whole very favorable reports as to fruits.

LABOR AND WAGES.—Out of every eight correspondents reporting seven stated that there was a sufficiency of labor, and as regards quality, one out of every three men offering for farm help was considered a poor hand. The result of the large number of men seeking rural employment in the spring and early summer is seen in the lowering of the scale of wages. Domestic servants are still scarce on the farm; the woman question has yet to be settled in that quarter.

Randy Arrives in America.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Lord Randolph Churchill and Lady Churchill arrived on the Majestic of the White Star Line yesterday. Lord Churchill said they were on a tour around the world and expected to remain in New York a few days. Further than that he did not care to say anything.

Employment of Italian Immigrants.

ROME, July 5.—As a result of recent negotiations between Italy and the United States it is announced that the Italian Government will establish an office on Ellis Island in New York harbor for the purpose of giving information in regard to employment, etc., to Italian immigrants.

The Yankee Holiday in London.

LONDON, July 5.—In honor of the fourth of July many American flags were seen flying yesterday in the west end of London and in the city proper. The United States Embassy and the United States Consulate were closed.

AN ABSURD DEMAND.

In its progress from one absurdity to another the Empire has at last arrived at the conclusion that a special session of the Legislature ought to be held in order to "satisfy the people as to what kind of a Government the Province is to have." The "people" are told that it is their duty to keep clamoring for the special session or for Sir Oliver Mowat's resignation. We suppose that if there is one thing above all others that the people of Ontario do not want it is hot-weather sitting of the Legislature. It is only a few weeks since the last session was concluded, and all the time since has been occupied with Provincial politics of the hottest kind. A few weeks ago Mr. Meredith was advocating biennial sessions. Now it is proposed that there shall be two if not three sessions in one year. The cost of a session, according to Mr. Meredith's estimate, is between $70,000 and $80,000, and this sum is to be expended in order to see whether the Opposition can fix up a want of confidence motion that will catch the Patrons. The meeting would be merely an opportunity for the exhibition of party tactics. Very little work could be done, because the public accounts and other reports cover the calendar year; and after the contentious session had occupied the summer or fall it would be necessary to hold a business session in the winter. This would make three sessions from March, 1894, to March 1895, to say nothing of the general election through which we have just passed. Nothing more outrageously absurd has ever emanated from the Ontario Opposition, which two months ago voted for biennial sessions.

The people of Ontario want to go to neither extreme. They want neither one session in two years nor three sessions in one year. They want the annual meeting held at the usual time. They have declared by an overwhelming majority of their votes that they have confidence in the honesty and ability of the goveenment, and are willing to entrust it with the administration of the affairs of the country not only until the regular session of 1895, but for the next four years. Even if it should appear that changes are demanded in regard to fees and appointments, these can surely wait for seven or eight months, especially as the whole matter is now the subject of inquiry by a commission. No change that can be imagined would save in that period anything like $70,000 or $80,000, which is Mr. Meredith's idea of the cost of a session. There is no reason why the intervening period should be, as the News says, one of "uncertainty and agitation. At least nobody needs to be agitated except the eager politician. The ordinary citizen feels that the affairs of the Province are safe in the hands of an honest and efficient Gavernment, and desires nothing more than a rest from Provincial politics until the battle is renewed in the session of 1895, or in the bye-elections which may intervene.—Globe.

WHITEWASHED ONCE MORE.

By voting down Mr. Edgar's resolution censuring Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Hector for distributing the corruption moneys which Mr. McGreevy collected for them, the Conservative majority in the House of Commons adhered to the party's "old policy." They declare in effect, says the Ottawa Free Press, that it is perfectly proper for cabinet ministers to milk railway subsidies and bleed government contractors in order to raise funds with which to debauch constituencies, but that the contractors who allow themselves to be subjected to the bleeding process must be punished as criminals. Why were Messrs. Thomas McGreevy and Nicholas Connolly indicted, convicted and sent to prison by the federal government? The charge against them was "conspiracy" They conspired to raise compaign funds for Sir Adolphe, Sir Hector and other Tory leaders, who personally directed the expenditure of the moneys obtained for them—as the documentary evidence proves. Messrs. Connolly and McGreevy derived no benefit or profit from the "conspiracy." The beneficiaries were the cabinet ministers and the Tory party. Yet Messrs. McGreevy and Connolly have been prosecuted and imprisoned as criminals by the Dominion Government, while Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir Hector Langevin have had an extra coat of whitewash placed upon them by the Tory majority in parliament. Is this "one law for all?" The judge who presided at the trial of Messrs. McGreevy and Connolly expressed the opinion that those men were merely minor offenders and that the principal parties to the "conspiracy" by which corruption funds were obtained from the Dominion treasury ought to be put upon trial. To whom did the judge refer if not to the men who received and distributed the moneys obtained by Mr. McGreevy? No doubt a portion of the Tory party would be glad to throw Sir Adolphe Caron overboard if that virtuous knight would only consent to be sacrificed; but the postmaster general carries the bait box for his party, and if he was thrown overboard there would be no more fishing. And having declared Sir Hector Langevin pure and spotless the Tory majority ought to restore that gentleman to his old place in the cabinet.

How benevolently, says the Ottawa Free Press, Sir Oliver Mowat smiles through his spectacles upon those Conservative politicians and newspapers which are struggling to make their friends believe that the provincial government will have difficulty in managing the new legislature. The premier is not worrying. He and his colleagues will shortly take themselves off to the seaside and the mountains to enjoy a well-earned rest after the labours of the recent campaign and to laugh over the ridiculous cries raised by the Opposition in the hope of influencing votes. Of straight Reformers and Patrons of Industry elected by the Reform party there will be sixty-one in the new Ontario assembly, while Mr. Meredith has only thirty supporters, including three P.P.A. men. Mr. Meredith is about as likely to receive assistance from a Patron elected by Reformers as the government is to receive support from Mr. Kidd of Carleton; whom everybody classes as a Conservative, though he defeated Mr. Meredith's whip. The government is more likely to get the support of Conservative Patrons that Mr. Meredith is to get help from Patrons who are Reformers or free traders. If Mr. Meredith wants to test the government's strength in the new assembly let him call for a division when Sir Oliver Mowat nominates a candidate for the speakership.

MR. E. Hannaford, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk railway, testified this morning before the Public Accounts Committee in the Curran bridge case, that the bridge, which cost the Government $170,000, could have been built for $70,000 and allow a fair margin to the contractor. He himself had offered to build the superstructure and substructure for $35,000 each, and thought a fairer way to do the work would have been by day labour. If the company had had material, he thought there would have been $10,000 profit in the contract for the substructure, but the company in January, 1892, had no stone nearer than 225 miles, and the Government had stone at hand. The witness had offered to have the bridge completed in time for the opening of navigation, but would not promise to have it "all sand-papered off" on May 1st, 1893, the date specified for the completion. The bridge he said, was not yet completed in the way Mr. Schreiber would have exacted of him. The superstructure he proposed to put up would have been 150,000 pounds heavier than the present superstructure, and would have been worth $6,000 more. He said he would not have gone about the construction of the bridge as it was carried on.

THE manner in which Mr. Edgar's renewal of the charges against Langevin and Caron was received yesterday indicates, says the Toronto News, (Conservative), that the Ottawa Conservatives have lost all regard even for the appearance of decency. The accused knights not only offered no defence for their share in the distribution of the corruption fund contributed by the Larkins, Connollys and McGreevys, but Sir Adolphe actually gloried in his crime, and declared he would, if opportunity offered, repeat the offence to-morrow. And this shameless declaration was received without protest by Sir John Thompson and with shouts of applause by the Premier's followers. A more scandalous exhibition of contempt for public opinion has never been made even by the present corrupt Parliament. That it was made proves conclusively that there is no hope for improvement so long as the men now in office remain there, and that the electors must, in self-defence, drive them from power at the earliest possible opportunity.

THE CORNWALL CANAL.

The Government majority in the House of Commons yesterday voted down an amendment to the motion for an appropriation of $450,000 for the improvement of the Cornwall Canal. The amendment set forth the following statement of facts:—In 1888 the department of Railways decided to enlarge the Cornwall Canal. It was suggested to the Minister that the part between Milleroches and Moulinette should be abandoned and a new channel substituted for it. The matter was investigated by competent engineers, and the Department decided against the suggestion and in favour of the original plan.

A contract for the construction of the necessary work for the enlargement of that port of the canal was made with the lowest tenderers, the Gilbert Blasting & Dredging Company. After the works had been partly completed and—$125,000 paid to the company the Department cancelled the contract and decided to adopt the suggestion for a new channel. This involved the total loss of the $125,000 already paid, and a further loss of $30,000 for damages for breach of contract with the Gilbert Company. For the construction of the dams necessary for the new channel a contract for $384,000 was made with William Davis & Sons without tender. The consent of Parliament to the change was never obtained.

This may not appear to be quite as flagrant a case as the waste of $200,000 on the Montreal bridges, but it is a good illustration of the bungling vacillation and disregard of the authority of Parliament which characterize the construction of important Dominion works. Nothing of the kind occurred during the construction of the Ontario Parliament buildings or any of the other buildings erected by the Department of Public Works of the Province.—Globe.

Mr. J. McKellar, of Central Ontario Junction, was in town last week.

Miss Campbell, of Keene, is the guest of Miss S. Paget.

One hundred and thirty-three candidates wrote on the Entrance Examinations held here last week, by far the largest number which ever wrote here. J. Davidson, M. A. LL. B. presided.

The social under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Christ church, held last Friday evening at the residence of Mr. T. M. Grover, was well attended. The band was present and a most enjoyable evening was spent.

Rev. R. S. G. Anderson, St. Helen's, preached in the Presbyterian church last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Summerville, Windsor, will occupy the pulpit July 8th and 15th.

The number on the roll of our High School for the term ending June 21 was 124, with an average attendance of 108, which is eight higher than any previous term. With the large number of entrance candidates writing, there will, no doubt, be a large increase in the attendance and another teacher on the staff will be necessary.

Rev. Jas. Anderson, of Uxbridge, has been stationed here as pastor of the Methodist church, after an absence of six years. He has many friends in Norwood who welcome him back. Mr. Anderson preached to large congregations last Sabbath.

The departmental examinations for primary, junior leaving and matriculation certificates opened here on Tuesday, Principal Fessenden, of the Collegiate Institute, Peterborough, presiding. The honor matriculation examination begins on the 16th inst.

Mr. Davidson, headmaster of the High School, is presiding at the examinations in Peterborough. After they are over he will go to Toronto to assist in examining the papers.

The directors of the Union Bank of Canada have decided to open a branch of that bank at Norwood, as soon as arrangements for suitable premises can be made. The Union Bank has a paid up capital of $1,200,000 and transacts an extensive business throughout the Dominion. We are pleased to learn that there is a likelihood of Mr. Fitzgibbon, who has carried on a private banking business here for the past six years being engaged as manager.

The constable was instructed to see that boys under 18 years of age are not allowed to frequent the pool tables.

The annual meeting of the East Peterborough Farmers' Institute was held in the town hall on Saturday. Mr. F. Birdsall was voted to the chair. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and signed, and the auditors' report read and adopted. The following officers were then elected:

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknesses" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use.

It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will cure in all cases of disease for for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure permanently constipation, sick headache, billiousness, indigestion and kindred ailments.

LIVE LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Council meeting next Mouday night.
Schools are closed for the holidays.
Village very quiet since the election.
Court Lakefield meets Thursday night.
Diphtheria cases are all getting well.
Heavy wood and thunder storm on Monday afternoon.

The band are practising every night for the 12th of July.

The hot weather is sending people up the lakes. The cottages in Stony Lake are filling up fast.

Huckleberries from Stony Lake were on sale in the village last week. They were very large and sweet.

F. L. Robbins, Esq., of Pittsburg, Pa., has an agent in the village making arrangements for putting up a handsome hunting lodge on Jack's Lake, where Mr. Robbins and his friends intend to spend the early fall fishing for trout and bass and later on try their hands on deer and other game.

Dominion Day passed off very quietly in the village. Quite a number went to Peterborough, several to the Indian picnic at Mud Lake, but the largest number went up to Stony Lake on the Mary Ellen where a pleasant day was spent.

Messrs. H. Smith, Eli Weed and several other gentlemen and ladies from Rochester, N.Y., are staying at the Burleigh Falls hotel, bass and maskinonge fishing in Lovesick and Stony Lakes. They report good sport.

Constable Doidge ran in a young Englishman from Smith on Monday for furious driving on the streets. He whs allowed to go by the reeve owing to his previous good character, but received a good lecture and warning.

OMEMEE.

(From a Correspondent.)

Crops of all kinds have picked up wonderfully and prospects promise well.

Quite a number drove down Monday to the celebration at Peterborough and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The large majority for J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., was a great surprise, but East Emily farmers, as a whole, are rejoicing that such a worthy representative has been returned with such a large majority

Rev. J. Mackay preached to a large gathering of Orangemen at Fowler's Corners last Sunday. Next Sunday the District will attend the different churches in Omemee, and will celebrate the 12th at Lindsay, when about 60 stand of colours are expected.

Rev. D. L. Thompson preached his farewell sermon in the Methodist church last Sunday to a large and appreciative congregation. He, with his family, made many friends here, being an exceedingly kind and thoughtful man. His removal to Stirling will be their gain, but our loss. Rev. Mr. Hill succeeds to his charge here.

Margaret L. Sheppard lectured here to fair sized houses but did not pull in as much tin as expected in this loyal corner of the Dominion. The address to ladies only was not appreciated.

There are a few of the old residents of Emily in a very serious condition of health just now. David Storey of East Emily, Hamilton Best and Isaiah Thornton. Anxious hopes for their recovery.

OUR MARKET.

This week's market has been rather quiet, although a large number of hogs were bought and weighed on the market Tuesday (live stock day) by Messrs. D. Walsh, Shaughnessy, Kennedy, Hattrick, Morris, Fitzgerald, Watts and others, at prices ranging from $4.50 to $5.00 per 100 lbs, live weight. Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald also tested a large shipment of cheese on the market scales Tuesday, which proved very satisfactory. Wednesday's market was small, new potatoes and other new vegetables making their first appearance and "sold ready." Small fruits were much asked for. Butter and eggs have advanced—also hay and oats in great demand. Straw $3 per load.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, carefully prepared from the best ingredients. 25 cents.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

It was also decided the general secretary have some holidays.

A Serious Cattle Disease.

Mr. David Crowley, lot 19 in the 13th concession of Otonabee, called upon Mr. Stratton, M.P.P., this morning, with reference to a disease called anthrax, which has broken out in his herd of cows. Four have died and several others are dangerously affected. Dr. Johnston, V.S., accompanied Mr. Crowley to his farm and measures will be taken to isolate the afflicted animals. Mr. Stratton has reported the matter to the Ontario Department of Agriculture and prompt steps will be taken to afford all the relief possible.

To Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

The annual Foresters' Excursion under the auspices of Court Little John, C.O.F., will take place as usual on the Civic Holiday, (August 17th), to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. The general committee met last night and appointed sub-committees to look after the various details of the excursion. A good start was made; every member of the committee got down to hard work, and the prospects for breaking the record, and pulling out a large crowd to this popular annual Foresters' outing is most encouraging. Further particulars will be announced in a few days.

Beautiful Lawns.

No other town in Ontario has so many handsome lawns as are to be found in Peterborough. Never before were lawn mowers so cheap and so well made. Look in the north window of the Peterborough Hardware Coy's store and see the display of lawn and garden tools. They have some magnificent cast iron urns at very low prices. dtf

A Pleasant Death for Flies.

Remedies are not generally pleasant things to take but a discovery has been claimed of a very pleasant remedy for flies. It is said that a bunch of sweet peas in each room, renewed each day, will kill every fly in the house. They will stop to suck the deadly sweet and topple over dead. They alight with their usual, stop momentarily, quiver in the legs, flap their wings weakly several times and give up the ghost.

The Best of the Season.

The Charlotte street Sunday school excursion will be held this year on the 17th of July to Stony Lake, via G. T. R. and steamer Golden City. The affair is under the management of a very efficient committee, who will see that every detail of arrangement for the pleasure and comfort of those attending will be properly attended to. Tickets for round trip, 65c., and 40c. Special rates for members of the Sunday school.

A Burglary.

Last night a burglary was committed at the R. R. Hamilton C. P. R. restaurant building, now unoccupied, which was broken into and a quantity of stuff stolen—a silver coffee heater, a clock and about 20 glasses. The burglars are supposed to have been tramps and two vagrant gentlemen, whose names appear elsewhere in the police court record, are suspected. The absence of so many citizens from their residences during the summer gives the omnipresent and omnivoracious tramp abundant opportunity—in fact, in many cases—an invitation to enter and possess the temporarily deserted premises.

—St. Paul's church Woman's Foreign Missionary meeting will be held on Friday evening, July 6th, at 7.30 o'clock. Members and others will please observe that the hour of meeting has been changed from 3 to 7.30.

—The long vacation, as the legal fraternity term it, commenced on the 1st July. A petition will probably be circulated among members of the profession in Peterborough for early closing during the term till Sept. 1.

—The lock works' excursion down the river yesterday was well attended, and the excursionists enjoyed themselves immensely. Dancing was a favorite form of amusement. Mr. Michael Costello was a very efficient master of ceremonies.

—In an Ashburnham yard the other day a robin flew down and was picking up some crumbs near a hen which was watching her brood of chicks. It just took the old hen about a quarter of a minute to shake the existence out of that robin.

—A committee of the whole council, which, however, was attended by only six members, was held last night, and the matter of the George street sewer was discussed. The business done will not be made known till the next regular meeting of the council.

—A little less liberty given to small boys who go fishing and swimming in dangerous places in the river would be advisable. It is not easy to understand why parents do not learn a lesson from the many drowning cases which have occurred in this neighbourhood.

—Peterboroughions who took exception to the loud pictures recently displayed on the bill boards of the town, will be interested in learning that the Governor-General has written a letter to the Mayor of Ottawa protesting against the immoral character of the show bills lately posted up around that city.

—At Omemee on Monday the roof of the drill shed was blown off and landed in the river. A new sidewalk the corporation was building is no more. Chimneys were carried in all directions, and trees can be found planted "wrong end up" in many parts of the village. Many narrow escapes from upsets and probably drowning happened.

—Hamilton has two cases of small pox—said to be light types of the disease, and there is therefore a vaccination boom in the Ambitious City. What is our local Board of Health doing in the way of prophylaxis? There is an occasional traveller between town and Hamilton and there is a possibility of contagion. It would be a misfortune if, by any neglect of precaution variola, should have a chance to punch the faces of several of our citizens full of holes, not to speak of fatal issues of such a loathsomely dreadful disease.

—Talking with a well-known railway man yesterday, a reporter was told something he didn't know before. Said the railway man, "Few persons probably have any idea that there are as many as sixty-five railways in Canada. Yet this is what we learn from the report of the Department of Railways and Canals for the last fiscal year. This number includes the Government roads, and it also embraces under one heading all amalgamated lines. The total length of these roads is 15,320 miles of completed track, besides 2,012 miles of siding."

HEAVY SHIPMENTS OF HOGS.

(Campbellford Herald.)

On Saturday last, Messrs. John Seeley and W. Reed, cattle buyers of Belleville, shipped 93 hogs from this station to Peterborough, for Mr. Matthews, of that town. The same day they sent off 85 hogs from Stirling. On Tuesday and Wednesday, Mr. Black shipped one car load from here and one from Norwood to the same buyer. Just now prices are low in Montreal, and the markets are being supplied with hogs from Manitoba. These are fed on frozen wheat, and the competition is too keen for local buyers to make shipments profitably. They are therefore seeking a market nearer home.

POLICE COURT.

July 5th.

To-day was government day—government business had precedence. Acting Post Office Inspector P. H. Macarow charged a citizen (whose name is suppressed by request) with a breach of the post office law. The breach consisted in the accused inclosing first class mail matter in a parcel containing fifth class matter, and on which postage only for matter of this class was paid. That is, a letter and the sum of twenty-five cents was enclosed in the parcel containing fifth class matter. It appears from the evidence that the accused sent a parcel containing among other things, a pair of clippers, to Jones Bros & Co. Toronto. The parcel containing the clippers was sent to the post office in Peterborough and the amount of postage, for fifth-class matter, ascertained. It was then taken back by the boy to the sender and the letter and money inclosed. The parcel was passed by the local post office employees, but at the Toronto office it was seized and forwarded to Ottawa. From the capital the parcel was sent to Mr. Inspector Macarow with instructions to prosecute. At the police court this morning the parcel was produced and evidence given to show that when the parcel had been sent to the post office in Peterborough to find out what amount of postage would be required it did not contain the letter, but the letter and 25 cents in money were found in the parcel when it arrived in Toronto. The charge was considered proven by the magistrate, who remarked that for the protection of the government which furnished an excellent postal service, it was necessary that they should not be deprived of their revenue by such means as the case in hand showed had been done, and an example must be made for the benefit of the public who use the post office. The law permitted a fine of from $10 to $40, and he would impose a fine of $10, which would be a lesson to the offender in the case in question. The fine was paid.

Inspector Macarow says similar practices are exceedingly prevalent, the popular feeling being that it is a venial sin to defraud the government—that smuggling is not a mortal sin. The action of the department has pretty thoroughly done away with the petty fraud of re-using cancelled postage stamps, and the determination is to prevent fraud in the transmission of matters through the mails at fraudulently insufficient rates. Doubtless many persons do not consider it a breach of the law to send a newspaper and write on the inner margin, "Mary and the baby are well, or something similiar, or to enclose a pocket handkerchief or some such trifle. Persons who feel inclined to economize on postage expenditure should study the law on this subject and to this end a study of the printed placards hung up in the Post Office, bearing on the subject, should be made with care. Saving a cent on postage at the risk of a fine of from $10 to $40 may show a liberal confidence in one's chances, but it may not always be a wise proceeding.

Thomas Courcey was committed to secure his appearing as a witness at the police court to-morrow morning at the trial of the charge of burglary and larceny against Lewis Merrill alias Jas Devine, and John Somers of burglarizing R. R. Hamilton's C.P.R. restaurant and stealing therefrom a silver coffee heater, some glasses and other articles last night.

Somers and Devine or Merrill were arraigned this morning, Somers as befitting his name, elected to be tried summarily—by the magistrate, but Devine preferred to be tried by jury. The physiognomist would find a special study in the countenanecs of the accused, which afforded prima facey evidence of their being liable to be guilty—if not of this charge—of acts that the law could not recognize. According to the police records Devine has a history. He was convicted two years ago of horsestealing and was arrested at the time of the Crossley shooting as a vagrant, and was subsequently arrested as a vagrant at Uxbridge and as a suspect in the shooting case. His right cheek bone is marked as with with the sign manual of a hostile knuckle, and altogether he cannot be said to possess the open, frank ccuntenance of the good little Sunday school boy that dies young. Both will appear in court again to-morrow morning.

The police have declared war against tramps. This morning three of these nomadic knights of industry were arrested as vagrants. Macdonald, McKenzie and Ed. McCormack, whose sporting sobriquet is "D. O. Ned," who figured some time ago in the disappearance of three young town lads, and the robbery of a house near the brick yards the day they left town, a tramp and two boys having been seen in the vicinity. If "D. O. Ned's" vagrant habits are proven he may have a chance of assisting in the agricultural operations of this great province by contributing his unwilling labour to the manufacture of binding twine in the Central Prison.

Yesterday morning surveying operations on the Trent Valley Canal route were resumed. Mr. R. B. Rogers, superintending engineer of the Trent Valley Canal is the engineer in charge, and Mr. Greenwood, C.E., of the Cornwall canal staff and Mr. F. B. Fripp, are in charge, engaged on the Peterborough-Lakefield section, while Mr. G. R. L. Fellows, C.E., also of the Cornwall canal staff, has gone to Lake Simcoe and will make the surveys for the Lake Simcoe and Balsam Lake section. The local engineering staff began operations at Little Lake and will prosecute the survey as far as Lakefield. The staff say that they have no special instructions that can be communicated.

EXHIBITION GROUND IMPROVEMENTS.

Preparations for the Big Central Exhibition in September.

The directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition have expended $500 in improving the grounds and conveniences. The main building has been removed from the old position in the central part of the grounds to within 20 feet of the street. The speeding track has been increased in length to one-third of a mile, and a grand stand is being built that will accommodate 400 or 500 persons. Preparations on the largest scale ever yet attempted are being made for the coming exhibition in September. Special attractions, including a baloon ascension, elaborate fireworks and other diversions are being arranged for and the next exhibition will be made by all odds the finest and most attractive of the series.

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE.

A Description of an Apparently Perfectly Satisfactory System.

In Peterborough with its disgracefully deplorable absence of sewerage, the question of the disposal of garbage is a most important one. At present the garbage resulting from domestic operations is from necessity thrown in some part of the back premises, the liquid portion penetrating the soil and ultimately finding its way to the nearest well with certainly no improvement of the quality of the water, while the solid portions lie and fester in the heat a greater or lesss time before removal, which is not by any means as frequent as it should be, owing to lack of effective scavenging facilities and to the cost falling upon the householder. In other places better means are employed, and an excellent system is in use in St. Louis, U.S. The following condensed description of the process, which will or, at least, should be read with great interest by Peterborough citizens, is taken from the American Architect and Building News :

"The process of garbage disposal is probably carried on now with greater perfection in St. Louis than anywhere else in the world. In the new establishment just completed there at a cost of nearly a quarter of a million dollars by the company which holds the contract for disposing of the garbage of the city, the carts bringing the material ascend an inclined plane to the third story of the receiving building, where they discharge into enormous vertical cylinders which are surrounded by steam jackets. Superheated steam is forced into the jackets and the water, constituting from seventy-five to eighty per cent. of the garbage, is thus evaporated or rather distilled off, the vapour being condensed and the condensed water, which is perfectly harmless and even drinkable, allowed to run off to the sewer. At a certain stage of the drying, naphtha is pumped into the cylinders and allowed to remain there for thirty or forty hours. This dissolves out all the fats, oil and grease from the mass. Other chemicals are said to be mixed with the naphtha, but this is probably for the sake of mystification, the naphtha alone being quite sufficient for the purpose. After the proper time has elapsed the naphtha, with its dissolved oil, is pumped out again into stills where it is distilled by steam heat, the volatile naphtha being allowed to run back from the condensers into the storage tanks, while the fat which is left in the stills as a brown, oily mass, is drawn off into barrels. It may be bleached so as to be perfectly white and it is said that the pure and delicate Ivory soap, which has gained such popularity all over the country, was originally made of refined garbage grease before it was found advisable to use cotton seed oil instead. After extracting the grease the residuum in the cylinders is dried a little more, the last vestiges of naphtha being driven off in the process and is then removed through a door at the bottom. It is now a brown mass, free from all unpleasant odor and apparently dry, although it still contains five or six per cent. of water. As it has not been heated sufficiently to cause destructive distillation of the solid portions, it contains practically all the nitrogen of the fresh garbage with, of course, all the alkalies and phosphates; and, after grinding coarsely and packing in barrels or bags, it commands a ready sale all over the United States. The dealers usually analyze a sample and fix their price mainly in accordance with the proportion of nitrogen found in the sample; but the St. Louis "garboge tankage," as it is called, readily brings in New York and Boston from nine to twelve dollars a ton and the demand for it far exceeds the supply.

A GOOD BUILDING UP of a run-down system can be accomplished by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. A long procession of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from having something serious.

As an appetizing, restorative tonic, to repel disease and build up the needed flesh and strength, there's nothing to equal it. It rouses every organ into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, braces up the whole system, and restores health and vigor.

For every disease caused by a disordered liver or impure blood, it is the only guaranteed remedy.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

COLD SPRINGS—OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Union Public School Picnic.—On Friday, June 29, two of the Otonabee schools and two of the Monaghan schools held a union picnic at Victoria Park. There was a large attendance and the picnic was a success, financially and otherwise. A long programme of sports was conducted for which prizes were given, and Cold Springs secured the lion's share, as is always the case when it is a matter of public competition. To say nothing of the many prizes secured for races, etc., Cold Springs also carried off the prize for the most handsome young lady and young gentleman at the picnic, the fortunate couple being Miss C. G. Robertson and Mr. H. P. Kennedy. It is only another proof of the old quotation that "even if Chicago had the World's Fair, yet Cold Springs has the world's fairest."

Addition to Sunday School Apparatus.—Cold Springs Union Sunday School, always in the front rank in Sunday school work, has made further improvements in the way of better facilities for advancement. A complete set of Tunison's Sunday school maps and charts has been purchased from Mr. R. A. Ward at a cost of $16 and will be of considerable benefit. The plan of payment arranged by the publisher is a somewhat novel one. Blank collection cards are distributed to the children of the school, and at the end of two weeks those who have been collecting hand in their respective amounts, and five prizes given by the publisher, Mr. Tunison, are awarded to the five who stand highest. The prizes are, 1, A double reversible map—Canada on one side, the world on the other side—besides many other valuable details; 2, Railway distance and township map of Ontario; 3, Same as No. 2; 4, A beautiful chart, "Time and Eternity;" 5, A chart representing the animals entering "Noah's Ark." The names of the collectors and the amount secured by each was as follows: Mr. H. P. Kennedy, teacher of the ladies' Bible class, $10; Oscar Matchett (Miss J. Ambrose's class), $8.35; Wilbert McMillan (Miss L. Bennett's class) $4.35; Fred Kennedy, (Miss L. Bennet's class) $3.05; Mr. A. Owen, (Bible class) $2.35; Mary Brooks, (Mrs. Sisson's class) $2.10; Minnie Long, (Miss Ambrose's class) $1.15; Annie Guthrie, (Mrs. Sisson's class) $1.10; Willie Robertson, (Miss Bennet's class) $1.00; Marvin Kednedy, (Mr. M. W. Matchett's class) 75c.; Jennie Huston, (Mrs. Sisson's class) 40c.

The words in brackets indicate to what class each one belonged.

The total amount collected was $34.60, leaving a balance of $18.60 to go to the school after paying for the maps.

Vacation—School is closed until Monday, August 20th, and those who attend it are enjoying a well-earned rest.

C. E. Notes.—The junior society will meet during vacation at 7 o'clock on Thursday evenings, and it is hoped the attendance will continue large. The next regular meeting of the Y.P.S.C.E. will be on Monday evening, July 9th, at 8 o'clock. All are heartily invited.

STEWARTS—OTONABEE.

New S. S. Hall.—On Sunday, July 1, the new S. S. Hall, which has been erected by the members of the various Protestant churches in this neighbourhood for Sunday school and other purposes, was formally opened. It is a large and handsome building, creditable alike to the contractor and to the people of the neighbourhood. On Sunday addresses were given to the large number assembled by Rev. W. C. Beer, of Ashburnham, and Rev. E. F. Torrance, Peterborough, and on Monday evening, July 2nd, there was a tea and an entertainment. The rain, no doubt, kept many at home, but still the attendance was large, and the handsome sum of $50 was realized to assist in paying for the new hall, on which the debt is now only $215. After the tea, which was held in the basement, which is very convenient for such purposes, the entertainment was given in the hall above. Mr. George Stewart, Superintendent of the school presided. The programme was as follows,

COLONEL POWELL SUSPENDED.

He Violated Red Tape Formalities—In the Commons.

OTTAWA, July 5.—In the House of Commons yesterday Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper stated that the Government had entered into a convention with the United States, not specifically dealing with the questions of purse seining and trawling, but into a joint investigation which was now proceeding and which will include these subjects as well as others. Until the commission reported the result would not be known.

The House divided at 2 o'clock this morning on an amendment by Mr. Mulock in supply condemning the Government for their lax inspection of cattle coming into Canada and which he said caused scheduling of Canadian cattle in England. The amendment was lost by 59 for and 99 against.

Col. Walker Powell, Adjutant-General of Militia, has been suspended by Major General Herbert. The trouble is said to have arisen over the publication of a general order which had not gone through all the red tape formalities which such orders are generally subjected to. About two weeks ago the Minister of Militia announced in the House that there was to be no drill this season and this would save $150,000 to the country. The estimates were so reduced.

In accordance with this a general order had been prepared by the department and was ready for insertion in the last issue of the official gazette, notifying the militia officially of what they were all made aware by Parliament already, namely that there was to be no drill. In the absence of the major-general this order was published. It is said that, although it was prepared with the knowledge and advice of the major-general, that it lacked the word "approved" on the corner, or something of that kind, from the Minister. There was nothing, it is said, claimed as to its being wrong in any way, and so far as can be ascertained it was dealt with in the way in which such things of the same kind were treated under similar circumstances in the past.

The London Mystery.

LONDON, Ont., July 5.—The Thomson-McKechnie mystery has been by no means cleared up since the arrival of Mr. Shirley from New York yesterday. Mr. Shirley declares that Thomson never asked for money and that he had unlimited power of attorney in this respect. His people in Scotland had not heard from him for some months and had instituted inquiry, but heard nothing whatever of his whereabouts until the news of the tragedy reached them. The note found by the sister of the dead girl written by the deceased asking that she be buried with "Harry" seems to confirm the theory that the suicide was a premediated affair. The words were plainly written and it is almost impossible that they were written immediately before the poison was taken. Mr. Thomson's funeral took place yesterday at Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The graves of the lovers will thus be three miles apart. There appears to be no foundation for the rumor that the Thomsons were opposed to the marriage.

The Grand Board of Patrons.

TORONTO, July 5.—The grand board of the Patrons of Industry assembled here yesterday to straighten up the business of the order partially neglected during the recent contest. The expenses of the candidates in the election will be borne by the Grand Lodge, and part of the business was to meet these payments. In reviewing the prospects for the Dominion election, Mr. J. Lockie Wilson said they were hopeful of even a greater measure of success than in the provincial contest. Their membership throughout Canada is about 200,000. They are strong in the Northwest and in British Columbia. Forty seats in the next Dominion House is the lowest estimate they place upon the future representation of the Patrons at Ottawa.

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of his Illness and Subsequent Cure While in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago, stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's diserse. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

IT HOUSES ITS POOR.

THE CITY OF GLASGOW'S VERY SUCCESSFUL SCHEME.

The Scotch City Turns Plague Spots Into Comfortable and Cheap Dwelling Places for Workingmen—Good Work for an Improvement Association.

While so many problems of city government engage attention it might be profitable to turn attention to the workings of the City of Glasgow, one of the few naval cities of the world.

The City of Glasgow is run for the benefit of the people on strictly business principles. The municipal corporation controls whatever by their nature are monopolies—water supply, gas and electric lighting, as well as the stockyards, the public markets, even the old clothes market—and all are under the jurisdiction of the common council.

Eighteen years ago the town council leased the street railway system to a company, and the lease expires this year. The contract stipulated that five years prior to the expiration of the lease a new lease should be made so that both parties could be reached. It is significant of the paternal character of Glasgow's municipal government that the demands made by it in the negotiations largely related to the comfort of the laboring men who operate the line. The council said to the company: "You must give better service, employ a better class of men, pay them better wages and work them shorter hours," but negotiations tell through, and the City of Glasgow now begins the operation of her own street cars.

Glasgow seeks the welfare of all its people, rich and poor alike. It is the only city in the world to own lodging-houses. Some may say that in acquiring these it made a virtue of necessity, but, be that as it may, virtue remains.

The municipal tenements consist of blocks of flats on either side of the Salt market. The buildings are four stories in height; the ground floors are occupied by shops. The houses are usually arranged so that on two floors there are three tenements, a tenement of two rooms being on each side of the staircase and a tenement of one room between them. There are also several flats of three rooms each. The tenement of one room is fourteen by thirteen feet. It is fitted with a bed closet (which is expected to answer the purpose of a second room), a scullery, a large press or cupboard, a commodious dresser and a kitchen range. Such an apartment rents for $40 a year. The two-roomed flats have a lobby fitted with a press or closet. On one side of the lobby is the living-room, which is completely furnished as a kitchen. A scullery adjoins. There is also a bed alcove in the room. On the other side of the lobby is the sitting room, to which is attached a bed closet. Such a flat rents for 49.50 a year. The three-roomed flats rent for $80 a year. Gas is supplied by the city at the unusual rate of sixty cents per 1,000 feet. There is a laundry at the top of the house for the use of the tenants. These artizans' dwellings are constructed in the most substantial manner. The stairs are stone and the stairway walls are tiles or glazed brick, which are easily kept clean.

It has long been objected that these dwellings do not meet the necessities of the poorest class of laborers. The rents were too high for men who work in the streets or on the docks and at other kinds of unskilled labor. Glasgow had to consider whether it was possible for the municipality to reach these men in any way. If it had been a question of letting rooms to single men the arrangement could have been made easily enough. But the difficulty was to devise homes for large families; and it usually happens that in this part of the world the poorer the man the larger is his family.

Flats could be built, of course, but the poorest class of laborers afford to pay a rent which would return to the municipality an interest of 2, 3 or 4 per cent. on its investment? Could the municipality compete in that respect with the owners of rookeries where families live in single apartments? Much deliberation was given to the subject. It was found that the municipality could put up a block of substantial buildings to meet the wants of the class hitherto left untouched, but that it would not be practicable to provide anything more than what are called "one-roomed houses," that is to say, one room to a family.

To be sure the rooms could be divided by a partition reaching within two or three feet of the ceiling—the sleeping quarter being thus separated from the cooking quarter. It was finally decided that a block of single-room tenements should be constructed. A place was cleared at the rear of a block of artizans' dwellings, and a plain building of three stories was erected, with four single-room tenements on each floor, two in the front and two behind. These were let at rents well within the means of unskilled laborers. The buildings were opened a few months ago, and they have been filled ever since. The experiment is financially successful, but in other respects there is little to be said for it. Of course the apartments are larger, lighter, healthier, better-built than any single room tenements in the old rookeries. Nevertheless, the objections to the herding of a family in one room are not thereby removed. They are merely minimized, and in a very slight degree. It is not by any means demonstrated that a municipality is justified in doing anything to perpetrate the single room tenement for families.

The construction of Glasgo's municipal tenement-houses, whether of the better or poorer class, is admirable.

The stairways, being built entirely of masonry, are consequently fireproof. The stairs themselves and the hall floors are of stone and the walls of the halls are faced with glazed tiles or glazed bricks, as the case may be, and are easily kept clean.

A very large amount of work yet remains to be done on the municipal estate which comes under the administration of the improvement fund. Old houses are still being torn down and crowded areas are being cleared away. Of course all this is very expensive business. But it is being gradually carried on so that the cost may not fall excessively on any single year. Besides, Glasgow, like every other city in the United Kingdom, is suffering from a depression of trade and this is not the time to tighten the screws of taxation.

An organization known as the Improvement Trust was instituted to let air, light and, if possible, a little sunshine into the dismal closes and courts of the city, where not fewer than 75,000 human beings lived amid surroundings which had become moral and physical "plague spots," a danger and disgrace to civilization, and it has largely succeeded. The condition of the older city referred to comes down to us in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. They could never be very wholesome, but would be tolerated with a modern Scotch population. But we have evidence that even then the dark places of the city were not free from the hygienic and moral evils begot of such conditions, which the persuasions and terrors of the magistrates and the church were, in the absence of the police and of street and stair lighting, little able to repress. When, therefore, the great railway works came to be constructed and other industries were stimulated in the west of Scotland, in Ireland, teeming with an over-population, and in Glasgow with its tempting port, when no preparation had been made for it, the immigrants took possession of the older and denser parts of the town, and the authorities were face to face with an exigency that only a drastic remedy could relieve.

The building defects were owing to the straightened lines within which their frugal ancestors lived. So long as the city remained within the narrow compass, and the green fields were at no point distant, compactness of building was not seriously inconvenient unless epidemics or fires occurred. Originally built in village fashion the houses were on the street and the vegetable gardens in the rear. But the thrifty sires, in place of breaking new ground as families and populations grew up, built over their gardens and heightened their houses. Thus High street, Salt market, Gallowgate, Trongate, Gorbals, Calton and other gardens developed gradually into the "closes" and "vennels" which fell to be broken up under the improvement scheme of 1866. A bold and serious thing it was on the part of the authorities of 1865 to face the promotion of a bill that necessitated the purchase of all this densely crowded and heavily rented property, much of it, too, divided and subdivided by legal writs into flats and half flats. The improvement act was passed by both houses of parliament, and it gave assessing powers during fifteen years—five years at six pence per pound and ten years at three pence per pound—and the tax was laid on occupiers exclusively, i.e., all persons hiring houses or flats in Glasgow above a certain very small rental. Immediate progress of the property, and the town council resolved to impose the maximum rate of six pence per pound. Being entirely a new tax and laid on the evening of the November election of 1866, occasion was taken to arouse the citizens against the scheme and its principal author, Lord Provost John Blackie, Jr. Mr. Blackie was standing for re-election as a councilor with a view to presiding over the practical work of the scheme, and he was slightly outvoted at the poll, to the deep and abiding regret of the general community. The convictions of its authors in the urgency of the work of redeeming the city from the reproach into which it had fallen and their straight-forward policy were cogently shown, first, in satisfying parliament that a sixpenny rate might be necessary, and, second, in the town council determining that the maximum be levied in the first year.

In going to parliament the sum estimated as necessary to be raised by taxation was placed at £500,000, and the tax was based on that calculation. But it must be kept in view that as time wore on more liberal ideas than those of 1866 were advocated, with the result that many more streets, wider thoroughfares and more efficient sewerage operations have been carried out than was contemplated in 1866, and at an additional cost in ground and works of probably £200,000, and also that the number and the paying power of the ratepayers have greatly increased.

Ex-Bailie Archibald Dunlop was chairman of the committee from 1884, and he and his predecessors in the office have been supported at one time and another by the best men in the town council, who find in the complex affairs of the trust an excellent training school, which serves them in good stead in other departments of the public service. Bailie Dunlop recently retired from the council, leaving with the improvement tax at 1d per pound sterling, and with the prospect that this rate will suffice until the trust is wound up.

Only older citizens, familiar with the old city, can realize the vast improvements wrought by the improvement scheme in many ways. Even its supposed failures have been sanitarily beneficial. For example, ground in various quarters, cleared of its buildings, failed to sell, but the health of the district has been thereby immensely benefited. There has, indeed, been no property market for several years, because overbuilding and depression of trade, arresting the growth of population, had left many proprietors with a heavy handful of unletterable property.

The committee have had to submit to some temporary unpopularity because of this state of matters, yet there is no scheme of the corporation which has excited or continues to excite more general interest, has its various points more crucially examined into by intelligent strangers in search of ideas and is more extensively imitated by other great centres than the city improvement scheme of Glasgow.

Thousands of new patrons have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla this season and realized its benefit in blood purified and strength restored.

HAMILTON, July 5.—When the charge of defamatory libel brought by Father Leo Soveski, otherwise known as Father Francis, against Robt. Barrett and Thos. It is probable that the ex-priest has left the city for good.

Drowned While Bathing.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 5—Charles L. Knight, Souris, aged 41, has been drowned. He went bathing, and not returning home his friends became alarmed. They found his clothes in the bathing house with a dog sitting upon them. The body was found yesterday.

A Crazy Evangelist Escapes.

Two Schoolboys Killed.

TORONTO, July 5.—On Dominion day two young boys named Fred Richardson and Thomas Riley, aged 10 and 11 respectively, went out to Exhibition park to participate in the sports of the Blantyre Park lads. Yesterday the dead bodies of the two unfortunate lads were found lying in the grounds, and it is supposed both were instantly killed by lightning during the storm on Monday evening.

HOW TO LEARN TO SWIM.

Pointers in the Natatory Art which Any Novice May Readily Avail Himself Of.

In view of the frequency of drowning accidents everybody is discussing the subject of "learning how to swim," and the following clipping from an exchange seems to be particularly apropos to Peterborough, as numbers of drowning accidents occur here yearly.

Knowledge of the art is so very valuable and has saved so many lives that it is a wonder more is not said in the public journals as to the easy means of acquiring it. Everybody should know how to swim—when a youngster is old enough to bathe he is old enough to take lesson in real swimming, very few of which, if rightly given, are necessary to set the learner on the right road, and soon invest him with the confidence and power of moving through the water with fish-like ease and grace.

AN EASY WAY.

A correspondent writes telling of an easy way to learn the art of swimming.

"It was," he says, "through my fondness for being under water that I learned to swim. As long as there was a solid bottom under my feet I loved to sink and crawl about and hold my breath for the longest possible time, finally to dart, gasping to the surface, like a jack-in-the-box, at the very last moment.

One day when, with wide-open eyes, I was minutely examining the small dotted bottom, a great discovery dawned upon me. My limbs were motionless, yet my head and body were slowly, surely rising. I tried it again, forcing myself to the bottom and then remaining perfectly still. Up, up I rose until the crown of my head was out of the water, and thus I remained, rising and falling with each wave, until I could hold my breath no longer—even though I had drawn my feet up under me so that they were quite clear of the bottom.

Being a very thoughtful fellow in those days and fond of working out problems, I sat down upon the bath house steps and pondered until I felt my back scorching in the sun.

Further experiment convinced me that by simply resting face downwards in the water my head would invariably float, though my feet would slowly sink, and becoming thoroughly confident of this I soon began to take short swims of four or five strokes in shallow water.

WHEN I BECAME FLURRIED, as was sometimes the case, I invariably swallowed a pint of water, lost my breath and sunk, but when I took matters calmly I was able to do my five strokes handily, and one day I surprised even myself by swimming quite around the borders of the bath, where the depth was much over my head.

I kept my new accomplishment to myself, and on one well-remembered day, when an elderly gentlemen was gingerly thrusting his toes into the cool water, my youthful bravado soon arose. I plunged in where it was six feet deep and when my horrified companion had recovered from his momentary stupefaction and plunged in after me, I beat him back to land by a full length.

The gist of it is that one cannot sink as long as his lungs are full of air and his mind full of confidence. It requires no effort to keep the head up, while the feet will rise as high as necessary merely by using them in the usual frog fashion.

Learn the motions of arms and feet, employ them leisurely, and as soon as you lose your fear of going under, you will find that you stay on top. It is necessary to keep only the nostrils above water, and the head should be tilted far back accordingly, the breathing to be done through the nose with the mouth kept tight shut. If the beginner proceeds according to these few rules—proceeds calmly, remember—he will be in a fair way to speedily enjoy all the luxury of a deep water swim.

To destroy worms and expel them from children and adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

THE PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

A Report of the Committee on Political Action Discussed and Adopted.

MONTREAL, July 5.—At yesterday's session of the National Prohibition Convention the Committee on Resolutions reported and their report was adopted.

The first resolution was in reference to the French treaty. Considering that this treaty provided for larger facilities for the importation of liquor than at present, that it might seriously interfere with the action of Parliament in respect to future prohibitory legislation, and that there was abundant evidence that the people of Canada were largely in favor of prohibition, the convention protested against the ratification of the treaty.

Resolutions of condolence and regret were adopted in regard to the deaths of the Hon. Billa Flint and W. H. Howland.

S. A. Fisher, Brome, read the following report of the committee on political action:

1. That this convention stands firmly by the position that in political matters they will support only known avowed and reliable prohibitionists.

2. That the members of this convention hereby agree that upon returning to their homes they will forthwith place themselves in communication with other prohibitionists in their respective localities for the purpose of securing the nomination, in harmony with this view, of candidates for the next Dominion and Provincial elections.

3. That to aid in securing the nomination and election of such candidates, our friends everywhere are urged to organize prohibition clubs which will take advantage of every opportunity to plan and work for the carrying out of the objects above set out.

4. It is recommended that the provincial branches of the Dominion Alliance or other workers take active steps to organize the temperance forces in every constituency with the view to political action.

5. It is recommended that in order to secure the nomination of prohibition candidates our friends take a more active part in political organization, so as to secure the nomination by all parties of men who can be depended upon to support the prohibition cause, and giving it to be understood distinctly that any other candidate will have our active opposition.

6. It is also recommended that where such prohibition candidate cannot be nominated by any of the political parties our friends nominate independent candidates and make special efforts to secure their election.

The report was discussed clause by clause. Much discussion took place on the question of electing members pledged to prohibition, but finally the resolutions were adopted, and after some other business the convention adjourned for recess.

The convention closed its proceedings last night. Before adjourning it passed a resolution expressing regret that the Dominion Government did not see its way to pass a prohibitory law.

THE HENLEY REGATTA.

Ryan Beaten by Guy Nickalls—Wright Wins His Heat.

LONDON, July 5.—The first heat in the race for the Diamond Sculls was contested by Vivian Nickalls, of the Magdalen College, Oxford, and Francis Boudin, of the Societe d'Encouragement, Paris. The heat was won by Nickalls by four lengths.

The second heat was won by Joseph Wright, of Toronto, who beat H. S. Verity, of the Old Radleians, easily by several lengths. Verity was at no time a dangerous competitor and Wright won as he pleased. His time was 9 minutes and 43 seconds.

The third heat was a walkover for Hon. R. Guinness, of the Leander Club, his competitor, Jacques Boudin, of the Societe d'Encouragement, Paris, being scratched.

The fourth heat was a walkover for Vivian Nickalls, whose competitor, G. Macheney, of the Thames Rowing Club, did not start.

The starters in the fifth heat were Guy Nickalls and J. J. Ryan, of Toronto. The heat was started at 6 p.m. There was a dead calm and the water was perfectly smooth. Ryan took the Berkshire side and started well, but Nickalls overhauled him and at the lower end of Temple Island was half a length ahead. Nickalls kept this lead until the quarter mile was reached, when Ryan decreased it. Ryan did not hold his ground long, however, and at the half mile Nickalls had drawn away from him so that he was a length ahead. Nickalls reached Fawley Court in four minutes and eight seconds, and from that point steadily increased his lead until at the mile he was three lengths ahead. He tried hard during the remaining 550 yards to widen the gap between himself and Ryan, but was unable to do so and was exactly three lengths in the lead when he finished.

Nickalls time was nine minutes.

The results of yesterday's heats leave Vivian Nickalls, Wright, Guinness and Guy Nickalls to contest for the prizes today. Guy Nickalls is the favorite.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

STRIKERS HOLD SWAY

The Federal Troops Powerless Before the Angry Mob.

RIOTOUS SCENES IN CHICAGO

Cars Overturned to Obstruct Trains in the Face of the Troops — President Debs Issues a Statement Justifying the Action of the Union.

CHICAGO, July 6.—Wild scenes were enacted yesterday on a stretch of railroad territory occupied by the tracks of the Lake Shore and Rock Island and running south for some three miles from the Board of Trade structure into the heart of the business district. Within this strip a mob that aggregated not less than 25,000 men, women and children had complete control.

Nearly a score of cars were overturned on the main tracks; others were fired, switches were unlocked and rendered useless, regular troops were jeered and police hooted at and dared to do their worst. The riotous demonstrations began shortly before noon at 39th street and the Lake Shore tracks at the crossing of the Union Transit Lines over which trains from the stock yards are connected with the Michigan Central on the lake front for the east.

Word came to a mob that had gathered there that with the aid of the cavalry and deputy marshals a heavily loaded cattle train for the New York Central had been moved out of the yards and was on its way over the Transit line. The ... moved west two blocks on 39th street to Stewart avenue where several empty freight cars stood on the main track. There was a rush for the freight cars and two of them were turned completely over, trucks upward, blocking the track over which the approaching cattle train was making its way. The train was not in sight and so the mob retraced its steps eastward to the tracks of the Rock Island and Lake Shore. Here it proceeded to overturn cars by wholesale.

At 40th street shortly after noon one of the string of freight cars was fired. On the arrival of the fire department the flames were soon extinguished.

Fuel was added to the strikers' fury about 2 p.m. when three Rock Island trains, one bringing the troops and deputy marshals from Blue Island and the others day and Pullman coaches filled with through passengers, were seen in the distance. The passengers of the trains in the rear were advised of the obstructions on the track and concluded to disembark. In the meantime the regular troops, comprising companies "C" and "D" of the 13th Infantry, under the respective commands of Captains Conrad and Cornish, had left the first train and were drawn up on either side of the cars. The mob, which by this time was outside of the fences, greeted the troops with stolid silence.

It was nearly an hour before the main track had been cleared of the two overturned cars, and then the three trains proceeded until 35th street was reached. Here it was the same story over again.

The result of the day's movements at the stock yards is a practical acknowledgment by the United States troops that they are utterly unable to cope with the mob that now holds complete away in the district. Bullets flew in the stock yards district at dusk last night and a big riot was narrowly averted. Just after the stalled stock train had been taken back and the regulars had departed, Special Agent Gregory, of the Western Indiana road, attempted to take south an engine and way car. At 44th street, however, he was stopped by an overturned car and a mob of several thousand surged around the engine and attempted to capture it. Drawing his revolver, Gregory, who was leaning out of the window, fired six times in succession. Two shots took effect, one fatally wounding Ed O'Neill, a striking switchman, and the other passed through the shoulder of a man who was quickly taken away by his friends.

President Debs' Statement.

President Debs, of the A.R.U., has issued a long statement, in the course of which he recites the history of the trouble between the Pullman Company and its employes, and argues that the action of his organization thus far has been justified by the facts. In conclusion he says:

"We have been deliberately and maliciously misrepresented, but we have borne it all with unwavering faith that the truth will finally and powerfully prevail. We firmly believe our cause is just, and while we hold that belief we will not recede. It has been asked what sense is there in sympathetic strikes? Let the corporations answer. When one is assailed all go to the rescue. They stand together; they supply each other with men, money and equipments.

"Labor in unifying its forces simply follows their example. If the proceeding is vicious and indefensible let them first abolish it. In this contest labor will stand by labor. Other organizations will not be called out, but they will go out and the spectacle of Mr. Pullman fanned by the breezes of the Atlantic while his employees are starving is not calculated to prevent their fellow wage workers from going to their rescue by the only means at their command. Let me repeat that we stand ready to do our part toward averting the impending crisis. If the corporations refuse to yield and stubbornly maintain that there is nothing to arbitrate, the responsibility for what may ensue will be upon their own hands and they cannot escape its penalties."

Federal Assistance Resented.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The President Secretary Lamont, Attorney-General Olney, Postmaster-General Bissell, and General Schofield remained at the White House until nearly midnight, discussing the strike situation and the telegram received by the President from Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, protesting against federal interference. The Governor alleges in his telegram that the state authorities are willing and fully able to handle the situation, and intimates very bluntly that federal assistance is not wanted until called for.

As the result of the conference the following reply was sent by the President:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, July 5, 1894.—Hon. John P. Altgeld, Governor of Illinois, Springfield, Ills.: Federal troops were sent to Chicago in strict accordance with the constitution and laws of the United States upon the demand of the Postoffice Department that obstruction of the mails should be removed, and upon representations of the judicial officers of the United States that process of the federal courts could not be executed through the ordinary means and upon abundant proof that conspiracies existed against commerce between the states. To meet these conditions, which are clearly within the province of federal authorities, the presence of federal troops in the city of Chicago was deemed not only proper but necessary, and there has been no intention of thereby interfering with the plain duty of the local authorities to preserve the peace of the city.—GROVER CLEVELAND."

EVIDENCE OF A CHILD.

He Tells the Tale of the Cruel Murder of His Father.

BUFFALO, July 5.—George Barowicz, eight years old, was before the grand jury yesterday and tearfully testified to the brutal murder of his father. The child swore that one day four years ago he saw his mother, Joseph Ledwon and Joseph Zowatski at his home on Carroll street; that Ledwon and his mother assaulted his father and when he was still they carried him to an outhouse and hanged him up by the neck with a rope. The boy also swore that Zowatski was drunk and had but little to do with the murder.

A few weeks ago Zowatski, in a thirst for revenge, told the story of the murder substantially as told by the child witness, but with the additional statement that the guilty couple had offered him $25 to commit the murder.

A few weeks after the murder Ledwon and Mrs. Barowicz were married. The woman is at the jail with a four months' old baby.

EXPOSITION BUILDINGS BURNED.

One Man Perishes in the Flames and Five Others Are Missing.

CHICAGO, July 6.—What is left of the gilded statue of Columbus near the eastern end of the Court of Honor, the central point of interest for thousands of visitors to the exposition last summer, now looks out upon a waste of ruins and ashes. The six large structures which formed the boundaries of the Court of Honor perished by incendiarism last evening. The structures were largely of wood and burned very rapidly and within two hours the work of destruction was almost complete. A group of spectators were standing directly over the tunnel which connected the mining and electricity buildings when its roof caved in and two men, Edward Anderson and Edgar Bassett were precipitated into the fiery furnace below. Anderson was burned to death. Bassett was rescued. Engine No. 1 and five of the crew are missing and it is reported they are burned to death.

Battle With Drunken Guards.

CAMDEN, N.J., July 6.—In a pitched battle with the police of Stockton the first company of the Landwehr Guards of Philadelphia were routed and eighteen members are now behind the bars at Camden. The guards gave a picnic at Pavonia park, and when a constable took one of their number into custody the guards attacked him with sabres. One of the guards received a pistol ball in his leg and many others were damaged by the officers' clubs. Constable Johnson narrowly escaped having his head split open by a sabre, with which one of the guards sliced off the rim of his hat. The officers eventually captured a number of the members of the company. Two of them were released upon paying fines of $20 each, and the others were committed for sixty days on charges of rioting, drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Fatal Religious Riots in Butte City.

BUTTE, Mont., July 6.—The hostile feelings existing between the A.P.A. and the Catholics culminated in a riot. D. H. Daly, a special policeman, was shot through the heart and instantly killed by Frank Mumfords, baker; William Page received a glancing shot over the eye; Samuel Dunn was shot in the side and is probably fatally injured. About fifty arrests were made, and the Governor has been asked to send militia from Helena and other places in the state.

Stopped Him With Ice-Tongs.

BROOKLYN, July 6.—John Campbell, a negro janitor of a flat house, stabbed Edward Noyes, an iceman, in the forehead with a pair of ice-tongs yesterday. Noyes was delivering ice in the flat and Campbell objected to Noyes letting the ice drip on the stairs. A quarrel ensued and Campbell took Noye's tongs and sunk them into the latter's forehead making a big hole in his head through which the brains can be seen. Noyes cannot recover. Campbell was arrested.

JORDAN SHOOTING CASE

Trial of the Tramps Who Shot the Grand Trunk Conductor.

TURNER APPEARS IN COURT

He Identifies Troy as the Man Who Fired the Shots — The Accused Tramp Conducts His Own Case and Cross-Examines the Witnesses.

ST. CATHARINES, July 6.—The court room at the police station was crowded yesterday when the now celebrated Jordan shooting case was placed on the docket. Magistrate Comfort presided over the court, Crown Attorney McKeown prosecuted, and Detective Day, of the G. T. R., was present watching the proceedings.

The tramps looked considerably better than when they were captured. They are clean and the hungry look about their faces has disappeared and they now look well fed. Conductor Turner, who up to the present time has been laid up in the Hamilton hospital as a result of his encounter with the tramps, was in court. He is yet far from being well. He gave his testimony at some length, going into details as to how he was attacked. He identified Troy, one of the tramps, as the man who did the shooting. Turner was cross-examined by Troy.

Witness (cross-examined by Troy)—I first saw you on the train as we were leaving St. Catharines. You were then hanging on the side of a car with your feet beneath it.

Troy—Did you kick me?

Witness—Yes, when you wouldn't get off I kicked you.

Troy—How far was I from you when I threatened to put a hole through you?

Witness—About a car length.

Troy—If I had had a revolver in my hand could you have noticed it?

Witness—I can't say. I didn't notice whether you had one or not.

Troy—You must have poor eyesight. What position were you in when I came over the train and threatened you?

Witness—I was sitting down in the van, writing.

Troy—Did I make any other threat at the time?

Witness—I don't think so.

Troy—Did I then leave the top of the caboose?

Witness—I don't know. Perhaps my brakesman can answer that.

Troy—Then the occurrence didn't disturb you much?

Witness—You did not enter my caboose at Jordan, but stood on the platform and pushed the door open.

Troy—Did I strike you with the revolver?

Witness—I can't say. Someone did after the third shot.

Troy—Did I make any threats while on the platform?

Witness—No.

Troy—Have you any recollection of anything happening after I left the caboose?

Witness—No.

John H. Hall, porter, and John Lynch, brakesman on Turner's train, also gave evidence and were cross examined by Troy, after which the court adjourned.

Terrible Accident in a Woollen Mill.

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., July 6.—Yesterday while working in his uncle's woollen mill here Fred Keir, a boy 13 years old, was caught in the belting which runs the carding machine and killed instantly. The body was horribly mutilated, his skull cap being torn off and brains scattered, one leg torn from the body and the other leg and one arm broken. No person was in the workroom at the time of the accident, but it is supposed that he unnecessarily approached the belting and was caught. An inquest was deemed unnecessary.

Railway Magnates Leave for the Coast.

MONTREAL, July 6.—Sir William Van Horne, president of the Canadian Pacific, Lord Mountstephen, Sir Donald Stewart, Sir John MacNeil and Mr. John W. Sterling, of New York, left last evening on the special cars Metapedia and Saskatchewan for the Pacific coast via Minneapolis. The party will be absent fifteen days and will make a careful inspection of the road.

Drowning at Ottawa

OTTAWA, July 6.—George Boyce, who was drowned yesterday in the Ottawa river, was 54 years of age. He is spoken of as a steady young man. He was a son of Mr. John Boyce, of the House of Commons staff. He was a member of No. 6 Company of the Guards and accompanied the battalion to Brockville on Dominion Day.

Fishermen's Strike Settled.

VANCOUVER, B.C., July, 6.—Through rail communication was established over the Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday. The fishermen's strike in the north has terminated by the salmon canners' agent retaining last year's rate of wages, from which it was proposed to make a cut of 1 cent per fish.

Dynes Resigned the Postmastership.

SHELBURNE, July 6.—It was reported a few days ago that Wm. Dynes, the newly-elected member for Dufferin, would not be able to take his seat on account of being postmaster at Granger. Mr. Dynes was interviewed on the subject yesterday and says he resigned the position in February and his successor was appointed in May.

A Farmer Arrested for Seduction.

BRANTFORD, July 6.—Thomas Patten, a farmer near Paris, was arrested and brought to Brantford charged with the seduction of Annie Newman, a domestic, who worked at Patten's residence. He was released on bail of $2,000. The case will be tried at the police court to-day.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1894.

It will be an excellent thing from a local point if view, if the government should spend a hundred thousand or so on the Lakefield-Peterborough section of the Trent Valley Canal. Since the last Dominion election the government has liberally wasted hundreds of thousands of dollars which might have been well spent on the Trent Valley Canal—enough to open perhaps navigation from Balsam Lake to Trenton, on Lake Ontario. Take the Curran bridge which cost the county $170,000, which Mr. E. P. Hannaford says could be built for $70,000; take the Cornwall canal, where a change of plan has been made involving a useless expenditure, including damages to contractors for breach of contract, of 155,000, and we have a total of $255,000, which might as well have been sunk in the sea, for all the good it has done, and would have been better expended honestly on the Trent Valley Canal. The ministerial guarantee that the canal will be constructed as fast as the finances of the country will permit, will not amount to much if such wicked financial waste—as the instances cited, continues. The Toronto Empire lost a month's sleep over the waste implied in the consumption of too many eggs in some Ontario asylum, yet it has never printed a line in condemnation of the wicked extravagance that marks the Dominion Government's style of expending the people's money.

Lord Rosebery's government is weathering the Budget in fine style and now intimate their purpose to push through the Evicted Tenants Bill, the Miners' Eight Hour Bill, the Registration and Equalization Bills. Should good fortune accompany them dissolution may not come till late in 1895, and after an attempt has been made to carry the whole Newcastle programme.

The Empire is unduly anxious for a special session of the Ontario Legislature on the grounds that the people should know just how the government majority stands. The Empire advocated, before the elections, one session only in two years; it is now clamouring for two sessions in one year. The Empire has "a great head."

WASTE ON FEDERAL WORKS.

The Montreal bridge job seems to be even worse than was at first reported. Mr. E. P. Hannaford, chief engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, says that one of the bridges which cost $170,000 could have been built for $70,000, allowing a handsome profit to the contractor.

Professional delicacy prevented Mr. Hannaford from criticizing the methods which prevailed in the construction of the bridge, but there is evidence on this point from another source. The commissioners appointed to inquire into the history of the building of this and the Wellington street bridge say that the cost was badly estimated and the work was hurried on at such a rate as to foster extravagance. An excessive quantity of material and supplies was purchased. The plant was unnecessarily expensive and extensive. The temporary works, or false works, were too costly. The temporary buildings, etc., were on a scale for works ten times the magnitude of this. Every effort appears to have been made to consume and utilize as much timber and lumber as possible, so as not to interfere with its being continually dumped on the canal bank. The labour force, carters, etc., was unnecessarily large and not fully occupied. "On the Grand Trunk bridge there was a large expenditure in cartage charged to the works, hauling timber and lumber long distances to the private yards of those connected with the works, and others; even men sent by the Government were sent to unload and pile the stuff. Carters and men were hidden so that the number unoccupied would not be too conspicuous—forty or fifty men doing nothing in a lumber yard, their time taken by a timekeeper in the yard, sent with carts for lumber which should have been loaded and hauled by the contractor. An unnecessary night force seemed to have been employed to obtain the increased profit over day work."

On the Wellington street bridge, the commissioners say, there were more men than necessary; there was a great amount of loafing and idling, an excessive cost of cartage, stone being carried from Terrebonne, a distance of about 20 miles, with a railway siding running into a quarry, and available to carry the stone at a much less rate; carters idling sent with an unnecessary number of men to load and carry lumber, an unnecessary number of foremen, and general extravagance in the conduct of the works.

The other day Mr. Laurier called attention to the bungling, vacillation and disregard of Parliamentary authority, by which the country lost $155,000, in connection with the enlargement of the Cornwall Canal. The investigations referred to by Mr. Edgar this week disclosed a system by which contractors for great public works contributed great sums of money for the maintenance of a Conservative corruption fund. The loose methods which rendered that system possible are evidently still pursued. It is no wonder that Sir Adolphe is unabashed by the testimony adduced against him, and says that what he has done he would do to-morrow, to keep his friends in power.

WOODSTOCK'S EDUCATIONAL ADVANCEMENT.

As Shown by the Promotion Examination Papils.

Woodstock public schools apparently need shaking up by an earthquake or some similiar castaclystic commotion, if we are to judge by the following answers to questions at the recent promotion examinations, as printed, "in a moment of weakness," by the Sentinel-Review:

The answers to the question, "Name the banks in town," are numerous:

The banks are: The red brick one, the white brick one and the one farther up.

Another: Mr. Fuller's bank, Mr. Charles' bank and Mr. Hunter's bank.

The banks are: County of Oxford bank, and next to the County of Oxford Bank, and then the next to the second to the County of Oxford Bank.

The three banks of Woodstock are: River bank, sea bank and ocean bank.

Banks: The one in front of our school. (A pupil of Broadway school.)

The direction of Dundas street: Dundas street runs down.

The "County Buildings" are varied and numerous:

County buildings are: Post Office, Hay's shop, Broadway school and Central school.

County buildings are: Poor House, Molson's bank and posten office.

County buildings are: Court house, opera house, station, jail, Chapel street school.

Days of the week: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Satisfied.

A NOVEL INDUSTRY.

Enough to Make a Horse—Weep.

A company has been formed by wealthy stock raisers in the Western States to utilize the wild and half-breed horses which have lately been regarded as almost without commercial value. It is estimated that in Oregon, Washington, Montana, Nevada and Idaho there are 2,000,000 wild horses, most of them not branded, and consequently public property. The company expects to realize about $8 per head by capturing and killing them, and disposing of their various products. The skins will find ready sale. The hind quarters will be cured and shipped to France, where the siege of Paris first popularized horse flesh as food. The hair and manes will be used for upholstery, and the bones and other products will be used in making a fertilizer. It is expected to begin killing at an abattoir in Trout Dale on the Columbia river, in about two weeks. As there are more than 8,000 unbranded horses in British Columbia, there is an opening for a similar enterprise in Canada.

A Laughable Mistake.

Two ladies entered a book-store recently and the younger asked the clerk for a book called "Favorite Prescription." The puzzled attendant was unable to comply with her request and she left the store disappointed. Inquiry elicited the fact that she had overheard a conversation between two literary ladies in which "Favorite Prescription" was mentioned with extravagant praise, and had jumped to the conclusion that it was a book. She now knows that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sovereign cure for the ills and "weaknessess" peculiar to women, for she has been cured by its use.

It is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will cure in all cases of disease for for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

C. P. R. FREIGHT RATES.

The Government Dodges the Question—Colonel Powell's Dismissal.

OTTAWA, July 6.—Sir John Thompson stated in the House yesterday that the Government would, during recess, appoint a royal commission to enquire into the excessive freight rates on the Canadian Pacific railway in the Northwest. This, Mr. Martin said, was only a political dodge to shelve the question.

It is understood that the suspension of Adjutant-General Powell by General Herbert will come up in the House to-day. Lieut.-Col. O'Brien will, it is said, ask the Minister of Militia for the details, and there is quite likely to be considerable of a row. While members of the House are by no means backward in expressing their indignation none of them will speak for publication. All sorts of stories are in circulation, one going so far as to accuse the General of having been recalled from St. Petersburg, when he was an attache at the Russian court, because of undue familiarity with Russian officers.

Fifteen hundred invitations were issued for the garden party given last evening on Parliament Hill in honor of the Colonial delegates. A large number of extensive preparations were made upon the ground.

At a meeting of the Privileges and Elections Committee Col. Amyot moved a resolution setting forth that J. B. Provost had made a bona fide contract, and that the charges against Mr. Turcotte, of having infringed the Independence of Parliament Act had not been proved. As some of the members of the committee had not read the evidence an adjournment was had until Tuesday next, when in all probability Mr. Turcotte will be adjudged as Col. Amyot indicates.

Mr. Harry Corby, who was elected by acclamation in West Hastings arrived here yesterday with his certificate in his pocket, which he handed over to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery and took his seat in the House.

DISCUSSED TRADE QUESTIONS.

Possibilities of Reciprocal Trade Relations Between the Colonies.

OTTAWA, July 6.—The Colonial Conference spent yesterday's sitting in a discussion of the trade question. This is the keynote of the whole proceedings. The subject will come up in various different forms. In fact it will be perpetually creeping up at every other interval and upon almost all the subjects which have been proposed for the consideration of the delegates. The object, of course, to be attained is to arrive at some reciprocal trade arrangements between the Colonies. One great difficulty is as to the constitution of the Australian Colonies which forbids preferential treatment. Canada on the other hand, although not tied down with anything of this character on its constitution, is hampered by British treaties to which the favored nation clause applies. So that there are many difficulties in the way although not considered unsurmountable.

The discussion was of a roaming character, dealing largely with what kind of trade could be made reciprocal between the colonies concerned. The general opinion was that a big business could be worked up.

Soon after the commission was over President Bowell said he had nothing to communicate to the press. There was nothing definite reached at, although the discussion was a very interesting and, he thought, a profitable one. All that he would say was that the trade question was discussed.

Last night the delegates were entertained to an "At Home" on Parliament hill.

Smythe Elected by One Vote.

KINGSTON, July 6.—The recount in the Harty-Smythe election contest on June 26 was held yesterday. Both the candidates had representatives present, and at times it was seen that they were laboring to suppress their excitement. At the conclusion E. H. Smythe, Q.C., who was previously declared elected by a majority of five votes, was declared elected by a majority of one. There was almost as much excitement in the city when the result was made known as there was on the night of the election. The total vote is: Smythe, 1,710; Harty, 1,709.

Wheeling in Paris.

PARIS, July 6.—A meeting of cyclists organized by the press of this city was held in the Velodrome Buffalo last evening. The American wheelman Brooks won the 5,000 metres race. Another American, Wheeler, was second in the 2,000 metres race.

The Journalistic Liar at Work.

BUDA PESTH, July 6.—The report of a ferry boat disaster on the River Theiss, whereby nearly 200 persons were said to have been drowned, was entirely without foundation. The story originated with a local newspaper.

Lumber Mill Destroyed.

The Tariff Bill in the House.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Yesterday Secretary Cox, of the Senate, appeared in the House and announced the passage with amendments of the tariff bill by the Senate last Tuesday, together with the request that the House would agree to a conference on those amendments. The bill was laid on the Speaker's table and will be laid before the House in the regular course of business to day.

Steam Lighter Destroyed.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The steam lighter Dayton, owned by the Erie railroad, loaded with paper waste, caught fire off Governor's Island yesterday. The tug James A. Garfield ran up and took off the crew of six men. The Dayton was damaged about $45,000, and will be almost a total loss. The loss to the cargo is estimated at $75,000. Both lighter and cargo were insured.

Absconder Goldhorn Sentenced.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Frederick B. Goldhorn, the absconding cashier of the American branch of Manheim Insurance Company, was sentenced to seven years and six months in Sing Sing.

Tapped the Wires.

ST. PAUL, July 6.—A good deal of excitement was occasioned yesterday at Hamline upon the discovery that somebody had tapped the wires and beat the foreign book out of over $6,000.

Plot Against the Rulers.

ROME, July 6.—The Popolo Romana says police investigation has established the fact of the existence of a conspiracy, of which Cette was the centre, the object being to take the lives of the heads of the various European countries. The anarchist Lega, in accordance with this plot, was delegated to kill Premier Crispi, and Cesario was chosen to kill M. Carnot. Lega came to Rome from Cette when he made an attempt to shoot Signor Crispi.

Von Kotze Released.

LONDON, July 6.—A despatch from Berlin says that Court Chamberlain von Kotze has been liberated by Emperor William's order. The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says that the commission examining the charges declared Von Kotze innocent and communicated their findings to Emperor William, who telegraphed back that Von Kotze be released.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 6, 1894.

There is an advance in prices of vegetables and fruits owing to the continuance of the railway strike.

The clearings of local banks this week were $4,810,774 as compared with $4,615,861 last week, and $7,000,509 the corresponding week of last year.

The earnings of the Canadian Pacific railway for the last week in June were $470,000, a decrease of $94,000 as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—The only grain that offered was 200 bushels of oats, which sold at 38½ to 39½c. Wheat is quoted at 62c for white, 61c for red and 58c for goose. Peas are quoted at 65c and barley at 41 to 43c.

In Chicago wheat was weak and lower on unfavorable cable advices, closing ½ to 2c lower than Monday. Corn was depressed in sympathy with wheat, closing ½ to ¼c under Monday's figures. Oats advanced on account of a scare among July shorts, closing ¼c higher than Monday. To-day's receipts—Wheat, none; corn, five; oats, three cars.

The New York stock market was dull again, only 112,000 shares of stocks being traded in. The reporting of the tariff bill to the House is looked upon as a bull argument by most operators, as it means an early settlement of this vexed question. The market closed steady to firm, at advances of ½ to 1½ per cent. for the day. Total sales were listed, 61,000; unlisted, 51,000; including St. Paul, 16,000.

Buffalo—Cattle—On sale 40 cars, irregular, but generally at Monday's prices. Sheep and lambs—20 cars, steady for good to choice, but demand not so good. Hogs—23 cars, light grades lower. Mediums and heavies advanced, pigs and yorkers $5.60 to $5.65. Mediums and heavies, $5.70 to $5.75.

The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its merits in restoring the appetite, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, and have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

The Sincerest Flattery.

The Schenectady Board of Trade evidently believes in the Cæsarian motto, fas est ab hoste doceri, for they have paid the Peterborough Board of Trade the compliment of imitating the booklet "Fifty Facts about Peterborough," issued and circulated by the local board. Mr. Robt. Fair, of the Golden Lion, president of the Board of Trade, Peterborough, has received from his cousin, Mr. I. W. McCamus, who is also a member of the Schenectady Board, a copy of a booklet "Fifty Facts about Schenectady," a very faithful copy, mutatis mutandis, of the Peterborough booklet.

After the lodge closed, Royal Lodge gave a royal supper to the visiting brothers, which reflected great credit upon the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Hill. At the close of the supper some eloquent and amusing speeches were given, and a most enjoyable sociable time was spent, the visitors all agreeing that the Havelock "boys" know how to entertain in first-class style.

The Late George Dyer Mitchell.

Yesterday morning Mr. Geo. D. Mitchell, one of our oldest and most respected residents, passed away at the family residence corner of McDonel and Aylmer streets, at the advanced age of three score and fifteen years. His last illness was of only a few weeks duration. Mr. Mitchell was a native of Wiltshire, England, where he was born May 18th, 1819, having been one week older than Her Majesty the Queen. He was married while in England to Miss Lampard, daughter of the late Geo. Lampard, Warminster. About 1890 Mr. Mitchell removed to Canada and 9 or 10 years later took up residence in Peterborough and entered upon the business which he has since conducted so successfully, of late years in company with his son, Mr. Fred Mitchell, and in such a manner as to win by his probity and fair dealing the respect and esteem of a wide circle of friends and customers in both town and country. Mr. Mitchell leaves behind him two sons, Fred living in town, and George in Winnipeg, Mrs. Mitchell having died several years ago. Funeral on Suuday at 4 o'clock p.m.

A Correction.

In the issue of the EXAMINER of June 10th it was reported that Pastor Zimmerman baptized six "Christian Science" converts. This description was incorrect, as they were not "Christian Science" adherents, but members of Bethany church which has no connection with the so called Christian Science body.

Dan Scores a Bulls-eye.

Dan. Whetung's picnic came off yesterday at Doris' Point, Chemong Lake, and was well attended. Some good canoe races were paddled. The double hunting canoe race was won by John Taylor, of Chemong village, and Madden Howard, of Rice Lake, easily, but the event of the day in which all parties seemed to take a keen interest, was the single hunting canoe race in which John Taylor, the champion of Chemong, and Maddin Howard, the champion of Rice Lake, were to paddle, but to the great surprise of all present, the boy paddler, S. Nichols, carried off the prize, winning by half a canoe length, with Taylor a good second and Howard third. Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald was the referee and gave every satisfaction.

THE INTERCOLONIAL CONFERENCE.

President Fair's Report of his Visit to the Conference.

Below is a copy of a letter descriptive of Mr. Fair's visit to the Intercolonial Conference in Ottawa which will be presented to the Board of Trade at its next meeting.

To the Members of the Board of Trade:

GENTLEMEN,—It is my pleasing duty to state that the honour was conferred on this Board of having received an invitation to attend the formal opening of the Colonial Conference and the banquet tendered to the Imperial and Colonial delegates at the Russell House, Ottawa, on the 28th June last.

At the request of a number of the members of the Board I accepted the invitation

The function took place in the senate chamber where the delegates from the most important colonies of Her Majesty's Empire were welcomed by the Governor-General. The audience was a most distinguished one, over 400 guests being present, including the Earl of Aberdeen, who was supported by Sir John Thompson and members of his Cabinet.

Responses to the welcome were made by the Earl of Jersey, the Imperial delegate, the Hon. F. B. Sutton, New South Wales, Hon. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Tasmania, Sir Henry DeVilliers, Cape of Good Hope. Hon. Thomas Playford, South Australia, Mr. Alfred Lee Smith, New Zealand, Sir Henry Wrixon, Victoria, and Hon. A. J. Thynne, Queensland.

Each of the delegates complimented Canada and expressed the hope that the result of the conference would be to strengthen the bond of affection between the colonies and the mother country, increase the exchange of trade, and stimulate commerce between the various colonies.

These speeches were all good. Some of them a treat to me, but the ablest of all were delivered by Canada's Premier and the Hon. Mr. Laurier.

Previous to the banquet it was my privilege to meet and converse with a number of the delegates. In conversation with the Hon. Mr. Playford I gleaned such information respecting Australia which has an export trade of £40,000 annually, and an import trade of £30,000, showing a very substantial increase on the right side of the sheet for the colony.

So far as results are concerned I could easily see that if the objects of the Conference were carried out, not only will great good come to Canada, but the empire and the world at large. I was convinced that even Peterborough will share in the direct benefits accruing therefrom, and that our local manufacturers, such as the General Electric Co., the two Hamilton manufactories, the Lock Works, the Carbon Works, canoe companies and others ought to participate in the practical benefit arising out of the Colonial Conference.

Respectfully,
ROBERT FAIR,
President.

SPRIGHTLY SUMMER SPORTS.

On the Lacrosse Field, the Crease and the Diamond—Triple A. Topics—The Bicycle and Football.

THE GREAT LACROSSE MATCH.

When "print" meets "print" then comes the tug of war" and the greatest sporting event of the season for brilliancy and breaking of bones will be the lacrosse match, in the P. A. A. A. grounds, tomorrow evening, between the staffs of the EXAMINER and Review newspapers. The betting is tremendous, at long odds in favour of the team most likely to win. There is to be no "fake" about this match, it will, figuratively speaking, be for blood. An effort is made to secure the presence of the ambulance corps of the 57th battalion, and a veterinary surgeon to attend the injuries resulting from "horse play." The ball will be faced at 5:15 and defeat will be faced fifteen minutes later. Complimentary tickets of admission are sent to everybody, so that everybody can take it in. The referee and umpires will be "jeffed" for at noon to-morrow.

CRICKET.

The cricket team will not go to Millbrook to-morrow on account of the team of that place being unable to get an eleven to play against the local boys.

There will be a scratch match on the P. A. A. A. grounds to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock sharp, between the teams captained by Messrs. Ray and Stocker. The teams will be as follows: Ray, Halliday, Horkins, Dr. Burnham, Wonham, McGill, Leefe, Parker, Garvin and Comstock; Stocker, Shirreff, Houldsworth, Goldsmith, Dumble, Adams, Montgomery, Rogers, Roper and Morphet.

The warm weather suggests Fans.—A nice assortment at the Peterborough Book Store.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

A ROYAL CITY BRIDAL.

Rev. Walter M. Loucks Married to Miss Harriet Pipe.

The Guelph Mercury thus reports a social event which will have special interest to many in Peterborough:—

"At half past eleven to-day (Tuesday) there was a fashionable wedding in St. James church, when Rev. W. M. Loucks led Miss Harriet Pipe to the altar. The church was beautifull decorated for the occasion by the Guild of St. James, and the arrangements were of such as reflected the greatest credit on their taste. The chancel was especially beautiful. It was strewn with daisies, carnations and roses. As the bride came down the aisle leaning on the arm of her uncle ten, little girls preceeded them and strewed their path with flowers. The church, as is the case on all such occasions, was filled with people, mostly ladies. The bride looked very pretty in a dress of white satin, veil, and orange blossoms, moire ribbon and rhine stone buckles. She was attended by her sister Miss Alice, who also looked nice in Nile green silk crepe, white lace, moire ribbons and buckles to match. Rev. C. Heathcote supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. Loucks, Picton, father of the bridegroom, assisted by the rector of St. James, and the bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. E. Harvey, city treasurer. After congratulations the party drove to the residence of Mr. Harvey, where the bridal dinner was in waiting. There was none present but the most intimate friends of the family. The groom is curate of Christ church, Ottawa, of which Ven. Archdeacon Lander is rector. The many friends of the bride in this city will wish the young couple much happiness."

Rev. Mr. Loucks, at present curate of Christ church, Ottawa, will be well remembered in Peterborough, where he was the popular curate of St. John's South Ward Mission.

THE COMPOSER OF THAIS

M. JULES MUSSENET IN THE DRAWING ROOMS OF PARIS.

His Vivacity and Versatility—Lionized by the Ladies He Swings from Capital to Capital, and Still Finds Time for High-Class Work.

Massenet, writes a Paris correspondent of the Argonaut, is exactly like his art—a charming, fascinating man of the world. He has the physical type, as well as the moral temperament, of an artist. "Tout Paris" knows this refined face, whose features bears signs of weariness, although his slight figure, full of feminine grace, gives the effect of a person younger than he really is, for the master has lived his 50 summers. His hair, rather thin at present, is worn long and brushed back, showing his ample forehead, full of intelligence; his blue eyes are often languishing, sometimes vivacious, always clear and penetrating; his physiognomy mobile and clever; a smiling mouth under a light blond mustache; the courteous manners of a gentleman, with the coaxing ways of a spoiled child and the coquetry of a pretty woman.

A picture that was much remarked a few years ago at the Salon represented him seated at a piano, on which was some open music, in a splendid drawing-room, surrounded by half a dozen fashionable women who were singing and listening—a lovely flock, of which he was the shepherd. One of the sides of the life of the author of "Roi de Lahore"—and not the least important—was faithfully represented in this painting. In the upper ten to-day there are a number of persons possessing very distinguished amateur, musical talent, especially among the women; and the supreme fashion, the latest style, is to sing or to play contemporaneous music only under the guidance and with the assistance of the composer. The celebrated masters lend themselves with extreme good grace to this coquettish exigency, and Massenet more than any of them. He is amiable, encouraging and flattering. "Charming! delicious! exquisite!" he exclaims, almost swooning with apparent delight when some handsome woman has sung one of his songs. Then the master, whose severity is never really disarmed, adds: "You will please sing it over again," which means: "You did not sing it well at all," and he makes his fair pupil repeat it ten, fifteen, twenty times, without sparing her, until she sings it as he wishes, which always ends by being accomplished, the fashionable Parisian cantatrice possessing a rare intelligence. After which he goes off into ecstacies again, and is overwhelming in thanks and praise, which he more or less sincerely feels. One day one of his fascinating pupils asked him to put his autograph on a score of the "Serenade du Passant," which she had just been siging, and he wrote: "To the Marquise X., the author very much pleased with—himself." These little comedies are so delightful that all Paris sings Massenet, and Massenet forever, and the public naturally follows the steps of the fleur des pois.

This kind of society comedy is practiced with more art of Massenet than by any of his colleagues, and is one element of his success; another is the devoted partizanship of the press. The author of so many beautiful compositions understands his age well, and does not rely on his talent alone for his renown. He is none the less liberal with his smiles and his graces to bearded journalists than he is to the fashionable women, and, now that he has conciliated them by clever advances, he can rely on them to blow the trumpets of renown in his honor. And, then, he has associated his fortunes with those of M. Hartmann a pastmaster in advertising. Data are sent to the journals, which either commit adroit indiscretion on the opera in rehearsal, or else, on the contrary, they guard the secret jealously, announcing the fact according to circumstances which alone decide which trick is the best. They publish beautiful scores of the opera, ornamented with vignettes, printed on the finest paper, and with an artistic cover. No musician is so well-dressed up in Paris as Messenet.

Finally, Massenet is never idle, always traveling from place to place; or else, when he is in Paris, always in society. When he finds the time to compose is a mystery. To-day, for instance, he will direct the rehearsal of an opera in Paris; to-morrow he will go and lead a performance at Bordeaux; two days after he will be at Brussels for a concert, and the week after at Geneva for a festival.

Massenet lives in the Rue General-Foy, near the Chu . of St. Augustin and the Boulevard Malesherbes, where—a piquant detail—there is not a piano in his apartment. At least, that is his legal domicile. Practically he leaves it at eight o'clock in the morning and does not return until late at night. The surest way to find him, when you wish to see him, is to repair to his editor's—Hartmann—in the Rue Dannon, where he works every day. That Massenet, leading so irregular a live, can find the quietude necessary for musical composition, is a striking proof of the vivacity of his intelligence.

Doubtless, Mme. Massenet would prefer that he should have more need of the calm of home-life, in order to work. But it is the destiny of wives of great men to suffer. She married him when he was young, unknown and poor; she has devoted her life to his success, and has her reward in the thought of having done her utmost duty to him and in witnessing his triumph. This is almost always the case. The brilliant and perfumed flower which we call an artist can generally only blossom through the wife's self-sacrifice.

Wire Shafts for Steamships.

From a recent published estimate of the strength of the proposed wire shafts for steamships, it appears that in this important respect the most satisfactory result is realized. When made in five sections, with a total length of 100 feet and 15 inches, diameter, the shaft will have 25,000 No. 7 steel wires, each twenty-five feet long, with 50,000 fastenings; and, as each wire and each fastening will sustain a load of 500 pounds without rupture or injury, there is thus exhibited a total inherent strength of some 37,500,000 pounds, or an amount twenty-five times greater than the continuous force of an engine of 5,000-horse power, which is indeed a significant showing.

A Stove in Three Hours.

As showing the thorough systematization of stove manufacturers it is asserted that a resident of Sharon, Pa., ordered a stove at a foundry there. The pig iron was melted and cast, the frame put together, polished, set up in the purchaser's house, and a fire started in it at less than three hours from the time he gave the order.

Fatal Result of Carelessness.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Willie Shea, nine years old, had his skull fractured yesterday by a shot fired from a revolver in the hands of some persons unknown. Mrs. Julia Ross, an aged woman, was instantly killed by a shot fired through a rear window of her house by some careless person. Louis Weise was struck in the abdomen by a stray bullet. His wound may result fatally.

Boy Killed in a Saw Mill.

HALIFAX, July 5.—Eddie Locke, aged 13, was killed in a saw mill ten miles from this city. His coat was caught by the shaft and his head, side and arms struck on the wheel box. He was so terribly mangled that he died shortly after.

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of his Illness and Subsequent Cure While in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago, stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's diserse. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

THE HEART OF CHINA.

BUILDING RAILROADS IN THE INTERIOR OF THE EMPIRE.

Hankow and China's Great Trunk Line of the Future—Queer Sights Along the Yangtse—The First Railroad of China and Its Devil Engine.

HANKOW, China, (Special).—This is the Chicago of the Chinese Empire. It is nearly 700 miles from the seacoast and there are at this point three cities which face each other, which have an aggregate population of something like 2,000,000 of people. Standing on Pagoda Hill, behind the city of Hanyang, you look down, in fact, upon the homes of almost 3,000,000, and you see hundreds of villages, thousands of boats in which families live and die, and have spread out before you the three great cities of Hankow, Hanyang and Wuchang. In front of you, facing the south, flows the broad Yangtse river, which is at this place still a mile wide, and which is so deep throughout its course that the biggest steamers which sail the ocean can come up here and anchor at its wharves. The city on the opposite side is Wuchang. It has perhaps three-quarters of a million people, and the high wall which runs around it is twelve miles in length. It is the home of one of the most progressive governors of China, and is the capital of the state of Hupeh. Turn to your left and you see at your feet the city of Hanyang, with its vast iron works for the making of steel rails. Beyond it across the river Han, which is so filled with boats that their masts make you think of a thicket of hoop-poles, is the vast plain covered with the buildings of Hankow, which is even larger than Wuchang, and which is the commercial capital of this part of the empire. As you look over the landscape your eye meets as much water as land. The mighty Yangtse above and below you flows on like a great inland sea, its bosom loaded with a score of steamers and thousands of queer looking junks. There are boats before you which have come 2,000 miles down its waters through the deep gorges of Ichang, and mixed with them are ships from Canton, Amoy, Foo Chow and other great cities along the coast. There are tea junks from the big Poyang Lake, and queer-looking craft from a thousand different localities, each having a build and make peculiarly its own.

As you look you realize the force of the assertion that China has more boats than all the rest of the world put together. The Yangtse is here cut into by canals, and the great lagoons lying back in the country are spotted with sails. The River Han, which has flowed 1,300 miles in its winding course from its source to its mouth, has brought down hundreds of river junks, and ships are being loaded at scores of these wharves for all parts of the empire and of the world. To-day the trade of this place amounts to about $37,000,000 a year, and every dollar's worth of this has to be carried away by water. In the years to come a large part of it will go by land, and railroads may make Hankow the greatest city of Asia, if not the biggest on the globe.

The probabilities are that this place will be some day one of the great manufacturing centres of the world. There are coal and iron near here in close proximity to one another and the water communication is such that coal can be shipped here from almost any part of the empire. Already a population of more than 100,000,000 is tributary to this point by rivers and canals, and the great trunk line of future China will probably run through Hankow from Peking to Canton, taking in more big cities and a greater number of people than any other railroad on the globe. Peking has a million of people. Tientsin has more than a million, and it would be on the line only eighty miles south of the imperial capital. Thence it would cut its way further south about 500 miles through one of the most thickly settled parts of the empire to Hankow, where it would strike these cities of two million. From here on to Canton it cannot be more than 500 miles and the land is rich in the extreme and it teems with millions. Canton is one of the great trading centres of the world, and it is said to have about 3,000,000 population. The whole length of the road would be less than 1,500 miles, and there would not be a waste spot on it. It will take but little grading, and it would, I judge, be a comparatively cheap road to build. It would be a bee-line from north to south China, and would be largely patronized as soon as the Chinese discovered its value. There are no people on the globe quicker to make use of a good thing and a cheap thing than these Chinese.

As it is they have the dearest of modes of travel, and though their wheelbarrows and boats carry goods for almost nothing in comparison with the labor spent in running them, they are dear in competition with steam. As it is the steamers on the Yangtse are kept up by Chinese freight and passengers, and every steamboat I have seen has been crowded with them. They ride first and second class.

The first railroad in China was from Shanghai to Woosung, a distance of about twelve miles. Woosung is the bar at the mouth of the Whampoa river, and this road did a big business till some of the Chinese thought it was injuring their luck, and they complained to the authorities. The officials bought the road at a high price from the foreigners who owned it, and threw the locomotive, which they said contained a devil, into the river. Some of the rails are still left, and it may be that the road will be again built in the future. One thing is very certain, and that is the moment the Chinese appreciate that they can make and run roads of their own their superstition will not stand in the way of making them, and many of the officials are experimenting to see what they can do. I saw a locomotive which had been recently built by the Chinese machinists at the Kiagnan arsenal, near Shanghai, and it runs as well as any of our engines. I was shown a railroad iron—I mean steel rails—which they had made there with Chinese iron, and there seems to be no doubt that they can manage a rolling mill very well. There is a vast deal of waste now, it is true, and this will continue as long as the work is done by the officials, who expect to get a big living out of their stealings; but it will be different when factories of this kind are started as private enterprises. Just now the chief movements in the direction of railroads are from the government, and the idea is to render China impregnable in case of war. This is the purpose of the viceroy here. He hates the foreigners, and he wants to drive them out of the country. He is using them to build factories and he has a cotton mill run by steam and filled with modern machinery, which is one of the largest in the world. It contains a thousand looms, and it is located on the banks of the Yangtse, in the City of Wuchang. It is now making money, I am told, and it is profiting off the rise in foreign cottons through the fall in the value of silver.

Speaking of extravagance in railroad building, I doubt whether there has ever been erected a more costly plant than that which is now being put up here by this viceroy for the building of cars, the making of rails and the turning out of a full equipment for the line which is at some future time to run from here to Peking. The works are being put up by Belgians as foremen, and about fifty high-priced men are now employed here on salaries. I visited the works yesterday. They are located at the foot of a hill just above the mouth of the Han river and a short distance back from the Yangtse Kiang. Chinese coolies were unloading the great ingots of steel, which have been brought here from Europe, to make the first rails and to use until the Chinese shall be able to turn out their own steel from their own iron. Other coolies were unloading thousands of bushels of coke, also from Europe, and this carrying of steel ignots, coke and machinery has been going on for months. One of the ships on which I sailed on my way up the river had about a hundred tons of these ignots, and its hold was packed with big boxes of heavy machinery. It carried 2,000 bushels of coke, and the captain told me he seldom made a trip without a lot of material for the Hankow rolling mills. Money, in fact, has been flowing out here almost as fast as the current of the Yangtse river, and the viceroy has spent somewhere between five and ten million dollars already. The evidences are apparent that he will have to spend a number of millions more before he gets through, and at the present rate of ex travagant mistakes he is likely to bankrupt himself and his state government before he builds his road. In the first place, it costs him a fortune to make the foundations of his work. He has, I judge, at least seventy-five acres, the greater part of which is covered with buildings. There was a hill close by, where he might have located the establishment. He chose, however, the low bed of the river, which is overflowed every spring, and went to work to make it safe from the waters. Laying out his foundations, he filled in this vast area to a height of fourteen feet, the dirt being carried by coolies at ten cents a day in little shovel-like baskets hung to the two ends of a pole, which they rested over their shoulders. It must have taken an army to do it, but it is done, and there is now a railroad running upon it, a distance of perhaps a quarter of a mile from the rolling mills to the water. Upon this there were about 100 steel cars and a steam engine or two of European make at the time I entered the yard. The cars were loaded with machinery and were being hauled to the rolling mills in the rear.

I followed one of the trains. We first came to eight large boilers, near which were what looked like vast haystacks, but which were sheds of mats, in which the coked was stored. Beyond these there were two massive furnaces for the smelting of the ore. Each was a hundred feet high, and I climbed to the top of one of them by the spiral steps on its outside. Below me I could see the roof of the vast machine shops, which are now being filled with expensive works. These shops cover at least twenty-five acres, and there are here that many acres under one iron roof. A railroad runs by their side, and a smoke-stack 150 feet high rises in the air behind them. Beyond them in the distance you see the buildings of the viceroy's arsenal, where he is making modern rifles and other guns, and near this is a brick works, where bricks are being made with the latest improved European machinery.

There is a railroad being built in the northern part of the empire, and the regular appropriation set aside for this has been $2,000,000 a year. This northern railway is the only working road in China. I expect to go to Tientsin and travel over it. I understand that it has been pushed rapidly within the past year or so toward the Manchurian frontier and that it was of service to the government in the recent rebellion there. It is for the purposes of defense that the Chinese will build railroads.

This northern road was first built to take coal from the mines to the Taku forts and the naval ships. When I was in China, five years ago, it was only about eighty miles long. It has, I am told, now about reached the great wall and will soon penetrate Mongolia.

We went back to the city after visiting the arsenal, which was much the same as the one I saw at Kiagnan, though not so large, by the River Han, and as we did so I got a picture of one of the railroad cars of the China of the past. It was a buffalo cart, with wheels as large as the front wheels of a farm wagon, made of a single block of wood and fastened to the axil with a wooden pin. The shafts were tied to the axle, and there was not enough iron about the whole to have made a hair-pin.

The chief freight car here is a wheelbarrow made entirely different from those I have seen in other parts of the empire. It is longer and has handles at the front as well as in the rear. Two men usually work it when the loads are heavy and I have seen a ton carried on one of these barrows. They are made with a screeching bamboo attachment, and there is no iron about them except the tires. The pieces are pinned together with wood and tied with rawhide strings. Each barrow costs about $5 and will last, it is said, for a lifetime. FRANK G. CARPENTER.

ITCHING AND PIN WORMS. PILES

No More Misery.

ITCHING PILES is an exceedingly painful and annoying affliction, found alike in the rich and poor, male and female. The principal symptoms are a severe itching, which is worst at night when the sufferer becomes warm in bed. So terrible is the itching that frequently it is impossible to procure sleep. Often the sufferer unconsciously during sleep scratches the parts until they are sore—ulcers and tumors form, excessive moisture is exuded. Females are peculiarly affected from this disease, causing unbearable irritation and trouble. These and every other symptom of Itching Piles or irritation in any part of the body are immediately allayed and quickly cured by Chase's Ointment. It will instantly stop itching, heal the sores and ulcers, dry up the moisture.

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

PIN WORMS is an ailment entirely different as to cause than Itching Piles, yet its effects and symptoms are exactly the same. The same intolerable itching; the same creeping, crawling, stinging sensation characterizes both diseases. Chase's Ointment acts like magic. It will at once afford relief from this torment.

A N ASHBURNHAM BRIDAL.

Nuptials of Mr. T. H. Adams and Miss Florence M. Tivey.

The pretty little church of St. Luke's, Ashburnham, yesterday evening, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Mr. T. H. Adams leading to the altar Miss Florence M. Tivey, third daughter of R. Tivey, Esq. The wedding ceremony took place at 8 o'clock p. m., the celebrant being Rev. C. W. Hedley, assisted by the full choir of church in the service, which was full choral. Mr. Mockridge, of Trinity College, Toronto, presided at the organ. The groom was assisted by Mr. James Macdonald and the bride was supported by her sisters, Miss Eva and Miss Alice Tivey, and Miss Maud Adams, sister of the groom. The bride was tastefully attired in silver gray silk brocade, and carried a bouquet of white lilies and white roses. Miss Eva Tivey was gowned in pale blue silk and carried a basket of white lilies. Miss Alice Tivey and Miss Adams were dressed in pink crepon and bore baskets of white roses. The church was crowded in every part with interested spectators of the ceremony, the bridal couple being well known and very highly esteemed in the village. As the wedding party left the church the organ, under the hands of Mr. Mockridge, pealed forth a wedding march. At the reception, following the ceremony, at Mr. Tivey's residence, about sixty guests sat down to the wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Adams received most cordial felicitations from the assembled guests and the latter's popularity was attested by the numerous and elegant wedding presents contributed. The newly wed will make a tour of about ten days in Eastern Ontario, visiting among other places Ottawa and also Ogdensburg, N. Y. On their return they will take residence on Stewart street, Ashburnham, and enter upon the enjoyment of what their hosts of friends wish may be a prosperous and happy wedded life.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, July 6th.

At the court this morning the charge of burglary against James Devine, alias Merrill—breaking into the C. P. R. restuarant building, on Wednesday night, was heard by the Police Magistrate. He was committed to stand his trial.

On the same evidence John Somers, who elected to have his case disposed of summarily, was convicted of burglary, it appearing that he was a pal of Devine's in the transaction. He was sentenced to six months in the Central prison, and will by the time this is read, be behind the bars and have undergone the novel experience of a bath and ready to take his first lesson in binder twine making.

This morning Central Prison Bailiff English took quite a squad of culprits up to the Central. There was Somers, the burglar, six months; Wm. Gill, the sheep stealer, 23 months; Frank Harris, vagrant, 6 months; the Havelock housebreaker, 23 months.

The three tramps, McKenzie, McCormack and McDonald, arrested in a barn in North Monaghan yesterday, were discharged on condition of their leaving town at once. McCormack, or "C.O. Ned," was informed by the magistrate that if he appeared before him again in the capacity of a tramp he would be favoured with a certificate good for six months residence in the Central Prison, and the chief added that if "C. O. Ned" showed his face in town again he (the chief) would see that he had an audience with the police magistrate.

A circus day drunk and disorderly was fined $2.

MARK STREET CHURCH EXCURSION.

The Sunday School Pupils Spend a Pleasant Day at Idyl Wild.

The annual excursion of the Mark street Methodist Sunday school took place yesterday to Idyl Wild, and was a most successful affair in every respect. About 200 pupils and their parents boarded the City of Peterborough, and the trip to Idyl Wild was made in good time. The Rev. Mr. Beer, pastor of the church, accompanied the excursionists, and did everything in his power to add to the enjoyment of the occasion. At Idyl Wild the picnicers enjoyed dinner, after which the following list of sports was run off by a committee, one event—the ladies' race—causing a great deal of excitement:

Boys' race—1st B. Kindred, 2nd H. Morgan, 3rd W. Routley.
Girls' race—1st Lillie Kindred, 2nd Maud Kindred.
Boys race (10 and under)—1st W. Routley, 2nd Bruce Armstrong, 3rd V. Hamilton.
Boys race—1st M. Reid, 2nd S. Taylor, 3rd H. Fife.
Ladies' race—1st, Emma Smith, 2nd Maud Dawson.
Married men's race—1st H. Fife, 2nd W. Johnston, 3rd Hiram Armstrong.

The homeward trip was made in good time, the excursionists taking supper at Campbelltown and reaching home shortly after 8 o'clock.

In old times it seemed to be thought that a medicine must be nauseating to be effective. Now, all this is changed. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one of the most powerful alteratives, is agreeable to most palates, the flavour being by no means medicinal.

BRITANNIA A WINNER

The Prince of Wales' Yacht Beats the American Vigilant.

DUNRAVEN LOSES VALKYRIE

She Collides With the Satanita During the Race and Sinks Five Minutes After Being Struck — She is Damaged Beyond Repair.

FIFTH OF CLYDE, July 6.—The regatta of the Mud Lake Yacht Club opened yesterday. A fever height of excitement prevailed here previous to the start for the Muir Memorial cup race. No such interest has ever before been shown here in a yachting contest, for the American flyer Vigilant was to meet for the first time the Prince of Wales' cutter Britannia, admitted to be the fastest yacht in Europe.

Lord Dunraven, with George E. Watson, the designer, was steering the Valkyrie; A. D. Clarke, owner of the Satanita, was at her stick; Nat Herreshoff was at the wheel of the Vigilant; and W. Jamieson was steersman of the Britannia.

The following was the time of the two yachts at the second round: Vigilant 1 hour 20 minutes 2 seconds; Britannia, 1 hour 27 minutes 57 seconds. Britannia won on the second round.

The Britannia passed the winning mark only five seconds ahead of the Vigilant amid a scene of the greatest enthusiasm ashore and at the club house. The time of the Britannia was 5h. 58m. The time of the Vigilant was 5h. 58m. 5s. The people ashore when the result was known gave three cheers for the Prince of Wales and for the Britannia.

The Valkyrie Sunk.

GLASGOW, July 5.—During the progress of the yacht regatta on Mud Hook yesterday the Satanita collided with and sunk the Valkyrie. It was shortly after the start in the regatta that the collision occurred. Everyone on the Valkyrie was saved. The Valkyrie was struck on the port side aft the rigging and nearly cut in two. She immediately began to fill and soon sank in deep water. Boats from near by yachts saved the crew, of whom only one was injured. The yacht was afloat only five minutes after being struck. The Satanita's bows are stove, and she is not likely to be able to take part in any race for a month. Capt. Cranfield says the Valkyrie is damaged beyond repair. Before she went down she reared on her head and as she sunk her deck burst with a report which sounded like thunder. The Satanita is not making any water, but her forward plate is badly stove.

Vivian Nickalls Beats Wright.

LONDON, July 6.—At the Henley regatta in the sixth heat for the diamond sculls Vivian Nickalls beat Joe Wright, the Toronto oarsman. They pulled level for the first hundred yards, but Nickalls led by one half length at Top Island. Wright then put on a spurt and closed up level with Nickalls at the Farm, but from there on Nickalls drew away and won easily by two and three-fourth lengths. Time, 9 mins. 35 secs. The seventh heat was won by Guy Nickalls, with Guiness second.

Justin McCarthy Speaks.

LONDON, July 6.—Mr. Justin McCarthy, addressing a meeting in London said that the Government was determined to carry the evicted tenants bill at the present session. He declared that the home rule conflict could not be of long duration. He would ten thousand times prefer a concession from the Liberals, but even if they were defeated, the Tories on coming into power would soon discover a necessity for Irish votes and therefore a latent sympathy for home rule.

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

FIRED RAILWAY CARS

Serious Depredations Committed by the Lawless Mob.

THE STRIKE STILL SPREADING

President Cleveland Insists on Sending Federal Aid to Quell the Disorder in Chicago—Buffalo Men Ordered Out—A Passenger Train Ditched.

CHICAGO, July 7.—The mob at 39th street began throwing stones last evening at the policemen who were on duty there. The police attempted to arrest the ringleaders when the latter made a rush for the officers and pounded and kicked them until the police retreated. They called on Captain O'Neill for assistance and he responded with 50 police who charged upon the crowd with clubs. Several persons in the mob suffered scalp wounds. The crowd grew rapidly and numbered nearly 6,000 boys and men. Two more fires were set late last evening within 30 minutes of each other, and there seemed to be a determined effort to destroy the stock yards.

One of the men shot at Kensington yesterday was William Instiner, and he is said to have been fatally wounded. Michigan Central Detective Stark fired the shot and the mob tried to lynch him, but he was safely landed in the Kensington jail, and from there taken to the city by the police. Fifty policemen from the Hyde park station dispersed the mob.

Cars Burned by the Mob.

CHICAGO, July 7.—Two hundred and twenty-five freight cars on the Panhandle tracks between 45th and 59th streets were totally destroyed by fire between 6 and 8 o'clock. The police were utterly powerless. They were not even noticed by the strikers, who went to work at once. Bunches of waste were stolen from switchmen's shanties and soaked with the "dope" used in oiling the cars, which made an excellent torch. They suddenly stopped their incendiarism and turned their attention to tearing up switches. After a number had been rendered useless the mob continued on its way southward.

At Forty-Eighth street is situated the station of the combined roads. This was fired and quickly destroyed. A strong wind was blowing and the flames quickly spread across three or four tracks, which were filled with cars. The railroad people say that there were fifty cars there, forty of which were loaded. All were soon a mass of flames. About thirty of the cars were filled with coal and the heat was intense. Fifteen of the cars contained meat from the big packing houses of Armour, Swift and Nelson Morris.

Upon the approach of the fire and police departments the mob turned about and started for the city. On their way to 47th street they set fire to all cars they had missed in their hurried trip southward.

A mob of about 500 people has held almost complete sway in the territory including the towns of Kensington, Burnside, Fordham and Grand Crossing on the outskirts of the city along the Illinois Central tracks. During the day two men were shot by a railroad detective who was with difficulty protected from the infuriated mob; upwards of 200 cars, some of them Pullman sleepers were burned. These depredations continued until late into the night. The force of deputies and the one company of regulars under command of Captain De Jamar being totally inadequate to afford protection to the immense amount of railroad property to which the incendiaries had free access.

The first regiment, I. N. G., was ordered to the scene, but the mob was forewarned and disappeared before the arrival of the militia.

The ministers of the city have called a meeting of citizens in favor of peaceful arbitration as a settlement of the great strike. It will be held to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Battery D armory.

Sensational Reports Circulated.

CHICAGO, July 7.—The regular troops on duty number 1,200 men and the National Guard 5,000, in addition to the entire police force including the reserves, substitutes and new men, a total of 8,300 is available for a special emergency call. This makes a total of 10,000 armed and mostly drilled men, that at less than an hour's notice can be placed in the field against the mob. Reports are being scattered broadcast to the effect that martial law will in all probability be declared in Chicago; that General Miles has advised the authorities at Washington that such a course is necessary and that the Third Infantry had been ordered from Fort Snelling, Minn. General Miles said that the report from the beginning to end was a baseless fabrication. "I believe," he said, "that the worst has been seen and that from now on the situation will show continuous improvement."

CHICAGO, July 7.—Early this morning a mob of 300 or 400 began burning cars in the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy yards at Hawthorne, seven miles out. Four had been destroyed and it was reported that many other fires were springing up in different parts of the yards. There was no police protection there beyond one or two officers and the militia was seven miles away. Sixty freight cars on the Wisconsin Central at the 51st street yards were destroyed by fire last night. One million dollars worth of property belonging to the railroad and residents of the neighborhood is endangered.

The compositors employed by the Inter-Ocean held a meeting last night and passed resolutions denouncing the policy of the paper and demanding that the resolutions be printed in the paper. W. B. Prescott, president of the International Typographical Union, was telegraphed for.

Six of the most prominent trunk lines served notice on Mayor Hopkins and Corporation Counsel Rubens of their intention to hold the city of Chicago, as well as the county of Cook, liable for all financial loss involved in the destruction of railroad property during the strike.

President Debs Confident.

President Debs to-day said: "The situation is more promising for the Railway Union now than at any time since the Pullman strike began. A mass meeting will be held here to-morrow night to protest against the calling of Government troops here. It is an outrage and the people will resent it. General Miles is quoted as saying that he has defeated the strike. If he said that he is a disgrace to the position he occupies. The police and state militia could and would put down the rioting if let alone. I regret the disturbance, but we can't govern the lawless."

K. of L. Will Go In, Too.

General-Master Workman Sovereign of the Knights of Labor arrived here from Omaha and at once proceeded to the headquarters of the American Railway Union, where he went into conference with President Debs, Vice-President Howard and their associate directors. The situation was canvassed and Sovereign agreed to issue a general strike calling on the Knights whenever a request to that end was presented.

At a meeting of representatives of the local labor unions, held at the union headquarters yesterday, a resolution was passed asking every trades union in the city to select a committee of three (with power) to attend a meeting at Uhlich"s hall next Sunday night, and participate in such action as may seem best calculated to insure the success of the American Railway Union in its present struggle against the Pullman company and the railways.

Final action in reference to ordering a strike of all Chicago trade and labor unions in sympathy with the railroad strike will be taken to-morrow night.

President Cleveland is Firm.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Gov. Altgeld's second telegram to the President, demanding the withdrawal of the federal troops, reached the White House about midnight. The President dictated the following reply:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION,
"WASHINGTON, July 6, 1894.

"Hon. John P. Altgeld, Governor of Illinois, Springfield, Ills.:

"While I am still persuaded that I have neither transcended my authority or duty in the emergency that confronts us, it seems to me that in this hour of danger and public distress discussion may well give way to active effort on the part of all in authority to restore obedience to law and protect life and property. — GROVER CLEVELAND."

At the Cabinet meeting it was decided to make every effort for a speedy concentration of troops at Chicago. The Federal troops at western posts cannot be spared and it is probable that some of the forces stationed in the east will be utilized for strike duty. It has been determined that the militia organizations of one state can be called on to suppress disorder in another State where the local authorities fail to enforce obedience to the law. Attorney-General Olney said that there was ample constitutional authority for such action and it is not unlikely that preparations for drawing on State militia for this purpose will be made.

All Tracks Obstructed.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Division Superintendent Troy, at Chicago, telegraphed the postmaster-general that rioters had obstructed all the tracks entering Chicago from the south and east, so that trains were now not entering the city. The superintendent of the railway mail service and the second assistant postmaster-general are trying to effect temporary arrangements with steamboat companies in the different states to transport the belated mails to cities where the railroads cannot enter on account of obstructions.

ST. PAUL, July 7.—A general order for a strike on the St. Paul and Duluth road was issued yesterday and every switchmen in the yards quit his post by noon. The engineers and firemen are considering the advisability of striking. No trains have arrived on the Northern Pacific.

Strike Moving South.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 7.—Grand Master Sergeni, of the firemen, received word that the strike fever is moving south. At Memphis the firemen report that great pressure is being put on them to go out. The firemen are particularly solicited, because if they go out the engineers will not work with non-union men who take their places.

PERU, Ind., July 7.—All the limited and first-class east and west trains on the Wabash have been abandoned and no freights have moved for three days.

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

OTTUMWA, Ia., July 7.—The Fort Madison passenger train going east last night struck an obstruction, ditching the engine and killing the engineer and fireman. The accident is believed to have been caused by strikers.

CAIRO, Ills., July 7.—Two freight sheds and twenty-three freight cars were burned in the Mobile and Ohio yards in this city. It is believed the fire was incendiary.

CAIRO, Ill., July 7.—Twenty-five freight cars, owned by the Big Four, were entirely consumed by fire yesterday.

Buffalo Ordered Out.

BUFFALO, July 7.—Two telegrams from Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, were received by his representatives in Buffalo.

One stated that a man would be here to-day to take charge of affairs on behalf of the A.R.U. The other orders a strike, and is as follows:

ORDERED OUT.—Command the situation and have all the employes in your locality withdraw from service immediately. We are gaining ground everywhere. Select a good committee for each road. Keep your men in line. Refrain from violence. The lines in this fight of capital against labor are sharply drawn. All who work are assisting capital to enslave their brother.—E. V. DEBS.

It is learned from a positively reliable source that the Erie and West Shore employes are solid with the American Railway Union and will go out the instant President Debs orders them to. Debs is at work on Buffalo in earnest now and is doing all he can to spread the strike in this city, the first actual evidence of which will be apparent to-day.

Pullman Town in Danger.

PULLMAN, Ills., July 7.—The third battalion of the 1st Regiment arrived here last evening, probably just in time to prevent the destruction of the town by a portion of the mob that had previously done destructive work at Kensington. The marauders learned of the coming of the militia and combined their operations to the West Pullman street railway. Conductors and gripmen were driven from their places and a complete tie-up of the road was effected.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 7.—In obedience to an order from General Master Workman Sovereign the 'longshoremens' branch of the Knights of Labor struck here yesterday. The men refuse to unload freight from the Union Pacific steamer which arrived from San Francisco. The officials had no trouble in securing non-union men.

Tearing Up the Northern Pacific.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 7.—Strikers here have commenced tearing up Northern Pacific tracks east of the city. Nearly 1,000 men are removing the rails and scattering the ties. The deputies seem to be powerless. The sympathy of the mob is with the strikers and the city is in a perfect turmoil. There is a rumor on the streets that the Great Northern men will join the strikers. Troops have been ordered from Fort Sherman.

ST. PAUL, July 6.—A plot to disable the Northern Pacific, by blowing up the Mississippi street tunnel, was discovered last evening.

Men Discharged in Toledo.

TOLEDO, July 7.—Receivers S. R. Callway of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City railway has received a telegram to the effect that the men would strike to-day by order of the A.R.U. Upon receipt of the notice he immediately gave orders to shut down all the shops on the road, stop all freight trains and discharge all the men on the road in every capacity, except a few to run a limited number of passenger trains.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., July 7.—The worst of the strike at this point seems to be over. Freight traffic is still practically at a standstill on several of the roads, but passenger trains are nearly all running on schedule time. The improvement is due to the presence of the militia, and the general opinion among railroad men is that the withdrawal of the companies from the city would be followed by an immediate renewal of rioting and lawlessness.

Will Make No Compromise.

SACRAMENTO, July 7.—The Southern railway officials say there is no truth in the report that they were willing to compromise and had made an offer to the strikers. The latter say they could not compromise if they were willing. President Debs, they say, can declare the strike off. All is quiet.

The American Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—With the utmost informality and with not even a word of comment the tariff bill was laid before the House yesterday by Speaker Crisp, ordered to be printed and referred to the committee of Ways and Means. It came about in the regular order of business and was disposed of in only so many words as were necessary to state its time and destination. The committee at once began an examination of the changes made by the Senate and will report the bill back to-day with a recommendation that the House non-concur in the amendments and agree to the conference.

Train Boy Murdered.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., July 6.—John M. Andrew, aged about 19 years, a train boy on the Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley & Pittsburg railroad, was murdered in an alley in the eastern part of Titusville. His skull was crushed, evidently with a coupling-pin, which was found near by. His throat was cut and his body stabbed in a dozen places. Fred McDonnell, a boy about his own age, was arrested on suspicion and at the coroner's inquest the testimony was deemed sufficient to hold him for trial.

Fruit Trade Paralyzed.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 7.—Owing to the existing strike, which has paralyzed the fruit trade of Mobile and New Orleans, the steamers that have been employed in that business will come here to discharge their cargoes so as to be able to reach the northern and western markets. The International and Great Northern Railroad proposes to haul all fruit trains to their various destinations. The strike has not yet reached here.

Emigration from Great Britain.

LONDON, July 7.—Emigration to Canada through British ports declined 64 per cent. during the month of June as compared with the same period of last year, the figures for June, 1893, being 7,244 and for June, 1894, 2,829. Emigration to the United States during the same period declined 43 per cent. Emigration to Canada for the past six months declined 63 per cent.

The U. S. Senate.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—As a sort of compensatory move for its long daily sessions during the three months that the tariff bill was being considered, the Senate, after a two days recess, spent only an hour and a half in session and then adjourned till Monday at noon, having first made an order that its daily meetings should be at noon hereafter.

The Queen Cup Contest.

GLASGOW, July 7.—The Vigilant will race to-day for the Queen Cup in the contests of the Clyde regatta. Captain Maff will steer the the Vigilant and Carter the Britannia. The Vigilant will sail in the races to be contested on the Clyde on July 9, 10 and 11.

China and Corea.

BERLIN, July 7.—Chinese advices received here say the Chinese government will not send a note to the European powers in regard to the trouble in Corea nor will it invite any foreign mediation in the matter. The menacing attitude of Japan is viewed by the Chinese government with perfect composure.

Beer Boycott in Berlin.

BERLIN, July 7.—Delegates of the socialists and brewers met yesterday to endeavor to bring about a settlement of the beer boycott. No settlement was reached. The boycott seems, however, to be coming to an end, the Brunswick settlers having sued for terms.

Cheap Rates on the Lake.

CHICAGO, July 7.—The freight rate to Kingston dropped yesterday to a point never before touched in the history of shipments from this port to Lake Ontario. The steamers Montezgle and Hurlbut were chartered for wheat at 2½c.

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, JULY 7, 1894.

THE "Farmer's Sun" declares that the Patrons will make a great fight when the Dominion elections come off, and in anticipation of this, and of the importance of the farmers' movement, anxiety is being evinced by the Conservative leaders. Major Sam Hughes, one of the fire-flies of the Commons, writing in his paper the Lindsay "Warder," credits the P.P.A. with loyalty to the Conservative party, but of the Patrons he says:

"The Patrons of Industry leaders, on the contrary, have played a most disreputable game. They have in every single instance injured the Conservative candidates, and have played the clear Grit game throughout. The list of ridings named in another column as having been lost by the duplicity of the Patron leaders is sufficient to have upset Sir Oliver Mowat and placed Mr. Meredith in power. But their game was to save Sir Oliver, not to defeat him."

Mayor Hughes no doubt expresses the sentiments of his party in the house, and it is one of profound hostility. In the Conservative party, therefore, the Patrons have an enemy whose policy it is to extirpate the farmers organization if it is possible.

IN Dominion politics the platforms of the Patrons of Industry and the Liberal party are practically identical. The most important political change for the farmers of the Dominion is relief from the protective tariff. This the Liberals have fought for since the adoption of the National Policy and it is a leading plank in the Patrons' platform. The nomination of rival candidates by the Liberals and Patrons may enable protectionists to retain their system, though in a minority. Such a waste of strength would be most unfortunate for the farmers of Canada.

THE Lindsay Post says: "We congratulate our friend Mr. J. R. Stratton, of West Peterbrough, on his return by such a handsome majority as 700, his great victory being achieved in the face of the very strongest opposition. The Grrndy matter was exaggerated and used until it was threadbare, but it is quite evident it played no important part in influencing the electors. Mr. Stratton makes an excellent representative, and his constituents evidently appreciate the fact."

A NEW AND TERRIBLE PLOT.

And now a new and terrible plot against the liberties of the people has been unearthed, beside which the placing of a St. George's cross in the ceilling of the Legislative chamber sinks into insignificance. A visitor to the new municipal buildings is authority for the statement that upon the north and west walls of the structure, worked into the design of the solid masonry of the outer wall where the world may see, are numerous crosses of the most diverse pattern. The right angled cross of St. George, the Maltese cross, the cross of St. Andrew, all are to be seen on these fatal walls. They are most numerous in that part of the structure where the law courts will sit and, to adapt to these new conditions the words of the Eye-Opener, "Thus does Rome show that she sets her seal upon all the acts of the judiciary." It is "the most brazen act of Romanism" in this city.

The situation is alarming in the extreme. The roof of the Legislative chamber may be whitewashed and the danger removed, but all the whitewash of the Elizabeth street calsominers' guild would be ineffectual to remove the evidence of Rome's ascendancy from the city buildings. That the matter will come before the Grand Council of the P. P. A. seems inevitable, for the chairman of the Property Committee charged with the erection of the building is Ald. Crawford, M.P.P.A., the candidate of the order in West Toronto. Can it be that the Alderman is that Jesuit in disguise who, we are assured, is always to be found in high places, even in the sanctuary of Protestant Protective Societies?

We shall be glad to show Mr. Madill and Mayor Stewart the evidence of the perfidy of the member for West Toronto. If the P.P.A. is to live it must be purged of the recreant member who would acknowledge the power of Rome in such a shameless fashion.

The Heavy End of a Match.

"Mary," said Farmer Flint at the breakfast table as he asked for a second cup of coffee, "I've made a discovery."

"Well, Cyrus, you're about the last one I'd expect of such a thing, but what is it?"

"I have found that the heavy end of a match is its light end." responded Cyrus with a grin that would have adorned a skull.

Mary looked disgusted, but with an air of triumph quickly retorted, "I've got a discovery too, Cyrus. It was made by Dr. R. V. Pierce, and is called a 'Golden Medical Discovery.' It drives away blotches and pimples, purifies the blood, tones up the system and makes one feel brand-new. Why, it cured Cousin Ben who had Consumption and was reduced to a skeleton. Before his wife began to use it she was a pale, sickly thing, but look at her; she's rosy-cheeked and healthy, and weighs 165 pounds. That, Cyrus is a discovery that's worth mentioning."

Young or middle-aged men, suffering from premature decline of power, however induced, speedily and radically cured. Illustrated book sent securely sealed for 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE MUNICIPAL CALENDAR.

A Montreal Nother Tells How Her Baby was Saved.

THE LITTLE ONE NOW FAT AND STRONG.

"Having used your celebrated Lactated Food for several months for my baby, I have now much pleasure in testifying to its great superiority.

"Before using Lactated Food I was feeding my baby with other makes of food. She became very sickly, and we thought she would die.

The use of Lactated Food completely restored my baby to health, and made her strong, fat and robust. She has never had any of the usual summer complaints common to children fed on poor foods. I strongly recommend Lactated Food to all mothers."

This is the testimony of Mrs. A. L. Gagnon, of 275 St. Charles Borrommee street, Montreal.

Mothers who are sad and despondent about their weak, puny and sickly babies, should take comfort and encouragement from the above letter.

No other infant food in the world is so conducive to growth, development and health of the babe in summer time as Lactated Food. No cholera infantum, or other dangers can strike when this health-giving food is used for baby. Thousands of mothers know that "Lactated Food Saves Babies Lives."

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared." BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine.

This Was the Opinion of Three Medical Men.

Paine's Celery Compound Does More Life-Saving Work.

MRS. CURRIER SAYS: "I OWE MY LIFE TO IT."

MRS. CURRIER.

"I take great pleasure in sending you a testimonial for Paine's Celery Compound; I certainly owe my life to it. I may state that I was sick over a year with pleurisy and inflammation and given up to die by three doctors and all my friends, when I was recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. After using seven bottles of the wonderful medicine I am all right again."

This brief testimony of cure by Paine's Celery Compound comes from Mrs. Currier, of Bradford, Ont., a lady well known in that town, and highly spoken of by Mr. W. L. Campbell, Bradford's popular druggist.

The people of Bradford and surrounding country speak with pleasure and delight about Mrs. Currier's happy release from suffering and danger; they know well of her many failures to obtain health by other means and medicines in the past; and to them Paine's Celery Compound is now the ideal remedy for the cure of disease.

No production of medical science has ever attained such reputation and popularity as Paine's Celery Compound; no other agency in medicine has ever saved so many people that were given up to die.

Let it ever be remembered that Paine's Celery Compound gives the public better and stronger proofs of its efficacy that can be done by any other medicine made in the world; it always "makes people well."

THE INDUSTRIAL WORLD.

The "Review of Reviews," after independent enquiries, has reached the very encouraging conclusion that the "hard times" are about over. In Philadelphia over 80,000 men, who during the winter, were dependent upon charity, have gone to work, and the citizens' relief committee, after expending $140,000, has closed its work with a balance to the good of $12,000. In the New England manufacturing centres the unemployed has been absorved by the starting up of industries. In Boston relief work ceased some time ago. In Pittsburg the citizens' committee has disbranded after disbursing nearly a quarter of a million dollars during the winter. There are similar reports from Cincinnati, Toledo, Milwaukee, New York, Brooklyn, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

"There is every reason to believe," says the "Review," "that if congress will but pass the tariff bill and adjourn, the quickened wheels of manufacturing industry and the call for men to harvest ripening crops and to supply the demand for coal and lumber and other materials, will at once afford a chance for every able bodied man in the United States to work."

In the same number Samuel Gompers, the great labour leader, discusses the effect of the great miners' strike, only lately concluded and on terms, he assumes, that are fortunate "not only for the cause of organized labour, but also for the general economic and industrial interests of the United States." With the miners the people had a sympathy as they realized that the strike was forced upon them by a grasping, relentless, merciless syndicate of money grubbers, who wanted, truly, the earth and all that it contained. The people for these poor miners were willing to suffer something and they have suffered a great deal in the scarcity of coal and high prices which followed a closing of the mines.

A new calamity, however, has fallen upon the commercial world through the extension of the strike beginning at Pullman's car shops, near Chicago, and extending all over the railway system of the United States. Is this strike just? Read the accounts of its origin and one is forced to the conclusion that the men acted impetuously in refusing the compromises a depressed trade suggested. The demand of the men that the Pullman cars should be sidetracked until the strike was ended brought a community of interests into the embroglio. It is no longer a Pullman strike and a question of wages in one place, but an alleged interference with general railway service, and a question of how far the railways are to be affected by the dictation of labor organizations. The issue is a great one, and the watchful eye of thousands is upon it. The struggle is the fiercest and most trying that has ever occurred, and capital and a super-abundance of unorganized labor will likely succeed.

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

BRITISH ALIEN PAUPER BILL.

The Daily News Comments Severely on Lord Salisbury's Speech.

LONDON, July 7.—In the House of Lords yesterday the Marquis of Salisbury introduced a bill in regard to alien paupers giving the Government power to control immigration similar to those possessed by the government of the United States. The bill also dealt with anarchists. England, Lord Salisbury said, appeared to be the ground upon which anarchistic plots were hatched. The Government ought to be empowered to expel from the country men whose presence was likely to cause a breach of the peace or lead to the commission of crime.

Lord Rosebery assented to that part of the bill dealing with alien paupers, but objected to the second part of it with indignation, and repudiated the suggestion that England was the hatching ground of anarchist conspiracies.

Lord Salisbury said he did not mean that England willingly harbored criminals, but he contended that the fabric of the law was insufficient to deal with them. The bill was read for the first time.

LONDON, July 7.—The Daily News in commenting on the alien pauper bill introduced by Lord Salisbury, says that the alien pauper evil does not exist in England as it does in the United States and that the whole outcry here is an absurd chimera. The news denies that immigration into England is increasing. It regrets that Lord Roseberry did not combat the ridiculous delusion and denounces furiously Lord Salisbury's "Criminal recklessness" in stating that Anarchist plots were hatched in Great Britain, a statement wholly without warrant. The News says it regards Lord Salisbury's speech as the most deplorable he ever delivered.

THE RULING MARKETS.

TORONTO, July 7, 1894.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—One load of red winter sold at 61c and white is quoted at 62c. Oats dull, 300 bushels selling at 38½ to 39½c. Peas are quoted at 65c and barley at 41 to 43c.

Buffalo.—Cattle—50 cars on sale. Strike news made good market, and values were run up 15 to 25c per cwt. on everything above fair butchers. Sheep and lambs—12 cars. Hogs—10 cars.

In Chicago wheat on light speculation showed a net loss of ⅛c for the day. Corn followed wheat, closing ⅛c to ¼c lower. Oats closed ⅛c to 1c. Receipts for to-day—Wheat, one car: corn, 35 cars; oats, 20 cars; hogs, none.

A failure of a banking firm in London, a break in American Sugar and the less promising outlook for an early settlement of the great strike in the west led to a weak opening to the New York stock market. The railway list developed considerable firmness. The strength displayed by the market, and the tenacity with which owners hold on to their stocks in view of the sensational rumors of serious trouble in Chicago was much commented on. Sugar is the only stock on the list in which the bears appear to be making any headway. Total sales were: Listed, 49,000; unlisted, 51,000; including Chicago Gas, 14,000.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance:

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says: "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose topay; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

The Otonabee Anthrax Outbreak.

On Thursday, Dr. Johnston, V. S., visited the farm of Mr. Thos. Crowley to treat the animals of his herd affected with anthrax. Dr. Johnston found in addition to the four fatal cases, three other animals affected. He prescribed the proper remedies and Mr. Crowley this morning reports a marked improvement and the animals will doubtless recover. Dr. Johnston, who found the disease to be symptomatic anthrax, the mildest type of the disease, isolated the infected animals thoroughly and put the whole herd under prophylactic treatment. He also sent a full report of the outbreak to Dr. Smith, V. S., Provincial Government Inspector, Toronto, who judged from the circumstances that it was unnecessary to personally visit the farm. He left the matter in Dr. Johnson's hands, with instructions to watch the course of the disease and report the circumstances as occasion arises. It is not thought that the disease will make any further progress.

THE 57th RANGERS UNDER INSPECTION FIRE

A FOUR-DAYS' INSPECTION BY DEPUTY-ADJUTANT-GENERAL COTTON.

A Thorough Overhauling of the Battalion Within and Without—The Rigid Inspection Creditably Passed—The Strength of the Battalion—How the Inspection was Conducted.

The gallant fifty-seventh battalion has been under the sharp fire of inspection the last three or four days, and everybody will be pleased to know that they have passed creditably through the most rigid ordeal of inspection they have ever been subjected to.

Lieut.-Col. Cotton, deputy adjutant general, has been in town four days and has made a most thorough inspection of the Rangers, as to physique, set up drill and deportment of the men and their general qualifications as citizen soldiery, though it would seem that a more exacting test could not have been made of a regular line regiment. The same minute and rentless scrutiny was extended to the interior economy of the regiment, the state of the books, stores, etc.

The first day of the inspecting officer's visit, the inspection of No. 1, 2 and 3 companies took place and the next day the remaining companies Nos. 3, 4, 5 and 6 were subjected to a similar test. In connection with the inspection of the companies the officers of the several companies were also examined as to their knowledge of drill and general fitting for the discharge of their duties.

On Friday the battalion inspection took place. The battalion paraded with the strength of 256 made up as follows:—

STAFF.

Lt.-Col. J. Z. Rogers, commanding, Major and Brevet Lt.-Col. Bell, M. D., Major E. B. Edwards, surgeon Halliday, M.D., Quartermaster Langford and Adjutant E. F. Mason.

OFFICERS AND MEN.

No. 1 Company—Capt. Dennistoun, Lieut. Tebb and 25 men.

No. 2 Company—Capt. Schofield, Lieut. Eastwood and 29 men.

No. 3 Company—Capt. Hill, Lieut. Stevenson and 27 men.

No. 4 Company—Capt. Lech, Lieut. Hayes and 28 men.

No. 5 Company—Capt. Miller, Lieut. Matthews and 35 men.

No. 6 Company—Capt. Brennan, Lieut. Mills and 30 men.

Band, 25 strong.

Bugle Band, 18 strong.

Ambulance and Pioneer corps, 18 strong, total 256.

BATTALION INSPECTION.

Yesterday afternoon the chief event of the week, from a military point of view, was the battalion inspection. Early in the afternoon the streets were bright with moving spots of scarlet tending towards the drill shed. A squad of buglers form the several street corners woke the echoes with the "assemble"; there were prancing steeds, restive under the unaccustomed caparison of war, and at about 3 o'clock the battalion marched down George street headed by the bugle and brass bands alternately playing, amid the admiring glances and occasional plaudits of the spectatots, who lined the walks, to Riverside Park, and went through various battalion movements at the command of the colonel commanding. Lt. Col. Bell then took the right half of the battalion, and Major Edwards the left half, and they put the men through the manual and firing exercises which were exceedingly well done.

Lt. Col. Rogers then resumed command of the battalion and put it through several other movements including a skirmishing exercise. This was uncommonly well done—in a manner creditable to both officers and men and to the evident pleasure of Lt. Col. Cotton, whose usually inscrutable visage relaxed with a smile of approval and he expressed himself to that effect. Nos. 1 and 2 companies who were thrown out as an advance firing line especially covered themselves with glory. Nos. 3 and 4 were advanced as a support, and Nos. 5 and 6 formed the reserve. The battalion then reformed but the rain coming on further movements were attempted. No. 5 and 6 companies who had stood as reserves in the skirmishing attack, were thrown out as an advance guard, and the battalion marched back to the drill shed. Here the roll was called by the Deputy Adjutant and the companies dismissed as this process was completed in in each case. After the non-commissioned officers had been paraded, inspected and dismissed, the Deputy Adjutant General took Adujant Mason in charge and began a most minute inspection of the regimental records. Nothing whatever was taken for granted. Every name was checked, the date of enrolment and all other particulars verified with a particularity of detail as though the fate of the empire depended upon it. The inspection was a very rigid one, and it is a pleasure to assume, from the bearing of the inspecting officer as contrasted with hisdemeanour at previous inspections, that the battalion has passed through the ordeal successfully.

The inspection of the books, etc., of the battalion was completed at noon to-day, but Lt.-Col. Cotton's report cannot be expected before about next January. Adjutant Mason was kept very busy, having to perform the exacting duties of Adjutant and paymaster as well.

During the presence of the inspecting officer in town, he received as many courtesies and attentions from the officers as it was possible for him to accept. His inspection was no holiday matter, as he has been kept busy during his stay in town, and if the rigidity of his inspection does not please General Herbert, then General Herbert is hard to please, and nobody thinks that of the affable and complaisant commander-in-chief.

ORANGE BANNERS AND OUTFITS.

Creditable Display of Local Enterprise by Messrs. Fairweather & Co.

Messrs. Fairweather & Co. have added a new specialty to their business, which has proved highly satisfactory from the outset, namely, manufacturing and supplying of Orange banners, regalia, collars, clothing, cuffs, silk hats, etc. They have been entrusted with a large number of orders for this year's parade from different sections of Ontario. The facilities which this firm now possesses for executing every description of outfits for Orange lodges and members have proved highly satisfactory. They have completed six handsome new banners for various lodges as follows:—

Maple Leaf L. O. L., No. 46, Fraserville—Scarlet satin on one side and royal blue on reverse. Lambrequins of orange silk velvet, gold bullion fringe and bullion tassels, illuminated with various designs, centrepieces, emblems and ornamental scrolls and lettering.

Queen's Own, L.O.L., No. 204, Emily—Royal red and blue satins, elegant designs and centrepieces of the Queen and King William, gold fringe and tassels. The elaborations are very effective and the style rich and expressive.

Beaver, L.T.B., No. 60, Bickhorn—Large beaver centrepiece on one side and triangle, links, Bible and other appropriate emblems on reverse. Heavy red and blue satin with orange lambrequins and gold fringe and tassels.

Victoria, L.T.B., No. 56, Bridgenorth—Portrait King William as large centrepiece on one side, and the Queen on reverse with other emblems of the order. Royal blue and royal scarlet satin fringed and tassels.

Rising Sun, L.T.B., No. 9, Peterborough—Very rich designs of King William, sword and open Bible, heart and hand and other devices, on beautiful silk grounds, fringed and tasseled.

Cache Bay, L.O.L., No. 1066—An attractive banner covered with well designed representations on fine silk in royal colours.

On all the above banners the work is effectively put together, the designs and trimmings in excellent taste, and the painting and lettering is done by a first-class artist. The whole reflect credit upon Messrs. Fairweather & Co., who have been able to compete successfully against the estimates of old houses in the business. They give an absolute guarantee that the painting and lettering will not crack or peel, which is one of the serious difficulties so hard to overcome by other banner makers. This firm has also turned out a large number of orders for officers' collars, cuffs, and other regalia for the 12th, which have given satisfaction in every case.

SATURDAY, July 7th.

At the police court this morning John O'Keefe and A. Turner, were each fined $2 and $2.70 costs for allowing cattle to run at large on the public thoroughfare. The police are determined to stamp out this practice.

A BOMB FOR "THE WITNESS."

The Wreck and Destruction in the Montreal Paper's Press Room.

On Friday, 29th June, there was a deliberate attempt to wreck the office of the Montreal Witness, and no doubt the presses of the concern were expected to be demolished by the means used.

However lacking in the knowledge undertaken by them, the perpetrators of the outrage took good care to leave behind them no evidence to their identity. The police are utterly at sea; indeed they have no theories, but will do their best to discover the rascals. The illustrations herewith given tell the story better than words, the hole in the press room floor being two feet long. Mr. Dougall, editor and proprietor of the Witness, says he has no suspicion of the guilty parties. The circumstances warrant provincial investigation as dynamite is a weapon too cowardly and too deadly to call for any leniency.

The Speed of Fishes.

As a general rule, it is said to be a very difficult matter to gauge the speed of fishes. The fast fishes are trim and pointed in shape, with their fins close to their bodies. The dolphin and bonito are thought to be the fastest; and, although their speed is not known, they are fully capable of twenty miles an hour.

THEY CAN'T ESCAPE

The liver when active is the watch-dog of the system—the destroyer of germs and impurities. The truth is: ninety-nine out of every hundred diseases begin with a sluggish liver. A slight cold or chill may amount to something serious. If you correct the liver you'll cure the cold. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets rouse the liver to vigorous action. After dinner, if you're bilious, take one of these tiny, sugar-coated Pellets. Take them when you have wind or pain in stomach, giddiness, fullness, loss of appetite, or when you suffer from costiveness, indigestion, sick or bilious headaches.

The makers take the risk of their benefiting you. If they're not satisfactory, your money is refunded.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED.

THE EXPERIENCE OF MR. FRANK A. FERGUSON, OF MERRICKVILLE.

Attacked by Malarial Fever, Followed by Decline—Two Physicians Failed to Help Him—The Means of Cure Discovered by Taking the Advice of a Friend.

From the Smith Falls Record.

Mr. Frank A. Ferguson, partner of Mr. Richard Smith in the marble business at Merrickville, is well known to most residents of that vicinity. He went through an illness that nearly brought him to death's door, and in an interesting chat with a reporter of the Record told of the means by which his remarkable recovery was brought about. "While engaged in my business as marble cutter at Kingston," said Mr. Ferguson, "I was taken ill in May, 1893, with malarial fever. After the fever was broken I continued to have a bad cough, followed by coughing and excruciating pains in stomach. I was under the treatment of two different physicians, but their medicine did me no good, and I continued to grow weaker and weaker, and it seemed as if I had gone into a decline. About the middle of September I was strongly urged by a friend to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I had not much hope that they would help me, but from the time I commenced the Pink Pills I found myself beginning to improve, the vomiting ceased and finally left me altogether. I grew stronger each day, until now I weigh 180 pounds. At the time I was taken ill I weighed 197 pounds, and when I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills illness had reduced me to 123 pounds, so that you will see how much the Pink Pills have done for me. I never felt better in my life than I do now, although I occasionally take a pill now, and am never without a part of a box in my pocket. I believe that had I not been induced to take Pink Pills I would be in my grave to-day, and I am fully convinced that there is no other medicine can equal them as a blood builder, and restorer of shattered systems. Five boxes cured me when the skill of two of the ablest doctors in Ontario failed, and when I look back to the middle of last September and remember that I was not able to stand on my feet, I consider the change brought about by Pink Pills simply miraculous."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system, and restoring the patient to health and strength. Sold by all dealers, or sent by mail post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Bradstreet's Report of Trade.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Trade continues quiet throughout the Dominion of Canada, particularly at Toronto, where the railway strike on this side of the line is having an effect. Canadian receipts of Southern fruits and vegetables have practically ceased. At Montreal business is very dull and jobbers find orders scarce. At Halifax the usual mid-summer dullness prevails, but crop prospects are good and a fair business is looked for in the fall. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax amount to $16,120,000 this week, a moderate gain compared with the week before, but a falling off of about 25 per cent. compared with the like week last year. There are 39 failures reported from the Dominion this week; last week the total was 28; in the like week of June, 1893, it was 26, and the year before it was 20.

The Henley Regatta.

LONDON, July 7.—The final races of the Henley regatta were rowed yesterday. The final heat for the Grand Challenge Plate was won by the eight of the Leander Club, beating the Thames Rowing Club's boat by half a length. The final heat in the pair-oared race for the silver goblets was won by the brothers Guy and Vivian Nickalls, who beat J. Crispi and G. Smith, of the Kingston Rowing Club, easily. The final heat for the Thames Challenge Cup was won by the Trinity College, Oxford, eight, which beat the London Rowing Club by three-quarters of a length. The final heat for the Wyfold Challenge Cup (four-oared) was won by the Thames Rowing Club, beating Balliol College, Oxford.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE

Preferential Trade Between the Colonies of the Empire and the Mother Country Discussed—Hon. Mr. Sutton's Present to the Governor-General.

OTTAWA, July 7.—The Colonial Conference was brought up incidentally in the House of Commons yesterday. Mr. McNeill, Conservative, asked the Government as follows: "Will the Government instruct the Canadian commissioners to the Colonial Conference to endeavor to secure the co-operation of the Australian and South African commissioners in furtherance of that policy of preferential trade between the self-governing colonies of the empire and the Mother Country, which was endorsed by this House in the following resolution: 'That when the Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland admits Canadian products to the markets of the United Kingdom upon more favorable terms than it accords to the products of foreign countries, the Parliament of Canada will be prepared to accord corresponding advantages by substantial reductions in the duty imposed upon British manufactured goods?'"

Sir John Thompson, in reply, stated that there was no doubt but the delegates were discussing this subject.

In the evening a letter was read by Hon. J. C. Patterson which he had written to General Herbert, asking the latter to re-instate Col. Powell, Adjutant General, who, he thought, was suspended for altogether too trivial a cause. The announcement was received with cheers on both sides of the House.

The Conference.

The Conference met yesterday with closed doors as usual and devoted the whole sitting to a further discussion of the trade question very much on the lines as presented in the above resolution.

When the hour of adjournment came Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, president, stated that there was nothing to be given to the press. There was no definite idea arrived at. It is understood that the resolution before the conference was moved by Mr. Foster. There are so many conflicting interests in the various colonies that it is difficult to arrive at a satisfactory trade basis which would have the effect of benefiting all. There will be three more sittings of the conference at least.

Last night the delegates enjoyed a trip with Lord Aberdeen down the Ottawa Rive.

The Turcotte Charges.

The Committee on Privileges and Elections met again yesterday, contrary to intention, as it had been adjourned until next Tuesday. A long report bearing on the case was received from Mr. Edgar, which was taken as a notice of amendment to Colonel Amyot's motion. The committee then adjourned until Tuesday.

The Curran Bridge Affair.

Kennedy, who, according to an interview with the Montreal Herald, was to have thrown a bombshell into the Public Accounts Committee in connection with the Curran bridge investigation, when called as a witness repudiated the Herald's interview so far as it implicated a Minister of the Crown, and the looked for sensation did not mature.

A Present for Lord Aberdeen.

A photograph, 6 feet long by 2 feet wide, of Sydney, N. S. W., has been sent to His Excellency the Governor-General by Hon. Mr. Suttor, the South Australia delegate. The picture is one which gives a very clear idea of the city of Sydney from the north shore and takes in a splendid view of the bays and the various islands which go to make Sydney harbor the grandest in the world. The view is enclosed in a handsome oak frame with heavy plate glass and was admirably mounted.

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of his Illness and Subsequent Cure While in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2.—A friend of William Langley, formerly of this city, now of London, Ont., received a letter a few months ago, stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's diserse. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old

THE CENTRAL FIGURE

IN THE GREAT PULLMAN RAILWAY STRIKE AND BOYCOTT.

Mr. Eugene V. Debs, at Whose Word of Command Tens of Thousands of Men Instantly Stopped Work—A Man With More Power Than a King.

Thursday, 28th June, 1894, nobody outside of the American Railway Union ever heard of Mr. Eugene V. Debs. Saturday following Mr. Debs was exercising an authority that is not given to the Czar of Russia, and that has never been delegated to any man who lives under a liberal and constitutional government. He had waved his hand in Chicago, and twenty railroads came to a standstill; a tract of country almost as big as Europe stood momentarily paralyzed at his beck.

PRESIDENT EUGENE V. DEBS, A. R. U.
The Most Powerful Man in America.

The great city of Chicago, with over a million of people, was commercially helpless against his fiat. Two hundred thousand people living in the suburbs of that city were cut off from their homes; travel was virtually suspended, trade languished; manufactures ceased; traffic with the West was stopped; distress and discomfort penetrated into all the shops and homes; anxiety walked the streets with forebodings.

Freight was piled up on the wharves and in the depots. A great deal of it was perishable, and every hour of its detention meant thousands of dollars of loss to somebody. The great stock yards were struck with a blight. Incalculable suffering of dumb brutes extended over acres.

Now, who is Mr. Debs? That is the question asked by hundreds of thousands of people. It will be conceded without explanation that he is the most extraordinary man that the world has seen since the Grand Llama, who went out every morning and gave the sun permission to rise. Anybody who undertakes Mr. Debs's job cannot help being extraordinary or even unparagoned. But nobody before Mr. Debs ever did undertake exactly the same kind of a job.

The American Railway Union, which was organized a year ago in Chicago, has for its purpose the federation of all railroad employes under one head. It estimates the number of these employes in the United States at 800,000, and it claimed to have 200,000 of them in its ranks. Mr. Debs is the President of this Union.

He cannot call out the men in Canada, except through their Grand officers, as they have not yet affiliated with the A. R. U.

The immediate trouble leading to this greatest of all strikes began last year in the proprietory city of Pullman. The Pullman company cut down its workmen's wages thirty and afterwards fifty per cent. And on May 7, of the present year, the workmen, after much consultation, made a formal demand for a restoration of their wages. In the conference that followed. Mr. Pullman made a full and frank statement of the condition of the business, and said very plainly that those conditions would not allow of the restoration of the old rates. It was claimed that the reduction in orders and the competition in trade were such that the company were running its works at a loss.

The next day the men struck.

Since then the distress and misery suffered by the Pullman discharged employees had so intensified that it became evident that the only way in which the strike could succeed from the men's standpoint was to bring pressure of some kind to bear upon the company. This pressure was brought through the instrumentality of the American Railway Union.

Before the union held its convention in Chicago, a strong effort was made to induce the Pullman Company to submit the question to arbitration. The men were anxious that this should be done. The company was approached by a number of different sources, but it steadily and consistently refused arbitration of any kind. Its position was that it had really nothing to arbitrate. Its men, it said, had left its employ. They left its employ after the company had done everything that it could do, consistent with its duties to its stockholders, to better the conditions of its employes.

In this condition of affairs, the American Railway Union stepped it, and it is due to the action of the union that the bulk of railroads entering Chicago are virtually tied up. The union sent a committee to the Pullman Company to notify it that unless it could come to terms of some kind which should be satisfactory to its employees, the American Railway Union would institute against it a boycott. The Pullman Company refused to treat with this committee, and on the Thursday mentioned the boycott began.

It took a curious shape in view of the fact that the only questions at issue were questions as between the Pullman Company and its employes. The railway union went clear outside of both parties cited and approached the railroads. It said to them, in substance, through a notification sent to the general managers:

"Unless you stop hauling Pullman cars, the American Railway Union will tie up your road."

This action introduced an entirely new element into the controversy. The railroads approached were, most of them, under contract with the Pullman Company, by virtue of which it was obligatory upon them to haul Pullman cars. The action of the union sought to establish a principle that was thoroughly revolutionary. The demand of the union, if it were acceded to, meant that the railroads were no longer in position to handle their business as they saw fit. It was this aspect of the question that mostly concerned the railroads themselves.

It will thus be seen that Mr. Debs accepted a big contract and proposed to fight the General Managers' Association and the railroads they represent. These roads are as follows:

Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; Illinois Central, Santa Fe, Chicago and Alton, Chicago and Grand Trunk, Chicago and Erie, Chicago and Eastern Illinois, Chicago and Northwestern, Western Indiana, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul; Chicago and Great Western, Louisville, New Albany and Chicago; Chicago and Northern Pacific, Lake Shore and Michigan Central, Chicago and St. Louis, Pan Handle, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, Menon and Wabash.

The personality of the man who has done this becomes interesting. The director of this boycott, Mr. Eugene V. Debs, who has thus suddenly come into view, is a young man. He was born in Terre Haute, Ind., in 1855, on Guy Fawkes's day. His father was a family grocer there. The son tended store in the daytime and got his education at night. His first work was in the paint shops of the Vandalia Railroad, from which position he rose to be a fireman on a locomotive running between Terre Haute and Vandalia.

It was not, however, until he joined a lodge of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen that he developed his ambition. He was sent as a delegate to the conventions and ultimately became editor of the Locomotive Firemen's Magazine.

In 1884 he was sent to the State Legislature by the Democrats. In 1879 he was elected City Clerk of Terre Haute. In 1893 he set to work to organize the American Railway Union.

Personally Mr. Debs is an earnest, quiet, determined man, with a good deal of undemonstrative egotism. No one in Terre Haute ever suspected him of being either a philosopher or a general. His views are not very broad, and his education as limited, but he is resolute and fearless.

QUEER PRINT OF NAPOLEON.

The present Napoleonic fad has revived interest in a queer old German print of the great general. The print is descriptive of the triumph of 1813. The face is composed of human figures, the hat of the German imperial eagle, the uniform is a map of battles, and the epaulet tells the story of the pillaging of the five Hanse towns.

QUEBEC'S CRUMBLING WALLS.

The Costly Fortifications of the Old City Are Falling Down.

Alarmist reports have for some time been current at Quebec that the fortifications of Quebec's Citadel were being allowed to fall into decay, and that as a matter of fact some of the secret underground passages connecting the fortress with the city and with the Martello towers on the old Plains of Abraham, had fallen in and become filled up and absolutely useless.

Before the withdrawal of British troops from Canada some twenty years ago companies of the Royal Engineers were engaged in keeping the Citadel in perfect repair. That the recent alarm created by the neglect into which the fortress has fallen is not exaggerated is shown by the annual report of the Department of Militia and Defence, recently submitted to Parliament, in which Col. Panet, the Deputy Minister, called official attention to the present dilapidated and even dangerous state of some of the city walls and fortifications.

He recommends an increase in the present strength of the Battery at the Citadel, to include a small body of artificers, or a small engineer company, under the control of a competent officer, by which means a systematic and intelligent management of necessary repairs would be always available. Unless this is done Quebec's elaborate system of fortifications, that has for so many years past proved one of the principal attractions for tourists, will speedily crumble into a mass of ruins.

The money spent upon these works in the past is simply incredible. Wooden fortifications were erected here by the French colonists, and so heavy was the expenditure, together with what was boodled by Bigot, the Intendant and his associates, that Louis XIV is reported to have asked whether the fortifications of Quebec were built of gold.

The present walls, which replace those first erected by the Royal Engineers, date back to 1823, and were carried out according to plans submitted to and approved by the Duke of Wellington at a cost of some $25,000,000.

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Lock Works excursion under the management of the popular chairman of the committee, Mr. W. C. Mudge, was fairly well attended, some three hundred passengers in all, principally young ladies, who were all highly pleased as to the managers and attendants in general in and about the resort.

John Jay, of the Morgan House, is recruiting at the Jubilee Point Hotel for a definite period, and is highly pleased as well as benefitted. Jack says the long bills—misquitos in general are out of sight, like the boy with the kite, but, however, he enjoys the fine weather.

Mr. Jack Ricketts is a guest at the Jubilee Point Hotel. He is immense in general playing quoits—but gets left.

Mr. E. J. Hartley is on a fishing expedition at Jubilee Point and Rice Lake, and is making quite a catch, Bass in particular. Catch in all 140 lbs. in a single hour.

Quite an exciting time prevailed at the Point yesterday, while the 1½ mile skiff race took place between Harry Lane, Mayor of Harwood, and Prof. Jake Ricketts, of Peterborough, for a purse of $50 a side, which was won by the "Professor," by several boat lengths. Some one hundred and forty or fifty dollars changed hands on the event. Jake was the favourite in the betting to the tune of five to three.

Mr. Jackson, manager of the popular summer resort, "Jubilee" Point Hotel, reports fishing A. 1., Bass especially, having received 42 lbs. bass from one man in a single afternoon's catch. Beat that?

Mr. R. T. Hartley's candy stand was well visited yesterday and he did a thriving business.

Mr. Sid Beckett, the popular and genial wine clerk, in connection with the Jubilee Point summer resort hotel, has his eye open and is prepared at all times to suit the public in general.

Mr. Jackson is looking hale and hearty.

Mr. James Wedlock in pulling out of the landing stage at Jubilee Point while paddling his own canoe came in contact with the screw of the steamer Daisy. Consequently he and his partner Mr. Richard Thirnbeck came to grief, however no lives were lost.

A very exciting quoit match which attracted much interest between two of the southerners, took place at the Point yesterday for a silver cup presented by Mr. Sidney Beckett. After a well contested game the match was won by Jack Jay—the last quoit thrown was a decider; it was a ringer. The cup is a valuable one and has to be won three times in succession during the season of '94.

NEWMARKET.

July 3.—The first cheese board in this district was held here this afternoon with the following factories represented: Newmarket, Dutton, Mount Albert and Kittleby. Quite a number of large buyers were present. Mr. J. Wheaton, secretary of the Western Ontario Association, was present and took a lively interest in the inception of the new cheese board. Over 600 boxes of June make were sold, the price being 9 cents.

INGERSOLL.

July 4.—There were many complaints to-day of the horn fly. From this cause the flow of milk is becoming perceptibly less. The action of the hot weather on pasture lands is also accused of having a hand in the decrease. Salesmen were inclined to hold back to-day. Every box of the 2,030 boarded could have been sold at 9 1-16c. As it was only 420 boxes were closed at that figure.

THE RANGERS AT ORILLIA.

Echoes of the Outing on Dominion Day—The Boys Complimented on Their Soldierly Bearing and Gentlemanly Behaviour.

The following from the Orillia News-Letter refers to the visit of the 57th Battalion to Orillia on Dominion Day. The News-Letter says:—

"The Peterborough Rangers have come and gone and the citizens are still recounting the pleasant recollections of the two days' visit of the warm hearted soldier lads from Peterborough. A more orderly body of men it would be hard to find, drunkenness being of rare occurrence. The visitors were young men of splendid physique, finely equipped, well officered and a credit to the town from which they came. The special train containing the red coats arrived at 1 a. m. Sunday morning. After church parade the day was spent very quietly in different ways, according to the age, disposition and circumstances of the parties concerned. In the afternoon a sacred concert by the 57th band drew hundreds of our townsfolk to the park. On Monday the battalion, headed by both their bands, marched through the principal streets which were crowded with spectators. As no suitable grounds were available, no battalion movements were gone through. After dismissal, the rest of the day was devoted to pleasure, and the day will long be remembered as one of the most pleasurable in the history of the corps. The battalion fell in for the return trip about 10:30, and it was shortly after 11 o'clock when the train bearing the military visitors moved off amid deafening cheers from the hundreds assembled to bid them good-bye.

DRUM BEATS.

The Peterborough press was ably represented by Capt. G. A. Schofield, of the Review; Editor Jack Harper, of the Morning Times, who has a reputation of being long-winded, and consequently played in the band; and Sam Jameson represented the EXAMINER.

Col. Rogers comes of a family famous for their prowess on flood and field. He is a brother of Mr. R. B. Rogers, superintendent of the Trent Valley Canal, and of Mr. Edwin Rogers, of Calgary, who married one of Orillia's most charming young ladies last winter in the person of Miss Pellatt, daughter of Mr. H. M. Pellatt, of "Southwood Hall." Col. Rogers is the head of the Peterborough Canoe Company, and was an interested spectator of the canoe races in the morning, most of the canoes on the lake being the product of his factory.

The Roman Catholic church party were commanded by Capt. Brennan, Lieut. L. M. Hayes, and Sergt. R. J. Hiller. The choir rendered Concone's Mass, and were assisted by Sergt. Hiller, who is leader of the choir of St. Peter's Cathedral, and Pte. Thos. Mahoney. Mr. Hiller's rendering of the "O Salutaris" as a tenor solo was greatly appreciated.

N. 6 Company, "Brennan's Braves," is getting so large as to be rather unwieldy. The streets will soon have to be widened to allow them to march past in column.

Big Tom Connal, seargeant of the ambulance corps, is the darling of the sergeant's mess. His ride down Mississaga street on a hastily improvised chariot drawn by his own men was thrilling in the extreme.

It is to be regretted that the streets were not sprinkled Sunday morning from the camp grounds to St. James' church, the same courtesy as extended to the battalion in other cities they have visited. The boys were almost suffocated with th the clouds of dust with which they were enveloped.

Capt. Wes. Miller, commander of No. 5, "Beef Eaters," is a veteran of the American Civil War, having served in a cavalry regiment throughout the entire campaign. He is one of the most efficient officers in the regiment.

The officers have nothing to complain of as regards the hospitality of the fair sex. Benedict and bachelor shared alike. Schofield and Max owe a heavy debt of gratitude to Harry Allen for his efforts on their behalf.

Adjutant Mason was one of the most striking figures during Monday's parade, his Napoleonic face causing sad havoc to numberless feminine hearts. He is one of the best shots in the battalion, a bachelor of means, and one of the best matrimonial fish in the market.

Capt. Fred H. Brennan, of "F" Co., the senior captain of the battalion, is a leading physician of Peterborough. He's a bachelor but a devoted lover—of sport, holding the office of first vice-president of the Canadian Baseball Association. He is a nephew of Mr. John Breckon, Orillia.

The Cook's parade on Monday evening was the event of the day.

The service at church parade was particularly bright and devotional in character, the sermon by the rector appreciated, and singing by the assembled warriors was very hearty, many members of the best choirs in Peterborough being in the ranks. The singing of the choir, however, was rather disappointing to many, the experiment of importing outside talent at short notice proving a dismal failure.

The playing of the 57th Battalion band was much admired, and Bandmaster Finch Miller, who has taught the band for the past twenty-seven years, seems to be the right man in the right place. The solos of Bandsmen McCabe and Crowe are worthy of special mention. Mr. Crowe will remove to Orillia shortly."

DEATH RATE REDUCED.

Gratifying Report of the Dominion Health Bureau—Forty per Cent. Fewer Deaths in Canada Last Year Than Ever Before.

OTTAWA, June 25.—The last report of the Health Bureau here contains the highly gratifying intelligence that the death rate in Canada during the last year was lower than in any previous year since Confederation, being within a fraction of forty per cent. lower than the best year ever before reported. Closer examination reveals that the greatest decrease was in deaths from Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, heart disease, rheumatism and other diseases caused by disordered or diseased kidneys. Further investigation shows that where the cases of such diseases have decreased, the people have within the year made free use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Consequently it is safe to say that the falling off in Canada's death rate is due to nothing but Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Trial of Farmer Patten.

BRANTFORD, July 7.—The case of Thos. Patten, for seduction was brought up at the police court yesterday. The plaintiff, Annie Newman, was present, accompanied by Miss A. G. McIntyre, matron of the Toronto night shelter for women. The plaintiff came from England when 10 years old to the Barnado Home at Peterborough. She went to Mr. Patten's seven years ago where she remained until last March. She gave evidence as to intimacy, etc., with Patten. The case was conducted with closed doors. It was adjourned for a week, Patten giving bail for $2,000.

The Moose Head Disaster.

HALIFAX, July 7.—The trestle which broke down on the Canadian Pacific at Moose Head has been repaired. The trains are now crossing as before. Superintendent Zimmerman is back from the scene and declares it at not the slightest doubt exists that the accident was caused by sleepers being placed on the track. He says a thorough inquiry will be made and every effort will be employed to find and convict the culprits. He declares the trestle was sound and safe and ought to have been good for fifteen years yet, as it is only five years old.

The Grand Trunk's Pullmans.

MONTREAL, July 7.—Mr. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk, says the Grand Trunk makes its own sleeping cars. A prominent railway man in a position to know says that is true. They manufacture Pullman cars in the shops, but the Pullman Company purchases all these cars from them when made.

RIOT AND BLOODSHED

Federal Troops Deal Death Among the Ranks of the Mob.

TWO MEN KILLED IN CHICAGO

The Soldiers Send a Volley of Bullets Into the Crowd, Wounding Many—A Charge at the Point of the Bayonet—Innocent Blood Sacrificed.

CHICAGO, July 9.—In an affray on Saturday afternoon between a frenzied mob and a number of militia men and police officers in the thickly populated district at 49th and Loomis streets, on the Grand Trunk road, twenty-five individuals were wounded, several of them fatally. Among those injured were: John Burke, alias Indian Burke, shot through body and bayonetted; Thomas Jackson, shot in back, condition serious; an unknown man shot through the liver; Tony Gagewinski, shot in the arm; F. Failer, stabbed in the breast with a bayonet; John Kerr, shot in the right leg; Henry Williams, shot in the arm; J. Kleigenberger, shot in the back; Joseph Srzeizstanski, shot in the body and a bayonet wound; Anton Kozminik, shot in the abdomen and thigh; John Schaltze, boyonetted in the breast; a woman, name unknown, left ankle splintered by a bullet; a boy, name unknown, shot through the left thigh; Second Lieut. Reed, of Co. C., 2nd Regiment, N.N.G., cut in the head with a stone; Mrs. Mary Singer, 20 years old, 4748 Throop street; John Robinson, aged 17; George Brockman, John Schultz. Mrs. Singer was seated in a saloon with a four months' old baby on her lap when a bullet crashed through the door and buried itself in her leg.

At the Point of the Bayonet.

A few minutes after 4 a wrecking train which had been clearing the debris at 49th and Loomis streets was surrounded by a mob of 6,000 men, women and children, almost a score of police officers from the 19th precinct were in the neighborhood while the wrecking trains were specially guarded by companies of the Second regiment. For a while the mob contented itself with hurling imprecations at the soldiers to which the latter, having received orders to act with strict forbearance, paid no attention. Finally becoming emboldened by the pacific attitude of the troops some of the mob commenced to throw stones, coupling pins and other missiles as well as to fire revolvers over the heads of the soldiers. It became apparent that heroic measures would be necessary and finally when another fusilade of stones had been directed toward the company the order to fire was given and a volley of government bullets went into the mob. At the same moment the word was given to advance and the men dashed forward with their bayonets at charge. Alongside of them dashed the police discharging their revolvers over the heads of the mob. Not a rioter held his ground. Like a lot of sheep they scattered to the right and left, many of them taking refuge in the frame residences east of 49th and Loomis streets and dragging the wounded after them.

Three Rioters Jailed.

Three of the most demonstrative took refuge in a saloon. The soldiers followed and arrested them at the point of the bayonet. They gave their names as Andrew McCarthy, Otto Grobe and Joseph Smith. Grobe was inclined to resist arrest and was jabbed with a bayonet until he threw up his hands. In his pockets were found a bull-dog revolver, while McCarthy had his pockets stuffed with cartridges. Between two ranks of militiamen the prisoners were marched down the tracks to Loomis street and turned over to the police detail, the soldiers standing guard until the arrival of the patrol. They were lodged in jail charged with rioting and carrying concealed weapons.

Two Dead, Four Will Die.

John Burke and Thomas Jackson died yesterday. John Klothenberger, another of the wounded, is in a precarious condition, and it is thought he will not survive. An unknown man was found at daylight in the rear of a barn, near the scene of the rioting, with a bullet hole through the breast. His body has been taken to the morgue. Of the twenty-five injured it is probable four others will die. Joseph Warzowsky, of 961 19th street, a Polish laborer, was shot and killed in the Panhandle yards at 22nd street about midnight.

A Spectator Fatally Shot.

Police officers guarding the North Western freight yards at 16th street and Ashland avenue adjoining the Burlington tracks engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with rioters late in the evening. A few minutes before this the crowd set fire to the freight cars standing in the yard. The police officers attempted to drive them away by shooting over their heads. A young lady, Miss Martha Bach, was shot and instantly killed by a bullet from the revolver of a policeman. This fact becoming known to the mob seemed to frenzy it and the crowd made a dash for the little band of policemen. In the melee an officer was seriously hurt by flying rocks. A little boy, whose name could not be learned, was shot during the encounter. Reinforcements were quickly sent to the scene and the police cleared the streets.

Another Fatal Conflict.

Company B of the 15th Infantry succeeded in getting a Panhandle train into the city, the train having left Logansport on Saturday morning. It was the only one run either way on the road on Saturday. At 22nd street a mob of 2,000 persons was met. Lieut. Lloyd, with 12 men and the deputy marshals, got off the train. The crowd acted ugly and the marshals fired, killing one man and wounding several others. Lieut. Lloyd was hit on the head with a stone, but did not order his men to fire on the mob on account of the women and children in the crowd. The soldiers used the butts of their rifles with good effect and the mob finally scattered. After passing 26th street no obstructions were met with and the train proceeded to the Curtis street round house.

The Firemen Overworked.

Fire bugs were busy in the stock yards district all last night and firemen were worn out answering alarms at the rate of six or eight an hour. A general alarm for fire in the barns adjoining Nelson, Morris and Co.'s packing house gave the firemen a hard job. Fortunately the lack of wind aided them in saving the big packing department of the firm.

No Blame Attached to Strikers.

President Debs in an interview with a United Press representative last evening said in speaking of the riots and the shooting by the troops: "You can say that I greatly deplore the rioting and disturbances and regret the shooting down of men who, I have been informed, have been no part of the mob that caused the trouble. I certainly do deplore this most unfortunate occurrence. Yet it cannot be said to injure our cause. I cannot say that the strikers are to blame in this matter. In fact I am confident that they were in no wise instigators of the trouble. No, I do not think that I or my associates are responsible. Corporate power and the unwise action of the Government is solely responsible and this will certainly be borne out by the facts in regard to the reports that I am to be arrested. If I have in any way violated a municipal, State or Federal law, I am willing to take the consequences and take my medicine. I am sure I have done nothing in violation of the law. No, I will not go to jail if arrested upon a bailable charge. I can tell this: I can furnish $2,000,000 bail in two minutes if necessary. I have engaged a lawyer on the strength of the reports of impending arrest and will fight the matter to the end."

A Labor Appeal to Cleveland.

Every morning and evening paper in Chicago printed in the English language, together with all the job printing houses of the city, was reported at the meeting of District 16 of the International Typographical Union, held yesterday. It was the largest meeting of the union printers of Chicago in the history of the organization. The most important action taken by the meeting was the following address to President Cleveland and which was wired to Washington at 7 o'clock last night. In the address the Union calls upon President Cleveland and the Cabinet to "cease in upholding by federal arms the corporations, drunken to intolerance, as they are, with the wine of special privileges; that you prove yourself worthy to take rank in the hearts of the people with the great emancipator, Abraham Lincoln, and be the second chief executive of this republic to throw about the weak and oppressed the strong arm of that government which should be their guide and strength. We appeal to you to not let this government, created by the people and for the people, perish from the earth and on its ashes seek to establish a government by corporations and for corporations."

Calm After the Storm.

Everything was quiet yesterday in and about the Polish-Bohemian settlements on the line of the Grand Trunk between Loomis street and Ashland avenue and Fortieth street, where the scrimmage between the mob and militia and police occurred on Saturday evening. The anarchistic elements, with which the region is mainly populated, were thoroughly cowed by the determination manifested by the national guardsmen. It was the quietest day that the neighborhood has experienced in many years. Many of the saloon keepers closed their doorss while those that persisted in violating the city ordinances kept a sentry outside the door or around the corner in order to be forewarned in case of the approach of the military or police.

A HORROR AT HAMMOND.

One Man Killed Outright and Several Severely Wounded by the Regulars.

CHICAGO, July 9.—The seat of war in the railroad strike was transferred yesterday to Hammond, Ind., just across the border line, where from an early hour mob violence reigned supreme. Two companies of regulars were dispatched to the scene. Late in the afternoon there was a pitched battle between the regulars and the mob. This is the list of casualties: Charles Fleischer, carpenter, married, aged 35, a resident of Hammond, was killed, a bullet entering his abdomen and passing through the body; W. H. Campbell, shot in right thigh, probably fatal; Victor Seitor, shot in the knee, amputation of the leg is necessary, condition critical: Miss Anna Flemming, of East Chicago, bullet wound above right knee, not serious; an unknown man shot in right leg, amputation probably necessary.

The trouble commenced when a mob which had been in the neighborhood since the evening before overturned fifteen cars on the Chicago and Calumet terminal road, between Hammond and East Chicago. The rabble then set fire to a Pullman car that had been run on a side track. A call was sent in and the fire department responded, but not before four Pullmans had been badly scorched.

When the northbound train on the Monon road reached the depot it was surrounded by a crowd of strikers, boys and women, and the engineer and fireman were ordered to get down from the cab. Many of the mob were armed and the two employes obeyed. One of the strikers then took possession of the engine and the train was side-tracked. A telegram was sent to Chicago asking for military assistance.

In the meantime Major Reilley ordered Capt. Harts to clear the tracks to the sidewalks with fixed bayonets. As the regulars advanced the mob retreated, and for the time being was held at bay. Temporary quiet was secured while Sheriff Fredericks read a telegram which had just been received from Governor Matthews, conveying advices that a large force of state troops would reach Hammond by night with instructions to co-operate with the federal troops. The mob listened to the reading of the despatch in silence, but when the sheriff had concluded it sent up a yell of defiance.

A Volley from the Regulars.

At 4 p.m. the train that brought the second detachment of regulars was run into the Monon yards. Just then several freight cars were dumped on the track a block and a half to the north. The mob then assembled at the State street crossing when a rope was thrown around a Pullman car standing on a side track, with the evident intention of throwing it over on the main track and preventing the farther passage of a mail train that had just arrived. There were regulars on the engine, regulars on the roof and regulars at the car windows, all of them waiting for just such a condition as was now imminent. A volley was poured from the engine, roof and windows. Some of the bullets took effect, and the regulars made for solid earth, and, with fixed bayonets, made a dash for the mob on both sides of the tracks. This manoeuvre was hardly necessary, as obscured by the smoke the mob had taken to its heels.

How the Innocent Suffered.

Fleischer, who was not near the Pullman cars, and who, his acquaintances say took no part in any lawless act, was shot dead on the tracks over which his life blood poured in a stream. Campbell and Seiter also fell when shot and were unable to move. Miss Fleming, who was not even a spectator of the melee, being simply in the act of crossing the tracks after a visit to a neighbor's house, fainted when shot.

The shedding of blood was in obedience to orders issued by General Miles to shoot any persons caught in the act of blocking the highway of inter-state commerce, or destroying railroad property used in the carriage of United States mails.

The man Fleischer was an innocent victim. He had gone to the tracks simply to find and take home his son whom he had been told was looking on in the outskirts of the mob. He had mounted to the box car in order to get a better view and spy his child when he was struck by a bullet. Friends carried the body to his house. His wife was standing on the threshold awaiting his return with the child and fell fainting when she saw the men approaching with the body of her husband.

The firing of the regulars created intense rage and excitement. Hundreds of the mob rushed to their homes and returned to the scene with revolvers and shot-guns, declaring their intention of killing every man wearing an army uniform.

Damage Done by the Strike.

At noon yesterday the Pullman boycott entered upon its thirteenth day. During this period a mob aggregating 25,000 persons has destroyed property valued at $1,500,000, while a loss of tens of thousands more has resulted from the tearing up of the tracks and other acts of violence. Five persons have been killed and 35 injured, not counting the victims at Hammond. At midnight a meeting of delegates from all the trade organizations of the city, called for the purpose of deciding whether or not a general sympathetic strike should be declared, was still in session. Of the meeting President Debs said: "The meeting will in all probability last till daylight. I am certain that every union represented, numbering over 100,000 laborers, will vote to strike to-day."

The President's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The President has issued a proclamation, in which he says: "I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby admonish all good citizens and persons who may be or may come within the city of Chicago and state of Illinois against aiding, countenancing, encouraging or taking any part in such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages, and I hereby warn all persons engaged in or in any way connected with such unlawful obstructions, combinations and assemblages to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock noon on the ninth day of July inst. Those who disregard this warning and persist in taking part with a riotous mob cannot be regarded otherwise than as public enemies."

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING.

The American Flint Glass Workers' Association Meets in Montreal.

MONTREAL, July 9.—The opening session of one of the most important labor conventions ever held in this city will take place to-day. It is the seventeenth annual convention of the American Flint Glass Workers' Association, and, upon the decision of the delegates depends the attitude of some thousands of glass-workers towards the great strike now in progress in the United States, their action is awaited with interest. A large number of delegates have arrived. If the delegates decide that a sympathetic strike shall take place in order to help the American Railway Union, it means that several thousand men will lay down their tools and walk out of their shops. It is evident that the eastern delegates are averse to any idea of joining in a sympathetic strike. They argue that the Pullman boycott is no affair of theirs, but that they cannot tell how the western men may vote. This is a crucial point that only a meeting of the whole of the delegates in session can decide and that is what interests the present gathering with such especial importance.

TERRIFIC GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

A Saloon Porter Blown Out of Existence—Five Severely Burned.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 9.—A terrific explosion, supposed to have been caused by by gasoline, occurred at midnight in the basement of Haley and Hoey's saloon, 219 Hennepin avenue, severely burning five men and it is thought killing George Perkins. Perkins, the porter, had been sent to the basement a few minutes before the explosion to draw some whiskey and carried a lighted lamp in his hands. No trace of him can be found and it is thought he was blown to pieces. The saloon is a complete wreck.

Terrible Accident at a Railway Crossing.

OLANTHE, Kas., July 9.—Three young women named Lizzie and Lena Breyfogle, daughters of ex-Senator Breyfogle, and a Miss Carroll, met with sad deaths on Saturday evening. They were in a buggy and were crossing the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis Railroad track, near their home, when their buggy was struck by a fast passenger train, killing them instantly.

A Destitute Globe Trotter.

Werner has sixteen days to spare in which to reach the starting point. The globe-trotter is penniless and almost clotheless. He is to make a circuit of the globe inside of six months without spending a cent.

THE MONTREAL BRIDGES.

The evidence of Michael Doheny in the Montreal bridges investigation is interesting, not to say sensational. He was employed as stone measurer on the Grand Trunk and Wellington street bridges and on lock No. 1. Among other duties he kept a check of the stonecutterers employed on the various works from March 20 to May 17. This record was not produced before the commission and it saw the light for the first time in the Public Accounts Committee a few days ago. On the Wellington street bridge, between the 20th day of March and the 5th day of May, there were returned and credited the time of 1,794½ days' work of stonecutters, whereas by Mr. Doheny's actual count and sworn to by him, the figures should have been 768½ days. But the totals on the Grand Trunk bridge and lock No. 1 for stonecutters are more striking. There were returned, as certified to the Government, 3,706 days' work of stonecutters, while, according to Mr. Doheny's sworn statement, but 1,425 day's work were actually performed. So that in the one case there was an overcharge of 1,026½ days and in the other an overcharge of 2,281 days. The total for all three works, according to Mr. Doheny, was 2,193 days' work, while the pay list showed 5,500. The work done, according to him, was less than two-fifths of the work charged for. One day the pay list on the Grand Trunk bridge and lock No. 1 was figured up to 181, while the checker could find only 21. In its effort to figure down the Ontario Government's majority the Conservative press has not found time to comment on this remarkable evidence, although it was published in the Ottawa correspondence of some of them.—Globe.

IT is said that about a month will elapse before the American Senate and the House of Representatives can come to an agreement upon the provisions of the tariff measure. The Senate duties are almost invariably higher than those proposed by the House and in some cases reach the level of the McKinley Act. The Wilson bill fixed on women's and children's dress goods made of wool a duty of 40 per cent. and valorem. The Senate has raised the duty on most of these goods to 50 per cent. On blankets the Wilson rate was 30 per cent.; the Senate's rate on the better classes of blankets is from 35 to 50 per cent. ad valorem. On carpets the Wilson duties ranged from 20 to 35 per cent.; the Senate's from 30 to 35. On collars, cuffs and shirts of linen the Wilson rate was 35 per cent.; the Senate's rate on these articles run from 35 to 50 per cent. The Senate has also reimposed duties on bituminous coal, iron ore, quicksilver, mica, dates, currants, apples of all kinds, and eggs, bacon, and hams, beef, mutton and pork, all of which were made free by the Wilson bill.

ELECTION protests are now being talked of by way of afterclap to the provincial election contest, but they are rather an expensive thing to indulge in. It costs $1,000 to institute an action, and that is only a beginning. Section 163 of the Election Act reads as follows:

"To prevent the trouble and expense of new elections when unnecessary and useless in case of a corrupt practice or practices being committed by an agent without the knowledge and consent of the candidate, if the corrupt practice or practices was or were of such trifling extent, that the result cannot have been affected, or be reasonably supposed to have been affected by such practice or practices, either alone or in connection with other illegal practices at the election, such corrupt practice or practices shall not void the election."

The question of expense, as well as the fact that corrupt practices will not vitiate the election unless they have extensively prevailed, will cause most of the so-called protests to be abandoned before they get beyond the "talk" age.

JOHN CHARLES RYKERT has been heard from. The St. Catharines papers publish a letter from Major Hiscott, the Conservative M.P.P. elect for Lincoln, certifying that he did not pay Mr. Rykert $200 or any other sum of money for support and assistance at the recent election in that county. Why it should be necessary to publish such a certificate is one of those matters not easily understood.

HAVING been relieved of the duty of representing North Hastings in the provincial assembly Mr. A. F. Wood, remarks the Ottawa Free Press, will now be able to to devote the whole of his time to the work of valuing canal lands for the Dominion Government; and will be no longer under the necessity of explaining how he was able to attend to his legislative duties on those days for which he charged fees and mileage as valuer of Soulanges canal lands.

Athlete Cigarettes have no rivals.

THE success of the Patrons in the Provincial elections may well carry dismay, says the Sarnia Observer, into the ranks of the Conservative party in Dominion politics. The Patrons are a revenue tariff, anti-monopoly party, are at one with the Liberals on that great issue. Working in harmony at the coming Dominion elections, Patrons and Liberals can sweep the country on the tariff issue.

Sir John Thompson was very prompt, at the suggestion of the C.P.R., to prepare a law, making it a criminal offence for railway conductors to pocket fares or give a friend a free ride; but he is very slow to enact a law to punish Cabinet Ministers who stand in with boodling contractors and pocket hundreds of thousands of stolen money.

The fees question appears to have struck Mr. A. F. Wood exceedingly hard. His crusade against the registrars brought out the fact that he was a very fat fee feeder at the Dominion patronage table and the electors took him at his word, that these things should not be. He is now wondering who was hurt most by his own arguments.

THE Toronto News says:—The country to-day firmly believes that Ottawa reeks with political corruption. The people believe further that the Ministers are aware of the existence of such a condition of things and, either winking at or participating therein, perpetuate it.

THE CROPS.

The first of the great harvest of the season has been commenced and the farmers are busy in the hay fields. The importance of this crop is perhaps not sufficiently realized, but when it is stated that in 1893 2,766,894 acres were under hay and clover in this Province, and that the product was nearly 5,000,000 tons, with a profitable value of $50,000,000, some idea may be gained of what a large item it forms in the farmer's calculations.

When the June reports of the Ontario Bureau of Industries were collected about the middle of the month the prospects for timothy and clover were not good. Fortunately the weather since has been favourable, and the general testimony seems to be that the hay will be a good crop. Some of the reports, printed in another column, state that the yield will be below last year, but it is well to keep in mind that the hay crop, both last year and the year before, was of unusual abundance, and the general tenor of the despatches is that this year will be little if anything behind its two predecessors.

With regard to the other crops a careful reading of the reports would indicate that the forecast made in the June bulletin of the bureau still in the main stands good. As the bulletin was optimistic almost throughout, and the weather up to date has remained favourable, the prospects for good crops in the Province this year are bright. Of course harvest day is yet some distance off and crops can scarcely be considered safe until the reaper is amongst them, but at the time of writing there is good ground for expecting a bountiful harvest.

The reports of the wheat crop in Manitoba and the Territories, according to special despatches from Winnipeg, are also very satisfactory. The hot June weather has advanced the grain rapidly and given the promise of an early harvest, which is a hopeful outlook in a grain country where premature frosts are apt to spoil all the anticipations of the husbandman.

The Heavy End of a Match.

"Mary," said Farmer Flint at the breakfast table as he asked for a second cup of coffee, "I've made a discovery."

"Well, Cyrus, you're about the last one I'd expect of such a thing, but what is it?"

"I have found that the heavy end of a match is its light end," responded Cyrus with a grin that would have adorned a skull.

Mary looked disgusted, but with an air of triumph quickly retorted, "I've got a discovery too, Cyrus. It was made by Dr. R. V. Pierce, and is called a 'Golden Medical Discovery.' It drives away blotches and pimples, purifies the blood, tones up the system and makes one feel brand-new. Why, it cured Cousin Ben who had Consumption and was reduced to a skeleton. Before his wife began to use it she was a pale, sickly thing, but look at her; she's rosy-cheeked and healthy, and weighs 165 pounds. That, Cyrus is a discovery that's worth mentioning."

Young or middle-aged men, suffering from premature decline of power, however induced, speedily and radically cured. Illustrated book sent securely sealed for 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

PICNIC AT VICTORIA PARK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Among the many enjoyable events at the closing of the school session, is numbered the union picnic of sections No. 2 and 3, North Monaghan, and Nos. 10 and 16, Otonabee.

On Friday morning June 29th, a large party of children and parents left the Wolfe street warf, per steamer Daisy, and as they proceeded down the Otonabee, added many to their numbers at the locks and at Riverdale.

Sailing to Victoria Park, about eight miles down the river, they found numbers waiting to welcome them as they disembarked and proceeded to the pleasure grounds.

After partaking of an excellent dinner prepared by the ladies, the afternoon was spent in sports of various kinds, perhaps the most interesting being the races which were as follows :—

Girls (7 and under)—1st, Jennie Sisson, doll ; 2nd Edna Johnsan, pen wiper ; 3rd Violet King, box of crayons.

Boys (7 and under)—1st Willie Denoon, jack knife ; 2nd Jno. Shaughnessy, book ; 3rd Ernest Peters, pencil case.

Boys (10 and under)—1st Bert Deyell, pen ; 2nd John Goodwin, pair of cuff buttons ; 3rd Frank Sisson, breast pin.

Girls (10 and under)—1st Minnie Kitney, brooch ; 2nd Minnie Martin, necklace ; 3rd Ethel Deyell, bracelet.

Run and jump (boys)—1st bottle perfume W. Walton ; 2nd photo frame, Alex. Huston ; 3rd pocket comb, Fred Kennedy.

Run and jump, young men—1st, violin, H. P. Kennedy ; 2nd, toilet requisite, W. Walton ; 3rd, relay racers, A. Huston.

Boot and shoe race, boys—1st, silk handkerchief, Bert Huston; 2nd, Highland lady (card), Alf Goodwin ; 3rd, penknife, Ernest Sanders.

Boot and shoe race, girls—1st, glove box, Harriet Goodwin ; 2nd, picture and frame, Luella Deyell ; 3rd, music holder, Mary Denoon.

Boys' three-legged race — 1st, purse, Lorne Brooks; 2nd, fruit knife, Bert Huston.

Young men's three-legged race — 1st, New York Orator, Jas. Goodwin ; 2nd, toilet box, Harry Sabin.

All four race—1st, autograph album, L. Brooks ; 2nd, fog horn, Alf. Goodwin ; 3rd, John Goodwin.

Ice Cream Race—1st Ernest Sanderson, Pen Knife ; 2nd A Ovens, Pen Wiper.

Mr. Chas. Petters, Mr. J. Bennett, Miss J. Ambrose and Mrs. McLaurin were judges of beauty. Mr. H. P. Kennedy and Miss C. Robertson were the favoured ones, the former receiving a box of hair pins and the latter a miniature pen knife.

The sports ended, tea was then served after which the party sailed to Peterborough pleased that the day had been so enjoyable, yet regretting that the sports of the picnic had at last come to an end.

THE INTERCOLONIAL CONFERENCE.

The London Times Discusses the Gathering of Representatives of the Empire.

LONDON, July 9.—The Times says this morning: "We see nothing to fear, but much to arouse hope, in the new spirit shown at Ottawa by the colonies seeking to establish and extend connection among themselves, which it would be very difficult for this country to concede. Therein are possibilities of friction which cannot be contemplated with entire satisfaction, but this is part of the price we pay for our empire and we must be ready to meet it."

As to reciprocity it says: "We cordially sympathize with the policy so far as it indicates a desire to strengthen the bonds holding the empire together. Anything of the nature of deferential duties is contrary to our traditions, and we must remember that the colonists only represent about fifteen per centage of the total trade of the United Kingdom. But, undoubtedly, for good or evil, the steps taken at Ottawa is of immense importance to the future of the empire.

Salisbury's Anti-Anarchist Bill.

LONDON, July 9.—Lord Salisbury has raised a storm by his proposal for an alien bill and his speech on it in the House of Lords. His offences are two. He quoted American legislation against pauper immigration as a good precedent for England. This infuriates the Radicals. He described England as, to a great extent, the anarchist headquarters of Europe. This infuriates the Socialists and their organ, the latter protesting against any further legislation to suppress anarchy or anarchists. Lord Rosebery replied to Lord Salisbury, denying that England harbors or assists alien conspirators more than other countries. Lord Salisbury's bill, however, was read once, and is promised the fullest consideration of the Government.

Gladstone's Letter to Midlothian.

Mr. Gladstone has addressed a letter to the electors of Midlothian, thanking them for the confidence they have reposed in him in the past and adding: "It is not my intention to ask for re-election when Parliament is dissolved."

British Measures Next Session.

Mr. Justin McCarthy, with the assent of his colleagues, has consented to give the whole of the next session to British measures provided the House will reaffirm the principle of home rule by a resolution, thus enabling the Government at the close of the session to go before the country showing that the leading proposals of the Newcastle programme have been dealt with.

Sir William's Resignation.

A haze of intrigue so envelopes the inner life of parliament that it is impossible to say whether or not Sir William Harcourt's threats to resign his seat and the leadership of the Liberal party in the House of Commons are genuine, or who is likely to be his successor in the event of his retirement. It is certain, however, that he has sent to his colleagues an intimation that his physicians have advised him to enter upon a season of absolute rest and he therfore desires to retire from parliament at the end of the session. But his adherents in the House of Commons are obtaining signatures to a proposal to entertain him at a banquet at the National Liberal Club. The promoters of the movement privately urge that if a sufficient number of Liberals sign the invitation it will influence Sir William Harcourt's decision to continue in the parliamentary leadership of the party and nearly 200 Liberal members have already signed.

"Be sure you get Ayer's" is an important caution to all in search of a thoroughly reliable blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being the one on which there can be no manner of doubt. It has stood the test of nearly half a century, and has long been considered the standard.

The French Government's Action.

PARIS, July 9.—The government introduced in the Chamber to-day a bill providing that acts of written incitation to crime, such as is practised by the anarchists, shall be tried before correctional courts consisting of judges without juries. Exceptionally severe penalties, including transportation to penal colonies, are specified for offences against the proposed act.

Recount in South Norfolk.

SIMCOE, July 9.—A recount of the votes cast in the recent election in South Norfolk took place here on Saturday before Judge Robb on behalf of Mr. Cruise, the defeated candidate. The result was to increase Mr. Charlton's majority from 17 to 21.

Drowning at Amherst, N.S.

AMHERST, N.S., July 9.—Colman Bouser was drowned in the Tanbamar river at Sackville yesterday. Deceased had charge of repairs on the pier and fell in. Owing to the great depth of bank no assistance could be rendered. He leaves a wife and family.

The Joggins Strike Settled.

FRATERNAL ASSESSMENT LIABILITY.

"Can't I get out when I please, an have no liability ?"

Most people expect "yes" for an answer to this question, when they say they are members of an assessment insurance society, and begin to think of their responsibilities as such. It is important for them to know that they cannot escape liability ; because every member, no matter when he drops out, is liable for any deficiencies that may arise in future, if they were developed during his membership. Here is an instance :

The United Masonic Benefit Association of Missouri was some years ago an active and apparently prosperous assessment concern. It provided no reserve, but offered low rates, cheap insurance, and seemingly hoped that new blood would make up for increasing mortality resulting from increasing age. By and bye its forces began to fall off, not enough "new blood" came in, and the cost of membership ran up in a very uncomfortable way. Presently the healthier lives began to feel their burden pressing heavily and steadily left the ranks, until so few were left in the association that the assessments amounted to $140—one hundred and forty dollars—on each certificate. The remaining members refused to pay such a sum, and the concern failed. But there were unpaid death claims for a large amount due, and the State Superintendent of Insurance thought they ought to be paid. So he began suits at law against individual members to enforce payment of the assessments against them ; the court has decided that they must pay. The feelings of those who are thus compelled to pay what they never expected have undergone a change with respect to assessment insurance.

Replying to some enquiries which had been made upon this point of liability, and citing this case illustration of what may be expected in any similiar case which might be pressed to suit, the Insurance Monitor says : "The decision referred to answers our question which has been debated whether the member's liability is limited to sums which he may choose to pay ; in, other words, whether he can get out when he pleases without further harm. This he cannot do. Every member, no matter when he may drop out, is liable for any deficiencies which may crop up in future, resulting during his membership. The only safe course for parties that apprehend breakers ahead is to drop their membership before the breakers are reached ; and the misfortune of this course is that the faster they drop, the faster the association drives towards the breakers."

There seems to be only one course open for the prudent man who may be determined to avoid possible liability ; that is to keep out of such associations entirely and buy his insurance of the regular companies.—Monetary Times.

Death of Mrs. Samuel Reynolds.

Our citizens, the Lakefield News says, were shocked to hear of the death of Mrs. Reynolds, wife of Mr. Samuel Reynolds, which event took place on Wednesday afternoon last, after a short illness. The deceased lady had been feeling unwell for some time past but nothing serious was thought of it, until Tuesday morning, when she took her bed from which she never rose. The funeral took place Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock p. m. to the Hillside cemetery. The bereaved husband and family have the warm sympathy of the entire community.

A Sad Bereavement.

Mr. John Cunningham and family, Brock street, will have the sympathy of their wide circle of friends in the death of their bright and promising daughter Maude, who died yesterday from an attack of scarlet fever. She was taken ill last Saturday evening, and a brain trouble supervening the best offices of medical skill and all that loving hands could do, were unavailing to stay the hand of death. The little girl was of a most loving and attractive character, and her removal will make a sad vacancy in the home her presence brightened. The remains were interred on Monday.

No Money for the P. O. Employees.

The Kingston Whig says:—"The post office employees are in the habit of receiving their pay once a month by checks, which reach the city at the beginning of the month. Wednesday, instead of receiving their money they had a general order read to them from Ottawa, which stated that in consequence of the appropriation being exhausted they would not receive their pay until the supplementary estimates were passed. This applies to every post office official in Canada. Many of the employees will be put to a great inconvenience by having to wait, as the supplementary estimates may not get through the House of Commons for a month." If Sir Adolph Caron would refund some of his election boodle the post office employees who earn their salaries as was well as the Postmaster General does his might be as it should be paid. Wouldn't it be better that the Ministers' salaries, who have as much per month as many post office employees have in a year, should wait for their pay than to put the families of the officials to the inconvenience of being without their just dues. No member of the House would object to the issuing of a warrant for the amount necessary to pay the salaries of officials.

The lady members of the council have already won a name as first-class entertainers, and it goes without saying that they will do their prettiest on this occasion.

—The Epworth League of Charlotte street church will hold a session in the lecture room of the church to-night, commencing at eight o'clock. The topic for the evening is, "How are men helped by the Holy Spirit?" taken from St. John 16, 7-14. There will also be a half hour open parliament on the subject, "What can be done to make our society more helpful?" Do not forget to come; it is expected we shall have a very profitable evening.—COM.

—Friday evening as a small steamer with two canoes attached, one to each side of the boat, was entering the locks after being down the river the lock master without waiting to see if the steamer was inside closed the gates, crushing the canoes and creating a panic among the party of ladies and children on board. That a serious accident did not happen was not the fault of the lock master. Last week the action of the lock master resulted in seriously injuring a pleasure steamer. He should be more careful. Even if he is a government official he is a servant of the peoples, and the people's interests should be preferred to his own convenience.

Why then should he not lay the foundation for at least one year of happiness by securing decorations that will impart an air of cheer and comfort. We are in excellent shape to furnish just such decorations, preserving perfect harmony between them and the carpets, furniture and draperies, and introducing original features in wall papers that will make the rented house seem something more than a mere temporary abode. A. H. STRATAON & Co., Peterborough Bookstore.

The Stony Lake Regira.

The annual summer flitting to the cool insular quietude of Stony Lake set in rather strongly this morning. A large number of citizens, together with their cottage, camp and piscatorial equipment, went out by the Lakefield train this morning. The "silly" season has set in in earnest. The lawyers are lying on their oars, the fishermen are lying on their lines, and everybody that can make it possible is taking it easy. Happy mortals that can say, "begone dull care," put on a straw hat and an ancient pair of pants, and loaf the happy hours away in a canoe, still fishing in some cool and sheltered island cove, developing tremendous appetites and tremendous lies about impossible catches of fish and generally idling the happy hours away.

No Derby Plug Smoking Tobacco is genuine unless it bears the Derby Cap Shaped Tag.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Archdeacon Casey announced at the different masses in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday that a pilgrimage to the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec, would start from Peterborough on Monday July 23rd. Arrangements will also be made to allow pilgrims to stay over until the feast of St. Anne on the 28th. Fuller particulars will be announced later.

CHARLOTTE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The Rev. James Rae occupied the pulpit morning and evening yesterday. The morning sermon was based on the words, "Why stand ye gazing up into Heaven." The Rev. preacher handled his subject in a clear scholarly and able manner, using anedocte and illustration from daily life to convey the full meaning of his text. The moral of the sermon was to point out the people's duty to the call of the Gospel to go out and work. The preacher pointed out the individual responsibility of everyone to obey the command. In the evening he took for his text the words, "Christ in you." This subject was ably dealt with and the theme was deeply spiritual. The congregations were good at both services and the singing admirable. The preacher seemed to be inspired by his surroundings and his efforts were appreciated by the people.

The singing of the choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday must have been extremely gratifying to the large congregations that attended the services morning and evening. At the morning service the Te Deum was so impressively rendered that the people seemed to be touched by the spirit of the grand yet solemn thoughts which it represented, and the pastor also when he arose to read the lesson alluded to the touching effects upon himself. At the evening service, "The Day is Gently Coming to a Close," was tastefully sung, Miss Hall and Mr. Shaw taking the duet and Miss Stephens the alto solos. While the collection was being taken up, Mr. A. L. Davis and Mr. Shaw sang a beautiful duet entitled "There's Hope Beyond." It is unnecessary to comment on the rendition of this piece. Two such sweet yet strong voices can produce but one effect. The people were delighted, and no doubt many similar treats are in store for them in the future.

No Longer a Mere Plaything.

The bicycle, to sum the thing up, is no longer a plaything or a luxury. It has become a necessity. Where the roads are good it assures rapid transportation at a minimum outlay of physical exertion. It is easier to propel a wheel than to govern a spirited horse—to say nothing of the healthfulness of the exercise. Is it any wonder, therefore, that young and old, men and women, take kindly to the sport? I know one lively gentleman of sixty, who, whenever the weather permits, rides from his suburban home to his office in the morning and rides back in the evening—nearly twenty miles a day. Of course he is an exception; but his remarkable vim and energy show what a person imbued with the bicycle fever can and will do. The exercise has not only benefited his health, but is giving him real enjoyment which robs routine duty of some of its wearisome features.

He Got Even.

The melodrama proceeded in its cyclonic course, and the villain had taken violent measures for three acts to dispose of the hero, only to be confronted and discomfited by that mirror of virtue whenever the curtain rose. Although built on the good old plan, it was a bad play and worse players.

Finally one man, whose countenance grew sadder with each passing moment, turned to the auditor on his left and remarked, "Bad play, eh?"

"Yes, sir," returned the other, forcibly, chuckling at the same time at some bon mot of ancient Rome.

"But you seem to enjoy it," objected the sad man.

"Well," was the answer, "I do—because I know I'm getting my money's worth. It's a bad play, as you remark, but (with a chuckle) I gave a bad half-dollar at the box-office for my seat."

An Eastern Diamond.

The traditional diamond of the East is the Great Mogul. The original weight was 787 carats, and it disappeared in the last Tartar invasion, when treasures to the amount of $350,000,000 were captured by Nadir Shah. The Shah of Persia has in his treasure room jewels valued at $40,000,000. His crown contains a mass of diamonds surmounted by a ruby as big as a hen's egg. His royal belt weighs 20 pounds, and is a solid mass of diamonds, rubies and emeralds. When the Shah was in Europe he wore a variety of diamonds and gems, the smallest of which would have been a fortune to the lucky possessor. The buttons of his coat were five in number, and each button was a diamond larger than the kohinoor.

Luck in the Number.

Spencer—I saw a man pay $36 in cash for a silver dollar the other day.

Ferguson—Some old coin collector, I suppose.

Spencer—No; a man who kept a roulette table.

Floating in the Dead Sea.

As for the Dead Sea, it will, in contradiction of its name, forever preserve a green and living memory in my mind. No fish can survive in it, we all know; but for a place for a swim, or, above all, for a float, commend me to it beyond all the Winne onakees in the world. How it bears you up in its arms! How it annihilates the tiresome ponderosity and dignity of the law of gravitation! How it introduces you into the inner consciousness of dainty Ariel and thistledown, and all other airy-fairy creatures! The more you weigh, the less you weigh; there is the real hydrostatic paradox. An elephant in the Dead Sea would feel himself a gazelle.—Christian Register.

Paper Serpentines in Paris.

It has cost £1700 to clear the trees on the Paris boulevards of the paper serpentines thrown on to them from the windows at mid-Lent. The clearing away of these flimsy ribbons has injured the buds. Nothing can be prettier than a tree freshly covered with serpentines, particularly in a strong electric light. But after a few showers the effect becomes as ugly as it was lovely, and the trees look weather-stained and woe-begone.

Wit of a Condemned Man.

A French paper is responsible for the statement that an Italian criminal, condemned to death, was encouraged to make the necessary effort by the assurance of the judge that kings and popes must also die. "That is true," replied the afflicted gentleman, "but they are not hanged."

The Laying Hen.

A laying hen is, in proportion to its weight, one of the largest producers of salable products of the farm, exceeding in this respect even the cow.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

Allan Stewart, of Springton, Suffers all This Time—At Last Confined to Bed—Story of His Happy Release from Pain.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 9.—Allan Stewart, of Springton, near here, says that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved his life and he wants the fact to be known. For thirty years he has had kidney disease and gravel. Hundreds of dollars spent on doctors and medicine failed to do any good. On July 14 last, Mr. Stewart had to take to his bed and everybody considered his case a hopeless one. He heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and began using them. He says he noticed an improvement from the first and ten boxes cured him. He is now free from all pain and enjoys excellent health.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
